NEW HARDY CASE TURN

'Miss X' Will be Witness

[illegible] Goes to Oakland in Quest of Letters from Judge

[illegible] Trial to Have Right of Way Over State Business

[illegible] Feb. 26. (AP)—A [illegible] was injected into the [illegible] case being brought [illegible] Superior Judge Hardy of [illegible] Angeles when M. I. Cronin, a [illegible] of the board of managers [illegible] to try the jurist, left [illegible] for Oakland today to [illegible] Mrs. Viria Kimball, [illegible] as the mysterious "Miss X" [illegible] the investigation of Mrs. [illegible] Semple McPherson's kidnaping story two years ago. This [illegible] of information that [illegible] had been found in the [illegible] City.

[illegible] is particularly interested in ascertaining whether Mrs. [illegible] has letters from Judge [illegible] who the Legislative investigating committee declared handled [illegible] for Mrs. McPherson during [illegible] Los Angeles investigation of her [illegible] story.

AFFIDAVIT RECALLED

[illegible] Kimball was named as the [illegible] who accompanied Kenneth [illegible] radio operator for [illegible] McPherson to Carmel after [illegible] disappearance, in an [illegible] given Mrs. McPherson by [illegible] Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff, sister of Mrs. Kimball, after Mrs. [illegible]-Sielaff had first admitted [illegible] Ormiston's companion.

Will Rogers Remarks:

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—[To the Editor of The The Times:] No wonder Hoover can't get a Cabinet. Big men won't take it, for they won't take a chance on a Senate insult. If he has ever earned more than a Senator he is in league with big business. If he ever drove a Standard Oil truck or was a bookkeeper in a Morgan bank he is in league with monopolies. If he is independently rich he is in league with the devil. But if he has never done anything, and been a financial failure at that, he will pass the Senate as a brother, and every time Hoover finds a man of that type he is a Democrat. And that's another stanch rule, you can't use even an able man from the other party. That would revert to democracy and not politics.

Yours
WILL ROGERS.

RAIL PLANS ADVANCED

Great Northern Goal Set Here

Alliance With Santa Fe for Los Angeles Entry New Element in Scheme

Deal Would Give Southland Another Transcontinental Railroad System

BY FLOYD HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Definite indication that Los Angeles either will get another transcontinental railroad system or become the goal of a powerful fight for it was obtained today from confidential but thoroughly reliable sources. The information differs only from the probability consistently reported in the Los Angeles Times for months in that it is enlarged and brings into the general scheme an entity not considered a party heretofore.

It can be said without qualification that the Great Northern wants entry into the great Southwest producing field through Los Angeles and has two possibilities under consideration for realization of that aim. One is the Western Pacific and

TAX WINS IN ASSEMBLY

Bank Levy Bill Adopted

Legislators Pass Measure as Emergency, Putting Blame for Flaws on Young

Large Concession Made in Senate on Intangibles and Solvent Credits

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Representative

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—The first legislative obstacle of the session was surmounted today when the Assembly voted unanimously to adopt the tax bill levying 4 per cent on net income on banks and corporations. This is the bill introduced by Barneson of Eureka and already has the approval of the upper house. It now goes to Gov. Young. His signature is assured, whereupon it becomes law.

A large concession was won late today on the taxation of intangibles and solvent credits when the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee recommended a levy of two mills per dollar on intangibles and one mill per dollar on solvent credits. The amendments were rushed immediately to the Senate and adopted. The bill itself is set for adoption at 2 p.m. tomorrow. Passage of the bill at present seems assured and no time will be lost in getting it to the Assembly.

AMENDMENT REFUSED

Solvent credits refer to paper on automobiles, furniture and other merchandise sold on the installment plan and the low tax rate is expected to be of much assistance to retail merchants. Intangibles are mortgages, bonds, stocks and other securities on property outside the State but owned by Californians.

The Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee earlier in the week refused to amend the West Assembly bill to two mills from three mills, but it is expected that the Senate bill will be accorded precedence over the West bill.

By adopting the tax bill today at least three legislative days have been saved at the end of a session, which now looms as one of the longest on record. Action was hardly expected before Friday.

An anticipated drive against the tax bill, the purpose being to amend it so that the State Board of Equalization should maintain control of the levy instead of creating the office of tax administrator, as the bill provided, failed to materialize. The San Francisco delegation, which was expected to lead the campaign, heard from Ex-Sheriff Finn over the long-distance telephone. That settled the fight. Ex-Sheriff Finn, who wishes to demonstrate to the Young administration that he is running the Legislature, is reported to be reserving his siege artillery for Thursday, when the bill granting San Francisco control of San Francisco Harbor will come on the Assembly floor. Gov. Young already has indicated his intention of vetoing this bill if adopted, and Boss Finn plans to give him the opportunity.

YOUNG RESPONSIBLE

Although discussion of the tax bill occupied less than two hours, numerous Assemblymen took the chance of expressing their opinions of the administration's activities in connection therewith. Serious defections in the Governor's ranks of last session, were noted by awed observers. Assemblyman Sewell of Whittier, an administration leader, last session started the ball rolling by definitely pinning the bill upon the Young group. He forced Floor Leader Jones to declare that, under the circumstances, the administration believes this to be the best measure possible.

The change in the tax law is required, or else the State will lose all national bank taxes. The State has been confronted with this situation for two years, while Gov. Young has had a tax commission with a budget of $70,000 at work for more than a year. The people voted a constitutional amendment last November, but in spite of this long period, many Assemblymen pointed out, the bill has been amended seventy-five times, with a new series going in yesterday, just before the Senate adopted it.

Assemblymen Hornblower of San Francisco and Crittenden of Tracy made the occasion of declaring that they objected to having this legislation "rammed down their throats" without time to study and digest it. The State as a whole has been supporting the bill, but it sloughs off much of the burden upon various industries. It is expected to bring in about $8,000,000 in State revenue.

SEWELL SEES BURDEN

Mr. Hornblower particularly objected to the creation of the new tax administrator. He pointed out that the board of equalization is prepared to take on the administration of the tax and that this board is elected by the people and responsible to them, while the tax administrator is appointed and his term of office, salary duties, number and salaries of his assistants are purposely left vague in the bill.

"This bill, evolved not by the Legislature, but by the administration, will be a heavy burden upon many taxpayers," said Mr. Sewell. "We are given no time and no opportunity to digest it. It must be adopted or State revenues will be depleted. Therefore, we are forced into voting for it, but let it be understood that Gov. Young must bear the consequences."

Assemblyman West, chairman of the revenue and taxation committee, handled the bill in the Assembly.

Mr. Crittenden took a shot at the Tax Commission by declaring it as his opinion that real property is

OHIO CITIES FACE FLOODS

Thousands Made Homeless and Many Lives Periled; Springfield Business Suspended

COLUMBUS (O.) Feb. 26.—Rain-swelled rivers and streams flooded several sections of the State today, driving thousands from their homes, imperiling the lives of many and causing considerable damage everywhere.

Scores of persons were rescued from precarious places where the flood had driven them. No loss of life is reported. Although the total damage is believed to be very great, no estimate is available tonight.

The thawing streams, augmented by rainfall and melting snow, overflowed their banks and sent their waters pouring into a dozen cities and towns. Highways were flooded clear across the southern section of the State.

SPRINGFIELD HARD HIT

Springfield was hardest hit. The waters of Buck Creek and Mad River crippled almost all of that city's industries, flooded the business section and paralyzed traction and railroad service. The city returned to normal slowly tonight after a day in which almost all business was suspended and all but one of the town's schools closed.

Hundreds of persons living in the Buck Creek Valley were rescued by city rowboats after they attracted attention by shooting guns and ringing bells. Two of the three pumps at the waterworks, put out of commission by the high waters were back in operation tonight and electric service again is available. Traction service was resumed after the water receded from the streets.

TWELVE IN DANGER

Twelve persons who had gone to an island at the mouth of Rocky River, near Cleveland, to gaze at an ice jam, were placed in grave danger when the jam suddenly broke as preparations were being made to dynamite it. The rushing water crushed against the island and threatened to destroy a dance hall, where the twelve persons took refuge, but suddenly receded and made possible rescue of the marooned.

Throughout the southern part of the State the inflated streams brought to mind the flood stages of 1913, when several hundred lives were lost in the Miami River Valley. Several localities reported higher stages today than in 1913.

At Hamilton more than 100 persons were taken from their homes in the lowland districts when the Miami went over its banks. Marooned farmers were taken to safety during the day, but toward evening the water began to recede.

For a time the Scioto River appeared threatening at Columbus, but the danger passed. The Olentangy River flooded the stadium grounds at Ohio State University and other sections in the north end of the city.

The Ohio rose steadily all day as the rushing tributaries poured their waters into it, but weather officials pointed out that there is no danger of a flood because Pennsylvania streams had not overflowed their banks.

ON BOARD STEAMSHIP ELEANOR BOLLING, AT SEA, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Orders were received from Commander Byrd at noon yesterday for the Eleanor Bolling, his supply ship, not to attempt breaking through the ice, but to return with her cargo to New Zealand.

At the time the commander was sending this wireless message from his base on the ice barrier the Eleanor Bolling was 1059 miles southeast of Taiaroa Head N. Z. The ship was turned back and today at noon she was 879 miles southeast of Taiaroa Head.

Coolidge Grants Fullest Honors for Summerall

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—President Coolidge today nominated Maj.-Gen. Eaker Prepares for New Flight

SEATTLE, Feb. 26. (AP)—Capt. Ira Eaker, chief pilot of the Question Mark's 150-hour endurance flight, today accepted and tested the new Boein army pursuit plane in which he will attempt a dawn-to-dusk good-will flight from Brownsville, Tex., to Colon, Panama.

He will leave Seattle at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning for San Diego, en route to Brownsville, where he will start the flight March 10. He will fly the little pursuit plane in which he is to make the 2030-mile flight over four countries with but six stops.

The disturbance was recorded as 3800 miles from New York, apparently southwest.

Tariff Making Change Asked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Changes in the method of assessing ad valorem tariff rates on the value of imported articles on the ground that the foreign valuations now used frequently fluctuate widely and work to the detriment of American industries, were suggested in the House Ways and Means Committee today at hearings on the administration provisions of the law.

Use of American valuation as a rate base on iron and steel articles bearing ad valorem duties was proposed by Thomas J. Doherty of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

LINDBERGH AND FIANCEE IN CAPITAL

He and Morrows Return to Mexico City and Go at Once to Embassy

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 26. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Anne S. Morrow unexpectedly appeared here at 5 o'clock this evening. They went at once to the Embassy residence, where half an hour before it had been said that it was not known when they would come to the capital. They drove here in an automobile from Cuernavaca in about two hours.

Mrs. Morrow and Anne's sister Elizabeth returned with them. Col. Lindbergh drove the automobile himself for part of the distance. It is said that they decided on the spur of the moment to return to Mexico City. Ambassador Morrow returned yesterday because of pressing business so that the family now is together again here.

A quiet family evening was spent at the Embassy with a few members of the Embassy staff present for dinner.

There has been no intimation as yet as to how long the aviator plans to remain in Mexico.

The aviator, whom the public calls "Lindy," when he is not in his role of "Lone Eagle of the Air," is called "Charles" by all members of the Morrow family, when in public. Under the same conditions he addresses his fiancee as Anne. Whether they have more intimate names between themselves is unknown to outsiders.

In Mexico, where so much of their courtship has taken place, they are Carlos and Anita.

LASH MAY AID FIGHT ON DRUGS

Committee of Canadian Commons Approves Whip for Dope Traffickers

OTTAWA, Feb. 26. (AP)—The addition of the lash to penalties for trafficking in drugs was approved today by the special committee of the House of Commons, which is considering amendments to the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act.

Some members were reluctant to accept the proposal, believing it to be degrading to the government as well as to the criminal. The amendment was passed on division.

Dr. P. J. Howden, Liberal, St. Boniface, chairman of the committee, declared that a durg trafficker is worse than a murderer. Dr. Amyot, deputy Minister of Health, said such a criminal keeps his victims in hell on earth for his personal gain.

German's New 'Flying Train' Test Success

KASSEL (Germany) Feb. 26. (AP) An "air train" consisting of a Raab-Katzenstein machine and two trailers made a trial flight here today. The trailers were uncoupled at a height of 1200 feet and glided to earth separately.

It is next planned to try a long overland flight with an "air train" consisting of several units.

MISSING GRANT BOY FOUND SAFE WITH "KIDNAPER"

Pair Caught in Roswell, N. M., Assert Parents of Lad 'Mean' so Eluded Two Months' Search

ROSWELL (N. M.) Feb. 26. (AP)—Safe and happy, his face wreathed in smiles and his clothes in tatters, 11-year-old Richard Grant today coasted on his roller skates into the arms of police who for two months have sought him by air and by foot over the wide expanses of southwestern desert country.

HENRY PALMER.

The lad's asserted abductor, Henry Palmer, 40 years of age, a painter, surrendered at the top of a ladder where the officers found him applying a new coat of paint to a house near where the two lived most of the time since they disappeared from Los Angeles—December 22. At the point of a revolver, Palmer descended without protest.

Capt. W. C. Allen of the Los Angeles detective bureau found that since January 16 they had been living in a dingy shack near the Roswell postoffice. "Dickie" said he was happy and that Palmer had been good to him.

As they were taken away to quarters in the City Jail Palmer called to the youth, "Don't be afraid, Dickie, they will be good to you."

Palmer, who has been living here under the name of Nathan Eagle, said the boy was not kidnaped deliberately, but that his parents had mistreated him, prompting him to take "Dickie" away. The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Grant of Los Angeles. His father is said to be a well-to-do contracting painter. Tomorrow they will start a return journey to California, where Palmer may face a maximum penalty of fifty years imprisonment, if convicted of kidnaping.

Palmer was traced through several western States through the Postoffice Department. Their addresses, which changed frequently, were followed through California to Utah, Arizona, and finally to Roswell.

FALSE NAME GIVEN

After Palmer had been taken into custody Capt. Allen, accompanied by a special railroad officer, asked him to take them to the boy.

They found the youth roller skating on the pavement. The officers approached "Dickie" and asked him who he was and why he was not in school.

"I am Robert Eagle," was the reply.

Capt. Allen asked him to write his name in a notebook and he wrote "Robert Eagle, Robert Eagle, Age 11. I have no brothers or sisters. My mother is dead. Robert Eagle."

Finally under questioning he admitted his identity.

LOVES BABY SISTER

"Have you any message to send to your mother and father?" the officers asked him.

He hung his head bashfully and did not reply.

"Don't you want to tell them that you want to come home?"

The boy fidgeted awhile and seemed reluctant and then ejaculated, "Ha, ha."

"I am sorry," he said, "and will be glad to get home to play with Barbara Jean."

Barbara Jean, he said, is his 1-year-old baby sister, who was born on his own birthday anniversary.

THEIR PLANS LAID

Dickie admitted that Palmer planned with him for more than a week for their departure.

"Did you want to go away so you could have a good time?" he was asked.

"No," Dickie replied.

"Then why did you want to go?" the officers continued.

The boy hung his head and with a look of embarrassment and tears coming to his eyes, said "because they were mean to me."

The boy told the officers that Palmer said he was going to take him from Los Angeles to 1417 Nantuckett street, Long Beach, a street address which does not exist.

GUN PURCHASED

"When we started," Dickie said, "we first went to Sears-Roebuck's, where we bought a gun.

"We started out about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and went in the direction of Yuma, Ariz. We drove in Mr. Eagle's car until we were near Indio. The car hit something

UTAH VOTES RIVER BILL

Six-State Pact Passes House

Unconditional Ratification Measure Now Goes Into Senate

Act Insists California be Party to Agreement; Foes Defeated

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Utah's lower house late today unconditionally ratified the six-State Colorado River compact.

After a three-hour fight in which cloture was used to bring a vote, the bill, engineered by Representative Holther, chairman of the House special dam committee, was passed, 46 to 7.

The bill requires that California shall be one of the six States ratifying to make the compact effective.

Efforts of several Representatives, including almost the entire Salt Lake City delegation, to have the action delayed met with failure when Representative Hammond's motion to table the bill was voted down, 29 to 24.

Speaker David L. Stine advocated immediate six-State ratification during the argument and supplemented the work of his colleague, Mr. Holther. A letter received recently from the Secretary of the Interior won many votes when it was read by Chairman Holther, taking the fight out of those who wanted to make the construction of a dam at Flaming Gorge and Dewey a part of the main Boulder Canyon project.

LETTER OF WEST

In the letter Secretary West declared that neither dam could be built in less than three years from the time of construction commencement and that it probably would require five years to obtain legislation, provide plans, obtain contracts and construct the works.

The letter was in reply to a telegram sent by Chairman Holther to Washington last week from the Santa Fe conference, after the point had been raised that dams at Dewey and Flaming Gorge should be built out of the Boulder Canyon funds as a part of the flood-control plan at the main project. Utah representatives at the conference had attempted to have this condition tied to the [illegible]otiations without success.

The special bill was a substitute

FOCH LOSING LIFE BATTLE

France's Grim Warrior Reported Slowly Sinking; Two Doctors Give Up All Hope

PARIS, Feb. 26. (AP)—Marshal Ferdinand Foch tonight is said to be slowly sinking from an illness with lung, heart and kidney complications. The old warrior who, on a desperate day in 1914, declared "my right is crushed, my left is in retreat, I am attacking with my center," is at last apparently on the defense on all fronts with little hope of another victory.

His five physicians will consult again tomorrow afternoon. Two of them regard the case as virtually hopeless. The three others, remembering the marshal's favorite aphorism, "A battle lost is a battle which one believes to have lost, for battles are not lost materially," said the spirit of the game old fighter might carry the battle along for some time.

This last campaign of the former generalissimo of the Allied armies began on January 14, last. The 77-year-old veteran made several advances against the inroads of disease, but none carried him to a point of safety. It was, indeed, hoped only a week ago that he might soon be transferred to the milder climate of Southern France.

Aside from his medical and nursing staff and his closest relatives the marshal has had to fight his battle alone. Although friends, comrades-in-arms and statesmen of several nations have signed the register at the Foch home, not even the most distinguished has been in the road and ran against a sand bank and the axle was bent. We stayed at a hotel in Indio until Sunday night while the car was being fixed. Mr. Eagle got some camping things and we did not stay in hotels after that.

"Then we went to Phoenix and stayed there a few days. Then we went to El Paso and at El Paso we sold my clarinet."

This clarinet belonging to the boy was sold to the school board at El Paso for $35, the officers ascertained.

"From El Paso we went to Alamogordo and then came to Roswell about a month ago.

"We lived in a little shack outside of town near a service station until a week ago and then we moved to the house across the street from the postoffice.

"I had a good time," Dickie said. "Mr. Eagle took good care of me. We slept together every night except when we were at the hotel."

The boy is ruddy faced, has long shaggy hair, and when found wore a dirty blouse and overalls. He can't remember when his hair was combed last. He seems in healthy condition and the only visible injury is a burn on the second finger of his left hand. Dickie has a bandage on the finger and said "I burned my finger while I was playing with some sealing wax about a week ago. The wax had been taken off a storage battery."

SUICIDE THREAT

Palmer said the boy threatened to commit suicide if he did not take him from his parents. Asked if this was correct, "Dickie" as he is called here, said "yes."

The California officers received a tip that Palmer was in Roswell, when a letter which he had written was delivered to a friend in Los Angeles last week.

Capt. Allen and Special Officer Phillips left Los Angeles the night before last and drove continuously until they reached Roswell last night.

They said they questioned Palmer about an attempted train wreck near San Bernardino of which he is suspected, but that he denied that he was anywhere near there.

PRINTS' COMPARISON

The officers said they can not do much more until they return to Los Angeles and can compare Palmer's footprints with those found at the scene of the attempted wreck.

Palmer also used the name of Nathan Allen. He issued orders to the postoffice officials to change his address to Vancouver, B. C. On January 14 the address was changed from Vancouver to Ogden, Utah, and then, on January 24, he ordered it changed from Ogden to Roswell.

He admitted to officers that he has not been in Vancouver or in Ogden.

Before he left Los Angeles with Dickie he contrived to destroy all pictures of the boy with the exception of an old tintype.

ROOM SQUALID

The roadster in which the pair traveled was found parked beside the house where they were living. The room presented a squalid picture. A dirty mattress on the floor was covered with a quilt, blanket, painter's canvas and an old tent. A barrel with a board across the top served as a table. There was a rough home-made stool and a camp chair fashioned out of boards and some dilapidated canvas. A wash tub, broom, battered grip with several painter's tools and several pairs of badly worn shoes were a few of the articles scattered about. An eight-ounce bottle of acid was found in the closet.

Mrs. H. J. Kaiser, who rented the room to Palmer, said the boy frequently remained up until after 11 o'clock at night playing and singing. She said Palmer recently had paid marked attention to her own son. She said that yesterday Dickey had dyed his gray suit blue and had asked her to press it for him.

In the pile of junk in Palmer's room officers found a notebook with several chemical formulas. Palmer said he used those in his work as a painter and as a prospector. Palmer said he had lived in Los Angeles during the last five or six years, and previous to that had roamed about the West working in mines and prospecting.

"This country, New Mexico, is my old home," he said. "For eighteen years I rode the ranges here."

Officers said a notice on the roadster showed the car had been inspected at Yuma, December 24, 1928, by the same officers who inspected their car on their race to Roswell to find Palmer.

TAX BILL VOTED BY ASSEMBLY

overburdened, but that he had been unable to get reliable information from the Tax Commission on the subject.

That the administration is hesitantly headed toward a personal and comprehensive income tax was brought out definitely for the first time.

Assemblyman Little of Santa Monica yesterday submitted a resolution calling on the Governor to produce the full report of the Tax Commission so the Legislator before the bank tax bill was adopted might have some idea as to the program. His resolution was not adopted, but it brought the reply that the commission, although not ready to report, will recommend the abandonment of the old Amendment No. 1 or 1910, which permits the State alone to levy on the operative properties of public utilities, a new but unannounced tax on utilities and a half-hearted hint about the personal income tax. It was stated that while the constitution permits the imposition of an income tax it is thought best to resubmit the question to the people.

LETTERS TRACE TRAIL OF PAIR

Palmer and Grant Boy Clew Kept by Bureau

Officers Let Desert Search of Parent Continue

Demand for New Car Plates Key to Discovery

First verification of the report of the finding of Richard Stanley Grant and Henry Palmer Roswell, N. M., was received by Chief of Detectives Cline yesterday morning from Detective-Lieutenant Allen in the following telegram: "Palmer and boy in custody. Boy in good health."

Thus ended a country - wide search second only in scope to the man hunt which resulted in the capture of Edward Hickman, who paid with his life for the kidnaping and slaying of little Marion Parker; a search in which hundreds of police officers and thousands of desert residents took part, pursuing their investigations over highways, through scores of cities and towns, and far into desert canyons on horseback, on foot and via automobile and airplane.

EXTRADITION WAIVED

Last evening Chief Cline received another wire from Allen in which it was stated Palmer has agreed to waive extradition and is willing to be brought back immediately. The boy, in custody of Allen, will be returned on the same train.

They expect to leave tonight or Thursday morning for Los Angeles.

At the time the first word of Palmer's capture was verified here the boy's father, W. J. Grant, who has never rested in his search for the lad since he disappeared, December 22, 1928, was reported to be leading the search in the Coyote Wells region of the lower Mojave Desert. The mother, waiting at the Grant home at 312 San Fernando Road, was notified at once by Chief Cline of her son's recovery and rejoiced in the news that the lad had been reported unharmed.

CLEWS KEPT SECRET

With the first wire from Detective Lieutenant Allen came the story of the investigation conducted by local authorities which resulted in the finding of the missing lad and his asserted abductor in Roswell, an investigation clothed in such utmost secrecy that even the lad's father and Councilman Jacobson were allowed to continue for more than a month numerous searches by plane and horseback in the desert regions while kept in ignorance of the facts which pointed clearly to Palmer and the boy being elsewhere.

First actual trace of the pair was found in Vancouver, B. C., on January 14, last, Chief Cline stated. On that date word was received from the Canadian authorities that Palmer had visited the postoffice in Vancouver and directed his mail to be forwarded to Ogden, Utah, giving his true name. Eight days later a similar message from Ogden police revealed that Palmer had reforwarded his mail to Roswell, N. M., using his correct name again, Cline explained.

WIRES SILENT

Then for a month the wires were silent. The search in the California desert sections continued. Planes of the National Guard carrying Councilman Jacobson and the missing lad's brother, Donald, soared over arroyos and rock-strewn mesas of the desert, while parties in autos and on foot penetrated twisting "lost canyons" and tramped over unmarked desert slopes.

Then Friday last came a long-distance telephone call from the State Motor Vehicle Department at Sacramento to the effect that a man, giving the name of Nathan Eagle had requested by letter that new California license plates be sent to him in Roswell. Thousands of police bulletins broadcast throughout the Pacific Coast States bore the information that the car in which Palmer was known to have left here was registered to Nathan Eagle.

Chief Cline at once dispatched Allen to the New Mexico town.

SUCCESS VERIFIED

Nothing was communicated to the Roswell police authorities, Cline still placing his hope of ultimate success in absolute secrecy.

Allen's wire received yesterday morning told of the success of his trip.

Palmer and the Grant boy disappeared on the afternoon of December 22. Palmer had worked for the lad's father for some time as a painter. The boy had been allowed to accompany Palmer in the belief that he was going to take the boy to the beach for a day's outing. That night they failed to return. And day followed day without any word being received of their whereabouts.

Then the boy's father reported the matter to the police. He stated that there had been a disagreement between Palmer and himself and he suspected that Palmer had stolen the lad in revenge.

The police search started. Several days later a Santa Fe train was wrecked near Hesperia, between Cajon Pass and Victorville. Marks of tires such as were known to equip the car in which Palmer disappeared were found near the scene of the wreck. Persons were found who reported having seen a man and a boy in the vicinity. Railroad detectives then joined the search for the asserted kidnaper and boy. A warrant charging child stealing was issued for Palmer.

DESERT SCOURED

Following up this desert clew Detective Lieutenants Allen and Hanson and Captain of Detectives Slaughter of the crime prevention bureau, heading a posse of detectives and deputy sheriffs, traced the missing pair to Barstow. There, it was learned, Palmer had stopped to purchase gasoline and buy a soda for the boy. Because of his purchase of only five gallons of gasoline it was believed that Palmer had turned off the well-traveled highways and intended traveling but a short distance into the desert.

On the strength of this, numerous searching parties combed these sections. Thousands of circulars bearing the pictures of both Palmer and the boy were distributed by plane and by hand throughout this part of the country.

NORTHERN ROAD SETS GOAL HERE

Alliance With Santa Fe for Entry Here Planned

Two Possibilities Said to be Under Consideration

the other is the Santa Fe. The latter is the new element in the program and what, if anything, has been done toward an alliance between the Great Northern and Santa Fe remains most carefully guarded, but that the Santa Fe would fit into the theoretical plans is admitted and it is believed definite steps to that end either are under way or contemplated.

GENERAL SITUATION

The general situation, as it now resolves itself, is this:

The Western Pacific California, owned and controlled by the Western Pacific, has applications pending with the Interstate Commerce Commission for two new major lines in this State, one down the heart of the San Joaquin Valley from its present main line between Stockton and Oakland and the other on the San Francisco Peninsula from this city to Redwood City. It has been admitted that if the peninsula application is granted some means will be found to cross the bay, either on an existing bridge or by a new one, to give the Western Pacific direct rail entry to San Francisco. If the application for the valley line is granted it will mean a southern terminus for the Western Pacific California just south of the Kings River in Tulare county, a terminus which lends itself to the conclusion that the ultimate plan is to extend through Bakersfield into Los Angeles. This much of the picture, as previously drawn on innumerable occasions, encompasses the conditional entry of the Western Pacific into San Francisco and reaching for Los Angeles.

It also is a matter of record, now, in the shape of other applications to the Interstate Commerce Commission that the Great Northern has made it first definite public bid for California trade by proposing a link with the Western Pacific from the Great Northern terminus at Klamath Falls, (Or.) to Lookout, in Modoc county, California, providing the latter extends its present line from Keddie or Paxton in Plumas county, to Lookout. That the Western Pacific is agreeable is evident in its complementary application for the extension mentioned.

NEED 200 MILES OF TRACK

The entire trackage involved in these extensions is 200 miles and construction of that link, together with the agreement made with the Western Pacific, would mean direct access to San Francisco for the Great Northern.

It is obvious, therefore, that if the Great Northern can get into San Francisco over Western Pacific rails, it can get into Los Angeles over Western Pacific rails if the latter can get there with its own.

But if the Western Pacific's anticipated thrust into Southern California is balked by a decision adverse to the building of the San Joaquin Valley line by its subsidiary, it is equally obvious that the Great Northern must resort to some other means, wherein appear the existing lines of the Santa Fe.

F. G. Dorety, vice-president and general counsel of the Great Northern, who arrived here yesterday, refused any commitment, either for himself or for the company as to his company's plans for entering Southern California, and his cue was followed by L. C. Gilman, the executive vice-president of the Great Northern.

DISCUSS SITUATION

Dorety, however, in a discussion of the situation from a general rather than a specific standpoint, said it is an obvious railroad fact that Southern California now has east-west competition between the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe, that San Francisco gets competitive service through the eastern gateway between the Western Pacific and Southern Pacific; but there is no competition through the northern gateway, a condition which he reduced to the significant comment:

"Twenty thousand miles of competitive service through that gateway (north) can be afforded if 200 miles of railroad can be built.

"In the Klamath Falls issue between the Great Northern and the Southern Pacific two years ago, the Interstate Commerce Commission held that the value of competitive service offsets the claim of duplication. If that precedent is applied to a local case it should apply more emphatically to a case of State-wide development, affecting every producer and manufacturer in California.

"It is to the advantage of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe today to move California products through the southern gateway because they get the long haul. Arizona and Texas produce many things that California does. The territory the Great Northern serves does not compete with California. California products moved through the northern gateway and along the Great Northern would pass through a territory constantly demanding them."

for the Smoot-Esplin measure and was made a special order of business. Representative Smoot attacked the factions seeking delay, declaring "the Senate probably will hold the Boulder dam matter up but the House should do something and set an example of constructive legislation."

ATTACK REPRESENTATIVE

An attack on Representative Leatherwood was made by Representative Hirschi of Washington county, nearest to the Boulder dam activity. Representative Herschi declared that for eight years he had been misled by the "false, indefensible leadership of Representative Leatherwood, who was an opponent of the Swing-Johnson bill." Herschi concluded with a plea for six-State ratification.

The ballot which followed Mr. Holther's reading of the letter, showed a reversal of twenty votes.

The bill will go to the Senate and be referred to the special Boulder dam committee, of which Senator Candland is chairman.

QUINN ASKS FRIEND IN UTAH SENATE TO AID

John R. Quinn, former National Commander of the American Legion, who served overseas during the World War with Hamilton Gardiner, President of the Utah State Senate, yesterday wired Senator Gardner urging immediate approval by the Utah Senate of the bill passed by the State Assembly providing for a six-State Colorado River compact.

During his term as head of the national American Legion Quinn took an active part in the work of those seeking Colorado River legislation in Congress.

SANTA FE CONFERENCE AWAITS DONOVAN'S RETURN

SANTA FE (N. M.) Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Conferees at the tri-State compact Colorado River parley again marked time today due to the absence of Col. W. J. Donovan, assistant United States Attorney-General, who still was in Washington conferring with President-elect Hoover. Col. Donovan is expected to return to Santa Fe by airplane probably tomorrow and the conference will then get down to real work on Thursday.

Informal discussions among the commissioners from California, Arizona and Nevada, dealing chiefly with the power question, were held today.

Sterilization Bill Voted by Olympia Senate

OLYMPIA (Wash.) Feb. 26. (AP)—The State Senate today passed the Hefner sterilization measure.

The Hefner bill calls for a State eugenicist, to be appropriated by the Governor, to investigate persons mentally and physically deficient, with the view that they be sterilized in order to prevent reproduction of their kind.

The bill is stringent, taking in persons outside State institutions as well as those inside. A jury trial would be necessary. However, the $20,000 appropriation to carry out its provisions was stricken, making it doubtful if the bill actually will operate if passed by the House.

Sightseers in Mississippi Put to Relief Work

Lightning Kills Two More; Red Cross Active

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Feb. 26. (AP)—The village of Duncan, Miss., devastated yesterday by a tornado that took the lives of seventeen of the 400 inhabitants, became a mecca for sightseers and souvenir hunters today.

While rescue workers were searching for victims of the storm that left twenty-eight dead and scores injured in its wake in Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas, crowds flocked to Duncan seeking souvenirs in the form of wreckage and snapshots. Several hundred negroes thus engaged were conscripted for relief work.

LIGHTNING KILLS MAN

Weather disturbances in the South continued today. At Troy, Ala., Emmett Slaughter, 19 years of age, was killed and Mrs. Sam Reese was injured when struck by lightning during an electrical storm late today.

An official check of the dead at Duncan lists three white persons, four Chinese and ten negroes. Two negroes were killed on a plantation near Marks and three on another plantation near Jonestown, Miss. Arkansas had two deaths near Dewitt and four persons were victims of the tornado in Texas.

SCENE OF DESOLATION

Duncan was a scene of desolation today. The greater part of the business section lay in ruins, and the stores that remained standing bore deep scars of the wind's fury. Many homes were leveled. Pieces of tin roofs and scraps of bed clothing were wrapped about tree tops, and traffic through the streets was blocked by tree limbs and wreckage from houses.

A. W. Shands of Cleveland, Miss., Red Cross chairman for Bolivar county, was authorized by national headquarters today to appeal for relief funds, and a campaign was arranged to start tomorrow in New Orleans, Memphis and Jackson. Approximately 250 homeless persons were given food today at a service canteen set up by the Red Cross.

'MISS X' SOUGHT IN HARDY CASE

ate, Lieut.-Gov. H. L. Carnahan, as presiding officer of the impeachment trial. Several members of the committee contend that the president of the Senate had no constitutional right to preside over the impeachment court and rule on motions.

Determination later by the committee on the proper presiding officer is born of a desire to expedite the impeachment trial and make the hearing as brief as possible. Should Carnahan be allowed to preside, Senate Swing and J. M. Inman, committee chairman, agreed that considerable loss of time would be experienced in having roll call on each motion and each ruling.

RIGHT OF WAY

The committee went on record, after some little debate, approving a rule that calls for opening of the Hardy trial in the Senate at 9 a.m. every morning and continuing until noon, then recessing until 2 p.m., at which time hearings would be resumed until 6 o'clock every night until the trial is done, leaving with the Senate the option to hold night sessions if it desires.

All other business of the Senate will be suspended pending the outcome of the trial, it was decided. Consideration of other matters of State will become secondary to the impeachment hearing, according to plans of the committee drafting the rules.

"MISS X" SAYS EVANGELIST HAS EXONERATED HER

OAKLAND, Feb. 26. (AP)—Mrs. Viria Kimball, Oakland seamstress, named by her twin sister during the Aimee Semple McPherson case as the "Miss X" of the Carmel love cottage, disclosed today that she has in her possession an affidavit, signed by the woman evangelist, exonerating her from any connection with the Carmel episode.

Mrs. Kimball, mother of five children, made the disclosure after it was announced in Sacramento that M. I. Cronin, member of the board of managers, who are to try Superior Judge Hardy for misfeasance in office, was on his way to take a statement from her.

At a late hour tonight, Cronin had not appeared at the Kimball home nor has she received notice of his coming, she said. She dropped the $1,000,000 slander suit against Mrs. McPherson last April, she revealed, after the evangelist made an affidavit before Samuel Hahn, Mrs. Kimball's attorney.

"The affidavit states that I was not the woman known as 'Miss X' of the Carmel cottage and that I was in no way connected with the affair," Mrs. Kimball declared.

Mrs. Kimball said she had received no letters from Judge Hardy nor were they in communication at any time. Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff, however, she said, had received many communications from the Los Angeles jurist. Her sister burned them all, Mrs. Kimball revealed.

Pension Voted for Mrs. Wood

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Mrs. Louise A. Wood, widow of Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, former Governor-General of the Philippines, is granted an annual pension of $5000 under a Senate bill passed tonight by the House. The measure now goes to the President.

SENATORS DROP DRY FUND STAND

Appropriations Committee Bars $24,000,000 Item

Harris Plans Fight to Last Ditch on Floor

Second Deficiency Bill to Carry New Sums

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today reversed its position on the House proposal for a $24,000,000 increase in prohibition funds and voted down an attempt to add this amount to the second deficiency appropriation bill.

The second deficiency measure, carrying more than $200,000,000 to meet a number of emergency demands scattered throughout the country, was reported to the Senate tonight and the prohibition fight will be renewed on the Senate floor tomorrow.

Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, the author of the dry fund amendment, announced he would ask the Senate to add the $24,000,000 to the bill in the place of the $2,700,000 increase for prohibition enforcement put in the measure by the House upon recommendation of President Coolidge.

The Senate added this amount to the first deficiency measure, now abandoned, by almost a 2-to-1 vote, but leaders were confident tonight in view of the $2,700,000 increase for dry enforcement that the Harris proposal would be defeated. Republicans on the committee lined up solidly against the Harris provision and they were joined by two Democrats.

PUBLICITY REJECTED

The committee also rejected the amendment of Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, for publicity of hearings in tax refund cases. This amendment to the first deficiency bill was strongly opposed also by Secretary Mellon.

The Senate committee did add a number of provisions to the bill, including $6,000,000 for purchase of seed grain in the hurricane area in various Southern States; $150,000 for a survey of a Nicaraguan canal; $100,000 for part of the government's share in the Mt. Rushmore (S. D.) memorial project; $250,000 for equipping submarines with safety devices; $30,000 for paving an international street at Nogales, Ariz.

MATTER OF PRINCIPLE

Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, is prepared to ask the Senate to strike from the bill all of its provisions which were included in the first deficiency measure, now dead. While not particularly interested in the $24,000,000 prohibition item he does want to force a revival of the first measure as a matter of legislative principle.

The $250,000 amendment of Senator Glass to the first deficiency measure for a prohibition investigation by a Presidential commission has been incorporated in the second bill.

The Senate committee voted also to make $200,000 of the increase in prohibition funds available for enforcing the Narcotic Act.

JONES MEASURE GRANTED RIGHT OF WAY IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Jones bill to increase penalties for prohibition violations was voted legislative right of way in the House today by its Rules Committee.

In granting a rule for consideration of the measure in the House the committee limited debate to one hour.

The committee adopted a rule for consideration of the Morin resolution to create a joint committee to investigate the rank and promotions, pay and allowances of the commissioned and the enlisted personnel of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey and Public Health Service.

Characterizing the Jones bill as unscientific and discriminatory, Representative LaGuardia, Republican, New York, filed a minority report opposing passage of the measure as recommended yesterday by the majority of the Judiciary Committee.

The bill "does not add one day to the maximum prison term for second and habitual offenders provided in the existing law," he said. "It gives every judge a vehicle to let off the wholesale habitual bootlegger with a mere fine and to impose heavy prison terms on the possessor of a casual half-pint. It is discriminatory in its very discretionary provisions."

DESERTER'S BLUE-LAW PLEA VAIN 'CAUSE "HE'S IN THE ARMY NOW"

OMAHA (Neb.) Feb. 26. (AP)—The South Carolina blue laws, like the flowers that bloom in the spring, have nothing to do with the case of Corp. William Woodbury and his enlistment in the Army, Federal Judge Munger has decided.

Woodbury, court-martialed the 5th inst. for desertion and sentenced to a year's imprisonment, sought release through habeas corpus action. He argued that his enlistment at Fort Moultrie, S. C., was on a Sunday and therefore void under the State's blue laws.

Judge Munger said that enlistment in the United States Army is no ordinary contract, being comparable rather to a marriage vow.

Maj. C. R. Williams, judge advocate for this army corps area, argued that Fort Moultrie isn't amenable to South Carolina laws, blue or otherwise, being under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States government.

Woodbury deserted from Fort Moultrie, February 3, 1926, and was captured December 5, 1928, at Sioux City, Iowa.

Snow Prevents Prince of Wales Levee Parade

LONDON, Feb. 26. (AP)—A snowfall this morning brought disappointment to Londoners who had hoped to see the Prince of Wales drive in state from Buckingham Palace to St. James Palace to hold the season's first levee on behalf of King George.

Because of the bad weather the state procession was canceled and the Prince merely walked over the short distance from his residence in York House wearing his brilliant scarlet uniform as colonel of the Welsh Guard. He was escorted by members of his staff and household officials in glittering uniforms.

The scene inside the palace was a brilliant one. There was a large attendance of privileged personages besides the Diplomatic Corps, who were received by the Prince in the throne room with all the customary ceremony surrounding the state function. It was the first time that the Prince had ever acted for his father at a levee.

MITCHELL MAY BE IN CABINET

Solicitor-General Reported to be Favored

Minnesotan Warm Friend of President-elect

Rumors Say Donovan Won't Take War Post

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—A new name was added today to the ever-growing list of Hoover Cabinet likelihoods. It is that of William D. Mitchell, of St. Paul, Minn., Solicitor-General of the United States, who came to the front as a probable selection for the post of Attorney-General.

There was a tendency in some usually well-informed quarters to discard another name from the list of possibilities, that of William J. Donovan, now assistant to the Attorney-General, who was represented by some of his friends as being disinclined to accept the post of Secretary of War.

Neither President-elect Hoover nor Mr. Donovan, who returned here yesterday, and has since had two conferences with the next President, had anything to say regarding the report but, there is a widespread belief in political circles that Mr. Mitchell will be Attorney-General.

LISTED AS DEMOCRAT

Although listed as a Democrat the now Solicitor-General was appointed to office by President Coolidge on June 4, 1925. He was admitted to the Minnesota bar in 1896, was secretary of the first charter commission of St. Paul and was regional counsel for the railroad administration in 1919 during the term of President Wilson.

Friends of Mr. Hoover said the Solicitor-General had supported the next Chief Executive in the last election and the two are known to be friends of long standing.

Those who insisted that the Minnesota man would get the post, for which Donovan long was mentioned after the election, said this would be one of the "surprise" Cabinet appointments which some of those close to Mr. Hoover have predicted.

DRY LEADERS OPPOSE

It has been reported that the President-elect invited Mr. Donovan to become Secretary of War after strong opposition had developed to placing him at the head of the law-enforcement department of the government. Much of this opposition came from dry leaders who regard him as technically wet.

Upon the return of Mr. Donovan from Santa Fe, N. M., he was invited to the Hoover home on S street, where he had a long conference with the President-elect. Their discussions were renewed today over the breakfast table, when Mr. Donovan was said to have expressed his unwillingness to hold the war portfolio.

FIRST OF SERIES

This conference was the first of a series which Mr. Hoover held. Senator Moses of New Hampshire presented Albert Hislop, Republican National Committeeman from his State, and Senator Hastings and Senator-elect Townsend of Delaware, called.

The Vice-President and Mrs. Dawes paid a social call. The Vice-President remained for luncheon but Mrs. Dawes was obliged to fulfill a previous engagement.

The Postmaster-General and Mrs. New have been invited for luncheon tomorrow.

SPECIAL TRAIN CARRIES HOOVER FRIENDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—California's hegira to the national capital to assist in the Presidential inaugural ceremonies of Herbert Hoover began here today when a special train of ten cars left the Southern Pacific terminal en route east via Los Angeles and New Orleans.

The special, known as the Palo Alto Hoover Inaugural Special, stopped at the President-elect's home town to take on a group of personal friends and fellow-citizens, both of Palo Alto town and the Stanford University campus.

OUSTING OF OFFICER IN SHOOTING ASKED

MARTINEZ, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Contra Costa county grand jury today voted an accusation against J. J. Fox, Crocket constable, seeking to remove him from office for the asserted unwarranted shooting of Guy Canaler, 30 years of age, a San Francisco seaman, the 3rd inst. Fox will be brought to trial here March 11.

COOLIDGE TO HURRY HOME

President Will Entrain for Northampton, Mass., Immediately After Hoover's Inauguration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—President Coolidge is preparing to withdraw from the inauguration day celebration as quickly as possible after his successor has been inducted into office. With Mrs. Coolidge he plans to go directly from the inauguration ceremonies at the Capitol to the Union Station, and there to board a through train for Northampton, Mass., their old home.

It has been customary, although the tradition has not been of sufficient force to give it the nature of a precedent, for the retiring President to accompany the new Chief Executive to the White House for luncheon immediately after the exercises at the Capitol. This practice has been broken in two recent instances—by Roosevelt and Wilson—and Mr. Coolidge feels that these justify him in not returning to the executive mansion.

REGRETS FELT, TOO

While Mr. Coolidge feels relieved that the end of his responsibilities as President is approaching, he frankly regrets that many pleasant personal associations which he has formed while in the White House must be broken off or at least interrupted by his retirement.

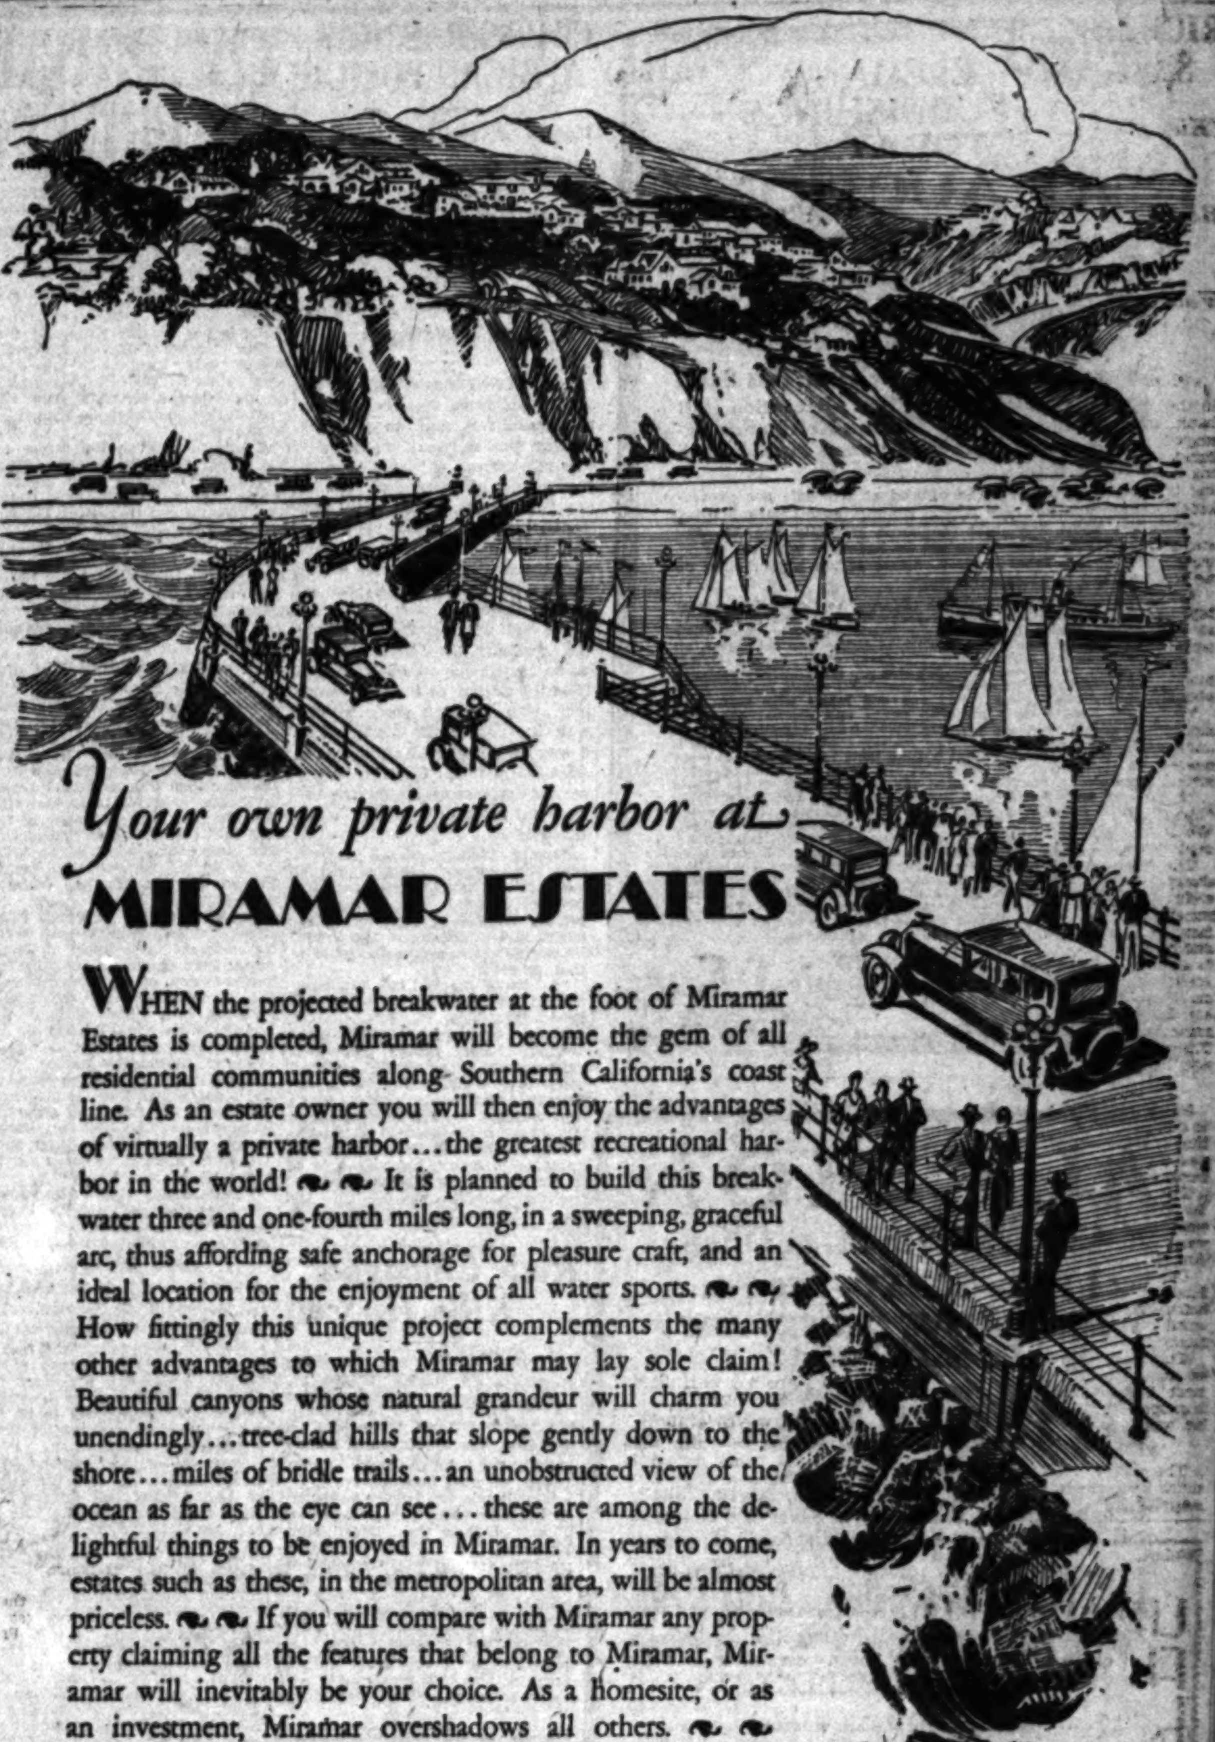
To members of his Cabinet he will say farewell on Saturday night when they, with their wives, will be dinner guests at the White House. Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will entertain President-elect Hoover, Mrs. Hoover, Vice-President-elect Curtis and his sister, Mrs. Edward H. Gann, dinner on Sunday evening.

The President is adhering rigidly to his announced intention of refraining from entering into any agreement with regard to his future activities while he is still the Chief Executive. He let it be known today that there have been no developments in this connection.

NOTHING STANDS OUT

While it was announced in January that Mr. Coolidge considered the Kellogg treaty for the renunciation of war the most important subject to come before the Senate within his administration, it was learned today that in retrospect he feels no single accomplishment has afforded him greater satisfaction than any one of a number of others.

The President is leaving the disposition of the White House dogs entirely to Mrs. Coolidge. It had been suggested that they might be given to friends in Washington, but this proposal was received only with the remark that there are not enough dogs to give to all who would want one of the pets. The White House kennels now have three occupants—Tiny Tim, the reddish-brown Chow, a favorite of Mrs. Coolidge; Ruby Ruff, a Collie, and King Cole, a Belgian Shepherd.



Your own private harbor at
MIRAMAR ESTATES

WHEN the projected breakwater at the foot of Miramar Estates is completed, Miramar will become the gem of all residential communities along Southern California's coast line. As an estate owner you will then enjoy the advantages of virtually a private harbor ... the greatest recreational harbor in the world! ❧ ❧ It is planned to build this breakwater three and one-fourth miles long, in a sweeping, graceful arc, thus affording safe anchorage for pleasure craft, and an ideal location for the enjoyment of all water sports. ❧ ❧ How fittingly this unique project complements the many other advantages to which Miramar may lay sole claim! Beautiful canyons whose natural grandeur will charm you unendingly ... tree-clad hills that slope gently down to the shore ... miles of bridle trails ... an unobstructed view of the ocean as far as the eye can see ... these are among the delightful things to be enjoyed in Miramar. In years to come, estates such as these, in the metropolitan area, will be almost priceless. ❧ ❧ If you will compare with Miramar any property claiming all the features that belong to Miramar, Miramar will inevitably be your choice. As a homesite, or as an investment, Miramar overshadows all others. ❧ ❧ Estates are available for as low as $8000. Complete information will be sent upon receipt of the coupon below, and no salesman will call unless it be at your own bidding.

HOW TO REACH MIRAMAR: Drive out Beverly Boulevard, to entrance, 500 feet from the ocean.

Man bets on himself—
a good bet for others

MANY a man has failed to land the job he went after, just because he looked seedy. The Boss looked him over and probably figured that a man who'd let himself slump would let his job slide, too.

"That experience brought me up short," the wise ones declare afterwards. "That very day I started on a whole new scheme of living. Nujol treatments, for one thing. Say, you'd never have known me for the same man six months later. I'm betting on myself now, all right. So is the outfit I'm working for.

"There are thousands of people in this condition. Half-hearted. Down on their luck. And don't quite know why. When all the time the answer is so simple. A slowed-up, sluggish system—an excess of poisons in the body.

"Regular treatments with Nujol start things functioning again as they should. Nujol not only keeps an excess of body poisons from forming (we all have them), but aids in their removal.

"Even healthy people need to help Nature along a bit at times. That's just what Nujol does. It's a pure natural substance—not a medicine—that helps keep you on a regular-as-clockwork schedule."

Start now to take Nujol regularly. Keep it up for the next three months. At the end of that time we'd be willing to bet your stock has gone way up. That you're worth a lot more to the people you work for—and to yourself, too. Worth gambling the price of, say, a couple of movie tickets, isn't it? That's all a bottle of Nujol costs.

Nujol can't possibly upset you. For it contains absolutely no medicine or drugs. Even little children can take it without having it disagree with them or disturb them. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories, 26 Broadway, New York. Sold at all drugstores in sealed packages only. Get a bottle today.

SMUTS HAS NEW AFRICAN POLICY

Mutual Agreement Urged to Solve Native Problem

Opposition Leader Stresses Economic Aspects

Justice and Racial Harmony Vital, He Argues

CAPE TOWN (South Africa) Feb. 26. (AP)—Following the defeat of the government's attempt to pass the native's parliamentary representation bill through a joint session of the houses of parliament yesterday Gen. Jan C. Smuts, opposition leader, today announced his intention of advocating in the general elections campaign a solution of the native problem along the path of mutual agreement.

The bill which failed to obtain the necessary two-thirds majority would have removed the franchise from the natives of the Cape province, thus bringing them in line with the rest of the union. Then it was the government's proposal to substitute a form of special parliamentary representation for the natives in proportion of the whole assembly.

Former Premier Smuts asserted that the economic aspects of the question are more urgent than the political aspects. The natives are rapidly overflowing their old boundaries and migrating to the towns, intensifying the economic competition, he said.

"A policy must be gradually shaped which shall be based on broad principles of justice and maintain racial peace and good feeling," Gen. Smuts explained. "Consequently the South African party has adopted the policy of holding a national convention which will consider the native question in all its aspects. Leaders of all political parties will be asked to collaborate in such a convention to be called as soon as possible after the coming general elections, if the South African party is returned to power."

Rich Chicagoan Kills Himself

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (AP)—Fifty years ago, in Boston, William B. Towne, at the age of 88, killed himself with a revolver. Yesterday his grandson, the wealthy and socially prominent John Dean Caton Towne, 47, died the same way.

Mrs. Towne, the lawyer-financier's second wife, found him dying in the library of their Gold Coast home. There was a bullet hole in his temple and a small pearl-handled revolver lay on the floor.

John D. C. Towne, Jr., said his father had made inquiry several weeks ago concerning a pistol which the younger Towne owned. He asked where it was kept, the son recalled, and if it was loaded.

Losses in the stock market are suggested as a motive.

THE PRIVATE LIFE of the PRINCE of WALES

(AS TOLD BY AN INTIMATE)
BY W. T. MARSDON
Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance

IV—PRINCE AS NAVAL OFFICER

King Edward died while the Prince was at Dartmouth College and a new epoch in the youth's life began.

His father became King and the Prince became Duke of Cornwall and heir to the throne. He was created Prince of Wales by his father on his sixteenth birthday, about six weeks after the death of King Edward.

A fact to note in the career of the Prince of Wales at this period is that his father became the supreme authority over him. There was now no one over King George who could interfere with the Prince's upbringing; but in point of fact Queen Mary remained for some little time the controlling influence in the Prince's life. No conflict of opinion arose between King George and Queen Mary in this matter, however.

QUEEN OPPOSED

After King Edward's death the Prince expressed the strongest wish that he should be allowed to enter the navy, as had been planned. King George did not oppose his wish, but Queen Mary did. Her view was that the Prince should travel in Europe with his tutor and visit the German and Russian courts, and that then he should go to Oxford and afterward into the army for a while. No doubt it was in Her Majesty's mind that he next should marry.

The Prince went to Queen Alexandra to help him in his plan to enter the navy. A member of Queen Alexandra's entourage told the following story of a family council at Sandringham to decide the Prince's fate. The Prince was brought from York Cottage by his parents and the council took place in Queen Alexandra's boudoir.

The Prince stood in the center of the room and said to his mother:

"I want very much to enter the navy. I do not think my father objects, and my grandmother hopes I may be allowed to carry out my plan. Will you let me?"

"There is only person who will decide that question," was the Queen's reply, "and that person is your father." Queen Mary looked the King.

GETS HIS WISH

"We must think it over," he said, and so ended the council. This took place in the summer of 1910.

A few months later, at Buckingham Palace, the Prince learned of the decision concerning his entry into the navy. He was to be allowed to do so, but first he was to be formally invested as Prince of Wales at Carnarvon Castle.

Now, the Prince had hoped to escape this formal investiture until he had been a year in the navy. He dreaded the ceremony. He had been through a number of ceremonies. He had been created a Knight of the Garter with the most elaborate formalities, and he had been through the coronation of his father. He wanted no more of this business.

He implored that his formal investiture be postponed until he had served a year in the navy. But his mother was adamant. It was her wish that before he entered the navy all the world should know with what great ceremony her eldest son had been invested with the title of Prince of Wales, and that when he joined the battleship as a midshipman no one on board would be likely to forget the Prince's rank.

PRINCE YIELDS

He yielded with as good grace as he could and prepared for the ceremony. This was perhaps one of the unhappiest periods of his life, but he recognized that the ordeal was inevitable and he went through it splendidly.

"Well, that's done and over, thank God!" was his comment to an old servant, his valet since the was 10 years of age.

Three weeks after his investiture the Prince joined H.M.S. Hindustan as a midshipman. For two days he was treated much more as a prince than as a newly joined middy. He was relieved of a good deal of duty and escaped ragging.

Then the Hindustan put to sea and a man-o-war at sea is a different affair from a man-o'-war in port. When the Hindustan began her cruise the Prince of Wales for the first time found himself in a world which forgot, or almost forgot, that he was the heir to the throne.

There were officers who did not give a hang that the midshipman was Prince of Wales. What mattered to them was that the ship was properly worked, and when the Hindustan was driving up the North Sea against a full gale there was no time for politeness. The Prince became simply one of a bunch told by the lieutenant looking after them that they were a miserable lot of young swabs who would get something more than they wanted if they were not lively doing what they were told.

It was a new experience for the Prince and he welcomed it after all the elaborate court and state ceremonies. He settled readily into the common life of the gunroom. He learned to drink whisky and soda, to join in "scrape" and choruses, and to speak the slang of the gunroom with a fluency that gained him the admiration of even the gunroom sublieutenant.

It is not certain why the Prince's career in the navy was cut off so suddenly. There is a story that it reached Queen Mary's ears that although he was learning all his duties very thoroughly he was also learning other things which middies learn but which the Queen did not think it necessary for the heir to the throne to know.

Anyway, after the Hindustan finished a cruise of three months the Prince was called home. He went to York Cottage to be informed of the plans being entertained for him.

Slaughter of Beaver Causes Government to Act

EDMONTON (Alta.) Feb. 26. (AP) Reports of fresh lawlessness on the part of the Casciar and the Sikanni tribesmen have caused the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to decide to establish a post at Fort Liard next summer.

The tribesmen, who live in the extreme southwest corner of the northwest territories, gained attention some years ago through stories of orgies at which there were human sacrifices. In lonely canyons, other reports stated, two Indians found guilty of bringing misfortune on the tribe, were lashed naked to stakes in below-zero weather, and water was poured over their bodies until they turned into statues of ice. A police investigation was made at the time.

This year, however, reports of the beaver being killed off have determined the police to establish a post at the old fort at the junction of the Liard and the Petitot rivers. Fort Liard is 222 miles up the Liard from its mouth at Fort Simpson, and a Hudson Bay company launch makes the trip each year from Simpson, on the MacKenzie, to Fort Nelson, 372 miles up the Liard and the head of navigation. The detachment will go in with the launch in June.

"For run down, ailing bodies yeast is of highest importance"

Photograph by Henri Manuel

DR. CAUSSADE is Laureate of The Faculty of Medicine of Paris; physician of the famous Hospital "Hotel Dieu"; past-president of the Paris Therapeutical Society; Chevalier of the Legion of Honor; frequent contributor to important medical publications.

"Yeast plays an assimilative rôle and brings about the utilisation of nutritious substances . . . It is of the highest importance for the 'run-down,' the undernourished and persons recovering from serious illness . . . Yeast has a real action not only on intestinal disinfection and constipation, but also on nutrition generally."

G. Caussade

SIGNIFICANT words from a great French physician: "For 'run-down' persons—yeast!"

Dr. Georges Caussade, who makes this frank advocacy of yeast for health, has received high honors in France for his attainments in the field of medicine and is the author of many professional works. He speaks with authority.

As Dr. Caussade points out, yeast assists in disinfecting and purifying the intestine and has a "real action" on constipation. Today most doctors agree that clogged intestines are the chief cause of "run-down" condition and depression, as well as of headaches, digestive disorders, too frequent colds and sore throat.

Half the doctors reporting in a recent survey throughout the United States, said they prescribed fresh yeast for constipation and its attendant ills.

Fleischmann's Yeast is fresh. Unlike dried or killed yeast, it contains millions of living, active yeast plants. As these pass through your intestine daily they combat harmful bacteria, purify the entire system.

Eat three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast every day, one cake before each meal or between meals, plain or in water, cold or hot (not scalding). Try it with a sprinkle of salt, or dissolved in milk or fruit juices. Many obtain its daily health benefits before or between meals on crackers or toast.

To get full benefit from Fleischmann's Yeast you must eat it regularly and over a sufficient period of time. At all grocers and many leading cafeterias, soda fountains and lunch counters. Buy 2 or 3 days' supply at a time as it will keep in any cool dry place. Start today!

Where Yeast Works
From throat to colon is one continuous tube. It is easy for poisons in a clogged intestine to spread to the rest of the system. 90% of common ills start that way. But here is where Yeast works to eliminate poisons and purify the system. Keep this entire tract clean, active and healthy with Fleischmann's Yeast.

CHINA SEETHING WITH DISORDER

Revolt Caused by Fear of Nationalist Policy

Rebel Leaders Seeking to Consolidate Discord

Control of Coming Congress Object of Moves

SHANGHAI (China) Feb. 26. (AP) Fear in Canton that the Nationalist government might soon attempt to compel its allegiance by force of arms is believed to be responsible for the recent disorders in Hunan.

Both in Canton and the Wuhan cities of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang have appeared two young and ambitious military commanders who are expected to control four southern provinces and to put up a stiff opposition to any effort by Nanking at consolidation.

Along with the outbreak of the Shantung revolt and scores of rumors of uprisings in various localities, as well as of splits within the Nationalist government itself, there is a general feeling of uneasiness in Nationalist circles. Various factions in many localities are even reported to be strengthening their alignments in the event of untoward developments.

FACTIONS ACTIVE

Although the Nationalist government outwardly is supported by the leading military commanders, underneath exists currents of factionalism. Radical elements which have been opposing the government also are taking the lead in attempts at consolidation, hoping to wield a strong influence at the coming Kuomintang National Congress which opens on March 15. These groups seek to control the government. If this should happen the Conservatives express belief that China is destined to reneged disorders.

CAMPAIGN PLANNED

From Canton comes supposedly well-informed reports stating that the government there is expecting Nanking to launch a military campaign to the south, seeking to force the Canton government to grant allegiance to Nanking. The Canton leaders held a conference at Wuchow in the Province of Kwangsi at which a plan of action was drawn up in the event of hostilities by Nanking. These Cantonese leaders charged that Chiang Kai-Shek, the Nationalist President, and Feng Yu-Hsiang, powerful war lord, are secretly in alliance and are seeking the favor of Radical elements planning to subjugate Canton. It is Canton, with the assistance of the Wuhan cities, that has been consistently blocking the plans of the Nanking government, balking disarmament, centralization, the control of communications and the customs and salt revenues, as well as other taxes.

DEFENSE STRENGTHENED

Believing that Nanking is awaiting the opportunity to open hostilities, it is reported that the Cantonese are losing no time in strengthening their defenses and alliance with Wuhan. The present Hunan troubles are taken as an indication of this as the recently ousted chairman of Changsha is considered a Nanking protege, while Gen. No Chien, who took over the city, is a Wuhan follower.

The latest realignments of the Wuhan-Canton combine place Gen. Wang Shao-Hsiung in control of Canton. He is a 33-year-old leader who has supplanted the old South China leaders, and has long been an archenemy of Nanking. Wuhan's control also has passed from older figures to a comparatively newcomer, Gen. Hu Tsung-Tu, the Wuhan garrison commander, who is known as "The Butcher," because of his wholesale executions of Communists in Wuhan. These two men are expected to control Hunan Kiangsi, Kwangtung and Kwangsi.

MOVE PREPARED

An isolated military unit also expected to line up with Canton is the famous "Ironsides army," now stationed in Shantung. These troops served as the Nationalist shock forces and virtually led the Nationalist advance all the way from Canton to Peking without suffering a single defeat. The troops, made up of loyal Cantonese, are anxious to return to the south. Chiang Kai-Shek wants to keep them north of the Yangtse, but it is believed that they are likely to start southward at any time.

Leaders agree that the coming conference at Nanking is most important, and that from it are likely to emerge fundamental changes. At least until then a general atmosphere of unsettled character is expected to predominate.

POWER PERMIT ASKED

Arizona Concern Seeks Federal Board Sanction for Project

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Federal Power Commission today received application of the Arizona Power Company of Prescott for a license to operate a 5625 horsepower project for domestic and lighting purposes in several Arizona towns.

The project consists of transmission lines totaling approximately 100 miles in length, two hydroelectric plants on Fossil Creek, a tributary of Verde River, with a combined installed capacity of 11,100 horsepower, five substations and approximately eleven miles of water conduit.

The power would be supplied to Prescott, Cottonwood, Mayer, Camp Verde and Centerville; to mines in Yavapai county, and for sale to the Central Arizona Light and Power Company of Phoenix.

FUND TO START SHIPS ACCEPTED

Conference Adopts Cruiser Construction Item

Sum of $12,370,000 to be Made Available

Money for Pearl Harbor Dock Eliminated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The $12,370,000 fund for starting the cruiser construction program was accepted today by House conferees on the Naval Department appropriation bill.

The Senate added the amount to the naval supply measure and the conferees for adjustment of differences between the Senate and House today reached an agreement to include this item. Other differences also were smoothed over.

Senator Hale, Republican, of Maine, sought immediate action by the Senate on the naval bill conference report, but Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, objected. The Senate then voted, 50 to 13, to take up the report, but an understanding was reached meanwhile to defer consideration until tomorrow.

GOES TO PRESIDENT

With adoption of the conference report by the Senate and the House, the naval appropriations bill will go to the President, thus assuring an immediate start on the cruiser construction program.

The House and Senate conferees modified the Senate bill to provide only $200,000 instead of $500,000 for starting work during the next fiscal year on the second complement of the fifteen cruisers.

The bill carries $200,000 to be available immediately for beginning work on the first five cruisers. The remainder of the fund of $12,370,000 is to be available in the fiscal year beginning July 1, next, and will be used for continuous work on the first.

DRY DOCK ELIMINATED

The funds recommended for starting the second group of cruisers also will be available for initiation of work on the aircraft carrier.

The conferees eliminated a Senate amendment calling for expenditure of $400,000 for a dry dock at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. A compromise was reached on the $300,000 Senate item and the $160,000 House item for the purchase of helium, the conference agreeing on $230,000 for this purpose.

Cement Trust Charge Argued

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26. (AP)—The investigating committee of the Legislature that is investigating the asserted existence of a cement trust in California met at the Capitol today and heard arguments by attorneys for cement interests against submission of a report finding such a trust existed.

The investigating committee is awaiting a decision from the Attorney-General regarding what power the committee might have to force officials of cement companies to produce records.

MORE MILLIONAIRES EXPECTED TO FILE TAX RETURNS THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Treasury Department expects the March 15 income-tax returns to show that at least 14,000 persons in the United States are worth $1,000,000 or more.

The figure was arrived at from a study by Joseph S. McCoy, chief actuary.

A person who pays a tax on an income of $100,000 is estimated to be worth $1,000,000 and last year 11,607 persons made returns on that amount. Many persons worth $1,000,000 paid less because their wealth included tax-exempt securities.

In 1927 the number of persons who had net incomes of more than $1,000,000 totaled 283, and this number also is expected to be increased this year.

McCoy estimates that the number of persons filing returns this year also will be increased due to prosperous conditions prevailing in 1928. In 1927 a total of 4,122,242 persons filed income-tax returns, of whom 2,458,859 had taxable incomes.

INDIAN QUIZ SHUNTED TO SIDETRACK

Senate Refuses Fund to Carry on With Inquiry; Lobbying Charged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Senate today refused to grant authority for continuation of an investigation of the Bureau of Indian Affairs and to set aside an additional $15,000 for its expenses.

Despite a vigorous plea by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana who urged adoption of two resolutions to carry on the investigation, objection to their adoption was made by Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, and under the rules, the measures went over.

Senator Wheeler charged these had been "a determined effort" by Commissioner Burke, of the Indian Bureau, to "stop the investigation ever since it began."

"The commissioner and his assistant," he said, "have been lobbying constantly among Senators in an attempt to prevent action on these resolutions."

Wheeler added that the committee has been conducting "a fair and impartial investigation."

Previously Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, and Senator Hayden, Democrat, Arizona, declared they believed further investigation unnecessary.

Thomas said that if Indians have been treated badly by the Bureau it was because insufficient appropriations have been provided by Congress.

BULGARIA OPPOSES CONCORDAT

Government Denies Giving of Catholic Previleges in Exchange for Princess

SOFIA, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Not even to win a queen for its popular young King will Bulgaria accept a concordat with the Vatican. Reports that the government had accorded special privileges in Bulgaria to the Roman Catholic Church in return for the Vatican's assent to the marriage of Princess Giovanna, daughter of the King of Italy, to King Boris of Bulgaria were vigorously denied here today in official circles.

Not only does the government oppose a concordat but the Bulgarian Greek Orthodox Church let it be known that it will not countenance such a move on any condition.

A member of the government announced today that a law is already in preparation which will prohibit Bulgarian children from attending Catholic parochial schools and which will limit the number of Catholic seminaries.

Measure Would Cut Duck Limit

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26. (AP)—A bill by Senator Swing of San Bernardino cutting the limit on ducks from twenty-five to fifteen a day in California and permitting shooting only three days a week was recommended for passage by the Fish and Game Committee of the Senate today.

Favorable recommendation also was voted for another Swing bill limiting the days on which water fowl might be hunted to Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays, legal holidays and the opening and closing days of the seasons was voted by the committee.

PORKER ANNIHILATED AND TRAIN DERAILED

GREAT FALLS (Mont.) Feb. 26. (AP)—One hog was annihilated and a Great Northern passenger train was derailed when the two came in contact near here today. The passenger train rammed two hogs, throwing one of them clear, but the second rolled under the engine trucks and derailed the locomotive, which pulled three coaches off the track and dragged them over 600 feet of prairie. Other than the porker there were no injuries.

WISCONSIN INVOKES LIQUOR REFERENDUM

MADISON (Wis.) Feb. 26. (AP)—The Wisconsin Assembly today concurred in the joint resolution introduced by Senator Duncan, Milwaukee, Socialist, memorializing Congress to provide for a nation-wide referendum on the question of modifying the Volstead Act.

POSTAL APPOINTMENT INQUIRY TO CONTINUE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—A resolution to continue the investigation of postmastership appointments in Southern States was adopted today by the Senate.

INSANE MAN IN SUBWAY STABS FOUR

Peaceful Iron Worker in New York Crowd Suddenly Turns Fighting Maniac

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—A six-foot iron worker, who police said went insane suddenly, stabbed three men and a boy and threw hundreds of homegoing workers into a panic in the crowded Times Square subway station tonght before he was knocked unconscious by a policeman.

The stabber, John Kitt, 28 years of age, a German, who has been in America only two years, was standing on the platform with the other passengers when he suddenly drew a long knife and slashed the three.

Other passengers fled for the stairways, several women being knocked down and trampled in the rush.

A dozen policemen responded to the calls for help and one felled Kitt with his nightstick. Kitt was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where it is said he is suffering from a possible fractured skull.

Nathan Freiman, 15, and Leon LaVay of New York, two of the victims were taken to New York Hospital suffering from wounds in the back and arms. Freiman's condition is reported serious. Paul M. Thafe, 35, also of New York was treated by an ambulance surgeon and sent home, and Richard Knthrup, 37, of Union City, N. J., walked to St. Vincent's Hospital for treatment.

Thousands See Boy Guillotined

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune]

PARIS, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Reminiscent of the mob scenes of the gory days of the French revolution, 5000 persons jammed the ancient streets of Amiens outside the jail this morning to witness the first guillotining that has taken place in the Cathedral City in the last forty years.

The victim in this public execution was Serge Gambier, 19 years of age, who was convicted of murdering two old maids in order to steal their savings of a few hundred francs.

The youthful slayer remained callous to the end.

Author-Suicide's Play Accepted

CARMEL, Feb. 26. (AP)—Thomas Vincent Cator, who wrote the music for Ira Mallory Remsen's play, "Inchling," rejection of which by New York producers was blamed in part for Remsen's suicide last Thanksgiving, announced today receipt of word from New York that the play has been accepted.

Remsen, son of the late Dr. Ira Remsen, former president of Johns Hopkins University, was well known in California art circles, and friends said he had written "Inchling" in hope of winning wider fame.

Morrow Speaks at U. C. in March

EXTRA! CHICAGO ELECTION QUIET

No Murder, No Kidnaping, Not Even One Assault

Some Thompson Men Carry Wards, Others Defeated

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Chicago's aldermanic election, the battle cry of which was "oust Thompsonism," passed off quietly today. There was no violence, no kidnaping, no assault. Police were on the job everywhere, particularly in the "Bloody Twentieth" ward.

Incomplete returns at a late hour tonight indicate the defeat of six sitting Alderman, three of them Thompson leaders. The first of these reported beaten is Alderman Leonard J. Grossman of the Fifth Ward, an ex-Democrat, who turned Republican two years ago and became one of Mayor Thompson's floor leaders in the City Council. He was defeated by Former Alderman Charles S. Eaton.

Alderman Titus A. Haffa, Crowe-Thompson adherent, was given a sound beating in the Forty-third Ward by Ex-Alderman Arthur Albert, who was ousted by the City Council two years ago and his seat awarded to Haffa on a contested election. Haffa, who was convicted of conspiracy to bootleg and was sentenced recently to Leavenworth penitentiary and a fine of $10,000 and is out on $25,000 bail pending appeal, made a vigorous campaign.

REFORMER SEEMS BEATEN

In the Thirty-third Ward Alderman Joseph Petlak, a Thompson leader, is indicated to have lost on the basis of incomplete returns to George M. Roszczynialski. Alderman Stanley Adamiewick seems to have lost in the Thirty-first Ward. Frank E. Konkowski and Joseph Przybylo are out in front.

In a spectacular battle in the Eighth ward Alderman William D. Meyering, anti-Thompson, seems to have vanquished Albert H. Brunker, reformer and head of the Chicago Civic Safety League.

In the "Bloody Twentieth" the Eller gang succeeded in defeating Alderman A. J. Prignano, candidate for re-election, who was forced to flee with his family from his home to escape the threats of bombings which he received by telephone. State Representative William V. Pacelli is the winner in that ward almost complete returns show.

"POLICE ON JOB THIS TIME"

In Mayor Thompson's home ward, the Forty-sixth, Alderman Oscar F. Nelson, the Mayor's chief floor leader, seems to have won. In the headliner battles in the Seventeenth, Fortieth and Fiftieth wards the outcome will be determined in the supplemental election. In the Seventeenth, United States Senator Charles S. Deneen's home ward, James G. Coyle, a Thompson follower and Robert R. Barbee, Deneen candidate, will be the runners-off. In the Fiftieth Wiley K. Galloway and Alderman John W. Chapman are running as the two highest, which would place them in the run-off, April 2.

Commenting on the election results County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, in charge of the election machinery, said: "The political underworld has been intimidated. The vigorous prosecutions following the April primary had something to do with it. But the most effective agency in bringing about an orderly election was the closing of saloons and gambling joints a few days ago. The police were on the job this time."

Union League to Change Site

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—One of New York's most famous clubs—the Union League—is to abandon its site at Fifth avenue and Thirty-ninth street, which it was occupied since 1881.

The club, at a special meeting last ninth street, which it has occupied of the present property and to buy a new site at Park avenue and Thirty-seventh street, where a ten-story building will be erected at a cost of $3,000,000.

The Union League Club, which was organized in 1863, has a distinguished membership of 1800. A number of former Presidents of the United States were honorary members.

Rich Indian Girl Thought Her Marriage to Auto Man Was "Off," But Court Balks

PHOENIX, Feb. 26. (AP)—Earl E. Gordon, former Miami (Okla.) auto salesman, still is the husband of Maud Lee Mudd, Indian heiress, and their marriage in Council Bluffs, Iowa, June 8, 1925, stands, so far as Arizona law is concerned, the State Supreme Court ruled here yesterday in reversing the annulment action started in Pinal county, Arizona, in 1926, in which the lower court voided the nuptial contract.

Maude Lee Mudd

The high court opinion is based on the statement that the Indian wife had not been an actual, bona fide resident of Arizona for a year prior to the filing of her complaint seeking to have the marriage annulled, and that the Superior Court should have dismissed the case when that fact became known.

NEW COMPLICATION ADDED TO HER CAREER

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 26, (AP)—Decision of the Arizona Supreme Court reversing an order which had annuled the marriage of Maude Lee Mudd, Oklahoma Indian heiress, to Earl E. Gordon injects another complicating factor into the career of the girl whose marital and financial ventures have kept her in the public eye for several years.

The girl first attracted attention in 1922 when it was discovered that she was heiress to a fortune estimated in the millions of dollars. Her wealth resulted from a dual legacy—rich head rights descending from her father's Osage connections, and inheritance of rich zinc and lead holdings from an aunt, Lucy Lotson Beaver Perry.

A tangled legal struggle developed for custody of the girl, and for a share in the estate. The fight was taken to the State Supreme Court and Sam Perry, husband of Lucy Lotson, won a third interest in rich mineral lands, which he still retains.

Announcement of her marriage to Gordon, a Miami motor car salesman, was made in Council Bluffs after she had disappeared from Miami. The couple returned to Miami after the wedding, obtained some money from the girl's funds and from the Indian agency and went on a honeymoon trip to California.

The party had not been on the West Coast long until Maude Lee disappeared from a Riverside (Cal.) hotel.

She was not heard from until early in 1926 when she started the annulment proceedings in Arizona.

In June of the same year the annulment was granted. She married Joe Wilson.

Spanish Vessel Explains Long Silence at Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—First vessel of the Spanish navy to pass through the Golden Gate since 1898, the trim, white barkentine Juan Sebastian Elcano dropped anchor in man-o'-war row today, definitely disclosing the reason for her long continued silence while pushing leisurely across the Pacific on a trip around the world. The vessel came in with one of her four masts foreshortened about ten feet, the top having been carried away in a storm and with it, the radio antennae.

Plans for extensive and elaborate entertainment of officers and crew, however, were canceled when Commander Manuel De Mendivil, informed Mayor Rolph all are in mourning for the late Queen Mother of Spain.

Some apprehension had been felt for the safety of the barkentine because of its silence.

SUSPECT WEDS WIFE OF MURDER VICTIM

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Feb. 26. (AP) Frederick Ledbetter of Antioch, Tenn., who was acquitted in Baltimore January 20 for the murder of Thomas Beartin, was married here the 18th inst., to the wife of the man he was tried for killing, it was learned today. The slaying occurred in Baltimore when Beatin forced entrance into Ledbetter's rooms where his wife was visiting.

OIL INJUNCTION FIGHT FORECAST

Stewart and Rockefeller Line-up Proxy Forces

Outcome of Director Vote Will Not be Final

Power of Factions Expected to Force Further War

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Possibility of a gigantic injunction in the battle of proxies for the control of the $900,000,000 Standard Oil Company of Indiana between John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the company, was seen today by financial observers.

On March 7, in the general offices of the Standard Oil of Indiana at Whiting, Ind., a meeting of directors of the corporation is supposed to settle the contest between Col. Stewart and Mr. Rockefeller. But as the climax to the battle draws near, the financial wiseacres, it was revealed today, are more and more inclined to the belief that whichever of the two contestants may be able to muster the greatest number of votes, the fight will not end there.

The prestige of the Rockefellers will urge on Mr. Rockefeller to extraordinary measures should Col. Stewart defeat him at the directors' meeting, and on the other hand Col. Stewart will not retire meekly should the directors count him out, is the general opinion expressed.

On just what pleas either Mr. Rockefeller or Col. Stewart might base an injunction suit to throw out the result of the battle of proxies was the subject of speculation today. Some recalled that a decision of the United States Supreme Court in 1911, dismembering the parent Standard Oil Company, could be employed in the courts to prevent Mr. Rockefeller from, in effect, assuming control of the Indiana company.

ROCKEFELLERS BUSY PATCHING PROXY NET

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) The Rockefeller forces at 26 Broadway today were busy patching the loopholes in their proxy net in which they hope to haul Col. Robert W. Stewart out of the Standard Oil of Indiana, on March 7.

Dispatches received here today said the proxies of the holdings of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, with headquarters in Montreal, would be given to John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The company has invested in 44,000 shares of Standard of Indiana, it is understood here. On the other hand, Col. Stewart, arriving from the West, ostensibly to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the National City Bank, was just as confident of victory.

INDIAN BILL PASSES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—A bill to authorize an appropriation of $1000 for purchase of ten acres of land occupied as a camp by a colony of Indians near Ely, Nev., was passed and sent to the House by the Senate today.

COWBOY HONEYMOON ENDS

Youth Who Eloped With Chicago Heiress Starts for Los Angeles to Hunt Job

PHOENIX, Feb. 26. (AP)—The honeymoon of Katherine Thorne Gillespie, pretty Chicago heiress, and George Gillespie, Arizona "cowboy," was interrupted today when announcement was made that Gillespie had left for Los Angeles this morning to seek a position.

The first inkling that the honeymoon had come to an abrupt close came when a reporter saw the bridegroom board a westbound train.

Further light was thrown on the hasty leave-taking when Robert J. Thorne, multimillionaire father of the bride, who had violently opposed the match, admitted that the young man had gone "job hunting."

The Thornes issued a formal announcement of their daughter's marriage to Gillespie after a conference with the bride and groom last night. The announcement stated that "Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie will make their home in the West, where Mr Gillespie has business opportunities."

Mr. Thorne said today: "The episode is closed so far as we are concerned. The young couple eloped, true enough, but they are married now. We have accepted the situation. I cannot see that there is anything unusual in the fact that the boy has started out to find himself a job."

Gillespie and his bride were married here Sunday after a hectic automobile race from Castle Hot Springs, Ariz., with police and the Thornes in pursuit.

Mr. Thorne charged that Gillespie had "kidnaped" his daughter. It is understood that he objected to the match on the ground that Gillespie is "just a cowboy" and that his daughter was engaged to another man.

Carson Concern Wins First Tilt

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 26. (AP)—The Carson Investment Company won the first round in the legal battle that began here yesterday to establish the amount of damages it has sustained by the American Smelting and Refining Company's use of the system of smelting patented by George Campbell Carson, veteran western miner and metallurgist.

The Carson company asked Monday that the smelting company be required to produce its books for the year 1907. Today Judge Ellis, master in chancery, ruled the defendant company should produce its books.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

IMPERIAL ASKS FEDERAL LOANS

Berkeley Land Bank Offers to Make Investigation

Engineer Will Study Value of Valley Ranches

Passage of Boulder Bill Changes Attitude

EL CENTRO, Feb. 26.—In response to a request made by the Imperial Valley Farm Bureau, an engineer representing the Federal Land Bank at Berkeley is due here in a few days to make a survey to determine whether or not Federal farm loans are to be made in the valley.

The Federal Land Bank withdrew Imperial Valley several years ago, stating at that time that its action was due to flood hazards from the Colorado River. Since passage of the Swing-Johnson bill, the Farm Bureau and other local agencies have asked that the subject be reopened.

SEVERAL QUERIES MADE

In a letter received this week by Scott B. Foulds, manager of the Farm Bureau here, W. D. Ellis, president of the Berkeley Land Bank, stated that he would arrange to have a survey made. The data obtained by the bank's representative will be forwarded to the Farm Loan Board at Washington, along with loan applications.

Ellis stated that among the questions to be considered are the following:

"First, will the all-American canal be constructed and, if so, what will be the cost of the construction that will have to be borne by the land served by the canal?

"Second, what will the drainage situation be if the all-American canal is constructed, together with one or more high-line canals that will bring in new land?

EFFECT OF DAM PROBLEM

"Third, what would be the effect on present lands in cultivation if a considerable acreage of new land is brought into cultivation?

"Fourth, what about drainage conditions? We understand that the present drainage efforts are not meeting with very much success.

"Fifth, in view of the fact that our loans are made for twenty and thirty-six-year terms and that all-American canal may be constructed during the life of our loans and increased appropriations may be necessary for drainage purposes, what value can be intelligently placed on the land for loan purposes at this time?"

According to Foulds, lack of capital and high interest rates have been a serious handicap to Imperial Valley ranchers and the Farm Bureau manager believes that if Federal farm loans are made available here it will stimulate much activity both in ranching and in land sales.

Valley Frowns on School Bill

LANCASTER, Feb. 26.—The county-unit school district measure now before the State Legislature was condemned in a mass meeting in the high-school auditorium here, attended by 200 school trustees, teachers and interested citizens of the Antelope Valley.

County Superintendent of Schools H. S. Upjohn was requested to explain the manner in which the proposed bill would affect the Antelope Valley schools and gave a very comprehensive digest of the bill stating that in event of its enactment the school districts in this section will be combined with the districts at Claremont, Puente and several other communities south of the mountains in what will be known as the county district, and would be administered by a single board of five members.

Resolutions were passed disapproving the bill as not being practical in its application to Los Angeles county because of the widespread area in the proposed district. Copies of the resolution have been sent to the educational committee of the State Assembly and to Senator Weller and Assemblyman Crawford.

'SPEEDER'S PET ALIBI MEETS WATERLOO

GLENDALE, Feb. 26.—The standard alibi offered by the speeder that "the old car won't go as fast as that," fails to work when presented in Police Judge Lowe's court. Luther Johnson, Roscoe, charged with going at forty-five miles an hour along San Fernando Road, declared that the most he could get out of his car at the best is thirty-five miles an hour, and he added that it would not run at all today. Judge Lowe postponed the case for a week and told Johnson to bring his car with him next Tuesday, when the court will send an officer to time him on the highway when the car is doing its best. Judge Lowe has announced his intention to put a stop to speed-law violations among drivers who use San Fernando Road.

TRAIL OF RAISINS DISCLOSES STILL

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 26.—A string of raisins being dropped along the highway from a truck made State Traffic Officer W. H. Rutheford suspicious yesterday. He stopped the truck and found a thirty-gallon still, 300 pounds of sugar, fifty pounds of raisins, a box of yeast, and a high-powered rifle loaded with dum-dum bullets. Jesus Abila, driver of the truck, was placed under arrest and held to answer to Superior Court by Justice Poole. Abila was taking the truck and supplies into the mountains to set up a moonshine plant, according to deputy sheriffs.

SNOW LURES THRONG TO PLAYGROUND

Before and After

One of the hundreds of youthful revelers at county playground has usual beginner's luck with a pair of skiis, as shown above. Below, is more skilled performer, Miss Cynthia Mahoney of Santa Barbara, who also is known among the winter sports devotees at St. Moritz, Switzerland.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 26.—Out of the sun-swept valleys below, 16,000 Southern Californians played like their back-East brothers and sisters at the Big Pines recreation camp over the week-end, marking the conclusion of a winter sports carnival staged under the direction of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sporting events which included ski jumping, fancy skating, the first outdoor ice hockey game ever played in Southern California, snowball battles and tobogganing, were offered. During the three-day carnival more than 19,000 people entered the playground, according to figures announced by F. E. Wadsworth, superintendent of the park. The ice hockey was played on the lake in a pine-clad valley. A series of exhibitions by professional skaters was also held. Later hundreds of guests, some of whom had never before attempted the sport, skated on the lake. The toboggan, with its sharp curves and thrills, attracted hundreds.

Sunday was the biggest day from an attendance standpoint in winter history of the park, Wadsworth said. Although it is spring in the valleys below there is yet more than six inches of snow at the park, easily reached by motorists.

AUTO HITS KNITTER IN FRONT YARD

Officer Gives Chase and Arrests Suspect Fleeing After Accident

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 26.—A hit-and-run motorist struck and seriously injured a woman who was knitting in the front yard of her home at 1620 Atlantic street today. Mrs. Rufina Comancho, 29 years of age, the injured woman, was run over by the automobile an instant after the hit-and-run car had struck an automobile at Atlantic and Cedar streets, causing slight injuries to Joe Lopez, 23, of 1619 National avenue, police said.

When police arrived, search was instituted for the driver, who was arrested, police said, at Twelfth and L streets by Motor Officer C. S. Renner. When booked at the City Jail, the suspect gave his name as Frank Trujillo, 36. Physicians pronounced him under the influence of liquor.

Mrs. Comancho, Hospital Steward Harold Reama said, suffered a possible broken back. She was taken to the County Hospital.

Flyers Perform Daring Feat

LONG BEACH, Feb. 26.—Long Beach airmen will take off from the Municipal Airport at dawn tomorrow in an attempt to startle the glider world by towing a glider from Fresno to this city. Dale Drake, owner of the glider, plans to ride the unmotored craft as it is towed behind a Fokker cabin plane piloted by Lloyd O'Donnell, local flyer. If the plan succeeds, the glider will attain an altitude never reached by similar craft and Drake will be in the air a longer time than any other glider operator has ever been. Over the local airport on the return, if conditions are satisfactory, the glider will be cut loose from the plane and Drake will attempt to remain in the air as long as possible. The flyers expect to arrive back at the airport about dark tomorrow.

COUPLE JAILED ON SPEEDING CHARGES

SANTA ANA, Feb. 26. (AP)—A woman who told police she was Mrs. Lillian Ogden, 22 years of age, of 1622 One Hundred and Second street, Los Angeles, was sentenced to serve five days in the City Jail here today on a speeding charge and her companion, who said he was J. R. Mullens, 28, of 2206 Maple avenue, Los Angeles, was sentenced to fifty days in jail and a $50 fine for driving while intoxicated. The couple was arrested last night. Officers say they were speeding "wildly" about the city.

VETERANS WILL MEET

CULVER CITY, Feb. 26.—With Commander Neal Dow in the chair, Culver-Palms Unit 110, United Veterans of the Republic, will meet at the American Legion clubhouse tomorrow night. All veterans are invited. Many committee reports and messages of vital interest to all men who served the United States in time of war will be delivered.

LAST RITES FOR BANKER

GLENDALE, Feb. 26.—Funeral services for John Clayton Rutt, 49 years of age, banker and business man of Waukegan, Ill., will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Jewel City funeral chapel here. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Rutt was president of the Waukegan National Bank fourteen years. He retired and came to Southern California last August. With Mrs. Rutt, he had been residing at 1220 North Brand Boulevard.

MINISTERS AID CEMETERY

Glendale Pastors Protest Ordinance Prohibiting Burials in Contested District

GLENDALE, Feb. 26.—Protest against adoption of an ordinance that would prohibit burials in that section of Forest Lawn Memorial Park that lies in this city was expressed in a resolution presented to the City Council today by East Glendale Ministerial Association and signed by pastors of seven of the city's churches.

The resolution suggests that the proposed restriction against interments apply only to the two small areas that slope toward Glendale.

"There is need for a fitting place in which to bury Glendale's deceased," the resolution reads, "and Forest Lawn Memorial Park furnishes a burial ground which beautifully depicts the attitude and spirit of Christ toward earthly death."

The proposed ordinance was formally introduced by Councilman C. J. Hetz today in order that it might be discussed Thursday along with the ordinance that was at first proposed and that would prohibit all interments within the city boundaries. A large part of the tract in Forest Lawn, involved in the present controversy, lies within the city limits, but slopes southward beyond the brow of a hill.

THUGS USE OFFICERS' UNIFORMS

Compton, Lynwood Police Gets Reports of Raiders' Activity in Disguise

COMPTON, Feb. 26.—Compton and Lynwood police are looking for a group of bandits who have been operating in uniform of local merchant police patrol on Long Beach Boulevard in these two towns.

This morning Lee F. Cooker, 4449 Fourth street, Long Beach, reported to police here that he had been forced to the side of the road just inside the south city limits of Lynwood by two merchant patrol police in full uniform. They covered him with a gun, he reported, and took $120 in cash and threatened to shoot him if he made the slightest outcry.

At a waffle shop on Long Beach Boulevard here, bandits entered the cafe at 11 o'clock last night and held up the cashier and patrons. A roll of bills containing more than $300 was overlooked by the bandits, who took $75 in cash and fled. They were masked. A third man in an automobile outside wore a merchant-patrol uniform, several asserted.

Large Value Put on Acre of Land

VENTURA, Feb. 26. — Attorneys in Superior Court today were trying to pick a jury capable, or incapable, of seeing $250,000 value in a piece of land less than an acre in area. The case of the State Highway Commission against Thornhill Broome and Charles Lantz was opened here before Judge Edward Henderson to determine the value of a piece of property which the State desires to condemn for a highway maintenance station.

It is the defense contention that the piece, if condemned, will so divide a larger plot of ground as to spoil it for a summer or winter resort or resort hotel. Lantz asserts there is an offer of $250,000 for this piece of ground, which is said to be ideal for a resort, which offer will be withdrawn if the plot in question is condemned.

GLENDALE COUNCIL ASKS LAW CHANGES

MORE RESTRICTIONS FAVORED TO SAFEGUARD RIGHTS OF LANDOWNERS

GLENDALE, Feb. 26.—Resolutions defining the attitude of the City Council toward measures now before the State Legislature relating to street improvements were adopted at today's Council meeting. The resolution stresses the principles of such legislation as should be adopted if the rights of the property owners are to be protected, as follows:

Only definite and specific obligations should be placed against separate and individual lots and parcels of land; provision should be made whereby an owner can, at his own initiative and without undue penalty, clear his property of any obligation against it at any time he may see fit; no district liability should be established and no lot or parcel should be made responsible for delinquencies on other property, and full approval is given measures seeking to protect still further the rights of property owners against foreclosure of street assessments and bonds and limit the costs and penalties in connection therewith.

SCHOOL EXECUTIVE ELECTION CALLED

REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 26.—Electors of the Union High School District will go to the polls on March 29 to fill one place upon the school board, that of the president, George E. Delevan, Jr., whose term expires this spring. Delevan who has been a member of the board several years will be a candidate for re-election, it was announced today. Others serving on the board are G. H. Anderson, J. G. Moodie, Carl Johnson and J. C. Good.

"CAN YOU BEAT IT?" SHE DID!

VENTURA, Feb. 26.—"Can you beat it?" The middle-aged man shot a look of hopeless exasperation at Miss Grace Woodruff, deputy County Clerk. He had come to the clerk's counter to make application for a marriage license.

With him was his "intended" and another woman companion. Just as the names were about to be taken, the bride-to-be turned and rushed from the room. No amount of snapping of the prospective bridegroom's fingers could stop her.

In vain he shouted: "Here! Come back here." Then he turned to Miss Woodruff. "Can you beat it?" he said, and hurried after the one who had so suddenly exercised a woman's prerogative.

Outside the office the trio argued for several minutes. They walked down the corridor, descended the stairs to the front sidewalk, and walked to a machine, still arguing. They got in a car and drove away, still arguing. But they kept going.

WINEMAN TELLS OF DESERT

Famous Camera-Naturalist Finishes Photographic Study of Native Palms and Landscapes

PASADENA, Feb. 26.—Bronzed by his five months' excursion through California deserts, Mode Wineman, internationally known camera-naturalist, revealed today that he has practically completed his photographic studies of native desert palms and landscapes.

Wineman, who won special recognition for his studies of President Coolidge, returned from the arid regions last night with H. E. Sargent, director and secretary of the Pasadena Art Institute, at whose residence, 222 Arroyo Terrace, the naturalist will be a guest for a few days before returning to the heart of the desert.

Completion of Wineman's studies of the California palm will mark another milestone in his life's work and is attracting the notice of Southern California artists and naturalists.

When the Carmelita Art Galleries in this city were opened 1924, as a feature of Pasadena's Jubilee Year's observances, Wineman's entire collection was exhibited for the first time and won immediate recognition as the outstanding group of photographic studies of nature made in this country.

Asserts He Was Struck by Ghost Hit-and-Runner

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26. Andrew N. Baine, who got mixed up here in an automobile mishap and who got a sentence of thirty days in the County Jail after he told his story to the police and the judge, says he was smashed into by a ghost hit-and-run driver and that's all he knew about it.

When Baine was found by the police on Lankershim Boulevard he was underneath his overturned car, and a front tire was blown out. Police say that when the tire blew out the car turned over.

Baine insists he was struck by something. "It was a ghost hit-and-runner," he told the judge at the Van Nuys Municipal Court.

"I felt the wind of it as it went by."

Judge of the court said he didn't believe in ghosts, that police charged Baine had been found intoxicated under his overturned machine, and that ghosts or no ghosts, the sentence was thirty days in jail.

Death Threats Bring Police

POMONA, Feb. 26.—Two riot calls today sent police scurrying to 325 East Monterey street, where they arrested Walter Nielson, 44 years of age, and William Bailey, 59, following complaints of roomers in a boarding-house that they had threatened to kill every one on the place.

Nielson submitted to arrest without resistance, but Bailey slugged one officer before he was subdued. Brought to the police station, both were found to be highly intoxicated and were unable to appear for trial this afternoon, both having become violently ill following their incarceration, necessitating treatment at the health center. Bailey was returned to the health center for further treatment when he took a high dive from an upper bunk to the cement floor of his cell.

Man Dug From Grave in Sand

ONTARIO, Feb. 26.—The inhalator squad of the local fire department was called at noon today to administer aid to Pablo Hernandez, Claremont Mexican, caught in a slide of sand at a Union Rock Company sand pit.

Before the squad arrived Hernandez had been revived by a doctor. A deluge of fine sand fell on the man, covering him completely. Fellow-workmen frantically dug him from his grave in time to prevent death. He was hysterical from fright.

MRS. MARY WHITE DIES AT INGLEWOOD

INGLEWOOD, Feb. 26. — Funeral services will be conducted here tomorrow morning for Mrs. Mary E. White, mother of Frank D. Parent, founder of the local realty board and president of the Centinela Development Association. The regular weekly luncheon meeting of the board was called off today in deference to Mr. Parent. Mrs. White died last night at her home in the Graaf Apartments, following an illness of nearly two years' standing. She was a native of Ohio, but later removed to Abilene, Kan., and came here with her husband six and a half years ago. Six months later the latter died. Mr. Parent is the only child.

NEED CITED FOR RULES ABOUT SEA

Irritations Between Two English-Speaking Groups Listed by Educator

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 26.—Absence of an agreement relative to an international law of the seas, inequalities in our tariff laws and mistakes in administering them, and the presence of men in our diplomatic service ill fitted for the courteous and just discharge of our duties, are the three features that are preventing a better understanding and a closer friendship between the peoples of the United States and Great Britain.

This was the statement of Dr. Henry Smith Pritchett, chairman of the Carnegie Foundation for Teaching, speaking before the local branch of the English-speaking Union. He said if a war should ever come between the two countries these three questions or one of them will be responsible.

"While our faith in the commonsense and the friendship of the English-speaking peoples may justify the belief that war between them is impossible," began Pritchett, "it would be folly to shut our eyes to the fact that there are possible sources of irritation between Britain and the United States that may lead to serious misunderstanding if not approached in a fair and amicable spirit.

"The age-old dispute for freedom of the seas between this country and England, with the consequent warship-building contest, high tariffs which apparently discriminate against our neighbor's goods and the appointment of diplomats for political reward instead of on diplomatic qualifications are the factors endangering our peace," he declared.

PIONEER WOMAN OF SOUTHLAND DIES

CHILD INJURED BY CAR

MANHATTAN BEACH, Feb. 26.—Laura Mae Schuler, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Schuler of 1547 Sixth avenue, Los Angeles, is at the Hermosa-Redondo Hospital recovering from severe injuries sustained when she stepped in front of a car driven by Miss Alta K. Jenkins of West Thirty-first street. The accident, which occurred here, was declared unavoidable by officers who investigated.

ORCHARDISTS IN SESSION

Experts Offer Advice to Citrus and Walnut Groups in Four-Day School at Pomona

POMONA, Feb. 26.—Attendance of 100 citrus and walnut growers at its initial meeting of a four-day extension school course in the art of cultivating fruit and nut-bearing trees held at the Y.M.C.A. under auspices of the Agricultural Extension Service of the College of Agriculture, University of California, was augmented at today's session when twice as many thronged the meeting.

The past two days of instruction was for the citrus and walnut men, jointly, but the next two days will be split up and subjects of specific interest to each will be taken up by experts.

Speakers at today's sessions included W. R. Schoonover, extension specialist in citriculture of the citrus experiment station at Riverside and W. B. Hooper, extension specialist in walnut culture, from the same institution, both lectures being followed by a forty-five-minute period of open discussion.

The program tomorrow for the citrus group will include the following: "Citrus Fertilization," by Schoonover; "The Chaffey Fertilizer Experiments," by C. J. Booth, dean of the Junior College of Agriculture, Ontario; "What We May Expect from Soil Amendments," by Schoonover, and "Control of Citrus Trunk and Root Disease," by R. B. Rounds.

Tomorrow's program for the walnut group will include: "The Relationship of Soil Moisture to Quality of Crop," by Hooper; "Pest Control in Walnut Orchard," by K. L. Wolfe, deputy horticultural commissioner of Los Angeles county, and A. M. Boyce, junior entomologist, citrus experiment station, Riverside; "Walnut Varieties and Root Stocks for Southern California," by L. D. Batchelor, professor of orchard management and horticulturist, citrus experiment station, Riverside; "Planting and Care of Young Trees," by Hooper, and "Harvesting and Dehydration," by Batchelor.

DOG EXHIBITS SOME FANCY HIGH DIVING

Isabelle Sharkey and Rex

MONROVIA, Feb. 26.—A "suicide leap" of 150 feet from the top of Sawpit Canyon's flood-control dam, failed to end the life of Rex, German police dog, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sharkey, of 928 Farnsworth avenue, Los Angeles, according to M. L. Packer, canyon guard, who with the Sharkeys, witnessed the unusual feat.

The dog suddenly leaped from the top of the dam while his master and mistress looked on aghast. Propelling himself with his legs the dog managed to avoid being crushed against a projecting boulder and, with his nose pointed to the earth, landed in soft sand in the bottom of the canyon.

Witnesses expected that the dog would be crushed but before any one could scramble down the hillside to his aid, Rex, apparently none the worse, regained his poise and started up the canyon wall to meet his master.

Whether Rex intended to end it all, or was just showing off, will always remain a mystery.

Realty Active in Foothill Area

MONROVIA, Feb. 26.—Disproving an asserted general impression that real estate transactions during the last year were unusually slow, W. J. Ellery, local banker, announces that escrow transactions in the three local banks total $3,381,000.

"These figures represent all escrow business in the three Monrovia banks and include Monrovia, Duarte and some business in Arcadia," Ellery said. "However, Arcadia banks are not represented in the figures."

According to the bank official, the figures are astonishing, considering that 1928 was not a boom period for realty values.

CONSTABLE'S WIFE TAKEN BY DEATH

MONROVIA, Feb. 26. — After months of illness, Mrs. Mabel Quiggle, 46 years of age, wife of Constable James L. Quiggle, died last night at her home on West Cypress avenue. She was born in Illinois, and came to Monrovia twenty-seven years ago. She was widely known in Parent-Teacher Association activities, serving in an executive capacity for the Orange-avenue P.-T.A. here for several years. Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, William and Arthur. Funeral services will be conducted from the Renaker undertaking establishment Thursday at 2 p.m. Rev. J. W. Haman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will officiate and interment will take place in Live Oak Cemetery.

AGED CIGAR MAKER SHOOTS HIMSELF

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 26. — Smashing in a bathroom door in a hotel on Fourth street today, Coroner Kelly found the body of A. M. Franklin, 65 years of age, a retired cigar maker of Oregon and Washington, lying on the floor with a bullet wound in his head. In his right hand, Franklin was clutching an old-style 38-caliber revolver with which he is believed to have shot himself, Kelly said. The man, witnesses said, entered the bathroom, locked the door and shortly afterward a muffled shot was heard. Authorities were called. The victim left no note to explain his act. An inquest will be held in the Bonham Brothers' mortuary.

Bonds for Reparations Debt Now Considered

Ability of World to Absorb Issue Discussed

"Bankers' Committee" Busy on New Suggestion

PARIS, Feb. 26. (AP)—The "Bankers' Committee" of the Reparations Commission spent most of today studying the possibility of turning part of Germany's reparation obligations into negotiable bonds.

The amount of such a bond issue has thus far been left in abeyance. The discussion has turned largely on the possibility of guaranteeing the bonds so as to make them negotiable.

There was much speculation outside of the committee, however, as to the amounts that the different financial markets of the world might be able to absorb. It was evident that any total that might be agreed upon for the issue would be largely determined by the answer to that question.

One suggestion that was heard was that some of the creditor countries might accept large amounts of these bonds and use them for conversion of their own domestic debts. There was considerable agreement that if this could be worked out the total probably would be equal to the total of the railroad and industrial bonds which now are on deposit to guarantee payment of the Dawes annuities. These amount to about 16,000,000,000 marks or, roughly, $4,000,000,000.

The bankers' subcommittee and the two other committees to which the work of the commission has been diverted will continue their meetings tomorrow.

Trato Aceptado por un Santo

NAPOLES, 26 de Febrero.—Vicente Gemito, escultor, que ha estado enfermo de pulmonía, atribuye hallarse muchísimo mejor gracias a la milagrosa intervención de señor San Antonio de Padua, a quien invocó fervorosamente para que lo sanara. A un miembro de la casa de la Duquesa de Aosta relató el artista que el santo se le apareció en sueños, y le reprochó que no hubiera hecho hasta ahora, ninguna imagen de él. Gemito, entonces, se aprovechó de la estupenda ocasión para concluir el siguiente trato con el santo: Sí, santo mío, perdóname; yo prometo hacerte una estatua de mármol, pero has por sanarme inmediatamente. Y el santo consintió, satisfecho de ser inmortalizado, una vez más, en magnífica estatua de Carrara.

Joven que Pierde una Pierna por Vanidad

PARIS, 26 de Febrero.—La señorita Susana Geoffre, no estaba conforme con las delgadas piernas que la Naturaleza le había dado, y acudió presurosa a un gabinete de belleza, para que aquellas le fueran embellecidas de algún modo. Se necesitaba una operación quirúrgica. No es necesario tener una gran imaginación para pensar en que, de seguro, se trataría de rellenar, con carne de otra parte, las pantorrillas de la paciente vanidosa. Pero no todo fue a pedir de boca. Surgió la gangrena en una de las piernas, y hubo necesidad de amputarla. La señorita entonces demandó al médico que había practicado la operación exigiéndole una indemnización. El tribunal que conocía de la demanda acaba de sentenciar a favor de la infortunada muchacha, alegando que, desde el momento en que la operación no era para curar miembros enfermos, debía haberse advertido a la Geoffre de los peligros a que estaría expuesta. La indemnización otorgada es de $8000.

Hay Más Millonarios de los que se Cree en Estados Unidos

WASHINGTON, 26 de Febrero.—El departamento del Tesoro espera que las rentas por concepto de "income tax" en el mes de Marzo, den a conocer que al menos unas 14,000 personas en todos los Estados Unidos, poseen un millón o más de dólares. Se llegó a esta conclusión en virtud de cálculo hecho por el actuario José S. McCoy. Persona que pague renta sobre una entrada de $100,000 es estimada como millonaria y el año pasado cerca de 11,607 personas hicieron este pago. Muchas personas que también poseen un millón pagaron menos, pero es porque deben tener valores exentos de gravamen. En 1927 el número de personas que tenían una entrada neta de más de un millón ascendían a 283, y se cree que este año haya crecido la cantidad anotada. McCoy opina que el número de personas que hagan sus depósitos de impuesto este año será mayor aún que el pasado, debido a las buenas condiciones del mundo de los negocios en él. En 1927 un total de 4,122,242 personas pagaron sus impuestos sobre la renta.

Investiga la Policía la Organización de las Llamadas "Escuelas de Cine"

La Comisión de la Policía adoptó ayer una resolución en virtud de la cual se va a llevar a cabo una minuciosa investigación de la naturaleza de ciertas escuelas, donde se promete enseñar todo lo necesario para entrar al cine, y se dice que se facilitará la manera de que los candidatos entren en algún estudio a trabajar. Se debe esta medida a que la Asociación de Fabricantes de Películas exhortó, en carta reciente, a la policía para que investigara la seriedad de estas instituciones y las pusiera bajo su inspección, pues han estado recibiendo hace tiempo quejas de gente inocente y poco cauta, que cae en las redes de vagas escuelas en que son solamente explotadas.

Fuel system of the new Ford has been designed for reliability and long service

THE practical value of Ford simplicity of design is especially apparent in the fuel system.

The gasoline tank is built integral with the cowl and is unusually sturdy because it is made of heavy sheet steel, terne plated to prevent rust or corrosion. An additional factor of strength is the fact that it is composed of only two pieces, instead of three or four, and is electrically welded—not soldered.

Because of the location of the tank, the entire flow of gasoline is an even, natural flow—following the natural law of gravity. This is the simplest and most direct way of supplying gasoline to the carburetor without variations in pressure. The gasoline feed pipe of the new Ford is only 18 inches long and is easily accessible all the way.

The gasoline passes from the tank to the carburetor through a filter or sediment bulb mounted on the steel dash which separates the gasoline tank from the engine.

The carburetor is specially designed and has been built to deliver many thousands of miles of good service. Since all adjustments are fixed except the needle valve and idler, there is practically nothing to get out of order.

The choke rod on the dash acts as a primer and also as a regulator of your gasoline mixture. The new hot-spot manifold insures complete vaporization of the gasoline before it enters the combustion chamber of the engine.

As a matter of fact, the fuel system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little service attention.

The filter or sediment bulb should be cleaned at regular intervals and the carburetor screen removed and washed in gasoline. Occasionally the drain plug at the bottom of the carburetor should be removed and the carburetor drained for a few seconds.

Have your Ford dealer look after these little details for you when you have the car oiled and greased. A periodic checking-up costs little, but it has a great deal to do with long life and continuously good performance.

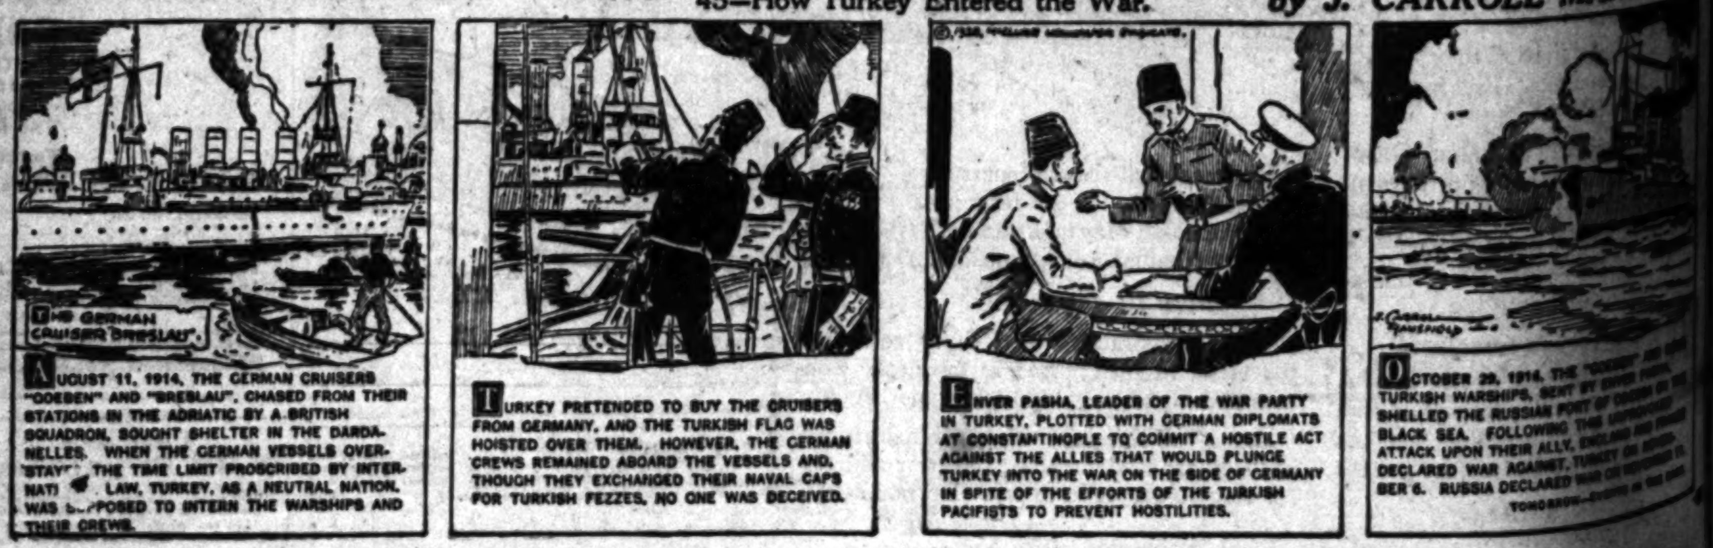
The Story of the World War
45—How Turkey Entered the War.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



AUGUST 11, 1914, THE GERMAN CRUISERS "GOEBEN" AND "BRESLAU", CHASED FROM THEIR STATIONS IN THE ADRIATIC BY A BRITISH SQUADRON, SOUGHT SHELTER IN THE DARDANELLES. WHEN THE GERMAN VESSELS OVERSTAYED THE TIME LIMIT PROSCRIBED BY INTERNATI[illegible] LAW, TURKEY, AS A NEUTRAL NATION, WAS SUPPOSED TO INTERN THE WARSHIPS AND THEIR CREWS.

TURKEY PRETENDED TO BUY THE CRUISERS FROM GERMANY, AND THE TURKISH FLAG WAS HOISTED OVER THEM. HOWEVER, THE GERMAN CREWS REMAINED ABOARD THE VESSELS AND, THOUGH THEY EXCHANGED THEIR NAVAL CAPS FOR TURKISH FEZZES, NO ONE WAS DECEIVED.

ENVER PASHA, LEADER OF THE WAR PARTY IN TURKEY, PLOTTED WITH GERMAN DIPLOMATS AT CONSTANTINOPLE TO COMMIT A HOSTILE ACT AGAINST THE ALLIES THAT WOULD PLUNGE TURKEY INTO THE WAR ON THE SIDE OF GERMANY IN SPITE OF THE EFFORTS OF THE TURKISH PACIFISTS TO PREVENT HOSTILITIES.

OCTOBER 29, 1914, THE "GOEBEN" AND [illegible] TURKISH WARSHIPS, SENT BY ENVER PASHA, SHELLED THE RUSSIAN PORT OF [illegible] ON THE BLACK SEA. FOLLOWING THIS UNPROVOKED ATTACK UPON THEIR ALLY, ENGLAND AND FRANCE DECLARED WAR AGAINST TURKEY ON NOVEMBER 5. RUSSIA DECLARED WAR ON NOVEMBER 6.

REFORM SOUGHT BY STRESEMANN

Foreign Minister Agrees With Steel Helmets

German Political Tactics Scored by Official

He Declares Cabinet Needs Reichstag Majority

BERLIN, Feb. 26. (AP)—Discussion today of the state of Germany's parliamentary system in two widely separated quarters brought out that Gustav Stresemann, Foreign Minister, and the Steel Helmets, an organization which has been accused of fostering the idea of restoring the empire, are in agreement on the need for reform.

The Steel Helmeters assured President Von Hindenburg, who had threatened to withdraw as honorary chairman of the organization, that they are not aiming to destroy the republic, but to reform the Constitution so as to give greater stability to the central government.

SYSTEM SCORED

Herr Stresemann, presiding at a special meeting of the central executive committee of the People's party, decried the system which permits political organizations to withdraw its members from the Cabinet and said changes were needed to halt the vote-snatching proclivities of the political organizations.

This committee was called to review the entire situation in view of the recent withdrawal by the Centrists of their Cabinet representatives and also to consider the failure of the People's party to win a place in the Prussian state government.

MAJORITY URGED

The Foreign Minister swung the executive committee to his viewpoint and it decided to offer no obstacles to the formation of a coalition in the Federal government to include the Centrists, even though in Prussia the party had been left out of the state coalition. Hitherto the party leaders had insisted that both questions should be handled simultaneously.

In persuading the committee to give up that stand Herr Stresemann said that while the reparations problem is up for discussion in Paris and while the federal budget is looming on the domestic horizon, it is imperative that the federal Cabinet should be constituted so as to command a majority in the Reichstag.

Murder Charged to Border Guard

TUCSON (Ariz.) Feb. 26. (AP)—M. E. Cleveland, United States immigration border patrol inspector, was under arrest here today charged with the murder of Ernesto Lopez, 16-year-old Papago Indian youth. Lopez died Wednesday last from wounds said to have been received on the 5th inst. in what was termed at a Coroner's inquest yesterday at the boy's home, Silverbell, Ariz., an "unjustifiable killing."

The Coroner said the dead Indian boy's mother informed him that her son had told her before his death that he had been shot by three border patrol officers. The youth said that he and two other Indian boys were halted by the officers and that his horse became frightened when a searchlight was turned on them and ran. The officers began shooting, he said. Wounded, Lopez fell from his horse and crawled two miles over the mountains to his home, it was said.

UTILITIES BILLS PROVE PARADOX

City Ownership Provided as Private Enterprise

Several Measures Offered State Legislature

McNab Credited as Author of One Proposal

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Municipal ownership of public utilities as a highly specialized private enterprise is the paradox concealed in a series of bills now before the Legislature. Bills to strengthen the cause of municipal ownership and bills to handicap the privately owned and operated utilities are characteristic of every session, but this year they have come in new and seductive raiment.

Those members who have glanced behind the Hardy impeachment, the tax controversy, the water committee report and other measures, have seen the government ownership scheme peeping forth, which, for effect, according to legislative veterans, thrusts the thrice-defeated $500,000,000 water and power act into the background.

One of these bills being watched is Assembly Bill No. 774, by Assemblyman Snyder of Santa Cruz. It would give to cities the right to take by grant, gift, lease, condemnation or otherwise, or to sell or lease, either within or without their boundaries, properties deemed necessary to the supplying of utility service. In the event the city has an excess of service, be it water, heat, light, power, gas or other form, it may go into the business of selling it throughout the State.

OFFERED "BY REQUEST"

Leases, under the bill, can not run for more than forty years, but they may be made for ten years by the governing body without vote of the people. In addition, authority is given the city to purchase the plant on the installment plan, and the governing body may levy a tax to pay off the cost, by rent or by installment. Mr. Snyder, presumptively, is not overly enthusiastic concerning this bill, as it was introduced "by request." Its companion bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator Cleveland, representing the same district. This is Senate Bill No. 648.

A few weeks ago the State Corporation Commissioner recorded the organization of the California Municipal Utilities Service Corporation. Its directors are Dr. E. L. Dow, San Francisco and Sacramento Valley capitalist; Philip B. Cross, San Francisco promoter, and John L. McNab, San Francisco attorney and the man who nominated President-elect Hoover at Kansas City.

Mr. Cross visited Santa Cruz some weeks ago and published interviews given out by him at the time state that he is prepared to offer a water-power plan of great interest to that city.

READY TO BUILD PLANT

He is quoted as telling the Santa Cruz Mayor that his company is prepared to build a hydroelectric plant in the San Lorenzo River gorge and bring the product to the city for distribution. This would be done on a contract with the city. The contract is to run for thirty-eight years, at the end of which time the plant will revert to the city.

In the meantime, however, provided the Snyder-Cleveland bill becomes law, the company, by contract with the city, can engage in the light and power business without the necessity of going before the State Railroad Commission for a certificate of public necessity and convenience.

Another bill, handled by Senator Handy of Ukiah, will authorize the State Department of Finance to move in and acquire hydroelectric power sites, which can then be leased to privately owned corporations, the entire plant to revert to the State in forty years. The authorship of this bill is credited to Mr. McNab, who has given out interviews in favor of this plan, which, it is said, is the solution of the long contest between the private-ownership and public ownership people.

D'Arcy Nuptial Plans Denied

DAYTON (O.) Feb. 26. (AP)—Mrs. Lita Grey Chaplin, screen actress and former wife of Charles Chaplin, when advised today that Roy D'Arcy, screen actor, had been divorced from Mrs. Laura Guisti at Los Angeles, said:

"While I am glad Roy has obtained his divorce, that does not mean that we are to be married, or are even engaged."

Mrs. Chaplin is confined to her suite in a hotel here suffering from a throat ailment.

Reports have been current for some time that Mrs. Chaplin and D'Arcy would be married as soon as he obtained his freedom.

"All such reports are without foundation," she said.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Further inquiry into the disposition of Federal patronage was ordered today by the Senate. Chairman Brookhart of the investigating committee announced that New York will be undertaken by the committee during the approaching recess.

The committee now has power to examine into all patronage cases, in addition to postmasters and the chairman indicated that the inquiry might be turned from the South into some northern States.

Queen Mary Buys Half-Dozen Detective Thrillers at Dime Store

LONDON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Purchase of six detective "thrillers" by Queen Mary in a 5-and-10-cent store at Bognor yesterday has given rise to speculation as to whether King George intends some light reading during his convalescence.

The Queen, to general astonishment, appeared in the store, and after inquiry as to whether the goods were British made, bought a number of articles and then went to the book counters.

There she purchased Edgar Wallace's 6 penny "Room 13," "The Flying 55," "The Missing Million," "Captain of Souls," "A King By Night" and "The Man From Morocco." She also bought Edith M. Dell's "The Hundredth Chance."

Passengers Numbering 127 Lose Their Lives

Eighty-eight Pilots Killed; Causes Traced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Civilian flying accidents during the last six months of 1928 numbered 672, with 127 passengers and eighty-eight pilots killed. Severe injuries were sustained by ninety-eight passengers and ninety-one pilots and minor injuries by 106 passengers and 101 pilots.

In accidents linked with the Commerce Department, 332 pilots and 366 passengers escaped without any injuries. Only fifty-one of the accidents reported in the six months' period occurred in scheduled flights on airways, while sixty-five took place during school work for pilots in training. Thirty-two occurred during experimental work with new airplanes or new devices, while 191 took place in miscellaneous commercial voyages and 333 in miscellaneous pleasure flights.

The record indicates that of accidents reported 144, or the largest number, were due to bad landings. Forced landings accounted for 143, while engine failures caused only thirty-seven accidents and collisions sixty-six.

In the first six months of 1928 civilian aviation involved 390 accidents, of which thirty-four were on scheduled flights on airways, sixty-nine during schooling of pilot, seventeen during experimental work and 270 during miscellaneous flights.

There were eighty-eight passengers and sixty-five pilots killed in that period and seventy passengers and sixty-three pilots seriously injured, while minor injuries were caused to seventy-four passengers and sixty-nine pilots.

Sick Sculptor Declares He had Visitation and Pledged Statue for Health

NAPLES, Feb. 26. (AP)—Vincenzio Gemito, sculptor, who has been ill with pneumonia, today attributed a considerable improvement in his condition to intervention of St. Anthony of Padua.

He told a member of the household of the Duchess of Aosta that the saint appeared to him in a dream and reproached him for never having made a statue of the saint.

Gemito said he drove a bargin with St. Anthony, promising, if cured, he will "immortalize him in marble."

SON KILLS FATHER WHO WIELDS KNIFE

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (AP)—Philip N. Coletti spanked his 12-year-old son Charles last night, beat him, choked him and then started after him with a knife. The boy shot him dead. Charles was held by juvenile authorities today, but the stories of his mother and an older brother who witnessed the shooting led police to believe it was in self-defense.

Letter of Bay City Mayor Ends Controversy

Government Demands Will be Complied With

Work to Start on Receipt of Federal Approval

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Settlement of the long controversy between San Francisco and the government regarding development of the Hetch-Hetchy watershed was forecast today when Mayor Rolph announced he had sent a letter to Secretary of the Interior West assuring him that all roads and trails which the city is required to build under the Raker Act will be constructed within the next four years.

Inasmuch as the language of the communication was said to be that construction will be "as outlined in the Raker Act" it was construed as a withdrawal from the city's previous attitude that the government has been asking too much.

Mayor Rolph added that deeds and abstracts of title to lands in Yosemite National Park now are en route to Washington, together with maps and plans for a trail on the north side of Hetch-Hetchy reservoir and connecting trails to Tiltill Valley and Lake Vernon.

Work, the Mayor said, will be undertaken just as quickly as the plans are approved by the Interior Department.

NEXT CONGRESS TO ACT ON VARE

Senate Postpones Action on Report to Unseat

Pennsylvanian's Ill Health Wins Him Reprieve

Blease and Heflin Both Voice Objections

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—The report against William S. Vare, stricken Senator-elect from Pennsylvania, will go over to the consideration of the next Congress. Action on the recommendation that he be denied a seat was deferred today because Vare's ill health has prevented him from taking advantage of the Senate's previous offer to have him appear to defend himself.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, author of the resolution to deny Vare's seat, closed the issue for this session by announcing that he did not feel like pressing the question because of Vare's condition.

Norris followed the course suggested yesterday by the man who led the inquiry into Vare's 1926 primary campaign and election, Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, himself about to retire from the Senate. Reed said he thought Vare ought to be denied a seat but he could not bring himself to ask action while the Pennsylvanian is unable to appear.

The only objectors were Senator Blease, Democrat, South Carolina, and Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama.

Blease declared that there had been "a lot of talk recently about constitutional rights" and asked: "What is a greater violation of the Constitution than to deprive Pennsylvania of her right to a seat in the Senate?"

"I don't think this matter ought to go over," he said. "Either we ought to let Mr. Vare have his seat, or we ought to notify Pennsylvania that we will not seat him."

Views Vary of Possibility of Action by Senate

Friends Hold Confirmation Sure if Vote Comes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Varying views were expressed tonight as to the prospect for a vote in the Senate on the nominations of Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin to be a judge of the United States Court of Customs Appeals, and Henry H. Glassie, a former tariff commissioner, to be a judge of the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

The nomination of Lenroot, a former Senator, was reported favorably by the Senate Judiciary Committee, 11 to 4, and his friends took this to indicate that he can be confirmed if his nomination can be brought to a vote. Glassie was approved by the committee by a much closer margin—9 to 7.

Both nominations have been opposed by several Senators and these insist neither appointee will be confirmed at the current session.

In that event, Mr. Hoover will be required to resubmit names for the posts they were appointed to fill.

The same situation pertains to the nomination of Pat M. Neff of Texas to be a member of the Railroad Board of Mediation. The Senate also has pending the names of Arthur Batcheller of Massachusetts and Cyril M. Jansky of Minnesota to be members of the Federal Radio Commission.

UNION OFFICERS COMMENT ON OIL

Long Differentials Cited as Gas War Cause

Stewart States Rumors of Mergers Unfounded

Clark and St. Clair Tell Stockholders Problems

Stockholders of the Union Oil Company of California at their annual meeting yesterday were informed by company officials that the long price differential and overproduction were the chief causes of the gasoline price war. Divergent opinions were expressed by the officials as to the wisdom of attempting to solve the problem of overproduction through legislation. In reply to queries as to how long the price war would last, the officials offered no prediction other than they expected to see it terminated within a reasonable period.

A meeting of executives of oil companies to consider the present conditions of the industry will be held today, L. P. St. Clair, vice-president, announced. Mr. St. Clair made a vigorous plea in favor of legislation to control production after E. W. Clark, executive vice-president, had declared that he had never been in favor of national or State legislation.

REGULATION OPPOSED

"We don't want a policeman standing at our wells and I don't think we need the police force to tell us how to run our business," said Mr. Clark, who ascribed the present overproduction to competitive drilling. "Fundamentally the oil business has never been in such a satisfactory or stabilized condition as it is today because we can look ahead to an adequate supply of oil. I am buying more shares of the company and I have faith that the company's reserves will come into their own."

When one stockholder asked W. L. Stewart, president, who presided at the meeting, about the merger rumors, Mr. Stewart said he had heard of the rumor that Union Oil and Continental would be merged. Mr. Stewart said he knew nothing about it, and when he asked if anyone else had any other answer silence followed.

After Mr. St. Clair had likened the need of the oil industry for legislative regulation to traffic control of the city streets, and had asserted that a return to sanity in the industry could not be expected otherwise. Mr. Stewart remarked that Mr. St. Clair, as a master salesman, was selling the idea of regulation. He added that after forty years' experience in the industry without legislative regulation he felt the company could get along without it but "if the balance of the industry think it is needed, it will be all right with us."

Mr. Clark said that the Union company had not by any act contributed in any way to the present "deplorable price situation."

"I may be too optimistic," said Mr. Clark, "but I believe the Pacific Coast oil companies are getting as tired of the present price situation as the stockholders. Some of them

EARNINGS OF PACIFIC CLAY GAIN

Annual Report to Show $37,502 Increase in Net Over Previous Year

Net profits of the Pacific Clay Products Company for the year ended December 31, last, amounted to $374,330.52 after all charges including Federal taxes as compared with $336,827.68 in 1927, an increase of $37,502.84, or more than 11 per cent, William Lacy, president, announced yesterday in the annual report to be mailed shortly to stockholders.

The year's earnings are equivalent to $3.78 a share on the 98,860 shares of capital stock outstanding, against $3.41 a share in 1927 based on the same capitalization. The regular quarterly dividend was recently raised from 56 1-4 cents a share to 60 cents, and the new rate paid the 1st inst., placing the stock on a $2.40 annual basis.

The clay products industry in Southern California is overexpanded in all lines, while the company has made continued progress in efficiency and economy of manufacture," Mr. Lacy said. "Sales volume of sewer pipe and fire brick reached a new high record, the increased consumption of fire brick being due, he said, to the growing importance of the Los Angeles district as an industrial center."

Net current assets, including $454,030.80 in cash, totaled $1,068.1/5.80 and were in the ratio of 7.42 to 1 to current liabilities, which compares with a ratio of 5.75 to 1 at the end of 1927. Bonded indebtedness was decreased $83,500 during the year to $405,000.

The management is watching closely the oil situation at its Los Nietos plant at Santa Fe Springs and, while developments in the neighborhood of the property are in no sense conclusive or definite in their relationship to the occurrance of oil under its holdings, it is thought that the late findings are decidedly interesting and somewhat favorable, Mr. Lacy stated.

Foreign Bourse Survey Planned

Dr. Gordon S. Watkins, professor of economics in the University of California at Los Angeles and director of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange Institute, has left on an extensive European trip to study financial problems and stock exchanges in Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy.

Results of his survey of financial markets in London, Paris, Berlin and in New York and Chicago will be divulged in detail by Dr. Watkins in September when the institute here is scheduled to open. Dr. Watkins is now on leave of absence until September from the university.

SAVING IN SALMON PACKING FORECAST

Alaska Pacific Salmon Corporation has in sight savings in operating expenses of approximately $350,000 a year, according to G. W. Skinner, president of the company. The savings result from elimination of duplicate management and overhead both in Seattle and Alaska, but do not include other economies which are expected to reach a total in excess of $150,000 a year, he states.

TRANSAMERICA STOCK TO BE DISTRIBUTED

Permanent stock certificates of the Transameroca Corporation will be mailed throughout the current week to the 120,000 stockholders of the company, it was announced yesterday. More than 20,000,000 individual items evidencing ownership of securities having an aggregate market value in excess of $2,000,000,000 have been handled in the preliminary step to this distribution, which, it was stated, represents one of the largest pieces of corporate refunding ever approximated in a single operation.

BRILL NET STEADY

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Brill Manufacturing Company reported today net profits of $342,008 for 1928, equal to $2 a share on 30,909 shares of Class "A" participating preferred and $1.75 a share on 160,000 common shares, against $341,704 or $2 on 32,008 "A" shares and $1.73 a share on the common in 1927.

PROPERTY TAXES DUE SOON

County Assessor Ready for Annual Valuation of Real and Personal Holdings; Rules Reviewed

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Beginning next Monday at noon a large corps of deputies under the general direction of County Assessor Hopkins will scatter throughout the county on the annual valuation of real and personal property for assessment purposes. Residents have until the first Monday in July to declare taxable property, and are subject to a severe penalty for failure to file a complete list by that time.

Taxes on unsecured property must be paid at the time the declaration of property is made, or shortly thereafter. Payments on real property taxes may be divided by paying one-half by the first Monday in December and the other half by the fourth Monday in April.

On real property the average rate in Los Angeles county is $4 per $100 of assessed valuation. Property is assessed at 50 per cent of the actual value, as determined by the assessor. Taxpayers have the privilege of conferring with the visiting deputies on the value of real estate, home furnishings, etc., or accepting an arbitrary valuation. They also may voluntarily send a complete list of property to the assessor's office, and obtain his ruling on exemptions, valuation and assessment.

EXACT RATE UNCERTAIN

Whether the tax on intangibles and solvent credits this year will be 2, 3 or 4 mills will not be determined until the present Legislature acts on the pending measure. At any rate the taxpayer must list all securities of companies owning property outside of California, all solvent credits, and commercial bank accounts. Savings and term accounts are exempt, as well as securities of companies operating wholly within the State.

If a 3-mill rate is adopted, the holder of a foreign, or non-California security, will pay a tax of $15 on 100 shares with a market price on March 4 of $50 a share. Last year the rate was $4 per $100 on one-half of the market value, or a tax of $100 on 100 shares of stock selling at $50 a share. This year, it should be noticed, the rate is applied against the full market value, but the tax payment will be substantially lower. The new rate will also be uniform throughout the State.

One important change, as pointed out by Deputy Assessor Frank J. McDevitt, in charge of stocks and bonds, is that owners of securities cannot avoid California taxation by the formation of trusts outside of the State. The constitutional amendment adopted in November provided that the taxpayer has a legal and equitable interest in such trusts, on which he is taxable. It will be cheaper he explains, for the taxpayer to form such trusts in California, since the liability of taxation in both this State and another will be avoided.

OUTSIDE PROPORTION COUNTS

Another point to remember is that the owners of securities are taxed on the proportion of property a corporation owns outside of California. Owners of stock in the Texas Corporation, for example, are entitled to exemption on the amount of property the company owns in this State, but must pay taxes on the remainder. In this instance, only a small proportion of this company's property is in California. A comprehensive list of corporations showing the proportion of property inside and outside of California may be consulted at Mr. McDevitt's office.

Holders of securities on margin are regarded by the assessor as the legal owner, and must pay taxes on the full market value, or just the same as if the securities were owned outright. Moreover, the amount of the indebtedness against the stock is not deductible. But the holder of securities on margin, according to Mr. McDevitt, may balance the amount of the indebtedness against his total of taxable solvent credits, such as his commercial bank account. This is a point not generally realized.

Because of the tremendous increase in speculation in securities on a margin, the assessor's office expects to obtain substantial revenue from this source.

Pacific Savings Holds High Rank

Pacific States Savings and Loan Company, a California institution, now ranks ninth in point of size among the 13,000 building-loan associations of the United States, and is the largest west of Omaha, Neb., according to a list compiled by H. P. Cellarius, secretary of the United States League of Building and Loan Associations, it was reported yesterday.

Mr. Odell, president of the Pacific States Savings, who received the list, pointed out that the two largest California associations, Pacific States Savings, with resources of $32,387,476, and Fidelity Savings and Loan Association with resources of $31,092,488, are approximately equal to the total resources of all California building-loan associations in 1922, when there were 112 operating. There are now 225.

Sheet and Tube Earnings Gain

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) Feb. 26 (Exclusive)—Consolidated net profits after all charges of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company for the year ended December 31, last, amounted to $10,446,336, equivalent to $9.54 a share on the common stock outstanding, compared with $7,023,334, or $6.10 a share in 1927, it was announced here today.

Consolidated net profits for the fourth quarter totaled $3,573,965 after depreciation, Federal taxes, etc., equal to $3.36 a share on the common. This compares with $1,166,264, or 92 cents a share in the fourth quarter of 1927. It is understood that the January net approximated $1 a share on the common.

PROFITS OF CANE SUGAR GROUP TOLD

Moderately Profitable Year Reported by Four Hawaiian Concerns

HONOLULU, Feb. 26. (AP)—A net profit of $165,223 was made in 1928 by the Kahuku Plantation Company, stated its report today. Dividends amounting to $47,500 were paid. The sugar crop was 11,726 tons, an average of 7857 tons per acre. An additional 4077 tons from Laie lands made the mill output 16,652 tons, compared with 15,479 in 1927.

The Hawaiian Agricultural Company reports a net profit of $475,363 for the past year with dividends aggregating $240,000, or about 12 per cent on outstanding stock. The company's plantations yielded 26,025 tons from 3930 acres.

The Onomea Sugar Company paid a 16 per cent dividend, or a total of $400,000 from a net profit of $472,277, stated the annual report made public today. The crop yield of 24,926 tons from 4089 acres was a record production though the acreage was smaller in 1927.

The Pepeekeo Sugar Company reports a net profit of $188,372 for the last year. A dividend of approximately 12 per cent, $180,000, was declared. The crop was 11,916 tons from 1827 acres.

Cut Forecast in Light Oils

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Indications are light oil prices in California will be reduced shortly due to the fact that stocks in storage are piling up at a rapid rate and crude oil continues to be overproduced with no signs of a let up in drilling. At present thirty-six gravity oil on the Pacific Coast is selling at $1.50 a barrel. This is 39 cents a barrel above the level to which mid-continent crude was cut last month. In the latter field this gravity was lowered 16 cents to $1.28, toward end of January.

Santa Fe Springs is largely cause of the present unsettled situation in California. Development of this field continues unabated due mainly to town-lot drilling.

Bakeries May Boost Capital

Directors of the Van de Kamp's Holland Dutch Bakers, Inc., have called a special meeting of stockholders of the company for March 4 at which an increase in the authorized common stock from 50,000 shares of no par value to 100,000 shares will be proposed, it was announced yesterday.

Approximately 40,000 shares are outstanding with 600 shares held in reserve for conversion of preferred stock. There are 300 shares of $6.50 cumulative preferred outstanding out of a total of 5000 shares authorized. The purchase of the Chatterton system of bakeries in Seattle was recently announced.

More Standard Stations Leased

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24. (Exclusive)—San Francisco Gasoline Stations, Inc., has been organized to lease the remaining thirty-four Standard Oil Company of Calif. service stations in this city. Application has been made to the Board of Supervisors for the transfer of licenses.

The new company has an authorized capitalization of $100,000 with $50,000 outstanding with which to acquire and operate stations. B. T. Sweney is president with J. J. Lermen and W. H. Leahy, directors.

Rail Freight Traffic Gains

WASHINGTON Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Loading of revenue freight for the week ended the 16th inst. totaled 958,051 cars, the car service division of the American Railway Association announced today.

Compared with the preceding week this was an increase of 2573 cars, with decreases being reported in the total loading of grain and grain products, live stock, coal, coke and merchandise less than carload lot freight. All other commodities, however, reported increases.

KENTUCKY STANDARD SETS RATE ON STOCK

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky declared today an initial quarterly dividend of 40 cents a share on the new $10 par value common stock, payable March 30 to stock of record March 15. This is at the annual rate of $1.60, and equal to $8 a share on the old $25 par stock which received $4 per annum and 50 cents extra. Old stock was split up two and one-half to one recently and a 50 per cent stock dividend was declared.

STEEL PLANNING MELON CUTTING

Step Taken for Revamping of Capital Structure

Huge Outstanding Bond Bloc Will be Redeemed

Shareholder Rights Offering Part of Program

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Directors of the United States Steel Corporation meeting late today announced plans had been formulated for the revamping of the capital structure of the country's biggest industry unit.

Under the plan the corporation will increase its common capitalization nearly 5,000,000 shares to provide in part for the retirement of its outstanding funded debt.

The plan calls for the raising of the total of the authorized common stock to 12,500,000 shares of $100 par value from the present figure of 7,533,210 shares, and the offering to stockholders of a substantial block of additional common stock on the basis of terms to be fixed when the time for the offering approaches. At present the corporation has outstanding a total of 7,116,235 shares of common. The stock closed today at 186 7-8, having sold off 2½ points in heavy trading.

The plan, approved by directors late today will be submitted to stockholders for consideration, presumably at the annual meeting, scheduled to be held in April.

PURPOSES OF MOVE

In addition to the funds to be raised through the sale of additional stock to common shareholders, the corporation will use such portion of its surplus resources as may be judged necessary in carrying out the plan for the redemption of outstanding bonds.

Part of such surplus reserves have already been applied to the purchase of bonds through sinking fund. On December 31, last, there were outstanding exclusive of those held in the sinking fund and in the corporation's treasury, $134,830,000 in fifty-year 5 per cent bonds due in 1951 and $136,555,000 ten-year 5 per cent bonds due in 1963.

The purpose of the proposed retirement of bonded debt is to reduce the total of fixed charges against current annual earnings arising from the necessity of supplying cash funds for interest and sinking fund requirements on the bonds. The elimination of the sinking fund charges will result in a substantially larger proportion of earnings being made available for application to the common stock.

TO RETIRE ISSUE

Under the plan arranged all of the bonds of the fifty-year issue will be retired or provision made for their retirement by September 1, 1929.

The ten to sixty-year bonds of 1963 are callable in part or in whole on any semiannual interest date at 110 and accrued interest.

It is the present intention of the directors, subject to authorization by the stockholders of the proposed increase in common stock and subscription by stockholders and sale by the corporation of the shares of such stock which it may be determined to offer, to call in part or all of the ten to sixty-year bonds for redemption on November 1, 1929.

The retirement of the entire issue of the fifty-year, 5 per cent bonds of 1951 will result in relieving current annual earnings of the necessity of supplying cash funds for interest and sinking fund requirements on the bonds equal annually to $18,237,350. The semiannual charges on the entire issue of the bonds due in 1963 amount to $11,010,000, making a total annual reduction in fixed charges of $29,247,350.

In case of such retirement the charge of the dividends which may be paid on the additional common stock contemplated to be issued in connection with the plan outlined would reduce the above amount of savings of net income but the exact amount of such dividend payments on the additional common stock cannot be stated pending final determination by the directors of the conditions attending the offering of common shares for subscription.

ZENITH GETS PATENTS

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Zenith Radio Corporation has been granted final patents on the H. N. Marvins automatic tuning invention and will start at once to issue licenses to its competitors, it was announced today.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Cotton showed considerable activity and strength early today as a result of indications that March notices were being steadily stopped, relatively firm Liverpool cables and continuation of yesterday's buying movement.

Prices for all months made new high ground for the movement, but net advances of 15 to 18 points brought in considerable realizing. There also seemed to be a little southern selling. Prices reacted to nearly yesterday's closing quotations in the midafternoon market.

CREDIT SITUATION UNUSUAL

Time Money Rate Highest Since 1920, Contrary to Customary Charge During Period

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Those critical persons who believe the credit situation is gradually righting itself should recognize certain sober facts in the situation today. Take the abnormal rate for the time money on Stock Exchange collateral. February is the one month when money is considered easy. Usually the rate commands around 4 per cent.

Yet the rate last week, of 7 3-4 per cent, is, with the single exception of 1920, the highest rate reached by the same class of loans in February at any time in more than half a century.

The vast majority of the economists and bankers of the nation are taking the side of the Federal Reserve in its fight against allowing the speculative stock market to absorb, for the present at least, any larger volume of credit that it now has.

For the first time, the Federal Reserve Board has published the effective minimum buying rates of bills, a new and healthy departure from the past. These lowest rates will be 5 per cent for one to forty-five-day bills, and 5 1-8 per cent for forty-six to ninety-eight-day bills.

It looks as though the Federal Reserve were following a well-defined but unannounced policy in its efforts to restrain further speculation.

Guy M. Walker, distinguished lawyer and economist, is one of those who believe the Federal Reserve Board bit off more than it can chew in its attitude toward the credit market.

"The thing that causes brokers' loans to increase," says Mr. Walker, "is not speculation, but new financing. The truth is that there is no legitimate unsatisfied demand for credit either in industry or commerce, and the whole excuse given by the Federal Reserve Board for its attitude and its action is a false one."

Going still further, Mr. Walker says that the United States is saving out of its income at least $25,000,000,000 of new capital every year. How is it to be invested?

The fact is, according to Mr. Walker, that there is an abnormally large amount of this new capital that has not yet found a satisfactory long-term investment.

Then he asks—"Do you suppose that this money is going to buy bonds or seasoned stocks on a 4½ or 5 per cent basis as long as it can get 9 or 10 per cent in the call money market on these very securities?"

Again Mr. Walker says: "When the reserve bank ceases its arbitrary boosting of interest rates, and lets money drop to 3 or 3½ per cent, which is all it is really worth, these funds will turn from the call money market and seek permanent investment."

No economist has been more frank and outspoken in his position on the credit situation than Mr. Walker.

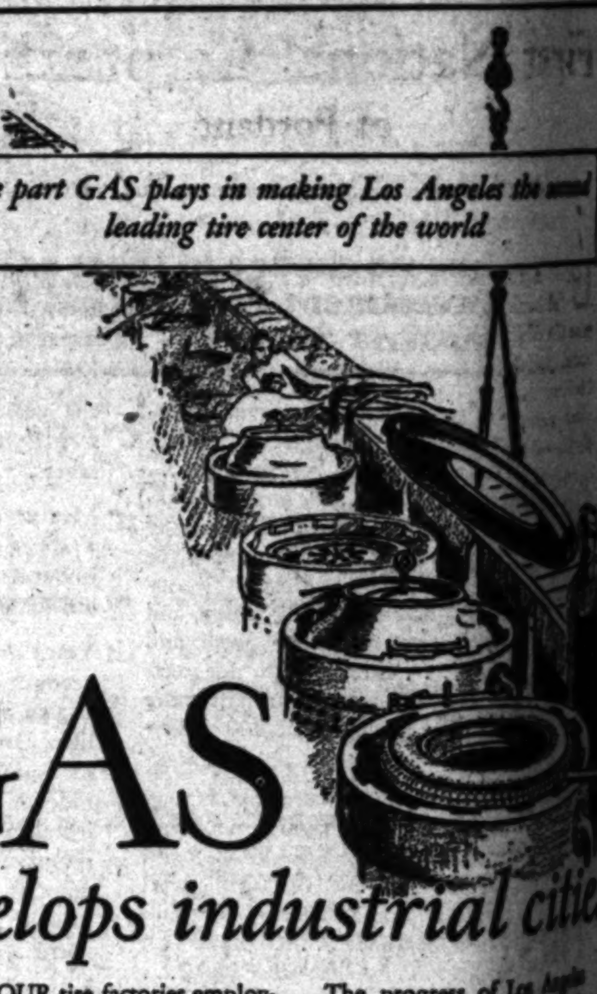
Lead and Zinc Gain Forecast

Stabilization of prices for lead and zinc on a higher level is forecast by Newton W. Emmens, Canadian mining engineer of Vancouver, B. C., associate chief consulting engineer of the North American Mining and Smelting Corporation, a unit of Associated Metals. Mr. Emmens is in Los Angeles to attend a conference of directors, engineers and members of the operating staff of the North American company.

"The big producers of lead and zinc have formed a cartel similar to that formed by the copper producers, and have organized a research department to discover new uses for the metals and to encourage demand," said Mr. Emmens. "The stimulation resulting already is apparent. The great increase in consumption of copper, and the stabilization of the red metal at a higher price level is in large measure the direct result of the work done by the copper producers through their organization."

GULF STATES STEEL SPLIT-UP APPROVED

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Stockholders of the Gulf States Steel Corporation at a special meeting in Wilmington today approved the proposed increase of the authorized common stock from 125,000 shares of $100 par to 300,000 shares of no par. Common and preferred stockholders of record March 8 may subscribe until April 1 to approximately 72,500 new common shares at $60 each in the ratio of one new for each two held.



The part GAS plays in making Los Angeles the

develops industrial cities

FOUR tire factories employing 6,000 workmen with a pay roll of $9,000,000 per year turn out 23,000 tires and 30,000 inner tubes daily in Los Angeles. The city is second only to Akron in tire production.

In this impressive production gas plays its part. The presence of natural gas, with its high heat unit value, was an important determining factor in attracting to Los Angeles the tire factories now located there.

LEAD IMPROVES MARKET STATUS

Position Reported Healthy at New Advance

Zinc Unchanged With Stocks Only Shade Off

Copper Firm and Buying Pace Shows Slackening

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor the Mining Journal, Phoenix

Lead has again advanced 10 points and now stands at 6.95 f.o.b. New York. The quietness which prevailed in the copper market after the advance has been broken somewhat as the fabricators have found that no weakness developed. Zinc continues quiet. Copper remains at 17.87 f.o.b. refinery and zinc at 6.35 f.o.b. St. Louis.

The domestic position of lead is healthy and there is little doubt that lead would be much higher in the domestic market if it were not kept down by the London quotations. The present lead price does not adequately reflect that improvement in conditions which has taken place since last summer. The recent advances have been merely the direct reflection of the London market. It is stated that February and March lead is oversold and that the inquiry for April is good. There is no shortage of lead but metal for immediate delivery has to be sought for.

Statistically, the lead situation improved somewhat during January. January crude lead output by the United States and Mexico was 82,231 short tons, against 83,609 tons in December, according to American Bureau of Metal Statistics. Output of refined lead in January was 83,401 tons and antimonial lead 2726 tons for these countries, against 78,652 and 2478 tons, respectively, in December. Stocks of refined and antimonial on the 1st inst., were 42,746 tons, against 44,451 on January 1.

FIGURES UNCHANGED

The American Zinc Institute statement for January shows stocks practically unchanged as compared with end of December—only a decrease of twenty-three tons. There was also little change in the unfilled tonnage, at 45,725 tons, which is 357 tons more than on December 31.

The output was a bit lower, at 49,709 tons, but the decrease was balanced by a slight decrease in shipments also, at 49,732 tons. In fact, the two months, December and January, show a close parallel, save that the retorts in operation on January 31 were 63,314 in number as compared with 61,544 at the end of December.

The need of some curtailment of zinc production is evident when it is considered that at the beginning of 1926 zinc stocks totaled 9295 tons, at the beginning of 1927, 21,887 tons, in January 1928, 40,741 tons and at the beginning of this year 45,441 tons. Production for 1926 was 638,533 tons, in 1927, 612,548 tons and in 1928, 619,595 tons. Production has consistently run just a little ahead of consumption yet it would only take a curtailment of a very small amount to entirely change the statistical position of the metal.

It is reported that the production curtailment of zinc for European countries is being increased from 7 to 10 per cent for February, the reason being that the 7 per cent reduction did not bring about the desired effect. It seems evident that the January reduction was on the basis of the December output, hence even with the cut, the January output would have been above the average for 1928.

FEARS ALLAYED

The publication of the January figures for copper have effectually set at rest the fear of the inability of the copper mines to supply the amount of metal necessary and the market quieted down. The producers do not fear their ability to supply all of the copper really needed but, of course, could not supply enough if overbuying was continued and the January statistics have had a soothing effect on a boiling market.

Predictions that the increase in refined copper stocks of over 13,000 tons, reported in December would be practically wiped out by January shipments, did not materialize, as the stocks decreased but 2717 tons. There was a large increase in shipments to a new high record, but this was partially offset by an increase of 6367 tons in the production of refined copper in North and South America in January, during which period it totaled 154,472 tons.

The United States mine production in January reached a total of 86,681 tons as compared with 85,577 tons in December, and established a new high record for all time. The North and South American production in January averaged 4983 tons a day as against 4448 tons in 1928 and 4045 tons in 1927.

NEW RECORD

Shipments of refined copper in North and South America in January established the new record of 157,189 tons or 2717 tons more than production and compared with December shipments of 134,592 tons. January shipments included 100,135 tons domestic and 57,054 tons for export. The domestic shipments were the highest since October when they totaled 100,371 tons and those for export the highest since August, when they totaled 60,240 tons.

The most interesting feature in the statistics, and one with unusual aspects in that it had been presumed in some quarters that the advance in prices had been largely due to foreign business, was the domestic shipments which compared with 64,824 tons in January, 1928, while foreign shipments of 57,054 tons showed but a slight gain over the figures for January, 1928, when a total of 56,721 tons was shipped to foreign consumers.

Anchor Cap to Offer Rights

Directors of Anchor Cap Corporation have voted to offer stockholders the right to subscribe to 26,400 additional shares of common at $50 a share on the basis of 15-100 of a new share for each one held as of March 4, I. R. Steward, president, announced yesterday. The right will expire March 25.

Mr. Steward also announced the declaration of an initial quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share on the common stock, payable April 1 to stockholders of record March 4. Proceeds from the new issue will be used to meet the capital requirements involved in the physical consolidation of the American Metal Cap Company recently acquired by the Anchor Cap and Closure Corporation.

HAY IRREGULAR

Pacific Coast Markets Firmer At Higher Price Level

Hay markets were somewhat irregular during the week ending the 23rd inst. with the strength in the western areas offset by the dull demand and liberal offerings in the eastern sections, states the Weekly Hay Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Alfalfa markets were generally steady for top-grade offerings, which were scarce, although there was considerable irregularity in the lower grades. Pacific Coast markets were firm and high-grade alfalfa from the Lancaster Valley had advanced from $30 to $31 per ton at Los Angeles. Prospects for an early supply of green feed at San Francisco was limiting demand at this point to some extent.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Yesterday's small supply sold readily. Prices on both steers and she stock were strong to 25c higher. A car of low good 783-pound Southern California feed lot steers made 11.50, while a car of medium 814-pound averages realized 11.15. Two loads of medium 808 and 859-pound Utah steers turned for 11.00 with six out at 10.00.

She stock offerings were limited mostly to odd head, small lots and part loads of cows, largely dairy types that sold from 7.75@8.75. Odd head of cows sold higher. A small lot of 686-pound heifers made 9.00. Cutters and low cutters were in small supply from 4.00@7.00. A car of good 1217-pound Arizona fed bulls cashed for 9.00, while half a load of 883-pound mixed thin stags and bulls brought 8.00.

CALVES—The general market, under small receipts and fairly active demand, advanced 25@50c. A small lot of choice 235-pound vealers scored 16.50, while a load of good 255-pound California vealers turned for 16.00, with ten out at 15.00. A small lot of 272-pound weights made 14.50. Other vealers, mostly common and medium kinds, turned from 10.50@13.50.

HOGS—Fairly active demand developed and a good clearance was made. Offerings consisted of six loads, three of which were held over from Monday and several small lots of trucked-in butchers. Prices held about steady. A car of good 180-pound Colorados topped at 11.85, while a car of slightly mixed 168-pound averages realized 11.65. A car of holdover 191-pound Nebraskas turned for 11.60. Four loads of mixed 140 to 165-pound Colorado, Idaho and California butchers turned from 11.00@11.15. A small lot of 303-pound trucked-in butchers made 11.00, while a load of 191-pound local fed butchers brought 10.70. A few packing sows went over from 8.40@8.75.

SHEEP—None. Medium to choice lambs were quoted from 14.00@16.00, with medium to choice wooled ewes from 7.00@9.00.

OIL MEETING CALLED

Directors of the Richfield Oil Company of California announced yesterday that the annual meeting of stockholders has been called for March 21 at 2 p.m. at the head office of the company.

The Hottentots of Africa got their name because their queer, clicking language suggested this sort of sound.

Gross assets of the International Reinsurance Corporation have shown a remarkable increase of 33⅓% since its organization last July, at present totalling $4,010,000, as compared to the original capital and surplus of $3,000,000.

International Reinsurance Corporation

ACCORDING to the report of the President, for the first six months of operations, income exceeded disbursements by $1,010,000; premium receipts totaled $1,477,000; surplus increased from $1,500,000 to $1,587,000, and prospects for the current year are exceedingly bright.

The Corporation was organized by a group of prominent Eastern and Western Insurance men and Financiers, and maintains head offices in Los Angeles. It is of interest to investors that the upbuilding of the corporation has shown the lowest management cost of any similar company organized thus far in this country.

Corn Futures Lead Rally on Grain Markets

CHICAGO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—The grain markets completely reversed their action of Monday, and after a small dip early on scattered selling, prices started upward, with corn in the lead. At the top wheat showed 1⅝@2c over the early low, while corn jumped 1⅝@2⅛c over the finish of the previous day and closed at the best figures, with March 96@96½ and May 1.00½@1.00⅝. Wheat finished ⅝@1c higher, March being 1.25⅝, May 1.31 and July 1.33⅜@1.33⅜. Oats gained ⅛@⅜c for the day, with March .49⅞ and May 52⅛, while rye was ⅝@1⅛c higher, with March 1.09⅝ and May 1.13.

A marked improvement in the demand for cash corn in the Southwest, with the basis at Kansas City ⅛c higher as compared with May, had considerable to do with the advance in corn. There were also reports of some export business at the Gulf, and exporters were the best buyers of the cash grain at Kansas City. Houses with foreign connections were aggressive buyers of futures here and a number of local operators, who recently sold out their corn, were reinstating their lines. Outside trade broadened materially and it was possible to buy and sell large quantities without materially affecting the price. Sellers of offers were forced to protect themselves on the way up and some stop-loss orders were uncovered.

Cables from abroad indicated that there had been heavy consumption of corn and other feeding grains, due to the abnormally severe weather and that corn was finding increasing use in Europe. The continent was credited with having bought a little cash grain at the Gulf. Buenos Aires closed unchanged.

Scattered liquidation was on in wheat early and the local element was disposed to the selling side, but the surplus in the pit was absorbed by houses with eastern connections in small amounts and later the strength in corn led to fairly generally short covering and a strong close, the bulge being checked by selling against offers. Outside interest shows a tendency to increase and there was talk that coming private estimates on farm reserves would show a relatively small holding.

Bearish developments attracted little attention, except for a brief period early. The purchase of 15,000 bushels No. 2 hard winter to come here from Kansas City at 5½c under Chicago May, the widest discount on the crop, had only momentary effect. Weather and crop reports were mixed, with some freezing and thawing over part of the belt, and further mention was made of the lack of seasonal moisture in the Canadian Northwest.

European wheat markets continue to be dominated by the arrival of unsold Argentine grain, which is pressing for sale, but Liverpool failed to fully reflect the decline in North America on Monday and closed ⅝@1d lower. Export demand at the seaboard was limited. Broomhall estimates that North America has 375,000,000 bushels of wheat remaining for export the balance of the season, and private cables placed the Argentine surplus at 210,000,000 bushels, of which 44,000,000 bushels have already been shipped.

Delay in seeding of oats in the Southwest is attracting more attention, and in parts of Oklahoma this work is now nearly thirty days later than last year. Strength in other grains had considerable influence. Trade in rye was not large and the market advanced in sympathy with wheat and on scattered buying.

The provision trade was quiet, but rather firm. There was scattered demand and limited offerings. There was some changing of lard from near to deferred deliveries.

Petroleum Shares Move Forward as General Confidence Strengthens on Local Mart

Anticipating an early end of the gasoline price war a stronger undertone crept into operations yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The entire oil list moved forward under the stimulus of an increased demand and at the end of the day numerous advances were recorded. Other divisions of the market were spotty with the utilities easier.

Rio Grande led the oil stocks in volume and after achieving a top at 35 3-4 closed at 35, up 1 1-8 points net. Barnsdall was also active and advanced 1⅛ points to 40. Richfield, under a brisk demand, shot up to 42 and eased back to end at 41 1-4, but up 1 point on the day. Standard of California jumped to a high and closed at 67 3-8 for a net advance of 2 3-8 points. Union of California and Union Associates firmed up 1-4 each to 47⅛ and 46 3-4, respectively. Signal held steady to 37 while Macmillan advanced ½ to 35. Occidental Petroleum, up 20 cents to 2.75, and United States Royalties, up 1⅛ to .14½, were outstanding among the lower-priced shares.

Pacific Finance Company, in sympathy with stocks of the Pacific Mutual group on the curb, was forced up 2 1-4 points to a high and closed at 100¼. International Re-Insurance, a feature of the previous session, reacted a point to 59. Transamerica improved 1-4 to 130½. California Bank and Los Angeles-First National advanced 3-4 each to 129 3-4 and 140 3-4, respectively. Security was off 5 points at 635 and Seaboard, ⅛ at 46 3-4.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Pacific Mutual Life, with Western Air Express and Kinner Motors moved sharply forward and again provided the highlights of the trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. Mexican Seaboard, Continental Oil and District Bond Company were equally spectacular on a lighter turnover.

Pacific Mutual followed up a steady advance in previous sessions with a jump of 6 1-4 points to a new all-time peak at 108. The close was at 107½. Western Air Express shot up to 54 and closed at 53 1-4, up 1 1-4 net in active demand. Kinner Motors, featuring the market throughout the past week, achieved another new top at 4.60, where it closed for a net gain of 40 cents after more than 30,000 shares had changed hands.

Mexican Seaboard, relatively inactive, advanced 2 3-4 points to 47 3-4, and Continental was forced to a new peak and close at 27, up 1 3-4 points. District Bond Company, having advanced steadily in the last few days, soared to a new top at 47 3-4, and closed at 47 for an advance of 3 points on the day. Officials of the company state that the stock is closely held. The balance of the market held fairly steady with only fractional changes.

Sales totaled 134,669 shares, valued at $1,478,761.

The success of any business is naturally dependent upon the men who direct its policies. When you find such keen, capable business executives as those who are at the helm of the Consolidated Rock Products Co. you may be confident of its success. Its stock offers the opportunity to participate fully in the profits from the sale of its products which are essential in the development of Southern California.

The Consolidated Rock Products Co. is a consolidation of the Union Rock Co., Consumers Rock & Gravel Co., Reliance Rock Co., and their subsidiaries. The company controls 75% of the business in its territory.

The preferred stock has preference as to assets and as to quarterly dividends at the rate of $1.75 per annum. After the common stock has received dividends of $1.00 per share, the preferred stock participates share for share in all additional dividends.

The preferred stock is convertible into common stock share for share at the option of the holders.

It is expected that these stocks will be listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

Units of 2 shares preferred and 1 share common stock are offered at

TAX FREE

Improvement Bonds, whether municipal, county or road district, constitute one of the highest known real estate securities that the market affords. They are issued for the purpose of making necessary improvements that immediately increase the value of the property benefited. The security back of these bonds is valued at from three to fifty times the amount of the bond.

These bonds are a first lien on the property and take precedence over first mortgages, leases, trust deeds, mechanics' liens, and all other liens excepting general taxes.

They are free from all taxes, including the income tax; pay 6½% interest; and are a legal investment for savings banks and trust funds in California.

We are offering several very attractive issues of Improvement Bonds and will be pleased to furnish you with complete information concerning them.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—A sharp advance in Anaconda Copper 7s and strength in United States Steel 5s today failed to stem the general decline in the bond market, and the Associated Press combined averages again sank to the lowest figure since 1926. Selling was heaviest in the first-grade rails and public utilities. More than a dozen issues established new lows for the year.

The Anaconda Copper 7s shot up more than 5 points to a new top price at 213⅝ in sympathy with a further advance in the red metal, but slipped back to 213 at the close on profit-taking. A gain of more than a point was made by United States Steel sinking fund 5s in anticipation of action taken by directors today looking toward their redemption at 110 and accrued interest.

Abraham & Straus 5½s also displayed independent strength, rising more than a point. American International 5½s and American Cyanamid 5s were other strong spots. Loew's 6s with warrants moved up more than 2 points to a new high on a revival of merger rumors.

New lows for the year were established by the Armour issues and Dodge Brothers 6s, both declining fractionally. Pronounced heaviness cropped out in such rails as Atchison Short Line 4s, Hocking Valley convertible 4½s, Rio Grande Western issues, St. Louis and San Francisco 4½s and Illinois Central 3½s, the last dropping 4 points.

Iowa Central refunding 4s, however, advanced 1⅛ points, and National Railroad of Mexico 4s mounted nearly 4 points to a new high. New York Railway slumped 3 points.

International Telephone 4½s were the strong feature of the utilities. The rest of the group sold generally lower. Detroit Edison collateral 5s led the decline with a loss of a point.

Trading was on a slightly larger scale in the irregular foreign list, which was featured by a rally in Pirelli 7s to 133 from 131⅛, and heavy trading in Tokio Light 6s at yesterday's closing level.

United States government obligations displayed a heavy tone.

Associated Gas and Electric issues at slightly lower levels dominated the trading in the curb bonds.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

The Company maintains on deposit with United States Trustees approved securities in excess of the net liability to American policyholders.

Total investments in United States' securities exceed $225,000,000.

EXTRACTS FROM DIRECTORS' REPORT

. . . After deducting amounts re-assured, the total assurances in force now amount to $1,896,915,934.57, an increase of $408,925,254.48. Policies in force number 633,240, and in addition, 136,293 certificates of assurance are held by employees of corporations and firms under the group plan.

While every field of operation contributed its full share to these impressive advances, the rapid development of our business in Great Britain and the United States is especially noteworthy. The generous reception of our Company in countries served by powerful domestic institutions is particularly gratifying, as testifying to widespread appreciation of our record and services.

. . . The amount paid to policyholders since organization, together with the amount at present held for their security or benefit, exceeds the total amount received from them in premiums by $111,370,229.10.

The strength and resources of the Company have been still further enhanced.

The net rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets, after making provision for investment expenses, has risen to 6.58 per cent. Dividend increases, bonuses, and stock privileges, accruing on many of the Company's holdings, contributed substantially to this gratifying result.

A net profit of $11,028,854.59 has been realized from the redemption or sale of securities which had risen to high premiums.

The securities listed in the assets have been valued at figures substantially below the values placed on them by the Government. This undervaluation of our securities represents an important safeguard against possible adverse market fluctuations, additional to the reserves specifically provided against that contingency.

We are again able to report that on the bonds and preferred stocks listed in the assets not one dollar, due either as interest or as dividend, is in arrear for a single day; while the dividends accruing to common stocks exceed by several million dollars those payable on the same stocks at the time of purchase.

The surplus earned during the year, based on the values given in the accounts, amounted to $40,264,088.52.

$10,000,000. has been deducted from the already heavily marked-down value of securities, as additional provision against possible fluctuations, increasing the amount so set aside to $20,000,000.

The special amount set aside as a liability to provide for unforeseen contingencies has been maintained at $12,500,000.

$15,822,339.65 has been paid or allotted as profits to policyholders during the year.

After making all deductions and allocations, $9,157,966.34 has been added to the undivided surplus, bringing the total over liabilities, contingency accounts, and capital stock to $54,438,862.48.

The continued prosperity of the Company enables your Directors to announce, for the ninth successive year, a substantial increase in the scale of profits to be distributed to participating policy-holders during the ensuing year.

In addition, your Directors have inaugurated the principle of granting a Special Dividend on participating policies maturing after having been in force ten years or longer. This new bonus will enable policyholders or beneficiaries whose withdrawal is occasioned by the maturity of policy contracts, to participate in the accumulated surplus which it has not as yet been considered prudent to divide.

The effort to provide life assurance at the lowest net cost obtainable has been increasingly appreciated. Our policyholders will be gratified by this further evidence of our desire that the Company's prosperity shall be fully shared by its members.

will start in to restore a sane differential in wholesale and retail prices and I am under the impression that the price war will not last long."

SALE EXPLAINED

One stockholder asked for an explanation as to the reason the company sold its Colorado and Wyoming interests to the Continental Oil Company. Mr. St. Clair said the Union company was not in a position to derive full benefit of production in those fields without entering the Mid-Continent retail field and it was regarded as better business to sell to the Continental while reserving substantial interests.

Chester W. Brown, director of exploration, reported that favorable indications of oil were being discovered in a new field of 27,000 acres in Mexico, where the company has a wildcat drilling at 4200 feet. Exploration of the Pantepec field in Venezuela is continuing, Mr. Brown said.

All the directors of the company were re-elected and Dwight Whiting, president of the Whiting Finance Company and vice-president of Union Oil Associates, and John E. Jardine, president of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and of William R. Staats Company, were elected directors to fill vacancies caused last year by the deaths of Frank C. Bolt and William R. Staats.

At the directors' meeting following the stockholders' meeting, all the officers were re-elected. G. H. Forster, assistant comptroller, was advanced to comptroller, relieving R. D. Matthews of this position. Mr. Matthews continues as vice-president in charge of manufacturing. A. W. Milford was named as an additional assistant secretary to Secretary John McPeak.

Routine business marked the annual meeting of Union Oil Associates, which was held preceding the Union Oil Company's annual meeting. All directors and officers of the Union Oil Associates were re-elected and W. L. Stewart, Jr., and John E. Jardine were elected directors to fill vacancies caused by the deaths of Frank C. Bolt and William R. Staats. As customary the directors voted to continue dividends according to the dividends paid on stock of Union Oil Company, Lee B. Milbank, secretary-treasurer, stated.

TONE ON STOCK MART NERVOUS

and 19-cent copper was predicted for early March. Andes Copper placed its common stock on a $3 annual basis, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube reported an increase of about 50 per cent in earnings during 1928. President James A. Farrell of United States Steel said the trade outlook was satisfactory, that steel prices were on a reasonably satisfactory basis, and that plants were operating practically at capacity.

COPPERS STRONG

The copper shares were again popular, and oils encountered stronger support than from some time past, despite an upturn in crude production again, and reports that coming figures for crude stocks in storage would show another huge increase.

Adams Express was tossed up 33 points to a new high at 475, and Radio was sent up 24 points to 390. Allis Chalmer, A. M. Byers, Commercial Solvents and American Express mounted 8 to 13 points, the last touching a new peak.

In the copper, Anaconda, Chile and Inspiration mounted 2 to 4 points to new tops, and Kennecott, selling -exrites its 100 per cent stock dividend, was heavily accumulated. Atlantic refining, Houston, and Mexican Seaboard led the oils with extreme gains of 3 to 6 points, while Sinclair, Marland and Standards of New York and New Jersey made moderate gains.

Buying of amusement shares was spurred by unconfirmed merger reports. Motion Picture Capital Corporation and Loew's mounted 3 and and 6 points to new highs for the year, while Fox Film "A" and Warner Brothers were well bought. General Railway Signal entered new high ground on reports of increased sales. Motors were irregular, Chrysler and Nash encountering selling pressure, while Packard mounted 3 points.

Bethlehem Steel fell back 3 points on profit-taking, and Otis Elevator dropped 10. Allied Chemical, American and Foreign Power, Atchison, Collins and Aikman, Filenes, Crosley, National Cash Register and Wright Aero were also under pressure. Johns Manville sold off 4 points, then rallied. American Woolen shares touched new lows for the year.

The commodity markets were generally steady, cotton improving on reports of gold rains in the south, and corn gaining on good export demand.

Foreign exchanges were somewhat inclined to heaviness, resulting from the high money rates in New York. Sterling was slightly lower.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Private cable reports indicate a little better tone in the Australian and New Zealand wool primary markets. The local market remains dull, with prices rather weak. A few small lots, average twelve months' Texas wools, are moving at around 1.05 scoured basis.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The northern edge of the Nordstrom zone in the Santa Fe Springs field seems to have been established by the Union Oil Company's Howard No. 9, which was completed yesterday. The well is making 4500 barrels of oil and water a day, the water cut amounting to 35 per cent, indicating edge conditions. The well was completed at a depth of 5325 feet.

The company is installing a water trap and will make no effort to shut off the water, but will let the well flow. It is the farthest north well that has been completed in the Nordstrom zone, although Buckbee sand wells have been put on production farther to the north. The company is preparing to make a production test in its Howard No. 10, a near-by well, which has been drilled to 5775 feet and is finishing in the Buckbee zone.

The Richfield Oil Company's test of the new deep sand at Santa Fe Springs was delayed again yesterday when it was found necessary to put a new cement plug in the company's Elliott No. 2, which was drilled to 7195 feet. It may be several days before a production test can be made of the well. Gas is believed to have interfered with the first plugging job.

The Plymouth Oil Company's Roberts No. 1, a deep test in the southeast part of the field, yesterday drilled through the oil sand into brown shale at 6913 feet. The well cored oil sand and shale from 6828 to 6854 and in solid sand from there to 6868. From that depth to 6904 the formation alternated shale and sand again. The crew is drilling rapidly in this hole, and considerable more drilling may be done in search of a thicker sand.

Republic in Sand

The Republic Petroleum Company's No. 33 well in the North Midway field has cored 250 feet of oil sand, according to field reports, and is drilling ahead at 2985 feet. The company expects to take at least 100 feet more of the sand before trying to put the well on production. It is correlating with the company's No. 31 well, which is now on production.

The activity recently started in the North Midway district has been slowed down somewhat during the past few days, but Thomas Purman's well, one of the interesting wildcat tests of that area, is drilling ahead at slightly more than 1600 feet. It found a heavy sand at 875 feet and drilled through it.

Potrero Completion

The Associated Oil Company has completed its Pacific Southwest No. 1 well at Potrero. It was drilled to a depth of 5150 feet and now is making about 200 barrels a day of oil with a cut of 10 per cent.

The company is preparing to complete its Potrero No. 1 within the next day or two. The water shut-off was satisfactory and the oil string was being run in the hole last night. This well is about 3300 feet deep and is situated on the golf course of the Potrero Country Club.

The Ring Exploration Company's Simons No. 1, in the north end of the Potrero area, is drilling ahead at 4045 feet. No favorable showings have been found in the well.

Union Completions

The Union Oil Company recently completed two wells, one of which is the deepest well that has been completed in the Buckbee sand at Santa Fe Springs. It was the Bell No. 38, finished at 6020 feet. It came in with a flow of 4148 barrels per day, the oil testing 32.9 deg. gravity, and having a water cut of 9.8 per cent. It is believed to be bottom water. The well had 392 feet of sand at the bottom.

The other completion was the Bell No. 35, put on production from a depth of 5850 feet, making 2656 barrels of oil per day. It had a water cut of 1.1 per cent.

Shell Deep Well

The Shell Oil Company's Sterns No. 1 in the edge of the city limits of Fullerton was drilling yesterday at 6442 feet in shale streaked with oil sands. This well is one of the deepest test wells that has been drilled in the Fullerton area and is an outpost for the field, being a short distance from production.

A production test made in the well several months ago developed a flow of about 100 barrels of oil per day, but it was decided to carry the hole deeper.

Shut-off Approved

The McKeon Drilling Company's Reiber No. 3 at Santa Fe Springs was given a water shut-off test yesterday and was found to be dry, and an effort will be made to place it on production late today. It drilled to 5651 feet.

Richfield Wells

The Richfield Oil Company is swabbing its Oscar Howard No. 3 at Santa Fe Springs with the expectation of putting it on production today. It drilled to 5789 feet. The Oscar Howard No. 1 and Oscar Howard No. 2, neighboring wells, came in several weeks ago for about 8000 barrels initial flow each.

The company has cemented off its Paul Howard No. 1 at Lawndale at a depth of 5410 feet. This was done merely to protect the hole, and not because oil sand had been reached. The company's Intercity No. 1 at Lawndale is drilling at 5457 feet while its Woods No. 1 in the same field is down 1359 feet.

The company's Vernon No. 1, a wildcat test near Maywood, is drilling at 5006 feet without favorable showings, according to field reports.

Globe Going Ahead

The Globe Petroleum Corporation Jameson & Estle No. 1 at Santa Fe Springs was drilling ahead at 4552 feet yesterday. A test of the Nordstrom sand will be made in this well at about 5300 feet and if the result is not satisfactory it will be drilled down to the Buckbee sand. It has about 800 feet to go before reaching the Nordstrom zone, and is expected to be there within ten days.

In Gray Sand

The Standard Oil Company's Mascot No. 1, a deep test being drilled on property owned by the Mascot and the Mt. Diablo oil companies, in the north end of the Midway field, was drilling at 3401 feet yesterday in gray sand, after having gone through several mixed formations of shale and oil sands.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—In the face of a quiet London market and declines on the Singapore exchange the bullish feeling in the local crude rubber market continued today. Conditions of the foreign markets somewhat dampened the opening here and for a while prices showed a tendency to decline, ranging during the morning session from unchanged to 20 points below previous finals. Interest broadened after midday and the market closed active and strong, with prices on the upswing. Closing quotations on nine active deliveries were up 20 and 30 points.

The outside market reported an advance in spot price of ⅛c to 26⅞c. London closed unchanged at 13⅛d.

TRANSCONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY

Annual Report

To the Stockholders of Transcontinental Oil Company:

The annual report of your Company, including Consolidated Balance Sheet and Profit and Loss Statement for the year ending December 31st, 1928, is herewith submitted.

The operations of the Company for the year resulted in a gross profit of $4,826,481.80; and after all charges, including interest, inventory adjustments, administration, general expense, and reserves for depreciation, a balance of $1,506,802.98 was carried to surplus.

Market prices for the lighter refined products (gasoline and kerosene) were on an average a little higher than in 1927, while those for fuel oil were somewhat lower. Crude oil prices were lower on an average than in the previous year, due of course to continued overproduction in this branch of the industry.

The following shows the comparative daily average gross production of the Company for the past five years:

1928	15,943	"

The Company's crude oil runs showed a gradual and consistent increase throughout 1928 and during the last three months of the year the average gross runs were in excess of 20,000 barrels daily, and more than 23,000 barrels per day are now being run.

Proration and curtailment of production continues in the Yates Pool in Texas, where this Company and Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Co. (a subsidiary of Ohio Oil Company) are equal owners of a large and important producing property, on which 52 producing wells were completed during the year making a total of 102 producing wells on the property as of December 31st, last. There is now approximately 5,500 acres of proven producing territory in this block, making available thereon several hundred proven locations for future drilling. The oil runs from this property included in the above mentioned daily averages, represent less than 2% of its potential production as shown by official gauges taken by the proration committee under the supervision of the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas. The excellent results obtained, and the increased values which have been created for your Company by further drilling and development, are shown by comparing the daily potential production of this property as of July 1st, 1928, which was 964,368 barrels and February 1st, 1929, which was 2,342,945 barrels; both gauges having been taken by the above mentioned proration committee. The production as shown by the latter gauge, represents more than 50% of the production of the entire Yates pool.

The present daily pipe line outlet for this field is 87,500 barrels, of which your Company and Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Co. is allotted by the proration committee, 40,643 barrels over the ensuing proration period. It is reasonable to expect additional and substantial increases in the pipe line outlet of this field over the coming year, as in no other major field in the United States is the production of crude oil being so drastically curtailed.

The recent developments in the Big Lake field in Reagan County, Texas, where a large well of high grade oil has been found at a depth of 8,500 feet, is important from the standpoint of the probability of deeper pay formations underlying the Yates field. From the best data available, your Company engineers believe these deeper formations will be found at a much lesser depth on the Yates Pool leases.

During the year 1928, your Company and the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Co. successfully defended a suit brought by the State of Texas to test the validity of titles to certain of their leases, and accordingly there was transferred to surplus and income account, the "deferred income" item on the December 31, 1927, Balance Sheet.

Owing to the overproduction of crude oil, drilling operations in other districts have been restricted. However, the Company, continuing its policy of securing attractive acreage, has obtained leases on several thousand acres scattered throughout the Mid-Continent and Texas areas. It has also acquired more than 100,000 acres located in the States of Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico, consisting of eight separate blocks ranging in size from 4,000 to 20,000 acres. These have been taken only after having been thoroughly investigated and recommended by the Company's geologists.

Your management has had under consideration, refining and storage facilities at the Gulf with a pipe line extending into the West Texas fields. During the past year, reports and estimates on these have been completed by independent engineers, surveys have been made and options secured for refinery and tank farm site, and approximately 80% of the pipe line right of way. Actual construction has been deferred pending more satisfactory conditions.

Your Company owns approximately 85% of the outstanding stock of Mid-Colombia Oil and Development Company, which in turn owns a 35% profit interest in certain properties in Roumania. The Romano-Americano Company, the Roumanian subsidiary operating Company of Standard Oil Company of N. J. (the owner of the remaining 65% interest), during 1928 completed four producing wells on these properties with a gross daily production of 4,000 barrels. Locations have been made for the drilling of four additional wells.

Results in the refining and sales departments were an improvement over the previous year owing to the increased distribution and better marketing conditions. The sales division during this period extended its outlet by the acquisition or construction of ten additional bulk stations and twenty-two additional service stations.

During the year, the Company issued and sold $12,000,000.00 First Mortgage 6½% Ten Year Gold Bonds, the proceeds being used to retire its 7% Notes, 8% First Mortgage Bonds, to discharge Bank Loans and current indebtedness, and to provide additional working capital.

While it is a well known fact that the oil industry has seldom faced a more serious period of overproduction than exists at present, your Company occupies a decidedly advantageous position through its ownership of the large producing properties in the Yates field of West Texas. There is no other producing territory in the United States today where wells comparable in size can be drilled at such low cost or where the per barrel lifting cost is less. Therefore, with your Company producing and marketing less than 2% of the established capacity of its wells, and with every reasonable expectation of increased outlets for the Yates field, its position should improve regardless of existing conditions or their duration.

By order of the Board of Directors,

F. B. PARRIOTT,
President.

Dated February 15th, 1929.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Desultory trading characterized today's curb market, which appeared to be marking time until the month-end credit stringency had passed. Prices were extremely irregular, with the revival of activity and strength in a few oils, mines and specialties as the only features. Total sales fell below 1,000,000 shares.

There was nothing in the day's news to explain the sudden outburst of buying in the oil group, although hope is still held out in some quarters that voluntary curtailment agreements would result in definite improvement this year. The monthly storage figures, soon to be issued, are expected to show a gain of between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 barrels in crude stocks. Continental Oil, which is reported engaged in merger negotiations with Sinclair, touched another new high at 27. Gulf of Pennsylvania and Humble each advanced about 3 points and Imperial 1½. Lion Oil fell back 3 points to 27, duplicating the year's low.

Aviation shares ran into some profit-taking on a denial of some of the merger rumors now in circulation. Fokker, Curtiss Air and Express and Aviation Company of America fell back a point or more. Sikorsky advanced fractionally to a new high. A further advance in the price of export copper, which is believed to foreshadow another increase in domestic prices, brought fresh buying into the metal shares. Newmont ran up more than 7 points and Shattuck Denn, Noranda and a few others gained a point or more.

Most of the public utilities drifted lower, Electric Bond and Share falling back 3 points and several others declining a point or two. In the merchandising group, National Family Stores preferred advanced to a new high at 48½ and Neisner preferred climbed 3 points. Auburn Auto jumped 10 points to a new high at 190 and Wire Wheel crossed 57 to a new peak on rumors of a merger with Kelsey Wheel.

Establishment of new 1929 peak prices by the Hart Parr and Nichols & Shepherd issues on talk of a merger with the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, and by Newton Steel, Schulte United, United Carbon certificates, United States Foil B and Veeder Root was offset by new low prices for Bahia Corporation, Busse Clark, Gorham Manufacturing preferred, Pepperal Manufacturing, Timken Detroit Axle and United States Gypsum.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26. (AP)—Buoyancy was the chief characteristic displayed in trading on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today.

Magnavox continued its upward trend of the past few days as 33,551 shares changed hands. It opened at 9⅝, advanced to 10⅞ and closed up 1 at 10½.

North American Investment shot up to 122, an overnight gain of 5 points and a new high for the current year. California Packing opened strong at 79, sagged to 78½, touched a new high at 79½ and closed up 2⅞ at 79¾.

Paraffine staged a brisk rally just before the close and rose from 83 to 85½ before closing at 85¼, netting 2¼.

The oils were particularly strong and advances were common throughout the entire list, with Standard of California in the vanguard of the advance.

Cross-currents were in evidence in the industrials. Kolster Radio improved from 60¾ to 63½, gaining 1½; Fireman's Fund strengthened to 143, up 1; Crown Zellerbach opened at 22¼, touched 23 and closed up ⅜ at 22⅝; Oliver "B" gained ½ at 38. Losses of a point or more were shown in Jantzen Knitting at 44, Leslie Salt at 40, the Emporium at 35 and Atlas Diesel at 56½; Caterpillar declined from 75⅝ to 74⅝, off ⅞; Byron Jackson eased from 72 to 71½.

Standard Oil opened at 66¼, touched 67½ and closed up 1⅛ at 67⅛. Richfield netted 1¼ at 41⅝, after ranging between 40¾ and 42½; Union Oil closed at 47½, a gain of ⅝, after touching 48; Shell Union was steady at 27, as was Union Associates at 47.

The banks were irregular. Transamerica remained unchanged at 130⅝, after touching 130¾; the American Company declined from 147½ to 144¾ before closing off 2½ at 145½.

Totals: Bonds, $1500; stocks, 89,432 shares of $3,635,251 market value.

New Merger in New York Bank Field Rumored

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Consolidation of the National Bank of Commerce and the Guaranty Trust Company, two "Morgan banks," to form a $2,000,000,000 institution was followed today by rumors that other banking mergers are being contemplated which will bring together organizations with resources that exceed the $2,000,000,000 mark.

Officers of banks named in these rumors have issued wholesale denials that such consolidations are being contemplated, but at least one of the reported mergers seems plausible. A fusion of the Equitable Trust Company and the National City Bank is being most frequently mentioned. Since both these banks are closely connected with Rockefeller interests, it appeared entirely possible that the consolidation will be effected.

A second merger rumor involved the Chase National and Brooklyn Trust Company, with Chase said to have made an offer for the Brooklyn bank.

The merger reports aroused considerable interest in bank stock circles and the trend in the market was generally toward higher levels. Equitable Trust shares shot forward sensationally in response to announcement of completion of the Guaranty-Commerce negotiations on the theory that the National City would quickly act to regain its position as the country's premier banking institution.

BUDGET BOOK OUT

Ernst & Ernst Revises Former Business Edition

Ernst & Ernst, public accountants, has just issued a forty-page book entitled "Budget Control, What It Does and How to Do It," outlining how each part of the business budget should be prepared and the principles of its effective operation.

This new book is a revised edition of one published by the authors four years ago, which has been widely used for informative and reference purposes by business executives, engineers and various students of business methods.

STUDENTS SENTENCED TO PRISON

University of Redlands Pair in Fatal Robbery at Berkeley Denied Leniency

OAKLAND, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Sentences of five years to life in San Quentin prison were imposed by Superior Judge Spence today upon George I. Keller and William C. Cooney, both former University of Redlands students and the latter the son of the City Attorney of Compton, Los Angeles county, for the attempted robbery of a florist shop in Berkeley last Christmas. The robbery was frustrated by a police officer and Thomas D. Hall, companion of the two, was wounded fatally when he elected to "shoot it out" with the officer.

Leniency, sought on the ground the youths came from responsible families and were not of the criminal type, was refused by Judge Spence.

"I can fully appreciate," the court said, "the feelings of the parents of these boys and that they come from good families and are college boys, but that very fact makes their offense the more serious because they have had the opportunity of a college education, and ought to know better."

Both the youths pleaded guilty to the charge several days ago. Testimony was that they had come to Berkeley on a vacation trip, had run out of funds and attempted to replenish them by the robbery of the shop run by the relatives of a fellow-student.

SLAYERS OF AMERICANS OUTLAWED

Mexico Promises Pursuit and Punishment of Band as Morrow Takes Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (P)—The Mexican government has assured the American Embassy in Mexico City that a determined and energetic pursuit will be made to capture and administer punishment to the bandits who killed C. C. Aisethorpe of Denver, and Joseph Underwood of Pasadena.

Ambassador Morrow telegraphed the State Department today that consular and Foreign Office reports show the two Americans were kidnaped by men who raided the Busgos mines on the 21st inst. The Governor of Guanajuato sent a force of soldiers and police in pursuit. They engaged the bandits the following day, killing six of them.

The remainder fled, pursued by the soldiers, who soon came on the bodies of the two Americans, who apparently had been murdered after the military engagement.

The chief of military operations in the State of Guanajuato has been given telegraphic orders to pursue and exterminate bandits.

FRENCH RAP, ALSO LAUD PEACE PLAN

Kellogg Pact Bantered During Parliament Debate But Arouses Enthusiasm

PARIS, Feb. 26. (P)—The Kellogg pact for the renunciation of war came in for some criticism and considerable bantering as debate in the French Parliament on ratification opened today, but it also aroused enthusiastic and wholehearted approval.

Pierre Cot, the Deputy who reported favorably on the bill recommending ratification, eulogized the pact as being an international gesture of good will and peace among men, but he expressed the feeling that it should be known as the Briand-Kellogg accord, claiming that France should share equally the honor of outlawing war.

Deputy Guernot stated that the pact was not a mere "international kiss" meaning nothing, and adding "kisses often precede fights."

Whether the American Secretary of State should be known in history as "Kellogg peace pact, or Kellogg 10,000 tons cruisers" was the contribution of Marcel Cachin, head of the French Communist party.

A vote is not expected before Friday evening as numerous orators are desirous of presenting their own ideas on the question. The discussion was adjourned until Thursday afternoon.

Mexican Flyer to Take Greeting to Inauguration

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 26. (P)—An airplane journey to Washington to carry greetings from President Portes Gil of Mexico, to the new President of the United States, was announced here today by Joaquin Gonzales Pacheco, a wealthy young air enthusiast. He said he hopes to hop off March 2, arriving in Washington the morning of the inauguration.

The flight, it is said, has the approval of the Mexican government. C. E. McMillan, an American, would pilot the plane with Gonzales Pacheco as passenger. They would use a Stinson Detroiter. The backer of the project was a passenger on a recent flight from Windsor, Ont., to Mexico City.

OHIO TELEPHONE EARNINGS MOUNT

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Ohio Bell Telephone Company's net income for the year ended December 31, last, aggregated $8,062,437 after interest and taxes, against $6,299,589 in 1927, it was reported here today. Practically the entire common stock is owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Underground Still Raided and Three Arrested

Operatives from the office of Chief Plummer, head of the Wright Act enforcement bureau of the District Attorney's office, last night uncovered an elaborate underground still at 916 Gifford street, Belvedere Gardens, and arrested Elmo Hernadez, Eugenia Hernandez, his wife, and Trinidad Hernandez, a brother, on charges of possession and sale of intoxicating liquors.

The grocery store of Hernandez has been under surveillance for some time, according to the raiding officers, and in the living-room at the rear of the store a trap door was found. This door lead to the basement and from this underground room another door opened to a room where two twenty-five-gallon stills were found in operation, and 500 gallons of mash awaiting the cooking process.

Plummer and his aids were assisted in the raid by Deputies Tucker and Talbot from the constable's office at Belvedere Gardens.

Judge Chambers to Be Candidate for Bench Again

Judge Joseph F. Chambers has announced his candidacy to succeed himself as judge of the Municipal Court at the coming municipal election.

Judge Chambers has been on the Municipal Court bench since the organization of that court February 1, 1926. For many years prior to that time he served as city justice and ex-officio police judge.

He has been a resident of Los Angeles for more than forty years and during half of that time has occupied a judicial position. He served as presiding judge of the Municipal Court during the year ending on the 1st inst. Many of his friends have volunteered to assist in his campaign.

Ryan Resigns as Metropolitan's Studio Manager

Phil L. Ryan resigned as manager of the Metropolitan studios last night, he announced, and it is understood he will become associated in the near future with the production of sound pictures on a large scale. His resignation was accepted by Christie Brothers, owners of the Santa Monica Boulevard studio.

Ryan has been general manager of the Christie lot since last June and more than $6,000,000 has been spent there in the production of pictures during his regime, it is said. He also supervised construction of two sound-picture studios, both of which are adaptable for the making of either Movietone or Vitaphone productions.

Prior to his connection with the Metropolitan studio, Ryan was western representative for Pathe.

Suspect Held for Grand Jury in Port Crime

Municipal Judge Austin yesterday at San Pedro, bound over Waldo Emerson Nixon of 400 East Anaheim Boulevard, for grand jury action on a charge of murder. According to police testimony, Nixon confessed to murdering John Wood, an oil worker, Sunday night.

Earlier yesterday an inquest was held in Woods mortuary, Wilmington, with Deputy Coroner Mountfort presiding, and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hunt representing the State. A Coroner's jury found that Wood died of gunshot wound inflicted by Nixon in the course of a hold-up.

Von Stroheim's Wife in Relapse

The wife of Eric Von Stroheim, motion-picture actor and director, was taken to the Queen of the Angels Hospital last night, following a relapse in her convalescence from an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Stroheim was thought well on the road to recovery when she suddenly was taken with a turn for the worse yesterday. The director's little son also was taken to the hospital suffering with a severe cold.

Von Stroheim's proposed trip to Europe, on which he expected to start the latter part of this week, has been postponed indefinitely as a result.

House Approves Wilson Pension

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (P)—Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, widow of President Woodrow Wilson, is granted an annual pension of $5000 for the remainder of her life under a bill passed tonight by the House and sent to the Senate.

STUDENTS' MUSICAL COMEDY GETS VETO

That "light musical entertainment" is out of place in the atmosphere of a university is stated by the administrative staff of the University of California at Los Angeles in an edict yesterday banning the proposed production of a musical comedy written by students for presentation in April. The action was taken after the production of a musical show had been sanctioned by the Associated Students' Council. As a substitute production of a comedy by the students has been approved by the administrative staff, to be produced by the University Dramatics Society on the tentative dates of April 25, 26 and 27, although the play has not been chosen.

CHANDLER-CLEVELAND OPERATES AT LOSS

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Chandler-Cleveland Motors Corporation and subsidiaries reported today a consolidated net loss of $400,305 for the year ended December 31, last, after depreciation and amortization charges. This compares with a net loss of $473,109 in 1927.

GOBI SAVANT BRINGS BACK PAST PERIOD

Roy Chapman Andrews in Lecture Here Describes Discoveries in China

Roy Chapman Andrews, explorer of the Gobi Desert, last night told a large audience in Emanu-El Forum of his discovery of dinosaur eggs, of a prehistoric monster's bones and of unidentified Stone Age implements. Motion pictures illustrated Mr. Andrews's address, "In Search of the Missing Link," a quest which he admitted had not succeeded in its objective. He will, however, return to the Gobi region without delay, hastening his start before impending war in China prevents. He represents the American Museum of Natural History.

His motion pictures showed the expedition's eight motor cars negotiating incredibly rough roads, while 125 camels followed, carrying 4000 gallons of gasoline and other supplies. Forced by impassable sand to turn back into Northern Mongolia, the expedition unexpectedly stumbled onto its great discovery of the leg bone of a prehistoric monster, possibly ancestor of the rhinoceros. In that region Mr. Andrews found no human bones, though he did find graves, probably those of the followers of Ghengis Khan.

He projected pictures of the finding of the first nest of fourteen dinosaur eggs together with a nine-foot dinosaur which gave the clew by which these were identified. In a second nest were twenty-four eggs, several with embryonic dinosaurs. In Mongolia the explorer found Stone Age instruments which the scientists were unable to identify as belonging to a particular civilization. Though no human bones were found there, these implements were discovered in such number as to show that the region had been densely populated.

AMENDMENT TO CHARTER LOSING OUT

Long Beach Apparently Wants to Keep Manager Form of Government

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Feb. 26.—Defeat of the proposed new charter by a vote of 7 to 1 was indicated late tonight with half of the precincts heard from on the result of today's special election. Of the sixteen proposed amendments to the old charter the only one which seemed certain of having won was the playgrounds and recreation proposal. This provides for a 5-cent tax levy on each $100 of assessed value and the co-ordinating of all playgrounds and recreation features under a new board.

Vote on the amendment proposing to create the office of City Prosecutor was close and at a late hour it was thought to have a chance to win. All proposals to increase salaries were defeated. The main feature of the proposed new charter, which was defeated, was the substitution of a Mayor and Council for the present City Manager government. The vote was very light.

Teams Debate Insanity Plea

"Resolved: That the plea of temporary insanity in defense of crime should be prohibited by law" was the subject last night of an intersectional debate held between the forensics teams of the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Washington in Millspaugh Hall auditorium, with the local team taking the affirmative side of the question and the visitors the negative. The debate, which introduced a new style of debating in Los Angeles, was a no-decision affair at the request of the Washington team.

The type of debating used last night is known as the Oregon style. Leslie Goddard of U.C.L.A. opened the debate with a twenty-minute exposition of the affirmative side of the case, and was then cross-questioned for ten minutes by Sidney Spear, Washington speaker. Charles Strother then presented the negative side of the question, being cross-questioned by Bernard Jefferson, U.C.L.A. speaker. The contest closed with rebuttals by both sides. The Oregon style of forensics enabled both sides to force answers from their opponents.

U.C.L.A. Plans Expansion of Military Arm

Prospects are for a more advanced course in military training by the military department of the University of California at Los Angeles next fall, when the university moves to its new campus.

Plans call for the moving of the armory building, a frame structure, to the new location some time next summer. The armory will be placed on the edge of the proposed athletic field, below the hill on which the main buildings of the campus are placed.

Col. Perry L. Miles, commandant, said, "A cavalry troop may come in time but the initial expense and up-keep of such a venture is too great for the present. Horses would have to be purchased, stables built and men hired to take care of a cavalry unit."

Newspaper Best for Advertiser

At a meeting of the Advertising Club yesterday, Truman A. De Weese showed how advertising has built great industries employing thousands of persons and even has put cities on the map. He explained how advertising can change the habits of a people, creating desire for articles unknown to them, educating them to eat foods that are good for them, and even to chew properly what they eat.

Mr. De Weese said his principal reason for using newspapers as a medium of advertising is that they reach the greatest possible number of consumers in each locality and reach them every day. Another reason, he said, is because in a newspaper the advertisement is given news value as it is imbedded in and surrounded by news.

Echo of Golden Days in Court

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Pioneer figures in Sacramento's early history figuratively stalked through the local Superior Court today when Helen Van Gulpen Harris, administratrix of the estate of Gen. John A. Sutter, filed suit against the city of Sacramento, seeking the return of certain property deeded to the city by the general on January 25, 1849.

The complaint asserts that the property was deeded to the city for use as a public thoroughfare, and that it was thus used until February 28, 1924, when it was closed by action of the City Council. The petition asserts this constitutes a breach of agreement, and asks that property be returned to the Sutter estate to expedite its settlemnt.

NEW KIDNAP CONFESSION RETRACTED

Woman Held for Bay City Stealing of Child Adds to 'Insanity' Defense Grounds

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Edna Sharp, confessed kidnaper of Doris Smith-Murphy, livened the eve of her preliminary hearing on charges of kidnaping and child stealing by making and retracting a new confession in which she involved the grandmother of the child.

When detectives taxed her with the new document which was written by her attorney and signed by Mrs. Sharp, the latter said she was goaded into it by inquisitors. She retracted the entire document, police announced.

When her attorney was informed he said the procedure confirmed his previous opinion that Mrs. Sharp is insane. His statement had the effect of indicating definitely that such will be the defense.

Judge Revolts Against Making 'Liquor Lifers'

LANSING (Mich.) Feb. 26. (AP)—Judge Brennan of the Wayne county (Detroit) Circuit Court last night told the State Senate he would resign from the bench rather than impose a life sentence on a person convicted of four liquor felonies. Conviction of four felonies makes a life sentence mandatory under Michigan law.

Judge Brennan was joined in his attack on the liquor-felony clause of the Michigan crime code by Judge Murphy, also of Wayne county, who urged the Legislature to make a distinction between crimes of "moral turpitude and mere violation of the statute."

HEAVY SNOW PUTS COVER ON NOGALES

Fluffy Fall in Arizona to be of Tremendous Value for Pasture Grass

NOGALES (Ariz.) Feb. 26. (AP)—A heavy snow is falling on the border today. The mountains of Southern Arizona and Northern Sonora are blanketed and the ground at Nogales is covered. It is the first heavy snow of the season.

BISBEE (Ariz.) Feb. 26. (AP)—Accompanied by a strong northwesterly wind winter paid a return visit to the Mule Mountain region today with indications of possibly the heaviest snowfall of the season before night.

Snow began falling shortly after 9 o'clock this morning and within an hour a white blanket had been laid over the entire district with the covering reported three inches deep on the Continental Divide, northwest of Bisbee.

The storm is reported general throughout the southeastern sector of the State. To stockmen the belated snowfall means thousands of dollars, as it assures early pasture on the range lands.

SOUTHLAND TITLE QUIZ APPROVED

Senate Orders Inquiry Into Charges of Fraud Respecting Land Grants

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Inquiry into charges that titles to large tracts of land in Southern California are false was ordered today by the Senate in adopting without debate a resolution extending the authority of the Lands Committee to go into the situation.

Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico, was named by the committee recently to head a subcommittee to inquire into the charge that the old land grants by Mexico were ignored in passing out titles to tracts of land. This property, meanwhile, has in many instances become quite valuable.

Contract Delay on Dried Fruits Perils Dealers

SAN JOSE, Feb. 26. (AP)—Procrastination in signing new contracts on the part of the prune and apricot growers in the State may force the liquidation of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, Santa Clara Valley committee members of the organization were told here last night.

Only thirty days remain to sign up the needed tonnage, General-Manager Harlan of the association warned. "Failure to obtain the needed tonnage within this time may force the liquidation of the organization," he said.

The association is not seeking a monopoly on dried fruit, he explained, but an effective control of the volume to meet trade requirements. One hundred million pounds of prunes, one-quarter of the State crop, was handled he asserted, by the co-operative body last year.

OUTSIDERS BACK CEMENT PLANS

Throngs Pack Hearing Over Rock-Plant Project

First Witness Reveals Bell Would Not be Operator

In the presence of a hall full of protesting property owners who had come to protect their homes from alleged irreparable damage from the proposed cement project in Santa Ynez Canyon, the startling revelation was made before the City Planning Commission yesterday that the proposed project would be operated by "foreign" interests, and not by the Alphonzo Bell interests.

The revelation was made at the opening of the hearing before the commission seemingly wanting to [illegible] Los Angeles Mountain Park Company for a special permit to operate a rock quarry and crushing plant in the heart of what the company itself has characterized as one of the finest high-class residential districts on the Pacific Coast.

The hearing room was crowded with men and women. They came apparently from the homes of the valley and the homes of the [illegible], all bent on saving their homes from the encroachment of any industrial activities such as the cement manufacturing project with its quarry, crusher and pipe line to the sea. They came in such numbers that a corps of janitors was summoned to carry in extra chairs. An extra large table was brought in to accommodate the array of counsel representing various interests, organizations and individuals opposed to the project. The protestants came from the Santa Monica Mountains and Pacific Palisades districts by the busload.

TENSE FEELING SHOWN

That a tense feeling exists on the part of those representing both sides of the controversy was apparent from the very start. Each move of one side was watched carefully by the other, and the hearing was not ten minutes old before opposing counsel, several at a time, were on their feet. The hearing got away to a halting, stumbling start, the commission seemingly wanting to be sure of every move before it committed itself. The full commission was there, with President Miller presiding.

For the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company there appeared an array of engineers, technical experts and Attorneys Eugene Overton and Belland McNitt. For some of the protestants officially appeared Messrs. Thorwald Seigfried of the Pacific Palisades Protective Committee and allied organizations; Arthur Bailey and A. T. Sokolow for the Southern Counties Land Company and Dr. Frank F. Barham; S. O'Dell for the Pacific Palisades Company; Arthur C. Verge for Harvey Fulton, owner of about 130 acres adjoining the proposed quarry land.

President Miller outlined the order of procedure to be, first, the presentation of the applicant's case, followed by the presentation of the case of the opponents. The afternoon session lasted until 5 and was resumed again at 7 o'clock and continued until 10 p.m. The plan is to meet each Tuesday for four hours until the case is finished.

COMES OUT EARLY

Claude Wayne, secretary of the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company, the applicant, was the first witness called and he had not been on the stand long when, under direct examination of McNitt, he revealed that the Bell interests, the Mountain Park Company, only the latter had entered into a contract with Samuel Traylor, David [illegible] and Chapin A. Day, under the terms of which the latter would buy the land in question and take over the operation of the rock quarry, crusher and pipe line. In other words, as one of the opposition attorneys styled it, the Bell interests, advertised as being unwilling to do anything to hurt their community with a detrimental cement-manufacturing project, are not the ones who are going to operate the project. A group of other [illegible] "foreign" organization, will.

COMPANY'S PROMISE

The contract under which it is proposed to operate was introduced in detailed form, setting forth that the area in the canyon not to be exceeded 300 acres in extent would furnish the location of plants and quarries and that the three men, represented as versed in the manufacture and operation of cement

NEW PRESIDENT OF AUTOMOBILE CLUB

Edward D. Lyman

AUTOMOBILE CLUB ELECTS E. D. LYMAN

Well-Known Attorney Will Head Southern California Motorists Coming Year

Edward D. Lyman, attorney and business executive, is the new president of the Automobile Club of Southern California, having been chosen by the board of directors as successor to Horace G. Miller, who has served two terms as head of the organization. Mr. Miller remained as a member of the board of directors, with whom he has served since 1911.

The new president is one of the youngest directors of the club but is seasoned in point of service, as he was elected a member of the board eleven years ago, serving the last two years as first vice-president. He is a member of the legal concern of Overton, Lyman & Plumb, secretary and general manager of the Los Angeles Transfer Company and secretary of the investment firm of Lyman Company. He is a director in various banking and business organizations and identified with civic and social organizations.

DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED

The election followed closely the annual meeting of the motoring organization at which three directors were re-elected for terms of three years each, two of them being the new president and the retiring president and the third Harry Chandler.

Harry J. Bauer, attorney, director in the Southern California Edison Company, who has been second vice-president, was made first vice-president. W. L. Valentine, president of the Fullerton Oil Company, director in the Security Trust and Savings Bank and identified with other large business interests, was chosen second vice-president. He has been a director of the club for eighteen years and, during five of these he served as president of the organization.

As now constituted the board consists of Edward D. Lyman, Harry J. Bauer, W. L. Valentine, Horace G. Miller, A. C. Balch, J. F. Sartori, Harry Chandler and H. W. Keller.

MEMBER PASSES

Appropriate resolutions were ordered drafted on the recent passing of Senator Frank P. Flint, who had been a member of the directorate since 1919.

Standish L. Mitchell, secretary and Ralph Reynolds, assistant secretary, both of whom have been with the organization for years, were reappointed by the board.

Steady expansion and increased activity of the club was reflected in the annual report of retiring President Miller, indicating that

TREES GO DOWN IN WIND BLAST

Considerable Damage Done Through Southland

Severest Gale in History Hits Valley Cities

Citrus Crop Injury Slight; Highways Blocked

High winds on which dust and sand clouds rode swept Los Angeles and vicinity yesterday. Nearly 100 trees were blown down across the streets in the city, signs were blown off, some of them smashing plate-glass windows and some of the county highways were made impassable by sand drifts. Citrus fruits suffered slight damage.

Most of the damage was done early yesterday morning. Velocities ranged from eighty miles an hour atop Mt. Wilson to thirty miles at San Pedro and twenty-six miles at the local Weather Bureau station.

Citrus orchards not protected by windbreaks suffered some because of the chafing of the fruit's skin against branches, thus making wind-scarred culls out of what would otherwise be high-priced fruit. Navels are 60 to 75 per cent picked and Valencias are rather hard yet. Some fruit was lost through windfall.

ROOFS BLOWN OFF

San Bernardino experienced the worst windstorm in its history, according to old-timers there. Roofing on several houses was blown off, a number of garages were blown about and many fences were leveled. Several downtown windows collapsed. The wind was at its worst from midnight until 10 a.m.

Riverside similarly reported the strongest wind in many years, if not in the city's history. Heavy trees were uprooted in places, several big store windows were smashed and electric wires were blown down and broken. Many residences were without electric current or telephone. The highest velocity was at 1 a.m. Magnolia and Victoria avenues were made impassable by debris. Many men were put to work clearing streets and repairing electric lines. Some eucalypti that had withstood elements for forty years went down. Several automobiles were damaged by falling trees.

RECORD GALE

Dr. L. D. Bachelor, in charge of the University of California's citrus experiment station at Riverside said that Monday night's wind was the highest ever recorded on the station's wind gauge. For a ten-minute period the velocity did not fall below sixty miles per hour, and for several hourly periods it did not drop below forty-five miles per hour.

Flying activities at March Field were ordered suspended. Street-car service was interrupted all day in some places.

Redlands experienced a strong wind and the air was particularly thick with dust clouds from ash-covered areas where brush fires raged some time ago. Highland avenue and the Valley and Foothill boulevards from Redlands to Los Angeles were reported impassable in places because of sand drifts. Many telephones were reported to have been disabled.

Traffic east of Ontario was made possible only by road crews working at clearing dunes off the pavement. Light cars were advised to keep off the roads between there and Riverside, especially in Wineville district.

In Los Angeles electric lines at Sunset Boulevard and Alexandria street and at Wall and Eleventh streets were blown down, cutting off current for many for a time.

The Weather Bureau last night predicted some continuance of the wind today.

The water front went about its business almost as usual because the wind was offshore.

CAUSE EXPLAINED

A high pressure air zone over a great area of the Pacific Ocean and a low one in the Mississippi Valley are blamed by the weather man for the various currents and cross-currents that prevail.

Playing havoc with trees, telephone lines and poles, the wind in San Gabriel Valley took its greatest toll in Sierra Madre and Arcadia where streets were impassable for several hours because of fallen trees. Telephone lines were reported down between Azusa and Monrovia and poles along Foothill Boulevard in a direct pathway of the wind, were broken.

In Monrovia road signs where im-

FAMILY OF GRAVES GO TO BEDSIDE

Blood Transfusion Said to Have Aided Banker Now Ill at Arrowhead Spring

The condition of Jackson A. Graves, president of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank, was reported as serious, last night following a call for members of the family to go to the banker's bedside at the Arrowhead Springs Hotel, where he has been confined to bed for two weeks.

JACKSON A. GRAVES

Yesterday afternoon Dr. W. S. Spike, who with Dr. E. A. Bryant has been treating Mr. Graves, left for the resort hotel, V. H. Rossetti, vice-president of the bank, announced.

Dr. Spike returned to Los Angeles later, however, leaving Dr. F. S. Modern, the Arrow Hotel physician in charge.

Besides Mrs. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stewart are at the banker's beside.

In a long-distance telephone conversation last night, Mrs. Graves said she believes her husband has improved since a blood transfusion.

Monday a pint of blood was infused into the banker's weakening system, which stimulated his blood pressure and for a time alleviated the weakened condition, Mr. Graves indicated in a letter he wrote to Mr. Rossetti.

For more than a year Mr. Graves has been in ill health, his associates announced, but it was not until two weeks ago his condition took on serious aspects and he was removed to the San Bernardino county resort for treatment and rest.

Despite his condition, the financier continues to maintain good spirits and continued to write letters in a jocular vein to friends and associates. Mr. Rossetti received another letter yesterday, written the day before, he said, and in which Mr. Graves indicated he still is maintaining his vigorous fight to overcome the stomach trouble from which he is suffering.

Final Tribute Will be Paid Keenan Today

The theatrical world will pay its last tribute today to Frank Keenan, veteran actor of the stage, when funeral services are conducted at 10 a.m. at the White Company chapel at 604 West Washington street. Interment will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

His two daughters, Mrs. Frances Wynn, wife of Ed Wynn, the comedian, and Mrs. Frank Sloane of New York, arrived yesterday to attend the services. They are at the Roosevelt.

Pallbearers will be William May Garland, Reginald Barker, George Greenwood, Ralph Long, Fred Verbayan and Frank Davey.

Mr. Keenan died Sunday at 70 years of age from pneumonia. Besides his two daughters he leaves his wife, Mrs. Leah May Keenan. The services today will be in charge of the Elks from Lodge 99, while Father Blackmore of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in Hollywood will offer prayers.

Fraternity Will Banquet Tonight

Scores of "Dekes" from all parts of Southern California will attend the annual banquet of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity Alumni Association this evening at the University Club.

Harold G. Ferguson, president of the organization, has announced that Gurney E. Newlin of Los Angeles, who was recently elected president of the American Bar Association, will be toastmaster. Harold Janss will be principal speaker. The banquet committee consists of S. C. Haver, Jr., Edwin T. Parker and Fred Bergin.

NEW COUNCIL PLAN IN ANNEXING CITIES

In adopting a report of its City Planning Committee the Council yesterday made a general recommendation that whenever proceedings are instituted for the consolidation of other cities with Los Angeles the financial condition of the cities to be consolidated should be investigated. Specifically the Council recommended that the Controller be given the files relating to the consolidation of Hawthorne with Los Angeles and that the Controller make a financial report to the Council.

MISS RUBENS COMMITTED TO HOSPITAL

Midnight Court Session on Narcotic's Plea Held by Judge McComb

Although Alma Rubens, film actress under treatment for drug addiction, was committed to a State narcotic hospital for a period of from eight months to two years at an extraordinary session of court held by Superior Judge McComb in the early hours of yesterday morning, she was still at the home of her mother under the care of physicians last night.

Alma Rubens

That Miss Rubens was not immediately confined to a State hospital was not considered unusual, however, inasmuch as she was placed under the guardianship of her husband and mother by the court and upon their discretion will the commitment to the State institution be exercised.

MIDNIGHT ORDER

Although much of the mystery attached to the calling of a midnight session of court by Superior Judge McComb was cleared up yesterday, none of those concerned would talk on the proceedings except the judge.

The existence of a signed order in the court records revealed that shortly after midnight Miss Rubens was committed to treatment in a State narcotic hospital, either at Patton, Norwalk or Spadra, as her condition might warrant. The order was signed by Judge McComb and concurred in by the affidavits of Ricardo Cortez, husband of the actress, and Mrs. Theresa Rubens, her mother.

Reason for throwing open the court for a private midnight hearing was given in the desire of the family of the actress to keep the commitment from the public. Miss Rubens, who has been near the point of death several times during the last three weeks following her collapse from excessive use of narcotics, was aroused from her bed shortly after 10 o'clock Monday night, it is asserted, and taken downtown to meet Judge McComb.

PROGRESS MADE IN SHULER CASE

Libel Jury Expected to be Completed Today

Acrimony Absent Despite Religious Issue

Character of Minister's Defense Indicated

A jury to try Rev. R. P. (Bob) Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on charges of criminally libeling the Knights of Columbus, probably will be selected by noon today, it was indicated last night, at the end of the first day of the hearing.

Ten women and two men, all of middle age, sat tentatively in the jury box when court adjourned last night, and a poll of counsel for both sides indicated the lawyers were all but satisfied with the jury as it stood.

Although large crowds stormed the courtroom of Municipal Judge Sheldon in the Hall of Justice, where the trial is being conducted, in the evident expectation of witnessing exciting scenes, the selection of the jury went forward with serenity.

ACRIMONY ABSENT

The charges are based on a story printed in Shuler's magazine that Grant V. Jenkins, complaining witness, asserts contained a spurious oath attributed to the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Catholic benevolent organization; but despite the religious issue involved there was little or no acrimonious debate between counsel, or between lawyers and prospective jurors.

Questions directed to the first twelve veniremen to fill the jury box brought out the following general answers:

They believe in the right of free speech, have no prejudice between Catholics or Protestants, and would not determine the case on a "religious pivot."

It developed as the examination proceeded that none of the tentative jurors belongs to Shuler's church or listened extensively to his radio talks.

During the entire day only one juror—a woman—was examined who professed the Catholic faith, and she stoutly maintained that she could give Mr. Shuler a fair and impartial trial, notwithstanding. She was excused from jury service, however.

LAUGHTER CAUSED

In addition to their other qualifications, the jurors asserted that they would decide the issues without fear of any newspaper or radio criticism that might be aimed at them because of their verdict, and that their neighbors' attitude likewise would be disregarded.

When court adjourned there was considerable laughter when Chief Defense Counsel Paul D'Orr asked the judge to instruct the jury not to read newspaper accounts of the case, and the City Prosecutor countered with a request that they also be instructed not to listen to Shuler over the radio. Both requests were granted by Judge Sheldon.

The personnel of the jury as it stood last night is as follows: Mrs. Rita Burke, Fred W. Weshaar, Mrs. Geneva M. Comstock, Mrs. Nora Braden, Mrs. Lena Kabes, Mrs. Ruth Rohman, Mrs. Willie Mae Bevers, Ernest W. Pratt, Mrs. Ella M. Ryker, Mrs. Edith Peachy, Mrs. Olive Parrington and Mrs. A. T. Heintz.

Examination of prospective jurors was exhaustive. For the defense, Attorney D'Orr questioned the jurors collectively and individually, his outstanding interrogations, in substance, being as follows:

DEFENSE INDICATED

Even though the jurors believed the article appearing in Shuler's magazine "might be bigoted, unkindly and intemperate," would they determine the case on a "religious pivot," or would they confine their deliberation to the issue involved—Whether Mr. Shuler had criminally libeled the Knights of Columbus?

That question and other questions that followed indicated the minister's defense will be based on assertions that the article printed by Shuler was an attack on the conduct of the Catholic church during the Middle Ages, and was not directed at the Knights of Columbus.

The defense attorney further asked the veniremen and women if they believe in the right of free speech, if they have any religious or political prejudice in the matter—the minister's assertedly libelous article having been printed during

ONE of the charming things about California is the little whiff of midsummer that always comes in February.

It is by way of beckoning the wild flowers to come out.

In another month the desert will be a royal pageant of magnificent color. The panorama from the Ridge Route will be a sight that will perfume your soul to the end of your days.

THE NEW PIONEERS

During the past few weeks I have been much with desert farmers.

In these latter days they are mostly college boys and tired business men. The college boys are finding out things about farms of which their fathers never dreamed.

They know to a fraction of a degree the units of sun heat and light that cotton needs; the exact chemical combinations that tease out the alfalfa.

TEMPERAMENTAL HENS

At Fontana the other day I saw chickens so highly bred that the attendants have to tap on the door of the chicken houses—as on the portal of a debutante's bedroom. If anyone walked in suddenly—without knocking—these hen aristocrats would stop laying.

THE WELL DIGGERS

Among other things these young college boy pioneers have learned something about well digging. Our fathers, it seemed, didn't know a darned thing about digging a well.

The modern desert well is a complicated little water factory. The digging thereof is a difficult work of engineering. Just punching a hole in the ground until you get down to water is archaic.

FALLEN IDOLS

I think that the talkies will prove to be the death of the adored movie star.

For one thing, it has brought huge herds of stage stars to the screen. Women who were too old and not sufficiently beautiful for the silent drama shine when they can speak.

Another reason is that—with the advent of the talkies—the play rather than the actor becomes the thing.

Still another factor is the radio. The movies made of us an essentially eye-minded people. The radio has restored our ears.

SLOW MOVING CONSCIENCE

The crook lady who has confessed to taking part in the gang murder of a Santa Barbara millionaire cannot be accused of overimpetuosity. Her conscience simmered in the hot ashes of remorse for fifteen years before she decided to confess.

Funeral Today for Mrs. White

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. White, mother of Frank D. Parent, founder of the Inglewood Realty Board and the Centinela Development Association, will be conducted today at 10 a.m. in Grace Chapel, Inglewood Park Cemetery. Christian Science services will be read. Beaver & Mat..n, undertakers, will be in charge. Interment will be made in Inglewood Park Mausoleum.

Mrs. White was an active member of the Inglewood Woman's Club. She was born in Ohio, and spent most of her life in Abilene, Kan. Nearly seven years ago she came to Inglewood with Mr. White, who died six months later. Her death occurred Monday at her home in the Graaf Apartments, after an illness of nearly two years.

NAVY LEADERS' SHIFT NEAR

Admiral Pratt Expected to Relieve Wiley in April as Commander-in-Chief of United States Fleet

A complete shift in commanders-in-chief of the Navy forces afloat will be made at the Los Angeles Harbor base shortly after the U.S.S. Texas, flagship of the United States Fleet, returns here on April 12 from a visit to San Francisco, it was indicated in advices received at the port yesterday.

Final action on the new "flag slate" cannot be taken by the Navy Department until after President-elect Hoover assumes office on March 4 and passes on several of the appointments but it is known that the general line-up will be as follows:

Admiral Henry A. Wiley, commander-in-chief, United States Fleet, to be relieved by Admiral William V. Pratt, now commander-in-chief, United States battle fleet. Admiral Wiley to become senior member, Navy General Board, at Washington.

Admiral Pratt to be relieved as commander-in-chief, battle fleet, by Vice-Admiral Louis McC. Nulton, now commanding battleship divisions of the battle fleet, who in turn will be relieved by Rear-Admiral William C. Cole, now commanding Battleship Division Four.

Rear Admiral Lucius A. Bostwick, now commanding Battleship Division Three, is expected to relieve Vice-Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor as commander of the Scouting Fleet. Rear-Admiral Frank H. Schofield, now in the Office of Naval Operations, will be the new commander of Battleship Division Three, while Rear-Admiral Julian L. Latimer, now commanding the Fourth Naval District, is regarded as Admiral Cole's most likely successor.

Of equal interest is the scheduled shift between Rear Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, commanding the aircraft squadrons of the battle fleet, and Rear-Admiral William A. Mof-

LION KILLER FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Best Silent Trailing Dog in California Believed to Be Dying at Hospital in Covina as Result of Mauling by Giant Beast During Hunt

Pete the Lion Killer lies at the point of death in a hospital at Covina, victim of a 150-pound male lion's ferocious attack up in the San Gabriel country Sunday and the State Fish and Game Commission stands to lose what Jay Bruce, official lion exterminator and mountaineer, declares to be the best silent trailing dog which ever served the great State of California. Pete has a record of more than 100 mountain lions, trailed and treed, to his credit since he entered the State's service months ago.

Pete met his Waterloo Sunday when, after a five-day hunt for mountain lions, conducted by Jay Bruce and E. W. Ledshaw, lion hunters employed by the Fish and Game Commission, he trailed and treed a particularly large male lion, the tracks of which Bruce had found earlier in the day. The lion attacked the dog before Bruce could approach close enough for a kill, and after mauling the canine hunter the lion escaped through timber and was not cornered again until Monday night, near Monrovia Peak, where he was killed by Ledshaw.

Pete, left to his fate for the time being, was found farther down the mountain, unconscious, and was carried in the arms of the lion hunters to a point where he could be packed out of the mountains on horseback and to a veterinarian at Covina. The animal was bitten through the head and is thought to have suffered further injuries in a fall down the mountainside.

At present there are no less than 500 lions prowling the mountains of California, killing off deer and making raids on farm stock, Bruce said yesterday. Of this number about 100 are at large south of the Tehachapi and it is to reduce this number to a harmless minimum that Bruce and Ledshaw have been transferred here.

Bruce and his partner employ two kinds of dogs, the silent, trailing type, such as old Pete, the veteran, and hounds, which, while good trailers, make their presence known to the enemy by baying.

GASOLINE PEACE EXPECTED

Officials Look for Agreement to be Reached by Saturday in Local Price Battle

Curtailment of gasoline price slashing and subsequent boosting of prices probably will result from a movement now afoot among the major oil companies to stabilize the local gasoline situation, it was indicated last night.

An announcement probably will be forthcoming by Saturday, an official of one of the major companies which led off in the present price-juggling admitted.

Although the major companies have considered several plans for straightening out the up-and-down movement of prices, no definite line of procedure has been adopted, it is reported.

COMPACT HOPED FOR

Certainty that wholesalers and retailers will get together before the week-end, however, was expressed by one of the officials in close touch with the stabilizing movement.

Meanwhile local motorists bought their gasoline at an average price of 11 cents a gallon, with some stations advertising 10-cent gasoline and others sticking to the top price of 16½ cents.

Wholesale tank trucks continued to serve the retail stations with gasoline at an average of 9½ cents a gallon.

SAN DIEGO PEACE NEAR

The price flurry in San Diego may be smoothed out at a meeting tonight, according to a report from the southern city. A program drawn up yesterday by independent station leaders is expected to be adopted. The dealers there will organize, the report stated, and impose penalties for violation of price rules.

It also was reported that wholesalers have indicated to San Diego station owners that gasoline is due for a rise in price there. The pres-

JURY CONVICTS FILM PRODUCER

Felix Young Held Guilty of Grand Theft Charge

Second Trial for Screen and Theatrical Producer

Case Grows Out of Contract With Noah Beery

Felix Young, theatrical and film producer and former business agent for a number of motion-picture actors, yesterday was convicted in Judge Wood's Court of a charge of grand theft of $1500 from Noah Beery, screen character actor.

The jury deliberated but an hour and a half in reaching its verdict, which carries a term of from one to ten years in the penitentiary.

It was Young's second trial on the charge, and he appeared stunned by the verdict, as the jury in his first case had failed to reach an agreement after more than twenty-four hours of deliberation.

Young was accused of "holding out" $1500 from $2500 he is said to have been paid for Beery's services during the filming of a picture by Lysander Productions.

A number of motion-picture actors, including Gary Cooper, Ralph Forbes and John Farrell, appeared as character witnesses for Young. Young will come before Judge Wood tomorrow for sentence, at which time it is expected his counsel will move for a new trial.

The producer was in New York in connection with his last film when he was indicted. He returned voluntarily.

plants, would have an option for a lease of ninety-nine years on an additional 400 acres. The option will run ten years. It also was stipulated that the rock-crushing plant will be operated under the socalled "wet" process—no dust, no smoke or fumes. If the plant proves to be objectionable in any of these respects it will be shut down. Any rock taken out will be moved only in slurry form through the pipe line, which is to be operated so as not to pollute the ocean. The cement plant itself will be located at tidewater at either San Pedro, San Diego or Long Beach.

Siegfried brought out the fact that "now from this contract it would appear that the original applicant for this permit is not to be the one to operate the cement plant."

Smiley charged that the contract as read contained a lot of fine platitudes and glittering generalities. He demanded that the protestants be shown the full contract containing the financial set-up between Bell and the new organization, so that the protestants and the commission can determine just what property right would be lost to Bell if the application for the permit be denied.

CONTRACT ORDERED SHOWN

After a recess, the commission ordered the applicants to show members the full contract, but agreed the financial terms would not be made public.

Wayne also was called upon to identify a resolution by the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company to the effect that if the project as outlined now failed no cement plant would be permitted in the canyon.

When Smiley took Wayne over for cross-examination, he brought out the fact that a previous contract between the Bell interests and some others relative to operating the cement project had existed at the time the application was filed on the 1st inst. He demanded that such contract be brought forth and shown.

WANTS ALL FACTS SHOWN

"We are here," said Smiley, "to establish the fact that this cement project is a selfish purpose for the benefit of an individual, as against the welfare of the community, and we wish all the contractual relations between these parties brought out to show it."

Siegfried, just before the evening recess, pointed out that under the city charter the commission must act on an application within thirty days, or the applicant may take his application direct to the City Council, in which case only a majority of votes of the Council would be required, whereas, if the commission should deny the application the applicant could appeal to the City Council, and a two-thirds vote would be needed. Siegfried asked if the applicants would waive the thirty-day clause, in view of the protracted hearing which now looms. McNitt said they would waive provided things moved smoothly and expeditiously and no "filibustering" was indulged in.

Upon resumption of the hearing at 7 p.m., counsel for the petitioners announced that they had decided to put the entire contract into the record, and the deleted parts were read. They set forth a financial arrangement between the contracting parties, involved to the layman, but apparently providing for the operation of a 2000-barrel plant to cost about $1,250,000. Unless the permits necessary to operate are obtained by June 15 the contract agreements expire.

Further cross-examination of Wayne by Smiley brought forth the fact that although Wayne called the particular quarry tract highly unfit for residential purposes, also that a prospectus gotten out by his organization in the past characterized the entire holding as constituting some of the highest class residential property on the Pacific Coast. Wayne said the prospectus covered the entire 11,000 acres.

Smiley also brought out that practically all of the surrounding property sold by the Bell organization was highly restricted for residential purposes, but that portion retained by the Bell organization was unrestricted. Wayne also agreed that the entire trend of the Santa Monica mountain district is residential in character.

OFFICIAL MAP SHOWN

"And when your company bought this land, it did not buy it for rock quarrying purposes, did it?" Smiley asked.

"No," replied Wayne.

Further cross-examination of Wayne was continued by Siegfried, who showed by the official map that the actual distances from the possible quarry site and the nearest private property affected likely would be much less than as represented by the proponents of the scheme.

The evening was interrupted frequently by wrangling of counsel. At 10 o'clock Wayne, the first witness, was still on the stand when adjournment was taken until next Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the City Council chamber. It was explained by one of the commissioners that this interrupted hearing method is followed because the commission has much other matter before it that must be disposed of and that the commissioners themselves have their own business to attend to which would suffer by having a continued hearing day after day until the matter was concluded. Indications are that these hearings on the cement application will drag along for weeks.

provement work is being done, were carried for blocks by the wind.

A stiff nor'easter last night and today blew a litter of tree branches, leaves and loose rubbish onto Santa Monica Bay district streets, bowling over a few trees there and in the Venice canal area. No damage to shipping was reported, the wind being offshore and tending to reduce, rather than increase the waves.

Telephone and electric company linemen were kept busy with repairs to wires damaged by trees in the residential areas.

William J. Burke, a truck driver 54 years of age, of 409 Saxon avenue, Wilmar, Cal., suffered a fractured skull yesterday when the wind lifted a canvas tarpaulin in which he had become entangled, carried it a distance of fifty feet and dashed him against a concrete wall. The accident occurred while Burke was loading a truck on the American-Hawaiian dock at Wilmington. The injured man was taken to the Seaside Hospital, Long Beach.

the last Presidential campaign—or if they have friends or are related to anyone connected with the city administration.

In their examination of the jury Deputy City Prosecutors Everhard, Morton and Hornaday sought to ascertain from the jurors if they attend Shuler's church or are of any religious creed opposed to Catholicism. They also inquired of each if the juror believe the prosecution to be inspired by either religious or political motives.

FIRST WITNESS

Ernest W. Pratt, a prospective juror, said he belongs to the Methodist Episcopal Church, North, and once attended Shuler's church. He further objected to serving on the jury on the ground that he is actively engaged in the building business and believed that whatever verdict he was a party to bringing in would reflect on his business. He declared, however, that if not excused he would do his duty fairly as an American citizen.

Mrs. Ida May Faulkner was excused when she stated without qualification: "I don't believe in anyone talking against any one else's religion."

The first witness for the prosecution probably will be Grant V. Jenkins, the complaining witness and an executive of the Knights of Columbus. Names of the other prosecution witnesses were not revealed. The prosecution's case, Eberhard estimated, will be presented in approximately one day.

SUPREME SECRETARY OF K. OF C. HERE FOR TRIAL

William J. McGinley, supreme secretary of the Knights of Columbus, arrived at the Biltmore yesterday, under subpoena to testify in the trial of Rev. Bob Shuler.

Mr. McGinley, keeper of the records of the Knights of Columbus, declined to discuss the Shuler trial, declaring that it would be unfair to do so until after Shuler has had a hearing and the jury has decided the issues in the case.

Secretary McGinley waxed enthusiastic over the achievements of the Knights of Columbus in its boys' work program, adopted at the 1922 convention in Atlantic City. Establishment of a department at Notre Dame University for the training of men in boys' leadership work, at a cost, to date, of approximately $100,000, was one of the first steps in this ambitious program, he said. To date about fifty young men have been graduated into the work which, Secretary McGinley declared, is the most important problem confronting any organization today.

"There is no home life, such as we knew years ago," he said. "The American home, at least for the boy with whom we come in contact, has become merely a place to eat and sleep in. Youth's interests are elsewhere these days, and it is our aim to interest them in the better things of life and lead them aright. Our organization is co-operating in this work with the Boy Scouts of America and other organizations of that nature and our work is entirely patriotic and not at all religious."

Mr. McGinley was met here by Robert A. McKenzie of San Francisco, State deputy of the Knights of Columbus, and by Frank J. Barry, Los Angeles attorney and district deputy of the order. Following completion of his testimony in the Shuler trial, the Supreme Secretary will go to San Francisco and Seattle on business connected with the Knights of Columbus, before returning to New York, he said.

HOSPITAL ORDER IN RUBENS CASE

torney A. T. Sokolow informed him that Miss Rubens's husband and mother wanted an immediate hearing for commitment of the girl to the narcotic hospital.

The judge agreed to hold the hearing, although the department pertaining to addicts and psychopathic cases is under the charge of Superior Judge Gould. Judge McComb's bailiff, Edward V. O'Hearn, was notified and appeared at the Hall of Records and opened the courtroom shortly after 10 o'clock.

Later Judge McComb appeared and he was followed shortly afterward by Attorney Sokolow, Miss Rubens, her husband and Mrs. Theresa Rubens.

The bailiff called the court to order a few minutes past midnight and Attorney Sokolow then stated the text of the affidavit he had prepared for commitment. The attorney told the court that his client was able to comply with law pertaining to reimbursement of the State for treatments accorded those with financial means.

Cortez and the actress' mother's names had been affixed to the complaint which stated that Miss Rubens's condition was such that it endangered her life, health and property, and that the condition had been caused by the use of morphine.

The affidavit signed by Cortez stated that Miss Rubens had been addicted to morphine for four years and that within the last seven months she totally had been under its influence. The affidavits and commitment referred to the film actress as Mrs. Alma R. Cortez.

The commitment as signed by Judge McComb, ordered that she be confined for treatment at the State Narcotic Hospital for a period of from eight months to two years, as her condition would necessitate. The proceedings lasted almost an hour. At a few minutes past 1 o'clock in the morning Miss Rubens's party and the judge left the courtroom.

HEADS OFF INQUIRY

The order of commitment, however, will preclude the calling of the actress before the Federal grand jury, which has been preparing for months an investigation of the drug traffic in Los Angeles. The grand jury has issued twelve subpoenas for witnesses to tell of the traffic and it was scheduled to begin Friday. The subpoenas were placed in the hands of deputy marshals yesterday morning, but whether one calling for Miss Rubens was among them was not revealed.

If such a subpoena is issued it cannot be served unless the mother and husband of the actress acquiesce through the protection afforded by Judge McComb's commitment order. It is asserted by the Federal authorities that a sweeping investigation of the drug traffic will result in the indictment of a number of doctors, druggists and narcotic peddlers.

PHYSICIAN NAMED

Recently when Miss Rubens collapsed from an excessive use of morphine an investigation revealed she had obtained more than $1200 worth of morphine on prescriptions bearing the name of a Beverly Hills physician.

When seen by a Times representative yesterday Miss Rubens was in bed at her mother's home. The physicians would not permit her to answer questions. The family assert they do not know when they will attempt to have the actress taken to the State hospital for treatment, but the commitment order will permit them to remove her when they see fit.

LYMAN CHOSEN BY MOTOR CLUB

its efforts in behalf of good roads, public safety, sane legislation, all forms of auto insurance and general service to motorists are extending farther than ever before.

INTO HIGH FIGURES

Large figures are reached in detailed activities of some of the numerous departments of the organization. Maps were issued by millions and the highway patrol fleet traveled a distance of more than sixteen times around the world in performing ministrations to motorists.

More than 100,000 legal matters were handled for members, some of them relieving considerably strains on the pocketbook, as a total of more than $200,000 was recovered for members.

The insurance department showed a marked gain for the year with 196,007 policies written and a gain of more than $1,000,000 in premiums, or 18 per cent. The total net premiums amounted to $8,148,320. Incidentally, there were 98,249 claims paid.

HELP IN TROUBLE

In the emergency road service department there were 42,532 calls answered. Members were saved $208,000 in tow bills through this service.

All departments of the organization show an increase over the previous year. At the beginning of 1929 there were 1310 employees in the main office and thirty-three branches at population centers throughout Southern California serving motorists and the community generally.

Bandits Take Only Narcotics

Two bandits, wearing brown leather coats and black glasses and armed revolvers, walked into the Rethy Pharmacy at 4737 Avalon Boulevard shortly before noon yesterday, held up the proprietor and robbed him of $30 worth of narcotics. They declined money or other valuables, the police report states.

After locking the proprietor in a rear room the bandits pocketed their guns and were seen to walk out and drive away in an automobile.

BUSINESS AMID HOMES FOUGHT

Los Feliz Residents Protest Market Proposal

City Planning Commission Hearing Stormy

Board Expected to Suggest Action Shortly

A new attempt to set up business in the Los Feliz Boulevard residential district is agitating East Hollywood, especially that part in the vicinity of the drive. The boulevard was recently widened and improved to make a short link through one of the city's finest home sections to connect important traffic arteries in Los Angeles, Hollywood and Glendale.

More than 300 persons, many of them prominent, have protested to the City Planning Commission against business encroachment in the area. Its fate now rests in the hands of five members of the commission. Millions of dollars' worth of property are asserted by protestants to be at stake.

TO BUILD MARKET

Ben Frank of the Ambassador Hotel has petitioned the commission to recommend that the City Council enact an ordinance enabling him to build a market on the southeast corner of the boulevard and Lowry Drive. The commission held its last hearing Wednesday and has the petition under advisement. Frank asserts that he will erect a $50,000 to $60,000 building at the place. It is in Zone B, and he wishes his two lots put into Zone C by city ordinance.

"This is but one of many attempts to zone Los Feliz Boulevard for business," Superior Judge Yankwich wrote in a letter of protest to the commission.

"This district is being developed into one of the most desirable residential sections in the city of Los Angeles," Earle C. Anthony, who is building a $250,000 home there, wrote. Much property has been bought there on the belief, he says, that the boulevard always would be maintained as a residential drive.

Among the protestants are the East Hollywood Improvement Association, Los Feliz Improvement Association, Carl W. Bush of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, J. Duncan Gleason, H. A. Van Norman, Joseph H. Stace, Maurice De Mond.

"This association," wrote the Los Feliz organization, "has taken the stand that Los Feliz Boulevard between Riverside Drive and Western avenue should be kept free from business and maintained as a high-class residential and multiple-dwelling boulevard in keeping with present high-class development."

Frank's lots are near the east end of the section named by the association.

REPORT DISAPPROVES

Commissioners W. L. Miller, Lyman Farwell, Donald M. Baker, Perry Thomas and Walter M. Danbury are expected to take some action in the case within a short time. J. S. Stevenson, investigator for the commission, has made a report advocating disapproval of Frank's petition.

Some of the protestants against the market proposal argue that if the bars are let down for the project Los Feliz Boulevard frontage between Vermont avenue and Riverside Drive especially will be in danger of becoming a business area, thus damaging high-class home property already in the vicinity and making improbable further development along that line in that part of the city.

BAY CITY FACTIONS SEEK EQUALIZATION OF PRICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Although no definite commitments were forthcoming controversial groups in the gasoline-price war were believed to be nearing rapprochement tonight. Service station dealers are reported to have submitted a proposition to garage men, who are underselling them 1 cent on the retail market, for a meeting tomorrow, the object of which is understood to be an agreement to equalize their prices.

If the two outstanding factions can get together on the retail price, the announcement of that fact is considered the last preliminary step to an increase in the wholesale price by the major oil companies.

While this undercurrent grew more pronounced, a low-price station in the Potrero district was made acquainted with a new form of annoyance. Some fifteen automobiles kept circling into the station, the driver ordering one gallon each time and tendering a $20 bill in payment. Other customers grew tired of waiting and the proprietor finally appealed to police. The circling autos were ordered away but no arrests were made.

Orpheum to Try New Orchestra

The pit orchestra at the Orpheum Theater will be replaced by a new group of musicians March 10. Edward Sullivan, leader, stated yesterday.

Determination of the Orpheum management to use the new orchestra both in the pit and on the stage was given by Sullivan as the reason for the move. Local Orpheum officials stated that a formal announcement regarding the change will be made soon.

HUGE PLANE SETS MARK FOR SPEED

Fokker Comes Here From San Francisco in Minute Less Than Two Hours

GEORGE RICE

Flight from the Oakland Municipal Airport, the San Francisco terminal of Western Air Express, to Vail Field, Los Angeles, an airline distance of 365 miles, was made yesterday in the remarkable time of one hour and fifty-nine minutes.

The average speed, according to officials of Western Air Express, was 183 miles an hour, and this is believed to be the fastest time ever made by a commercial air passenger plane. The trip was made by a trimotored Fokker twelve-passenger airplane operating on regular passenger schedule.

Two days ago a similar ship made the trip in two hours and five minutes, at an average speed of 178 miles per hour. In neither case was an effort for record-breaking speed contemplated, but the pilots took advantage of wind conditions as reported by the Weather Bureau.

The airplane in yesterday's record flight was guided by Pilots George Rice and J. L. Bartlett. On leaving the Oakland airport, said Rice, the chief pilot, he pulled the ship up to an altitude of 8500 feet and there found a ninety-two-mile-an-hour tail wind.

Favored by the wind the plane used fifty-two gallons less gasoline than ordinarily is required.

LAWBREAKER DENIED RIGHT TO SEE CHILD

Joseph R. Nash went into Superior Judge Rosenkrans's court yesterday to find out why his wife, from whom he is divorced, will not let him see his child in accordance with a court order. "He's a bootlegger," Mrs. Nash informed the court. Nash admitted he had been convicted of selling liquor, and Judge Rosenkrans sentenced him to banishment from the society of the child until July 1.

Hundreds Attend Banquet and Dance at Hotel

Restaurant Exhibits Prove to be Attractive

Cleanliness Stressed in One Round Table Talk

Delegates to the regional convention and exposition of the National Restaurant Association crowded the Franco-Italian ballroom of the Alexandria last night for the chief social event of the three-day meeting. More than 750 guests attended the banquet and dance.

During the afternoon visitors inspected the products shown at the exposition, which occupies nearly all of the second floor of the Alexandria. Elaborate desserts made on a gelatinous base are displayed to advantage and drew crowds of interested restaurant men. Other exhibits are specially designed ranges, kitchen devices, laundry equipment, dishes and cutlery.

WASHING DEVICES

Round-table discussions with brief addresses occupied part of the morning and afternoon. Charles A. Meyer discussed cleanliness in the restaurant industry and especially stressed the importance of mechanical devices for washing dishes. "Primarily it is boiling water or live steam that removes and kills bacteria," he said. "Housewives all too seldom use water hot enough. [illegible] to be effective the water must be hotter than hands can bear. "How valuable the cleanliness sales appeal is, has not, I think, been fully appreciated not only by the restaurant industry, but by many other lines of business in which cleanliness is an advertising asset," he continued.

ANOTHER FACTOR

Employees also should be provided with every opportunity for cleanliness, and it should be required of them as a part of the restaurant policy, Mr. Meyer said in discussing the relations of employer and employee.

Brief addresses by officers of the National Restaurant Association, representatives of the City Health Department, and others, will occupy the time this morning and the afternoon will be given to drives about the city. The men delegates have been invited for golf at the [illegible] Golf Club at 1 p.m.

Devices to Aid Keeping House

Half of the prevailing labor of keeping a house may be eliminated by mechanical contrivances to be displayed here at the fifth annual food and household show, April 22 [illegible], in Ambassador Auditorium, according to a program announced yesterday by exposition officials.

Home efficiency will be emphasized throughout the show. The Southern California Retail Grocers' Association is sponsoring the affair as the organization's annual demonstration.

POOL DEATH DECISION DUE

Whether 8-year-old Leonard Scott was pushed off a spring board in a Long Beach plunge, or whether he fell off will be decided by a jury in Superior Judge McLucas's court today.

H. H. Scott, father of the boy, is suing the Long Beach Bath House and Amusement Company for $51,850. At a former trial a jury gave him $7000 but a new trial was granted because of conflicting testimony.

It was asserted by plaintiff witnesses that Harry Disney, a life guard at the plunge, jumped on a spring board, bouncing Leonard into the water. Disney asserts he pulled the boy out and tried to resuscitate him, but a bruise on the head was fatal.

Shooting of Whittier Man After Traffic Crash Laid to Belen Martinez

Belen Martinez of Santa Ana yesterday was officially charged with the murder of Zachary Taylor, 520½ North Pickering street, Whittier, in a complaint filed at the District Attorney's office. Taylor was shot and fatally wounded Sunday night in an argument with Martinez following a traffic accident, officers charge.

Witnesses to the accident assert Taylor attempted to pass Martinez's automobile near Whittier and was nearly crowded from the road, the fenders of the two cars touching. Both drivers stopped and Martinez, it is said, dashed across the road shooting as he came, fatally wounding Taylor. He then fled in his own car, officers state. Martinez was traced by the license number.

Martinez asserts he did not shoot at Taylor until the latter had struck him over the head with an automobile crank. He exhibited a severe scalp laceration in support of this contention.

The Coroner's jury, which conducted an inquest at Whittier yesterday under Deputy Coroner McDonald, found Taylor met his death from gunshot wounds inflicted by Martinez, and asked for further investigation of the shooting. The inquest was conducted at the White & Emmerson mortuary.

Veterans' Bill Pushed in House

Members of the House Committee on Military Affairs, aided by Representative Crail, are making every effort to obtain the passage of the Senate bill for relief of Spanish War veterans who served in the Philippines but through a technicality were denied the usual travel pay, according to a telegram received by Capt. T. Siminoff, Q.M.R.C., from Mr. Crail.

Ex-service men in Congress also are aiding in the fight for the measure which passed the Senate some time ago, has been approved by the House committee and needs only a favorable vote in the House and the signature of the President to become a law, Crail wired Capt. Siminoff, who is president of the G. O. 40 Association, organized to support the bill.

Physician Faces Suit for $50,000

Damages amounting to $50,000 are asked by Sam Wolsey of Dr. Leo Blass for the illness and impaired health of his wife, Mrs. Annie Wolsey, which, he asserts, was caused by an operation.

Trial of the action was begun yesterday before Superior Judge Frederickson.

According to the plaintiff, the operation was performed without his consent by the defendant in violation of the Penal Code of the State of California; that prior to it Mrs. Wolsey was well and healthy and that after it her health became so impaired he was compelled to expend $2000 for treatments for her.

All of the accusations in the plaintiff's complaint are strenuously denied by the defendant physician in his answer to the suit.

Aviation Debate Will End Today

Finals are to be conducted today in the elimination debate participated in by teams from each of forty-one home rooms of the Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School. The debate subject is "Resolved, that aviation should be a separate department of our national defense."

In preliminaries and semifinals 300 student debaters have been reduced to the two finalist teams, Russell Trowbridge, Mavis Nethersole and Irene Stratton, affirmative and Virginia McFarland, Mary Fredin and Virginia Miller, negative. Each member of the winning team receives an all-metal miniature model of a Lockheed-Vega airplane with $5 in gold in its fuselage. Each of the defeated team receives a similar model with a dollar in silver.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

A free course in physical education, including marching, reducing and corrective exercise, folk dancing, volleyball and basketball, is to be given by Miss L. D. Albright at Manual Arts High School on Monday and Wednesday nights, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

LONG CIGARS PUT IN GLASS CAGES

Frances Morrison

Cigars so delicately made that they are sold in individual glass tubes and so large that one lasts several days are the newest product of Havana's celebrated tobacconists.

Incidentally, they are a wonderful boon to the man whose doctor orders a one-cigar-a-day ration. He still can smoke continuously all day and at night report that he has consumed only half a cigar.

A shipment of the massive glass-packed cigars was brought here by the Panama Mail liner Guatemala on its latest arrival from the Cuban metropolis. The accompanying picture shows Miss Frances Morrison exhibiting one of them. The only drawback is the price—they cost $1 each.

KANSANS TO HAVE PICNIC

Former residents of Hutchinson, Kan., will hold a reunion and all-day picnic at Sycamore Grove Sunday. Coffee will be served, but visitors are asked by Mrs. James C. Campbell, secretary, to bring their own baskets, cups and spoons.

PLANE SETS NEW COAST AIR RECORD

Twelve-Passenger Fokker Hops from Bay City Here in Less Than Two Hours

It wasn't so many years ago that a twenty-four-hour trip between Los Angeles and San Francisco was considered remarkably fast time. Yesterday the trip was negotiated in less than two hours and an aviation record which had been established only the day before was shattered.

The record was made by a Western Air Express twelve-passenger Fokker plane which left Oakland airport at 9:11 a.m. and arrived at Vail Field at 11:10 o'clock, 365 miles in one hour and fifty-nine minutes at a speed of 183 miles per hour.

The record was made possible by a tail wind which varied from thirty-eight miles per hour at 4000 feet altitude toward the end of the flight to ninety-three miles per hour at an altitude of 9500 feet north of the Tehachapis. The ship was piloted by George Rice, chief pilot, and J. L. Bartlett. The record made the previous day was two hours and five minutes at a speed of 178 miles per hour.

Fine for Officer in Fray Upheld

A penalty of ten days' pay assessed against Patrolman H. R. Royce for striking E. Van Werner of 1086½ Santa Ines street, the 2nd inst., while they were on the Pacific Electric platform at Vermont street and Hollywood Boulevard, was approved by the Police Commission yesterday.

Investigation by the police personnel bureau disclosed that the affair occurred while Royce was off duty, in street clothes and that he did not show his star. Van Werner charged the officer knocked him down. Royce denied hitting him, but according to the investigation Van Werner, while unmarked, apparently had been slapped and the fine against the officer was for unbecoming conduct.

WISCONSIN GROUP TO MEET

The Janesville (Wis.) picnic will be held Saturday at Bixby Park, Long Beach. The picnic lunch will be at noon.

Funeral Today for Mrs. Allen, Avalon Pioneer

Funeral services will be conducted today for Mrs. Elizabeth N. Allen, pioneer resident of Avalon, who died the 24th inst., at her home, 1251 Barracks avenue, Wilmington. Following services at 11 a.m. in Mottell's chapel, Third and Alameda streets, Long Beach, there will be entombment at Angels Abbey Mausoleum, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Allen was 74 years of age, and a resident of Avalon for thirty-five years. She had lived in San Pedro prior to that. Her husband, William Allen, who died in 1910, was one of Avalon's leading business men and a justice of the Peace at the time when the Banning brothers owned Catalina Island. She leaves two sons, Harry S. Allen, purser of the Catalina boat, and William Allen of New York, and two grandchildren, Mrs. J. Beck and Harry Allen, Jr., of Wilmington.

Hollywood Raid Reveals $25,000 Cache of Liquor

Liquor valued at approximately $25 000 was seized yesterday by deputy sheriffs under Capt. James M. Benton, head of Sheriff Traeger's prohibition enforcement detail, when they raided a supposedly vacant barn at 6687 Santa Monica Boulevard. Five men were taken into custody and three automobiles seized, the officers reported.

The men arrested gave their names as Bryan Hensley, Beatty Hensley, Harry Knight, H. Martin and Earl Smith. The Hensleys are accused by the officers of operating the place as a central delivery depot for the Hollywood liquor trade.

WEIDNER TO DIRECT CAMPAIGN OF BOGUE

It was announced yesterday by Municipal Judge Bogue that Col. Perry W. Weidner, president of the United States National Bank, has taken over the active management of his campaign for re-election to the Municipal Court bench. With the announcement made by Judge Bogue was one by Col. Weidner to the effect that George I. Cochran, president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, also has joined the ranks of the judge's supporters, and will be active in the campaign.

Husband Says Wife Cruel and Seeks Divorce

John J. Stehno, seeking a divorce from Anna Stehno, went on the witness stand before Superior Judge Pope yesterday and testified he thought it was extreme cruelty when his wife left him for periods of ten days and two weeks.

The couple, according to the complaint, married at Long Beach in June, 1926. Their final separation came in December, 1928.

Judge Pope took the case under submission to look up law to ascertain if such abandonment as Stehno asserts constitutes cruelty.

C'N TRY TEXAS, NOW

Whenever Mrs. Cynthia L. Hathaway upbraided her husband, William Hathaway, because of his conduct, he told her he was going to Texas where he could get all the women he wanted and work when he pleased, the wife testified yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich when asking for a divorce. The couple married in 1903 and have six children, according to the complaint. After hearing her complaint, Judge Yankwich granted the decree.

Second-Fiddle Role Irks Her

Accusations to the effect that her husband, Harry G. Weber, owned a race horse and paid more attention to the horse than he did to her won Mrs. Mable T. Weber a divorce yesterday in the court presided over by Superior Judge Blake.

Mrs. Weber declared her husband refused to work and spent all of his time training his race horse.

The wife further declared it would have been all right if Weber had made any money with his horse for their support, but he did not, she said.

COUNCILMAN HALL OPENS HEADQUARTERS

Headquarters for the campaign of Councilman Peirson M. Hall for City Attorney have been opened in Room 315, Subway Terminal Building, according to the announcement of the Hall campaign committee. Personnel of the committee and the name of the Hall campaign manager will be announced in the near future.

Today's Bible Text

Wash ye, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil.

Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. Isaiah 1:16, 17.

THE DOCTOR BILL

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur seems to have dedicated much energy to reducing the high cost of sickness in America and this is a crusade in which the country would wish to see a lot of medical energy loosed. It is a grand cause, but too big for one man.

ANOTHER LAUREL

In addition to his other honors Dr. R. A. Millikan has just been awarded the gold medal of the American Society of Arts, which is said to be the spiffiest of high-brow decorations. Some day our popular scientist and the flying colonel might get together to match medals and see what happens.

THE BILLIONAIRES

Another financial merger in New York produces the $2,000,000,000 bank, which is the biggest thing we have of its kind, up to now. Of course we have had a couple above the billion mark and the second billion would soon have been turned—but here it is already. In big things we have gotten so that we can think only in billions. The day may come when a man won't be considered dressed unless he has a billion buttons on his shirt.

UNION BLACKMAIL

The glaziers' union in Chicago appears to be honeycombed with graft and there are indications that the leaders and walking delegates have cleaned up $500,000 or more by blackmailing contractors and calling or threatening strikes. The members of the union have been pawns in the game, while the bosses were out after the big money. This seems to be about the way it goes in most of the Chicago labor organizations. The men have to pay heavily for dues and membership fees and then are used merely as tools by the leaders in their play.

THE PARIS MODEL

The Italian papers are carrying on a war against the high prices and spare models of the Paris dressmakers. The Roman beauties are built on more buxom lines than the French models and they wish for gowns that do more justice to their curves. Yet a short, tight dress for a skinny Paris mannequin will cost a lot more money than an Italian matron will pay for the large, loose envelope she requires to cover her more ample proportions. Paris seeks to dictate fashions and prices to the world, but is having a hard time of it. There are Hollywood and Mussolini to reckon with.

MAKING PICTURES

Seems funny that the censors in certain States of the Union make no bones of censoring or mutilating a speaking part in a talking picture, but may not interfere with the same dialogue or conversation if given in the regular spoken drama. Practically all the forms of censorship as cited in actual experience merely emphasize the fact that the movie censor is a joke and the people themselves are the only worthy and reliable jurors in the case. They know what they want and have quit going to anything else. Furthermore, no dirty or indecent play can be made a box-office success.

SEEN BY THE JURY

The last grand jury in making final report urged one reform that has been pressed before. This is the centralization of the tax gathering. They would have it so that all taxes, city, county, bond and special, might be paid at the office of the county collector, where the proper records of addresses and assessments could be kept. This simplification would save many a misunderstanding and forfeiture. The jurors also recommended a consolidation of all health departments into a single county jurisdiction, to save doubling up and to increase service. The creation of an industrial farm was also urged. For ages and ages grand juries have been telling citizens of things that should be done, but sad to say it isn't very often that these recommendations are carried out. The legislators quickly forget.

ANOTHER BATTLE WON

The decision of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals that the Interstate Commerce Commission has power to compel railroads to join in the construction of union terminals is an important interpretation of the interstate commerce law as well as a victory for the city and the people of Los Angeles in their long fight for a union station in the Plaza area. That such a power should exist somewhere was plain. Had the court decided otherwise, the fight would not have been over; it would have been transferred instead to Congress, so that that body might remedy an omission in the law.

The court points out that the law specifically empowers the Interstate Commerce Commission to require roads to use the station of one carrier as a union station, and declares it was the intent of Congress to grant the commission complete supervision and control over union terminal matters. It finds the power to direct the building of a new terminal to be complementary and analogous to the power specifically set forth. The decision is of wide application, and no doubt when the case is presented to the Supreme Court roads all over the country will seek to be heard in the argument.

Justice Van Orsdel, who wrote the opinion of the court, went farther, in commenting on the Los Angeles situation, by pointing out that the convergence of the three roads at a short distance from the station site proposed, makes it easy for them to construct such a station and added that such a station is obviously for the convenience of the traveling public and the carriers themselves. The contention of the carriers that they cannot be compelled to extend their trackage to a union station, he finds, is without merit in this case since the tracks do not require actual linear extension—merely a slight rearrangement.

What the United States Supreme Court will finally rule in the matter cannot, of course, be assumed in advance, but in previous rulings there have been strong intimations that that high body believes the Interstate Commerce Commission fully clothed with power to act. If the court so holds, the action of the commission would be almost automatic, since it has already passed repeatedly on the merits of the matter so decisively that there would be no point in reopening that phase of the case.

This is not, therefore, a struggle in which the city of Los Angeles can win every battle and still lose the war. Even counsel for the railroads seem to admit now that a ruling by the Supreme Court favorable to the city, on this one point, will be final and decisive of the whole matter. On the other hand, a ruling adverse to the city would not end the fight, since a short amendment to the law, if it is found defective, ought not to have a difficult passage through the national legislature.

Nowhere have the city's contentions been found unreasonable. Every expert of any account and any pretense of disinterestedness has declared the Plaza area site not only the best for a union station, but almost ideal, from the standpoint of the public or that of the operators. The site is central, is easily reached from all directions by the public, has excellent transportation facilities and will have better, is the only site that eliminates a great string of dangerous grade-crossings, and is the only site really convenient to the carriers themselves.

There is excellent reason to believe that the roads themselves concede all these things privately and to hope that, with the legal obstacles cleared away, they will be sufficiently clear-sighted no longer to resist what is not only the mandate of the commissions and the courts but of the people themselves.

NO LENIENCY FOR MURDERERS

In view of the sickeningly atrocious slayings of innocent children, as well as others, in California in recent years, and the generally recognized necessity for tightening up all the laws for the punishment of violent crime, one wonders that legislation should be proposed or even dreamed of at Sacramento or elsewhere for the repeal of capital punishment. Yet several bills designed to effect such repeal are now on file in the State Senate and Assembly.

It seems almost incredible that the sob sorority should have gained the ear of any State legislator and induced him to introduce and attempt to place upon our California statute books any act by which first-degree murder shall be punished by life imprisonment rather than by the noose, considering recent criminal history. Michigan and other States that have abandoned capital punishment are planning to return to it, under stress of strong public demand, or already have returned to it, with the idea of giving the murderer what is properly due him.

A peculiar feature of Senator West's bill is that while it prescribes life imprisonment for first-degree murder it raises the penalty for second-degree murder to ten years to life. This is seen by Senators who are opposed to the repeal of capital punishment as a sop to them, as it probably is. What the sob-sisterhood wants is to put California on the list of States which have abandoned capital punishment, and it is willing to make considerable concessions to that silly end.

This listening to the specious arguments of the sisterhood for the abolition of capital punishment has made Austria a marked example of what not to do when petitioners for clemency for brutal murderers come around with their pleas to substitute imprisonment for hanging or electrocution. It is authoritatively reported that since Austria ceased to hang murderers crimes of violence, including cold-blooded slayings, have increased fourfold. The instance of the Pennsylvania man who last year inveigled his wife into Michigan that he might kill her without danger of the gallows is significant. If public opinion in Michigan, strongly supported by the Detroit Free Press and other journals of that State, prevails, there will soon be no chance for a repetition of such a peculiarly ghastly tale.

It would be a long step backward in the fight against the criminal element of California if we should abolish capital punishment, and the California Peace Officers' Association is right in protesting against such legislation. These peace officers know better than most people what encouragement to crimes of violence would be given by the removal of the death penalty for murder.

The LEE SIDE O' L·A·

BY Lee Shippey

THE longest row of eucalyptus trees in California, we believe, is along the highway from Colton to Ontario.

BLUE GUMS
NO BAD EUCALYPTI

We don't know how many miles long it is—statistics are a bore, especially when you haven't got 'em. But one can spin along in a good car for half an hour in the shadow of that unbroken row of trees.

The trees are not merely for ornament. They are a windbreak. Rare as high winds are in most of Southern California, there are a few spots in which they perform, not often, but with remarkable vigor. Near Guasti, in the heart of "the greatest vineyard in the world," one sometimes meets a windstorm which will sand the varnish off his car as thoroughly as if preparing it for a new coat, and after such a storm has passed the railroad tracks gleam like burnished silver, and telephone wires shine like gold. We were told that eddies of sand, centering around telephone poles, cut into them so that in a few years they have to be replaced. But now that a number of long rows of eucalyptus trees beautify that area these occasional storms do very little damage. In time they may be remembered only by the beautiful rows of trees bordering every highway through the rather small area which long has been their playground when they felt boisterous.

WE WANT PEACE

No Cause For Alarm

Lee: Women generally may be great workers for world peace. But don't ever expect 'em to go the limit in restricting the use of arms.—Mabelle.

Professor, How Could You!

It isn't often that at a Chamber of Commerce banquet one hears a story not old enough to vote. But at Santa Monica the other evening Dr. Carl J. Miller, dean of men at U. C. L. A., tickled his hearers by telling of a diffident student who came to his office intending to ask "Is the dean busy," but so extreme was his embarrassment that what he asked was: "Is the bean dizzy?"

The hearers were especially tickled by the dean's innocence. Who ever heard of a modern university student really getting that embarrassed? But how some of those brassy boys can act!

Hard to Satisfy

Leeside: See some deaf folks are putting up a squawk about sound pictures. Can't see where they've got any kick. A man who has lost a foot doesn't go hydrophobic about roller skates. A guy with one hand can still see why others should wear gloves. A man with both legs off doesn't try to dress the world in kilts—though that idea may explain why some of the boys go bareheaded. — J. F. D., Santa Barbara.

"TRAPPED" A TALKIE

We can't see where they get any kick, either. They should be the last to protest.

Up to date, though, we've heard far more protests from the dumb.

Ouch!

Lee Sider: You're always conferring medals on people. But that isn't the only evidence that yours is a medalsome disposition.—P. R.

Lambs, Goats, Sheep, Mutts

Some people are even so foolish as to ask our advice on how to make money! Here comes R. E. J., who should have written to the financial editor, asking us what stock yields the surest money in the stock market. Our understanding is that it's the live stock.

Personal Grouches

We are not ordinarily a vindictive man, but if anyone else sends us a "marked copy" of a large, thick newspaper, without anything marked in it, we are going on the warpath.

Some fiend in human form sends us what looks like and pretends to be a flask of the beverage which made Scotland famous. Touched by what seemed a spirited testimonial of friendship, and impelled by our customary co-operative spirit, we momentarily laid aside the habits of a lifetime and pressed the specious present to our lips. Then we discovered that the darned thing was an ink well.

STEP ON THE GAS

Immediately after the big war engineers and prophets announced that the next conflict would be fought with gas. The prophecy has come true. A gas war is raging. It is being fought with tank wagons instead of tanks.

War customarily invades homes and destroys churches. This war is running true to form. The homes are empty; the churches forsaken; for mother is gone on the big drive with dad and the youngsters in the back seat. While the higher-ups are massing their companies for more deadly onslaught upon each other, the rank and file are going over the top—of the mountain at sunrise.

As in all wars, the published casualties are heavy. Four dead and six dying, with fifty wounded form the list for the last week-end.

Yet nobody is clamoring for peace. The preachers are not pacifists here, but seem to be blessing the debacle. The jingoist for once meets with mighty encouragement. Armistice would fill the streets with mourners.

The chief sorrow seems to be that the first shot in this campaign was not fired in the good old summertime. Why did not the kings of oil show discretion and love for their subjects and stage their mixups when the folks are not tied down to their tasks? Why did the war not come when going is good and vacations free the populace for the wide open spaces?

At least it helps while it lasts. Not every war is as satisfactory. Women and children are the abettors, not sufferers. Noncombatants are the beneficiaries. Many women head the drives. They are the wildest participants and manifest the most whoopee.

It is a question of tanks. The biggest tanks and the most tanks will get the most out of it as usual. A family with but one tank with which to do execution is out at it to the fullest capacity. Tanks will win the war.

HORSE OPERA

Horse opera may be but a cowboy picture; it may lack mellifluous sounds and have nothing but the clatter of hoofs for drums and taps; but its dude cowboys, trained in the studios, arrayed in red bandanas and chaps which real cowpunchers affect, have a strange fascination.

The artists in horse opera are pure American at least, even if they do have to have a double to ride for them in difficult spots. They may have acquired the smell of sage brush second hand and may have rubbed the tang of the West from others; yet there is considerable sand in their make-up.

They may never have seen a real range save from a Pullman window; their knowledge may have been obtained from dime scenarios, hidden away under haystacks; their voices may even have been trained by yipping at cattle; and their cowgirl counterparts may have gotten their equipment on Hollywood Boulevard; yet they round up the common herd in an amazing manner that flushes the box office.

While the heroine is battling for her honor and $300 a week in a mountain cabin, and while it may all end in a solo ride through the mesquite down the mountain slope across the chasm in Griffith Park ahead of the rescue cavalry going the long way around to give the girl a chance to be gathered into the arms of the lover before the grand ensemble; yet it is devoured on Broadway and Main street alike.

OR FUMIGATE

Just now a couple of our big athletes are Steinke and Schmeling. Maybe this would be a good time to move over.

CONSOLATION

By James J. Montague

Cleveland, Coolidge, Hoover, all fishermen

I wish I had known, when a truant from school
And feeling more guilty than I would admit,
I used to sneak down to the willow-lined pool
And dangle a fly on the water a bit,
That though if by chance I should ever be caught
I might be pretty sure that my shrift would be short
And I'd get what a runaway fisherman ought,
That I was pursuing a President's sport.

I'd have taken those lickings with never a groan
And said to myself with a smug little smile,
"They'll find that they'd better have left me alone,
For I may be President after a while,
And then if the principal comes for a call
In a very loud masterful voice I shall say—
'No, I can't possibly see him at all.
Tell him I'm terribly busy today.'"

But never, while wading my way up the stream
In search of the eddies where pickerel hid
Or the trout lay in wait for a fly, did I dream
That this was a thing that the Presidents did.
The voice of ambition said never a word
Where the riffles foamed white in the afternoon sun
Their song on the pebbles was all that I heard
And all that I thought was: "Oh gosh! this is fun."

I have learned one may love to spend day after day
Where the water is stirred by the light summer air
And the kingfishers dart on their zig-zagging way,
And may still never sit on a President's chair.
But my conscience perhaps might have troubled me less
If I'd known in the days that are no more to be
That men on the very top rung of success
Have been fond of a craft that brought nothing to me!

"Protective Associations"

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Attention of the Bar Association should be called to so-called "protective associations" which go into city districts where public improvements are needed and organize taxpayers into hostile groups on a basis of yearly membership dues.

As soon as an improvement district is formed, agents of these associations canvass the property owners and agree to "protect" them from assessments for an annual fee of from $6 to $10 each.

The fact that the improvement is necessary does not enter into the calculations of the "protective association," the prime object being to inflame property owners and collect $6 per year from each.

Just as an ambulance-chasing lawyer beats even the doctor to the scene of an accident so do the "protective association's" agents arrive in the improvement district ahead of even the city engineers.

I would like to know what the bar association thinks of the ethical side of this question. Business is solicited from house to house by solicitors of these "protective" associations which are managed and directed by practicing attorneys.

Policemen Still Necessary

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I find in The Times of this morning a cartoon containing the following: "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace.—George Washington." And above that cartoon I also find the following: "It's as True Today as It Was Then." Which, of course, is your indorsement of what Washington said. If the world generally is as deep in the mire of the heathen idea of rule by war, and we as a nation, have not learned any better than that, and have made no further advancement in our civilization, than what you say would indicate, within the past 150 years, what we have today was not worth fighting for.

CHARLES E. STOKES.

Spanish and English

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Thanks for your "Lee Side" boost for Spanish. What a shame that people live years on Mariposa or Hermosa street and never care about the meaning of the name. Wish city would translate all Spanish street names in parenthesis on all signs. Los Angeles should encourage study of that beautiful tongue—which, however, is not spoken as widely as English the world over. English is understood by about 400,000,000 and Spanish about 250,000,000.

Heads and Tails

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Yes, indeed, all J. H. Otis says about Wall street and $100 bills in today's Times is true. But the Wall streeters are not the only ones working the racket. Exactly the same thing can be said about the real estate game, as played during the past ten years. Yes, sir, somebody always has to take a loss to bring things back to normal.

THE NAKED TRUTH

The truth is naked born and ever spurns
A vain adornment. Unabashed she stands
And an instinctive reverence commands.
The worship of her chastened beauty turns
Her votaries from narrow-souled concerns.
Of hearts devoted, consecrated hands
A singleness of purpose she demands,
Though it abuse and scorn for them but earns.

The highways and the byways to her shrine
Are with the bones of heroes thickly paved
Who in the forefront of the battle waved
Her banner charged with saving grace divine;
Yet each one is a chapter of her story
And lives therein to his eternal glory.

PETER FANDEL.

History tells us that it is to the observant and practical B. Franklin, Esq., that we owe our brooms for household use, and incidentally although the vacuum sweeper has attained much prominence, the lowly broom is still in use in myriad homes of this and other countries, America furnishing the corn for the making of four-fifths of them. It seems that some traveled lady presented Benjy with a whisk broom brought back from India, and when the careful philosopher examined it minutely, as was his habit to do everything with which he came in contact, he discovered several of the seeds of the coarse plant clinging to the straw, whereupon he planted them, cultivated them assiduously, and thus started broom corn in America, where it has flourished ever since, and leads the industry in furnishing straw for brooms for this and European countries.

HEARST'S HOBBIES

BY EUGENE BROWN

Letters of an Untethered Numbskull to a Notorious Publisher

XXXVIII

Dear William: We got your prospectus and there is something I don't understand yet. Already I told you how to beat prohibition, but you come out and tell me I ain't got the right answer. How come? What have you got, a puzzle? Do I have to draw a number or do I guess which shell the little pea is under? Or should I get me a ventriloquist to tell me Volstead is dead?

But why should prohibition bother you, anyhow? You should have a cellar full of brew. Also you should know practically all the bootleggers in New York. Prohibition hadn't ought to worry you any more than it does the Dewar boys.

Let me tell you something: If you want to get rid of prohibition you get this man Einstein to do it for you. That German professor has got 'em all buffaloed. They know he is right. They don't know why, but they do. Just let him write a snappy little statement of 11,000 four-syllable words telling the world that there is no such thing as prohibition and Justice Taft would have the Supreme Court together the next morning to call off the Eighteenth Amendment.

Prof. Einstein would say that by reason of an interlocutory decree the convolution of intercellar space had diverged on the radius K9—corresponding to Sirius, plus, leaving a penumbra minus and with practically no exudation. Consequently the remote phase occupied by our constitutional mandate on prohibition was in fact a vacuum and would be diverted into parking places for inanimate electrons.

That would settle it. Take it from me a guy which could repeal the law of gravity could make Mr. Volstead's act look like a perfect bust.

Another thing I can't understand about you: You want to take your monkey wrench and break open the prohibition amendment and at the same time have harsher laws and rougher regulations for handling dope. Do you mean we should have more alcohol and less coke? You should know that you can get out a hotter newspaper on cocaine than you can on whisky. Or are you trying to taper off from opium to angelica?

But there you are—offering big money for a way to knock out the Eighteenth Amendment and at the same time calling on the world and everybody to join in the war on the dope peddlers. This is all right with me. I am getting so that I can do fine with or without either of them, but as near as I can make out you want us to have our pictures taken with an American flag in one hand and a slug of hooch in the other—and at the same time aiming a kick at the drug trade. I might look like a Boy Scout playing Gambrinus, but I hate to think what you would look like.

It is all right with me to go after the hop-heads, but I have an idea that the same guy shouldn't be seen putting skids under the Eighteenth Amendment. You should be two people. Or at least try to lead a double life.

But, anyhow, you send me by mail a flag, a monkey wrench and a cake of yeast and I will see what I can do. I have practically cut out the hop already.

Wishing you the same.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

To Write Plays?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address: Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

For a class that attempts the difficult, and achieves it—the play-writing class at the Hollywood Evening High School, corner of Sunset Boulevard and Highland avenue, is outstanding. It meets every school evening, that is Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The instruction in this class is free; and the text-book is loaned free, though a deposit is required to guarantee its return. The many other books used by the class can be secured from the Public Library. Especial attention is paid to the study of plays that exhibit the modern trend.

The personnel of the class reflects the personality of the instructor, Julia Baldwin Hazelton, a scholar and playwright. Therefore, it is not surprising that twenty-two original plays were produced last year. Julia Hazelton has sold her own plays, and her articles on actors and on the theater. Consequently she puts a sure finger on the plays written in her class. Under her direction they are revamped until they sell to dramatic companies and attain production in local and national theaters.

Successful plays are not written over night, but for earnest workers the Hollywood play workshop offers free inspiration and criticism. It has led, and is continuing to lead, to stage successes.

Typhoon Damage Great

Damage done by the typhoon in the Viscayan Island group of the Philippines will reach $50,000,000, according to latest estimates. The value of crops permanently destroyed is placed at $25,000,000, and the agricultural loss of the next two years at the same amount. Distribution of seeds of quickly growing food crops averted a food shortage, and sufferers were provided immediate livelihood by employment in public works construction.

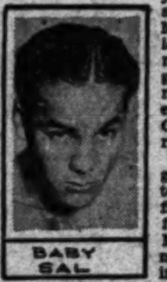
'Muddy Mike' Knocked Cold by Mexican Idol

BY KAY OWE

Baby Sal, the greatest Mexican prospect to break out in local fight ranks since Bert Colima was a youngster, stopped Muddy Mike Watters in less than five rounds of slugging in the ten-round main event at the Olympic last night.



A thorough gamester, Watters was floored five times before Dutch Meyers, his manager, tossed in the towel to save his protege from a further beating.

The white token of surrender arrived at the count of seven, but it is doubtful if Watters would have been able to arise at the ten count.

He was flat on his face, having fallen with a sickening impact from a terrific left hook to the chin.

DOWN THREE TIMES

Watters was down three times in the fourth round for counts of two, nine and nine, respectively from successive rights to the chin.

A right and a left to the jaw in the fifth sent him to the floor again for nine, and the succeeding

Bears Leave for Husky Series

BERKELEY, Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Hot on the trail of the sixth Pacific Coast Conference championship in the last seven years, the University of California basketball players, fourteen in all, tomorrow night will entrain for Seattle and their week-end series of three games with the University of Washington, champions of the northern division of the conference.

Coach Clarence (Nibs) Price's Californians are in pretty good shape except for a bad nose bothering Capt. Verne Corbin. Trainer Charlie Volz will have the Bear captain in good working order for the Huskies. The veterans on the team have been in championship series before. The sophomores were highly agitated at training table today, though, when Joel Coffield and Tom Coakley were reported to be suffering with exaggerated cases of the fidgets.

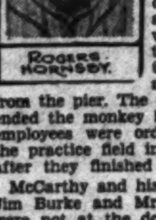
Joe Has Bats in Hands of Sluggers Two Hours After Arrival

BY EDWARD BURNS

AVALON, CATALINA ISLAND (Cal.) Feb. 26. (Exclusive)—Joe McCarthy had bats in the hands of his batting experts within less than two hours after the squad of a dozen Cubs set foot on the shores of Avalon town at noon today.



ROGERS HORNSBY.

As a boon to the photographers' cult Rogers Hornsby drove a team of ancient plugs which dragged the new-comers to the hotel on a half-mile ride from the pier. The picturesque trip ended the monkey business, for all employees were ordered to be on the practice field in uniform just after they finished lunch.

McCarthy and his assistants, Mr. Jim Burke and Mr. Grover Land, were not at the docks to make a fuss over the pilgrims. They remained in the clubhouse scheming how best to reduce the portly gentlemen in the now complete congress of athletes.

Joe and Jim and Grover were on the lot when the first of the athletes arrived. There was handshaking and affable greetings, then instructions that batting practice would follow in a very few minutes.

And there was batting practice and nothing else but, excepting for incidental dashes around the outfield in groups of three, the medicine ball being passed among the running trios.

"They used to have the theory out here that the players should break in real gradual like," said Manager Joseph in discussing his precipitate launching of activity. "Used to try to toughen the fellows by letting them climb mountains and

PRINCIPALS IN THE "BATTLE OF THE EVERGLADES"

Jack Sharkey (left) and Young Stribling meet over the ten-round route at Miami tonight in a battle that has a big bearing on the 1929 heavyweight chase. Hollywood Owner Opines That Sheiks Will be Stronger Than in 1928

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 26.—"We will have a stronger team this season than the club which finished in second place in the Coast League last year. The outfield will be faster and will pack more batting power."

Owner Bill Lane of the Hollywood Stars, speaking after watching his athletes win a couple of exhibition games and then follow through in practice workouts.

"There is more speed throughout the club. The only position that is in need of being filled is that at second base. Mike Maloney, young infielder, will be given every chance to make good in that position, formerly held by Johnny Kerr," he concluded.

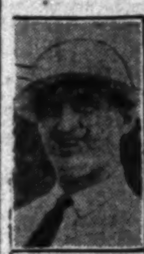
GREENTREE POLOISTS WIN

Sands Point Horsemen Bow Before Flashy Mallet Work of Boeseke and Pedley, 9 to 8

BY FRANK ROCHE

With long-legged Elmer Boeseke and young Eric Pedley, the two greatest polo players west of the Rockies, showing the way the Greentree poloists captained by Jock Whitney defeated the Sands Point four yesterday at the Midwick Country Club by a 9-to-8 score.

The Greentree riders scored a double victory yesterday. They not only won the game, which was conducted on a flat basis, but they defeated a team that outrated them six goals captained by the second ranking polo player in the world, Winston Guest.



The victory of the Greentree riders is a great tribute to the playing of Boeseke and Pedley. These two stars simply rode the Sands Point players ragged. Boeseke rode off

HO, HUM! SAME OLD STUFF---A.A.U. HAULS PAAVO NURMI ON CARPET AGAIN TODAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. (AP)—Paavo Nurmi and Edvin Wide, two-thirds of the visiting foot-racing delegation from Northern Europe, both were literally out of the running tonight, the Finn because of the disapproval of the Amateur Athletic Union, and the Swede in obedience to the dictates of a twisted ankle.

PAAVO NURMI

Wide was forced to cancel an engagement to compete in a special one and one-half mile race at the New York county American Legion games here tomorrow night, in which he was to have taken the suspended Nurmi's place. Wide found it necessary to withdraw today, when his right ankle, which was twisted in an exhibition run in Elizabeth, N. J., last night, became badly swollen.

Whether it would also prevent him from running as scheduled in a meet at Buffalo Saturday night, Wide could not say, although he said he would not take any chances and did not propose to run until the ankle was thoroughly healed.

With Wide thus on the shelf and Nurmi in enforced retirement pending the decision of the A.A.U. tomorrow on his application for reinstatement, the third member of the visiting triumvirate, Eino Purje, youthful Finn, found himself in great demand. It appeared likely that he would come to the rescue and provide the much-sought international flavor for the Legion meet, running a mile and a half in an attempt to beat the world's record set by Wide in 1927.

Nurmi will go on the carpet in his own defense tomorrow at the offices of the A.A.U. The registration committee of the Metropolitan As-

TROJANS DEFEAT TIGERS IN DIAMOND TILT, 11-8

The collegiate baseball season opened auspiciously at Occidental yesterday, with the U.S.C. Trojans walloping out an 11-8 victory over the Tigers. The game was raggedly played, and proved a valuable experience to both teams, and a better contest should result when they tangle in the second game of their series Friday on Bovard Field.

SAM CRAWFORD

Heavy-hitting honors for the Trojans were divided between Floyd Welch, veteran outfielder, and "Bud" Stanier, ex-Spartan fly-chaser, each gathering three bingles. Welch got three out of three, and Stanier gathered his trio in five attempts. One of Welch's blows went for a triple, and another for a double. Rozelle was the stick-wielding star for the Tigers with three hits. Charnock and Hunt each hit homers.

The Tigers overcame a three-run lead to take a 4-3 lead, and held it until the sixth when the Trojans combined four hits, a walk,

Upon the recommendation of Dr. Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier College and the athletic board of control, the board of trustees of Whittier College yesterday unanimously elected Verne S. Revival of L.A.A.C. Dual Meet Team Adds Interest to Early Track Schedule

MERCURIES TO FACE POMONA

Rival Teams Mix Saturday at Claremont

Oxy Host to Redlands and Whittier Squads

George Heavy Favorite to Win Both Sprints

BY BRAVEN DYER

BOB STREHLE

What started out to be a rather dull local track season may blossom into something more exciting with the announcement that the Los Angeles Athletic Club will stage impromptu dual meets with teams of this region. Saturday the Mercuries go to Claremont to engage Bob Strehle's Pomona College squad in a little workout.

It will be remembered that the L. A. A. C. voted to discontinue a spring dual meet team and concentrate on a summer squad aimed at the national A.A.U. championships. This policy, and the appointment of Dean Cromwell as coach to succeed Boyd Comstock went hand in hand, the L.A.A.C. desiring to gain the membership of the leading Trojan athletes.

MANY SHOWED UP

But so many boys showed up to compete under the club banner at last Saturday's A.A.U. relay carnival that Charley Keppen and other L.A.A.C. officials decided to have regular week-end meets whenever they can be secured.

At this writing it looks as if the Mercuries will clean up all the field events with the possible exception of the high jump where Bishop of Pomona may tie Arthur. On the track Pomona should lead the way in most of the races, due to the fact that the L.A.A.C. athletes are not yet in the pink of condition.

Harvey Bear should outspeed Murray Schultz in both sprints, while Cobb and Dyer of Pomona ought to finish ahead of the L.A.A.C. 440 men unless Percy Biersbach should have one of his good days. In the mile, Capt. George White of Pomona is a good bet, although any one of a number of Sherman Indians may upset the dope.

Herman Brix, John Kuck, Jim De Mers, Chuck Eaton, Chuck Harlow, Walker in the broad jump, and possibly Lee Barnes in the pole vault, should chalk up a flock of points for the Mercuries in the field events.

BULLDOGS AND POETS TO FACE OCCIDENTAL

Over at Patterson Field, Eagle Rock, the combined forces of Redlands University and Whittier College will do their best to make things interesting for Joe Pipal's Occidental squad. The way we have it figured out, the Bulldog-Quaker team probably won't score more than forty points unless Coaches Cushman and Philbrook have uncorked several dark horses of late. Of course, Pipal may elect to keep some of his stars on the sidelines or hold them back a bit, in which case the Redlands-Whittier squad may score a bit more heavily.

Nathaniel George should romp away with both sprints, and may better even time in each race. If Payne has recovered from football injuries he may extend Ruth and Bellman for second place. Moore of Redlands is another possible point winner in the dashes.

Hampson of Redlands ought to make it hot for the Oxy boys in the quarter. He won the all-conference frosh event last year and has been running in good form this season.

Ward Schweizer, who was supposed to be out of track for this year, is once more digging his spikes into the dirt at Patterson Field and may be seen in action Saturday. Oxy is weak only in the 440, hammer and broad jump, and the return of Schweizer will aid materially, for he is one of the best quarter-milers in the circuit.

Redlands has a very fair half-miler in this boy Taylor, who ran 2m. 3 4-5s. at Pasadena recently. He should make Appleton, Imler or Goodheart step lively to win Saturday.

Ball of Redlands can be depended upon to vault around 12ft. 6in. if right, and that ought to win the event.

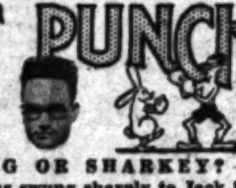
Philbrook, while at Idaho, developed some good track men and it may be that he will uncork several unknowns this week-end.

TROJANS IDLE UNTIL OLYMPIC MEET, MARCH 16

Dean Cromwell's Trojan varsity has no regularly scheduled meet on tap until two weeks from Saturday, when the S.C. boys entertain the Olympic Club of San Francisco in the Coliseum. The Trojan mentor will take some of his "unattached" or ineligible athletes to Claremont Saturday to run with the L.A.A.C. against Pomona.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY



STRIBLING OR SHARKEY?

BETTING sentiment has swung sharply to Jack Sharkey in his bout with Young Stribling, the acrobatic southerner, at Miami tonight. Even those two one-round knockouts of Martin Burke within the past year haven't established the ex-"Georgia Schoolboy" as an outstanding fighter. There are too many Ralph Smith affairs in his record.

And yet Stribling is one chap who could have been a real fighter. It may not be too late, but habits are hard to break—especially habits of long standing.

The late Tex Rickard talked Stribling into several of his heavyweight eliminations, but just when things looked ripe, Mr. Stribling, the acrobat, would bounce up with some goshawful exhibition.

I believe he holds the world's record for making more good fights look bad than any pugilist in history. He knocks out the bums, and makes wrestling matches out of tough bouts.

What he seems to lack is inspiration—the spark that galvanizes a fighter like Jack Dempsey.

Sharkey lacks it also. He was knocked out by Dempsey for that reason.

Some folks call this missing quality a streak. Tommy Loughran, before he left this city, said Stribling would beat Sharkey because the Georgian's streak isn't as pronounced as Sharkey's.

But then neither is Stribling's record.

That makes everything look like a toss-up.

WHY THE SHOOTING?

OPINION is more or less divided on the last-minute Dempsey ballyhoo stunt of having the ex-champion shot at.

The story made practically every front page in the country, but the backwash won't be appetizing to the principals.

Perhaps it helped the "gate" at Miami, but in view of all the stories about the big advance sale, was it necessary to bring that up?

It sounds like a silly, stupid stunt.

If conceived by Dempsey it makes him ridiculous.

If the brain child of Steve Hannagan, the head press agent, it is no credit to the fertile mind of that young man.

Steve never found it necessary to promote such pipe dreams when drumming up the public interest in the annual automobile races at Indianapolis.

Of course, some race driver invariably turned over in practice, making it unnecessary for Steve to resort to such low tactics.

And it may have been the tameness of the final ballyhoo—a newer wrinkle to Steve—that inspired the shooting episode.

Steve wanted some blood and thunder in his copy, and when the fighters wouldn't furnish it he manufactured his own.

ANOTHER CROWN AFFAIR

TOD MORGAN'S proposed defense of his junior lightweight crown will bring that young man back into the Olympic ring—the same ring where he won the crown almost four years ago.

He removed it from the battered brow of Mike Ballerino one evening, and has worn it rather successfully ever since.

He put the title at stake three times last year—twice in two savage fifteen-round battles with Cannonball Eddie Martin at New York and then with Santiago Zorilla at San Francisco last fall.

Zorilla got a draw with the champion after the fight had twice been postponed because of injuries to Morgan's hands.

Wirt Ross, the jungle boy's manager, believes Zorilla can lift the crown this time. Santiago is due here from Panama March 15, ready to go into active training the minute the match is cinched. Morgan is already here.

The match will be made at the championship weight of 130 pounds—the first title bout in this city since La Barba and Georgie Rivers went to grips.

TROJANS DOWN TIGER SQUAD

an error, a sacrifice and a hit batsman to score six runs. The Tigers managed to crawl up to a 9-8 count but Sam Crawford's hopefuls cracked out a pair of markers in the ninth to cinch the struggle.

Al De Hoag, the regular Tiger twirler, did not appear in the tilt, and Wilkie Clark let young Charnock carry the burden. He might have won the game with better support. Kessler, a sophomore, and Diehl, a veteran right-hander, worked for the Trojans. Score:

Reversing the order of last year's start, the 1929 race will get under way from New York the end of March and finish in this city.

Pyle lost money on the last venture, but will charge a heavier entry fee this year and make the athletes feed themselves.

Last year the athletes wanted fifty-nine different varieties of food, according to Pyle, and not even a Solomon would have been able to satisfy them.

A deal had been pending for some time on the veteran, whose home is near the Bay City, as he had expressed a desire to return to the club from which he was sold to the majors originally. No terms were announced.

A second cut in the squad is scheduled for tomorrow after the exhibition game with the Naval Training Station. Manager Oscar Vitt wants to have a little more time to look over the youngsters but with all the veterans expected in camp by tonight the squad must be cut down.

Hensel Hulvel, pitcher, Cleo Carlyle, outfielder, and Leo Ostenberg, infielder, reported today. Hulvey and Carlyle have been playing semi-pro ball in the north and are already in fair condition. Ostenberg has been holding out for more salary but reported last night late and was in a suit today.

Infielders Heath, Lee and Foley are still to come with Outfielder Tony Boroja the only man not heard from.

HAYWOOD TO MEET WOODS IN RING GO

Heading the program at the Pasadena arena tomorrow is a slam-bang affair of ten rounds between Joe Woods, George Blake's light-heavy hope, and Jack Haywood, Monrovia negro and arena pride. To the outsider, looking at their records, Woods appears the favorite. He is an experienced fighter who has licked such men as Joe Lohman, Bad News Johnson, George Trenkle and others of class. But the arena regulars seem to fancy Haywood's chances. They have seen Jack come up from preliminary class, always fighting, taking punishment and coming back, putting his man away whenever he could land solidly. Out of twenty-one fights, Haywood has won fifteen knockouts and the arena believes he may get one over on Woods.

ROACH MEETS CARDOZA IN WILMINGTON BOUT

The first of a series of middleweight fights to bring out the leading 158-pounder of the harbor district takes place tonight at the Wilmington Bowl, when Chick Roach, the San Francisco Bulldog, goes to the post against Joe Cardoza, the "Wild Bull" of Culver City. They are down for ten heats at 158 pounds.

The semifinal and the special event for tonight show welterweights. Sammy Jackson meets Billy Blake in the semifinal, and Frankie Tierney, veteran welter, battles Billy Clark in the special. Two fours also are billed.

ABERG TO MEET JAPANESE IN FINISH MAT CONTEST

Three finish bouts have been scheduled for "Carnation" Lou Daro's wrestling show at the Olympic next Wednesday night, it was announced yesterday with the signing of Y. Fujita, the clever Japanese jiu-jitsu expert, to meet Alex Aberg, bald-headed young 210-pound Russian, in the opening event.

Aberg is remembered by the local fans for his sensational matches here with Jim Londos, the Greek champion, and Paul Jones of Texas, more than a year ago. This will be his first start in the local ring in many months. Fujita is the first wrestler in this section to adopt Champion Gus Sonnenberg's famous "butt." He used it several times to beat Felix Lopez here last week. The wrestling of the Japanese star seems to be more colorful now than ever before, and he is becoming very popular with the fans.

Stan Stasiak, 235-pounder from Poland, will clash with Pete Sauer, the young Glendale mat sensation, in the finish feature event of this card. This will be Sauer's third start in a main event here following his return to this section after an absence of more than a year. He proved in his bout here last week that he was one of the best grapplers in the game. His bout with Jones was one of the greatest ever seen here.

Jones will clash with Dick Daviscourt in the one fall, no time limit special event. Daviscourt demanded a one-fall match, declaring no grappler in the game could beat him in this type of match. Jones, who has one victory over him, accepted Daviscourt's challenge, although the Texan held out for a best two out of three fall match. Daviscourt is in wonderful condition now, according to mat experts, and will be hard to stop. He held Sauer even for nearly two and a half hours several weeks ago in a match here.

GREENTREE IN POLO VICTORY

with the high-point honors of the game, scoring four goals. Pedley tallied twice, but that does not tell half the tale of what Eric really did.

Pedley, riding in No. 3 position was in fine form. Eric flew up and down the field on steeds that seemed to have wings. Boeseke was just as good and even better at times.

It might be said right here that the Greentree victory was the direct result of putting Boeseke and Pedley on the team. Elmer and Eric were only substituting yesterday. They were pressed into service when Aiden Roark and Capt. Forrester, two British stars, were unable to play. And boy, what a couple of substitutes.

It was Boeseke and Pedley that gave the Greentree riders the fire that proved too hot for the Sands Point squad to handle. Eric rode into the Sands Point four, who, incidentally, count among its prizes an open championship cup, as if he had never heard of them.

On that team, incidentally, besides Guest, are Cheever Cowdin, an 8-goal man and an international star; Laddie Sanford, a 7-goal man and an international player, and Charles Schwartz, a 4-goal player who has the reputation of being one of the best mounted men in polo.

The Sands Point riders played a fine game. They performed at times almost perfectly but they could not keep up with the flying Boeseke, Pedley, Whitney and Capt. Walford. Walford and young Whitney did their jobs in great fashion. They were always on the job when they were most needed.

From the second chukker on it was the Greentrees set the pace. Both sides just played warm-up polo in the opening chukker. In the second Whitney banged through with a goal and Pedley came through shortly after with another. Laddie Sanford battled one across before the chukker ended. They played even-stephen polo in the third with Whitney and Cowdin making goals.

The fourth chukker found young Pedley in the star role. He passed the ball along and Boeseke banged it across for a goal after a wild ride. Guest and Pedley bumped in this chukker and they both nearly went off their ponies. Cowdin, Boeseke and Sanford scored before the period ended.

In the fifth Sanford scored after Whitney lost his helmet chasing him. Boeseke scored in the sixth.

The seventh session was the best of the game. Sanford, Cowdin and Boeseke scored but Guest was the big star with his playing. In the eighth chukker Pedley and Guest scored.

The game was an interesting one from the opening throw-in. Four times it looked as though it was going to end in some sort of a disaster when players met with mishaps. Boeseke fell from his pony in the first chukker but was unhurt. Capt. Walford was hit with one of Winston Guest's drives in the fifth and had to quit for a few minutes. Schwartz was knocked out by his pony in the fourth and Boeseke's pony was put out of play in the eighth when he was hit with a ball. Outside of that nothing happened.

been my privilege to officiate behind his teams for the past five years and I can readily say that I have never worked behind a cleaner coached and playing team than the Covina High School team. The spirit of fair play seemed to predominate through his whole squad."

Landreth, who has coached at Huntington Park High School for the past five years, and at San Diego High School for two years, is a graduate of Friends University at Wichita, Kan. He had four years in college football, captain during his senior year, and also starred in basketball, track, baseball and tennis. He was chosen on the State all-star football and basketball teams while in college. He took postgraduate work toward a master's degree at the University of Southern California, and coaching courses under Rockne of Notre Dame and Jones of S.C. He has consistently turned out championship teams both at Huntington Park and San Diego.

Newman is a graduate of S.C. coming from the Riverside High School. While in college he played virtually every position on the football team, and was quarterback in high school. This is his fourth successive year at Covina. His football team won their championship in the league for three successive years.

Athletic interest at Whittier College has been tremendously stimulated by the appointment of these two popular coaches.

Naishapur Cops Border Feature

TIA JUANA RACE TRACK, Feb. 26.—Naishapur, good Omar Khayam colt purchased for a young capitalist, racing under the nom de turf of the Wilshire stable, made good this afternoon in the Yosemite, a prep for derby candidates. Naishapur won the mile and one-sixteenth race by a length over Infinity, with Taddywawa getting the show. Yam Toy, Voltear, Grenadier Guard, Live Oak, Forbis and Wood Burn, other candidates for the $25,000 added stake, which will be decided here Sunday, followed the leaders home. Time was 1m. 44 4-5s.

Results:

First race, four furlongs—Nifty, 111 (Colilietti,) won; Alves, 111 (Woolf,) second; Good and Hot, 106 (Allen,) third. Time, 0:48.

Third race, five and one-half furlongs—Consent, 107 (Barrett,) won; Our Joan, 105 (Woolf,) second; Yucca, 107 (Douglas,) third. Time, 1:07 2-5.

Fourth race, one and one-eighth miles—Louie Wright, 112 (Hurlburt,) won; Coalescence, 114 (Hooper,) second; Bucko, 109 (Woolf,) third. Time, 1:55 2-5.

Fifth race, six furlongs—Bonnie Marguerite, 107 (Trimble,) won; Sun Glass, 105 (Hurlburt,) second; Ray, 109 (Schutte,) third. Time, 1:13 1-5.

Sixth race, five and one-half furlongs—Waimanu, 108 (Mann,) won; Simone, 117 (D. Lyons,) second; Bon Fille, 112 (Trimble,) third. Time, 1:08.

Seventh race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Naishapur, 112 (C. E. Allen,) won; Infinity, 115 (Snyder,) second; Taddywawa, 107 (Dunlap,) third. Time, 1:44 4-5.

Eighth race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Buckit, 97 (Douglas,) won; Forebee, 108 (D. Lyons,) second; Hilo, 113, (Trimble,) third. Time, 1:46 1-5.

Ninth race, one and one-sixteenth miles—Kentucky Babe, 96 (Douglas,) won; Flora M., 105 (Morrison,) second; Sangabar, 110 (Trivett,) third. Time, 1:46 2-5.

Trojan Frosh Trip Pasadena

The Southern California frosh track team scored an 88-to-28 victory over the combined Pasadena Junior College and Pasadena High School teams at Bovard Field yesterday. Several of the J.C. stars were not in the meet.

One of the surprises was the defeat of Chuck Anderson, Trojan sprinter, by Treharne of Pasadena in 10s. flat in the century. Bill McGeah, former Poly runner, won both the 440 and 880.

Summary:

100-yard dash—Won by Treharne (P.) Anderson (S.C.) second, Stevens (P.) third. Time, 10s. flat.

220-yard dash—Won by Schnelle (S.C.) Kuchel (S.C.) second, Fyle (P.) third. Time, 22 3-5s.

440-yard run—Won by McGeagh (S.C.) Zeisenenne (S.C.) second, Cline (P.) third. Time, 51 3-5s.

880-yard run—Won by McGeagh (S.C.) Renner (P.) second, Learned (S.C.) third. Time, 2m. 11 2-5s.

Mile run—Won by Halstead (S.C.) Cramer (P.) second, Biggers (P.) third. Time, 4m. 52s.

120-yard low hurdles—Won by Moffat (S.C.) Vignolo (S.C.) second, Starr (P.) third. Time, 13 2-5s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Moffat (S.C.) Vignolo (S.C.) second, Colloran (P.) third. Time, 15 3-5s.

Discus—Won by Hall (S.C.) 128ft.; Arbelbide (S.C.) second, 123ft. 10in.; Wright (S.C.) third, 104ft. 6in.

Javelin—Won by Joslin (S.C.) Strutt (P.) second, Lees (S.C.) third. Distance, 145ft.

Shot—Won by Arbelbide (S.C.), 49ft. ¾in.; Tipton (S.C.) second, 47ft. 9½in.; Hall (S.C.) third, 45ft. 4in.

Pole vault—Won by Chientzos (S.C.) Colleran (P.) and Stevens (P.) tied for second. Height, [illegible]ft. 8in.

Broad jump—Won by Van Riter (S.C.) Rice (S.C.) second, Stevens (P.) third. Distance, 20ft. 8½in.

Scots Favored in Soccer Tilt

Successive victories over L.A.A.C. and Hollywood give the Scots the edge as being one of the teams to figure in the league play-offs. Though now in third place Scots have shown considerable improvement in their play during the last month and coupled with their victories over the leaders the Stevens-Holmes players are now making a big bid for the title. Sunday's game against Magyars at Loyola Field will be a real test for the Scotchmen as Magyars now hold second place. L.A.A.C. and Sons hook up in the second affair.

Two interesting games at the Rose Bowl are on the program in the City League with Pasadena A.C.C. meeting the Hollywood eleven and with the Crown City team's defense strengthened Claude Brown's charges have a good chance to score one of the cherished victories over the leaders. Richfield Oil meet Vikings at 1 p.m. in the bowl.

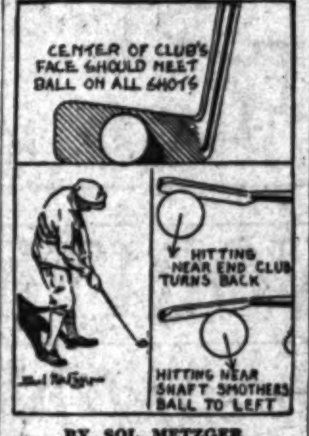
OXY TENNIS STARS LEAVE ON NET TOUR

Ben Gorchakoff and Art Kussman, Occidental College tennis stars, leave this morning for Northern California where they are scheduled to take on the Stanford tennis team Friday at Palo Alto, and the California racquet artists Saturday at Berkeley.

BLAIR, FUENTES SIGN

Johnny Blair, Utica welterweight, and Pipa Fuentes have been signed for the chief supporting bout on next Saturday night's program at the Main-street Athletic Club. Mexican Jack Dempsey and Cowboy Leonard Smith, light heavies, head the list. Erne Chacon of Oakland and Johnny Babuco, bantamweights, have been carded for the special event.

Ball Must Be Hit Squarely



CENTER OF CLUB'S FACE SHOULD MEET BALL ON ALL SHOTS
HITTING NEAR END CLUB TURNS BACK

BY SOL METZGER

In discussing the matter of contact of golf club with ball, whatever club one is playing, with leading golfers, Johnny Farrell, United States open champion, brought out a point of importance. When you talk golf practices with a star like Farrell the game becomes far more simple.

We learned in the preceding release that the hands, shaft and club head must not only be in a plane at right angles to the desired direction when the ball was struck, but that the face of the club should be on the intended line you wished to strike the ball (in order to prevent imparting a slice or hook,) not only at contact, but for a certain distance before and after.

Still a true shot cannot be made if all these precautions are taken unless the fact of the club meets the ball with its center. If the ball is met by the toe that end turns back and a true shot cannot result. Every golfer knows the result at the heel—a shanked shot. Topped shots come when the blade is too high and skied balls when hitting with the face too low. Hit dead center and your shot will carry true. Tomorrow—the left and right hands and arms.

Good putting makes good golf. Write Sol Mtezger, care of The Times, requesting his leaflet on putting. In writing inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

OLYMPIC LANDS TITLE BATTLE

battles have been brewing here from time to time, but the Morgan-Zorilla scrap is the first one actually contracted for in a long time.

Morgan won the title here, but has never defended it in this city. He captured the crown from Mike Ballerino in a bout held at the Olympic the latter part of 1925.

It was the second world's championship won that year by California fighters—Fidel La Barba beating Frankie Genaro for the flyweight title in the summer of the same year.

SOUTHPAW STAR

Morgan is a left-hand artist who has waged his greatest scraps out of California rings. He has packed Madison Square Garden several times, and twice last year defended his title against Cannonball Eddie Martin at New York.

They were savage battles which went the full fifteen-round route but in which Morgan's wins were unquestioned.

Last summer Zorilla held Morgan to a draw in a title bout at San Francisco, so their meeting in April will be the second of their careers.

Zorilla beat Joey Sanger in one of the best fights ever staged at the Olympic last year, and is likely to enter the ring against Morgan at least an even money bet.

Morgan is here, having arrived from the East last week. He will go into active training soon, an injured hand having responded to treatment.

Zorilla is now in Panama, but is scheduled to arrive in the States, March 15.

NURMI BEFORE A.A.U. TODAY

sociation is to decide whether to remove the suspension imposed when Nurmi failed to appear for the national championship.

Nurmi's defense hinges on a letter which he says he wrote and mailed the day before the meet giving notice of his withdrawal because of a cold which made it impossible for him to run in his true form.

CHECKERS

The preliminary round of the State checker tournament was about finished yesterday. The following have qualified for Class A finals: M. L. Davis, Hermosa Beach; E. Everell, Pomona; H. L. Le Clere, Eagle Rock; C. E. Jenings, Long Beach; F. G. Farmer, Glendale; A. S. Morely, A. McMillan and John Dougherty of Los Angeles.

N. H. Ghormley of Pomona and L. H. Nichols of Long Beach still have a chance to make Class A.

The following will play in Class B: C. D. Smalley, F. T. Smith, W. Whitehead, H. E. West, S. S. Day, J. Peterson and A. Sweet.

The elimination rounds will start this morning.

SOCCER TEAMS WILL INVADE MEXICO SOON

Two soccer teams made up mostly of players from Southern California will invade Mexico shortly for an international series between that country and the United States, according to an announcement made yesterday by Harry Gomme, Los Angeles sportsman. Gomme and Jose Torres, brother of the Spanish Consul, here have arranged to invade Mexico with a soccer army for a ten-game series. The players will be picked from the Los Angeles and Southern California League.

Last-Minute Rush Assures Financial Success

a setting as the prize ring ever has seen. Since the fighters started training here three weeks ago they have competed for attention with Jack Dempsey, promoter of the show, with the host of celebrities and social leaders who throng the Southland in the winter time, in addition to developments in the fight picture that often overshadowed the match itself.

ALL IS READY

But for tonight, at least, the setting and surroundings were forgotten in contemplation of the battle Tex Rickard planned before his death, a battle Dempsey undertook to promote to a success as a tribute to the man who made him a millionaire. Where the naming of a referee, the arguments over rules, a minor injury to Stribling and even a pistol shot at Dempsey taken in the dark once held the chief attention, tonight the fight was the thing.

From every side came indications that the match financially and socially already was an assured success. During the day money rolled into the box office with the same regularity that special trains, motor caravans and other means of transportation loosed new crowds on the already overpopulated resort town.

William F. Carey, head of the enterprise as the vice-president of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, announced late today that the receipts to date were $325,000 and might reach $400,000 before the principals entered the ring for the ten-round fistic civil war of the North and South. On this basis, the profit on a venture that at first seemed doomed to failure, will range between $75,000 and $150,000.

The rules that will govern the fray were the subject of a conference today among Jack Dempsey, Referee Lou Magnolia of New York, and the managers of Sharkey and Stribling. The chief seconds will be "Pa" Stribling, father of the Georgian, and Johnny Buckley, the mentor of the Boston sailorman.

NO 'LONG COUNT'

Most interesting of the regulations is that governing knockdowns. Dempsey, tragedian in the "long count" episode with Gene Tunney in Chicago, insisted that there be no misunderstanding. The referee is charged with responsibility of seeing that a fighter scoring a knockdown goes promptly to a neutral corner. If the fighter does not do so, the count will be halted to enforce this rule, and then picked up where the count was left off. In other words, if the count has reached four and the fighter on his feet is not in a neutral corner, the referee will escort him there, then return to resume the count at "five."

The conference of officials also decided to bar tossing in a towel as token of defeat. Decision as to any foul blows will rest entirely with the referee. There will be no judges.

Although Sharkey is invading the stronghold of the southern pride the betting odds favor him at 6 to 5 to win. The Boston tar is the favorite of the eastern critics who have seen Stribling whipped by Paul Berlenbach and Tommy Loughran, both light-heavyweight champions. But southern and western sportsmen, coming here from the cities where the Georgian has piled up a tremendous string of knockouts, favor Stribling.

In style the men are a contrast. Sharkey is the bulldog type, a heavyset, free-swinging puncher who comes in fast behind a deadly left jab. Despite the strength Stribling has been developing steadily since his childhood, training as an acrobat, Sharkey is by far the huskier of the pair both in appearance and action. He has ten pounds advantage in weight. During a career spotted with both brilliant and mediocre exhibitions Sharkey has proved himself the best boxer in the heavyweight division when in top form.

KFI TO BROADCAST ROUND BY ROUND

Station KFI will be on the hook-up with the coast-to-coast network of the National Broadcasting Company that will broadcast the Sharkey-Stribling fight tonight. The broadcast will go on the air at 10 p.m. eastern standard time, 7 o'clock Pacific Coast time.

SMOKE TALKS by the DUTCH MASTERS

When we say that Dutch Masters is "fine as any imported cigar" we are not just talking talk. Try out a Dutch Masters alongside of any imported cigar you please. We believe that you will agree that the biggest difference between the two is the price.

We often wonder why no cigar manufacturer has fallen for the current advertising vogue of publishing glowing testimonials from the great and near-great. Maybe it's because the big men who smoke cigars are too big to be interested in seeing their pictures in the paper.

No single quality alone makes a good cigar. Neither mildness nor fragrance nor "body." But a just right proportion of these qualities makes the kind of cigar that grows on you. Hence the increasing number of smokers who say: "There's nothing like Dutch Masters."

The man who wishes to know the deepest satisfaction and contentment that tobacco has to offer should cultivate his taste for a good cigar.

When we say that Dutch Masters is "fine as any imported cigar" we are not just talking taffy. Try out a Dutch Masters alongside of any imported cigar you please. We believe that you will agree that the biggest difference between the two is the price.

We often wonder why no cigar manufacturer has fallen for the current advertising vogue of publishing glowing testimonials from the great and near-great. Maybe it's because the big men who smoke cigars are too big to be interested in seeing their pictures in the paper.

TRAINING CAMP GOSSIP

TURNER NOT TO MAKE UP WITH WRIGLEY

SANTA ANA, Feb. 26.—Tom Turner of the Portland Beavers will stand pat in his difference with Bill Wrigley of the Los Angeles team as regards ladies free at the Coast League games. Turner will not attend any compromise sessions called by Harry Williams, league president. The only discussions into which he will enter will be those in which all the league magnates take part.

Turner delivered himself of that positive declaration today after his baseball crew had put in four hours of practice at the Orange County Fair Grounds. Turner was well pleased with the showing of his men on their second day of real practice but he would make no predictions about first division rating or anything else.

"Everytime we predict big things we go flat. This year there will be no predictions," he said and he snapped his jaw.

Turner thinks his crew is well balanced. The pitching staff looks good on paper, including Bullet Joe Bush, Curtis Fullerton, Jack Knight, Joe Cascarella, leading pitcher of the Eastern League last year, Bob Shanklin, formerly with Wichita of the Western League, Ike Powers, ex-Athletics, Bill Brauer, a rangy Portland home-town flinger, and John Bock, formerly of Salem, Or.

Johnny Bego, veteran catcher, is on the job and worked out today. Turner also had Charley Bates, outfielder, don a mask. The Beaver boss believes he can make him into a receiver. Turner also has confidence in Hal Swain, a Long Beach rookie who seems to have a decided flair for hitting. John Saunders, third string catcher last year, and Ray Vellmer, formerly of the Seals, are also on hand. Jim Keesey seems to have extended his mortgage for another year on first base.

Gale Staley, former Los Angeles second baseman, and Max Hillis, formerly of the Pittsburgh Nationals, are showing up well. George Wuestling, shortstop with the Portland team last year, will probably be there again this year. Leo Budd, ex-University of Missouri, is also trying for the place. Fritz Knothe, third baseman with the team last year, and Jim Cronin, formerly with Little Rock, are holding down the hot spot.

SEATTLE INDIANS TAKE SNAPPY WORKOUT

SAN CLEMENTE, Feb. 26.—The sore flippers were not so much in evidence today at the spring training camp of the Seattle Indians and Manager Ernie Johnson and Coach Walter McCredie sent their charges through fast infield practice, followed by a snappy fanning bee.

Bosses, McCredie and President Bill Klepper got out the notebook today and began putting down facts and figures concerning the situation as regards the chances of the team. One more pitcher, an infielder and an outfielder are needed, it is figured.

Two spots seemed to be cinched in the outfield by Oscar Eckhardt and Dave Barbee. Louie Almada, while showing up well, doesn't seem to have the proper seasoning for a regular berth and may be released.

Seattle is in the market for another fast flychaser and expects to snag one from Detroit. The catching situation is well cared for with four capable performers ready to go. Eddie Ainsmith, whom Klepper tried to trade for Wally Hood, will probably be retained. There seems to be little choice among the other three, Boreanni, Steinicke and Frank Cox. Cox is giving the two veterans a stiff battle for the place. He may be used for trading purposes.

Walter Olney is quite capable of holding down first base, but is getting plenty of competition from "Chili" McDaniel, Melvin Gardner, formerly with Oakland, and Harry Taylor, ex-Mississippi Valley League, are in the running. McCredie has high hopes for Taylor.

SENATORS WORK OUT ON HOME FIELD

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 26. (AP)—The Sacramento Senators of the Pacific Coast League took their first workout on the home park yesterday after spending about ten days in preliminary training at Richardson's Springs in Butte county. The slugging of the squad featured the initial practice on the home lot.

Joe Harris, former major league slugger of note, crashed the left-field wall with his drives and many cleared the wall to the smiles of Manager Buddy Ryan and Owner Lewis Moreing. The entire squad of Solons is so far along in its training at present, it looks as though some time will be taken off to prevent staleness.

WALTER JOHNSON PUTTING HURLERS INTO SHAPE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. (AP)—Walter Johnson, manager of the Washington Senators, has ideas of his own about conditioning pitchers, and he is putting them into effect at the Tampa (Fla.) training camp. Johnson, in his day one of the best pitchers in the big leagues, has told his squad of batterymen on hand that the first thing they should do is to get their bodies into shape and that then their arms would round into condition quickly. In consequence there has been little ball tossing but an unusual amount of setting-up exercises, with some running thrown in by way of diversion.

The pitchers in camp include Brown, Burke, Campbell, Cantrell, Hopkins, Liska, Waver and Hadley. Albert Bool is the only catcher who has reported thus far, though Muddy Ruel was expected today. Bool, who came up from the Southern League, is big and strong and hit .344 last year.

EVERS DELIGHTED WITH JONES'S SHOWING

ST. PETERSBURG (Fla.) Feb. 26. (AP)—Johnny Evers, new coach of the Braves, is delighted with the general showing and especially pleased by the spirit of Percy Jones, veteran southpaw acquired from the Cubs in the Hornsby deal. Although Jones fell heir to a considerable estate last summer and might ordinarily be supposed to be disgruntled at a transfer to the lowly Braves, he has been one of the hardest workers at the camp.

ROOKIE DAY FOR ATHLETICS; VETERANS WATCH WORKOUT

FORT MYERS (Fla.) Feb. 26. (AP)—It was "rookie" day at the Philadelphia Athletics training camp yesterday. Connie Mack's outfit, reinforced by the arrival of four veterans, went through a morning drill and retired later to the grand stand to watch the youngsters try out.

Pitchers Jack Quinn and Howard Ehmke reported, refreshed from a course of baths at Hot Springs, Va. Ossie Orwoll and George Haas also arrived.

Tris Speaker, released by the Athletics last fall so he could manage the Newark International League club, was a visitor yesterday. Micky Cochrane, who signed his 1929 contract last week, was expected today.

BUCKY HARRIS MAY PLAY AND MANAGE BOTH

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 26. (AP)—Bucky Harris already has given the dopesters something to write about. "Does he, or does he not, intend to play this season?"

The question was forced into prominence by the serious manner in which the new manager of the Detroit Tigers worked out at third base in the first practice session of the season.

He spent almost the entire period scooping up sizzling ground balls around third base.

"No, I'm to manage the club," was his answer to the natural question. "But I could either play third or second base if occasion arose." The hotel lobby legion, however, will keep a weather-eye on the position held last year by the veteran Marty McManus.

SEAL STARS ARRIVE AT MONTEREY CAMP

MONTEREY (Cal.) Feb. 26. (AP)—The regulars are slowly arriving at the San Francisco Seals' training camp and today saw the first appearance of Jimmy Caveney, Loris Baker and Johnny Couch.

Gussie Suhr and Walter (Dutch) Ruether were in camp, but neither has signed a contract. Suhr was out in uniform and had a stiff workout. Couch was immensely pleased to join the Seals and spared no time in signing a contract.

Today's practice game turned out to be a pitchers' battle with Coltrin's crew coming out on top of a 3-to-2 score.

PIRATES GO THROUGH SNAPPY WORKOUT

PASO ROBLES (Cal.) Feb. 26. (AP)—A snappy workout featured the practice of the Pittsburgh Pirates in training here today.

Earl Sheely was at first base, Coburn Jones at second and Jim Stroner at third, while Capt. Pie Traynor showed a stellar game at short despite an injured finger.

Young Jones, besides getting everything that came his way, was furnishing pepper for the gang. Sheely was taking things rather easy, it being his second day out. Larry French, the young lefthander obtained from the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League, who has been a holdout, drove up from Ventura where he has been wintering, and held a long conference with Treasurer Sam Dreyfuss. He took a contract home promising a decision tomorrow.

OAKS TURN PAIR OF PLAYERS LOOSE

BAKERSFIELD (Cal.) Feb. 26. (AP)—Pitcher Dick Labate from Denver and Walter Ruhr, a local first sacker, were turned loose today by Manager Howard of the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League in training here.

Today's workout for the Howard men was featured by a seven-inning contest in which the Blue Oaks lost to the White Oaks, 7 to 6.

Frenchy Unhalt, Bakersfield boy, starred as lead-off man for the Whites, with a double and three singles. The score:

BEARS AND BRONCHOS OPEN DIAMOND SEASON

BERKELEY, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) The State College Baseball Association schedule begins tomorrow afternoon for Coach Carl Zamloch's University of California varsity in a match on Hilgard Field with Santa Clara University. The Californians appear to have a winning team this season. The pitching and fielding departments are strong. The hitting strength would stand a bit of bolstering, but Zamloch is not essentially weak, even in this department. During the practice season the Bears have done remarkably well. Zamloch will be slightly handicapped in the season's opener through injuries sustained by four regulars. Marshall Rickson, the hard-hitting left fielder, has a turned ankle; Lefty Sharp, pitcher, has an infected foot; Burgett, outfielder, reports a sprained ankle and Earl Jacobson, veteran pitcher has a sore arm.

McKENZIE PREPS WIN OVER MERCURY CAGERS

The McKenzie Preps, a team composed for the most part of former Manual Arts basketball stars, upset the strong Los Angeles Athletic Club team, A.A.U. champions, by a 47-to-40 score in a game played in the Mercury gym last night. The game ended with the score tied, 37 to 37, which necessitated an extra period.

Don Piper and Bob Finch starred for the preps with 14 and 13 points, respectively. Jones was the high-point man for the Mercuryites with 19 digits. The line-ups:

L.A.A.C. (40)		McKENZIE PREPS (47)
Ketchum (14)	F.	Sturm (10)
Ruckadorf (3)	F.	Piper (14)
Jones (19)	C.	Finch (13)
Lewis (2)	G.	Woods (6)
De Mere	G.	Chapman (4)

ST. MARY'S CAGEMEN DEFEAT SANTA CLARA

BABY SAL WINS BY KAYOE

knockdown finished him for keeps

But in spite of the terrific fusillade of blows Sal poured in, Watters succeeded in scoring a knockdown himself. After weathering the fourth period Watters opened the fifth with a right-hand haymaker which caught Sal on the side of the jaw and knocked him to his knees. The little Mexican boy was up without a count, and surged forward with an attack that was irresistible.

Watters beat Sal last year in the same ring in a ten-round fight, but Sal proved last night that he is stronger and improving with every fight.

WONDERFUL PUNCH

There is no denying his wonderful punch—his short left and right-hand shots to the chin—but the boy is still without an adequate defense and his handlers will be foolish to rush him along unless he is polished in defensive fundamentals. Watters was out to end the bout in a punch, but fought himself out before the fourth round was well under way, and from then on Sal made a punching bag out of him.

The bout had the bugs on their ears with excitement and it was witnessed by 7367 cash customers who paid $7972 for the privilege at bargain prices.

In the semi-wind-up Jimmy Watts, a newcomer from the South, won a well-earned decision over Goldie Hess. Hess did a lot of swinging, but Watts was the cleaner puncher and showed himself master of all situations. This was a ten-rounder.

The special event also went ten rounds with Huerta Evans being returned the winner over Delos Kid Williams in a free-hitting affair which Evans salted away with right-hand uppercuts in the last session.

Chet Gleason defeated Wendell Long in one of the four-round preliminaries and Ole Nasheim won from Johnny Woods in the other four.

Baby Sal weighed 132½ for the main event and Watters 131. Harry Lee was the referee.

COMSTOCK TO VISIT CITIES

Junior Olympic Games Chief to San Bernardino

Also Plans Riverside Stop on Tour Today

Pina and Heap May Again Win Honors

BY BRAVEN DYER

Boyd Comstock, director of the Southern California Junior Olympic Games, will leave this morning for San Bernardino and Riverside to line up these towns for the 1929 program. Coach Comstock will be chauffered by the writer at the wheel of the new Oakland all-American six, placed at the disposal of Junior Olympic Games executives by Reeve Gartzmann, Inc., local agents for the car.

BOYD COMSTOCK

San Bernardino turned out Mike Pina and Rex Heap last year. Mike placed third in the national senior finals at Atlantic City, while Heap, competing in the junior division, grabbed second place to Mushy Pollock of San Diego. Both are eligible for competition this year and it is expected that each will make a determined effort to grab off Southern California laurels and thus win a trip to Atlantic City again.

The two San Bernardino boys are also looking forward to that free journey to the Hawaiian Islands, which has been promised the four athletes who make the highest average in the Southern California finals. Heap just missed out on the trip to the Olympic Games and Amsterdam last summer, Pollock winning the national junior championship in the closing stages of the competition.

Riverside has a flock of promising young athletes and it may be that somebody from this region will force Pina and Heap to take a back seat this season.

INGLEWOOD BOASTS PROMISING YOUNGSTER

John Berry of the Kelso-street school in Inglewood will be heard from in this year's Junior Olympic Games competition. That's the word from David Fuller, student executive of the Inglewood school.

Although only in the third grade last year young Berry became so proficient an athlete that he actually ranked with the fifth and sixth graders when it came to competition. He won honors in the Kelso finals, although later defeated in slightly tougher competition, including other districts. Fuller predicts that Johnny will be hard to beat this year.

INYO COUNTY SCHOOLS TO APPOINT EXECUTIVES

Schools of Inyo county are taking up the Junior Olympic Games program in whole-hearted fashion. This district was not included in the competition last year but from the way things have been moving up north this spring the other counties will have to keep hopping to stay ahead of their rivals.

Ruth W. Leete, superintendent of schools for Inyo county, reports that the district expects to appoint at least twenty-five student executives, which means that this many schools will be competing in the 1929 program.

These student executives, acting as managers in their respective organizations, are proving invaluable in the matter of lining up teams and distributing information on the Junior Olympic Games to their athletes. Each student executive will win an award as the result of his work during the season.

Local Boxers Annex Titles

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 26. (AP)—Amateur boxers of the Olympic Club of San Francisco walked away with honors in the Pacific Coast boxing championship tournament finals tonight by taking three of the eight bouts.

The Young Men's Institute of San Francisco ran second with two while the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the University of Washington and Hollywood Athletic Club each took one bout.

Semi-finals started at 8 o'clock tonight and were completed three hours later as the Simon Pure boxers slung mitts in fast style. Finals took even a faster pace as survivors of elimination eagerly climbed into the ring.

Heavyweight class — Clarence Doyle, Olympic Club, San Francisco, defeated Al Holmes, University of Washington, decision in third.

Flyweight class — Abe Miller, Hollywood Athletic Club, defeated Angelo Fueste, Olympic Club, decision in third.

118-pound class—Bob Martin, San Francisco Young Men's Institute, defeated Walter Mattson, Hollywood Athletic Club, decision in third.

126-pound class—Martin Zuniga, Los Angeles Athletic Club, defeated Dave Walker, University of Washington, in four rounds.

135-pound class—Cerelli, Olympic Club, defeated Ed Edelman, Multnomah Club, technical knockout in second.

147-pound class—John Perdick, University of Washington, defeated Bob Eldred, Washington State College, knockout in first.

160-pound class—Jack Connell, Young Men's Institute of San Francisco, defeated Ted McKay, Spivey's Athletic Club of Portland, by decision in third.

175-pound class—Frank Tucker, Olympic Club of San Francisco, defeated Art Maver, Multnomah Club, decision in third.

FAVORITES ON TOP AT DEL MONTE

Mrs. Kelleher Defeated in First Round Match of Annual Championship

DEL MONTE, Feb. 26. (AP)—With few exceptions, the favorites all won their first round matches easily in the annual Pebble Beach women's golf tournament here today.

The most marked upset was the defeat of Mrs. F. C. Burrowes, Long Island, N. Y., star, by Mrs. J. M. Yount of San Francisco, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Robert Roos of San Francisco won easily from Mrs. Hubert Law San Francisco, 7 and 6.

Mrs. O. E. Riegel of Spokane, Far-Northwest champion, who won medal honors yesterday with a 95, defeated Mrs. Howard Keefer, San Diego, 1 up.

Other results: Mrs. Arthur Letts, Jr., Chicago, defeated Mrs. J. J. Valentine, San Francisco, 8 and 7; Mrs. A. W. Clapp, St. Paul, defeated Mrs. Mildred Kelleher, Pasadena, 3 and 2; Mrs. E. M. Hodges, New York, defeated Mrs. George Davis, San Francisco, 7 and 6; Miss Katherine Christie, Toronto, defeated Mrs. Frank More, San Francisco, 9 and 8; Mrs. Joe Mayo, Monterey, defeated Mrs. Phil Wand, San Francisco, 7 and 6.

OILERS BEATEN IN TRACK MEET

LONG BEACH, Feb. 26.—Coach John Gartner's Wilson High tracksters tore the wrapper of the cinderpath campaign here this afternoon with a twin triumph over the Huntington Beach Oilers. The varsity came through with a 56-43 victory while the Class C athletes followed with a 40-23 win.

A stiff breeze that swept the field throughout and the poor track resulted in slow performances. The best feats of the day was Capt. Lynn's leap of 5 feet 8 inches in the high jump and Bob Redfern's time of 2:08 in the half.

First places in the varsity were divided six-five for Wilson.

Summary:

VARSITY

100-yard dash—Won by Koenig (H.) Hayden (W.) second, Hoagland (W.) third. Time, 10 3-5s.

220-yard dash—Won by Koenig (H.) Hoagland (W.) second, Rogers (W.) third. Time, 24 2-5s.

Final scores: Wilson varsity, 56; Huntington Beach varsity, 43. Wilson class C, 40; Huntington Beach class C, 23.

Bear Oarsmen Hold Initial Competition

BERKELEY, Feb. 26. (Exclusive) Oarsmen of the University of California will try their strokes competitively for the first time this season on Friday afternoon when Coach Ky Ebright lines up the four entries in the annual interclass regatta. The race will probably be over the same one and one-half mile Oakland estuary course as that selected last season.

Ebright is still changing his varsity shell about, with hope of finding the strongest possible combination before the Washington regatta on April 13. Tonight the varsity lined up in this order: Donlon, stroke; Caldwell, 7; Thompson, 6; Dally, 5; Herb Smith, 4; Granger, 3; Bob Smith, 2; Judah, bow; Mullins, cox. In the junior varsity were Jacobsen, stroke; Von Tillow, 7; Workman, 6; Woodward, 5; Fratessa, 4; Pope, 3; Brinck, 2; Hayes, bow; Harvey, cox.

JEFFRIES MAY TAKE OVER EMANUEL FOR SERATTI GO

Armand Emanuel is going to try and boost his stock in the fight racket at the expense of Larry Seratti at the Hollywood American Legion stadium Friday night, and the same can be said of Seratti who has everything to gain and nothing to lose as he isn't known to many guys who follow boxing.

There is a movement on foot to have Jim Jeffries take hold of Young Emanuel and show him the knack of punching. Jeff knows everything there is to know about the fight game and he could undoubtedly show Emanuel more about punching than he knows today. Jeff is willing to give Emanuel some pointers.

If Emanuel can kayo Larry Seratti he stands a good chance of getting what he wants—to fight Paulino Uzcudun. The match is hanging fire and if the fans thought the Jewish fighter had a chance to even floor the Basque it would be a sell-out. Emanuel will try for a knockout when he meets Seratti.

Raymond Lugo was made favorite yesterday over Tommy Liberto. Lugo is a well-known fighter but Liberto is making his first start at Hollywood. Johnny DeCorsey rules a favorite over Sammy Aguirre in the special.

ALHAMBRA PLANS GYM CIRCUS

More than fifty students from Alhambra High have entered a gymnasium circus to be staged under the direction of Claude Turley at the Alhambra High gym this Friday evening. One of the feature events of the evening will be a fencing match between Kubota, Japanese fencing champion, and partner. Tumbling, pyramids, apparatus, French fencing and comic stunts complete the program.

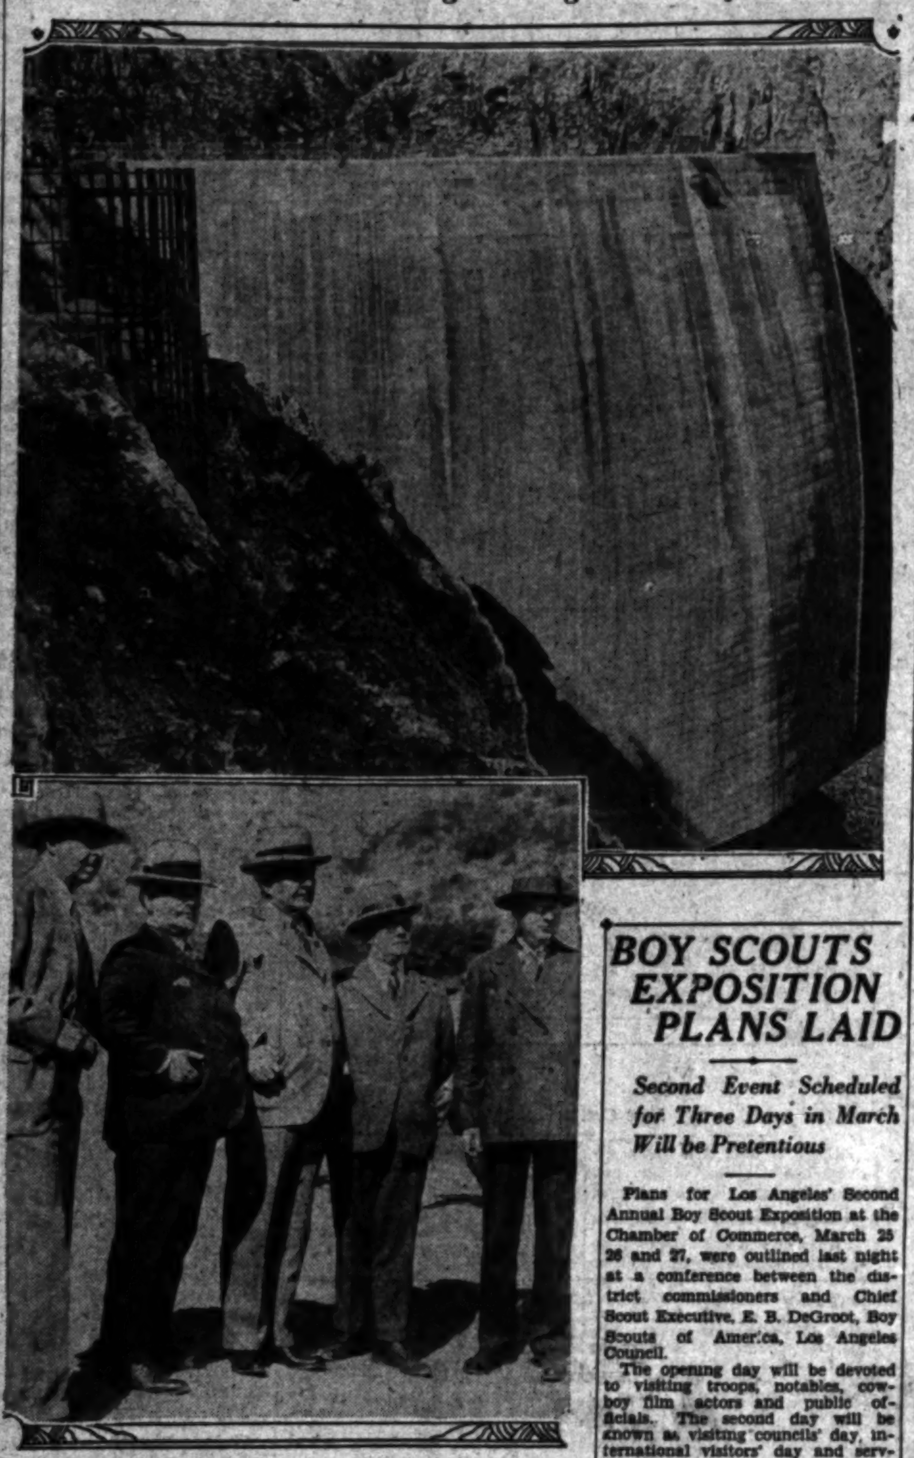
Newly Completed Engineering Feat Inspected



Officials Dine at Construction Camp

Looking downstream at new Pacoima Dam; below are prominent citizens and officials attending dedication: E. C. Eaton, county flood control engineer; Supervisors John C. Shaw, Henry W. Wright, Sydney Graves and Shannon Crandall, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

PACOIMA DAM DEDICATED

Councilmen, Supervisors and Chamber of Commerce Representatives Feted at Site of Project

Formal inspection and dedication of the Pacoima Dam in Pacoima Canyon was made yesterday by the members of the City Council and Board of Supervisors at the construction camp. Stanley C. Bent entertained the representatives of these organizations and members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon in the dining hall at the camp. Bent & Bent were the contractors for the construction work which was under the supervision of Frank L. Livingston.

F. W. Berkshire of Van Nuys presided and introduced the speakers who were Councilman Randall, Chief Engineer Eaton of county flood control, Supervisor Wright, Shannon Crandall, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Bent. Other Councilmen attending were C. J. Colden, Pierson M. Hall, Douglas Foster and J. G. McAllister. The Supervisors present were R. F. McClellan, Sydney Graves, Frank L. Shaw and H. W. Wright. Other guests were John C. Shaw, Los Angeles city engineer; Gordon L. McDonough, manager of the San Fernando branch of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and realty men and Chamber of Commerce representatives of the San Fernando Valley.

The Pacoima Dam is located at a higher elevation than any other such construction in the world. It is 3085 feet above sea level; the wall rises 375 feet and the reservoir can hold 3000 acre feet of water. Construction work began four years ago and there has been no loss of life nor a serious accident to any workman while on the job. Work has progressed at the rate of a foot a day, and for the work of such magnitude, it is exceptional that there has been no serious injury to any workman.

Much interest has been created in engineering circles by the fact that the pressure strength is 50 per cent greater than the contract specified.

Wife Balks at Mate Getting Her Pay Check

Mrs. Audrey Etta Leach testified before Superior Judge Frederickson yesterday that the only time her husband, Cecil Scott Leach, would speak to her and be agreeable around the house was on her pay day.

Mrs. Leach was asking for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty.

"On one occasion," Mrs. Leach declared, "I offered to give him $20 a month out of my salary and pay my own expenses. He grew angry because I would not give all of it to him and he called me a hateful woman and refused to speak to me all evening."

The wife also declared that one Christmas Leach drew $40 from their joint bank account to buy Christmas presents and all he bought her was a little $2.50 compact.

The decree was granted.

UNIONS ASK CITY AID ON CIRCUS JOB

Protests Made on Barnes Show Posting Own Bills; Decision Goes Over

Action by the Police Commission on the application of F. J. Frink of the Al G. Barnes Circus, in which he asked for a permit to post bills in the city to announce the coming of the circus in April, was continued for one week by the commission yesterday, when Frink failed to remain at the meeting long enough to be heard.

Two representatives of Local 32 of the Bill Posters' and Billers' Union, allied with the International Alliance of Bill Posters and Billers, who protested against granting the application, exlained that the circus representative had left the room when they appeared.

The complaint of the union representatives is that the union pays a license of $120 a year and should have, therefore, a monopoly on the bill-posting business in the city.

In response to questions by Commissioners Schweitzer, Gollum and Gilmore the union representatives admitted that other companies had received permits to post their own bills. They explained that the Barnes circus is compelled to use unions for posting bills in other cities and that it is only in Los Angeles the circus provided men for the posting.

The union men, on admitting that the circus carried its own bill posters all around the circuit, naively revealed that the system is for the unions to get the posting permits and that the circus posters do the work under direction of the unionists, "because the latter know the best places for the posters," and for similar reasons. What they wanted, they explained, is to enforce the same system here, in view of the $120 fee to the city and "protection for local industry."

Commissioner Thorpe expressed hearty agreement with the union representatives. The other commissioners, however, asserted there are no ordinances granting the circus its own bill-posting permit. The commission continued the matter to hear from the circus representative.

BOY SCOUTS EXPOSITION PLANS LAID

Second Event Scheduled for Three Days in March Will be Pretentious

Plans for Los Angeles' Second Annual Boy Scout Exposition at the Chamber of Commerce, March 25, 26 and 27, were outlined last night at a conference between the district commissioners and Chief Scout Executive, E. B. DeGroot, Boy Scouts of America, Los Angeles Council.

The opening day will be devoted to visiting troops, notables, cowboy film actors and public officials. The second day will be known as visiting councils' day, international visitors' day and service club day, when Scouts north to Bakersfield, east to San Bernardino and south to San Diego will participate. The closing day will be given over to the awarding of prizes and badges to troops and scouts for work accomplished during the year, and the presenting of booth awards for the best exhibits.

Sixty-eight booths will occupy space on the floor, each representing a phase of Boy Scout work. This demonstration, in the form of a graphic display for which complete models and life-size exhibits now as being built by the boys themselves, will prove a valuable and instructive work, according to Mr. De Groot, and an amazing revelation to persons who believe a Boy Scout is only "a little fellow in short pants who helps old people."

A feature of the exposition will be the international flavor lent the affair by the attendance of Chinese, Japanese and Mexican troops

Horse Dealers Take Trouble Before Judge

In the dim and misty past a lawsuit over horses in Californy caused no comment.

Nowadays, in the hectic era of the motor vehicle, a lawsuit over horses is so much out of the ordinary that it is news.

So the case brought by D. Guy Welty, horseman, against Robert (Bob) Henry, also a horseman, which went to trial yesterday before Superior Judge Price, is being watched with keen interest by the old-time court attaches around the Courthouse and others who fondly remember the days when there was right smart of litigation hereabouts over hosses.

Welty asserts he sent four horses to the defendant which were to be sold by the latter, Henry to retain 20 per cent of the proceeds. This was in September, 1927. Later in the fall, Welty contends, Henry sold the animals and failed to turn over the amount of the proceeds due the plaintiff.

Henry, in his answer, denies Welty's accusations.

Wife Divorces 'Modern' Mate

When Edmund R. Paul took girls to the cemetery for petting parties and his wife, Mrs. Sarah A. Paul, objected, he told her she was old-fashioned; that that was the way modern husbands do, she testified yesterday in Superior Judge Burnell's court at the hearing on her petition for a divorce.

Mrs. Paul also testified her husband spent much of his earnings on other women.

WAY CLEAR FOR STREET JOB

The way was cleared for the adoption of the final ordinances for the improvement of Angeles Mesa Drive between Exposition Boulevard and Vernon avenue and of Orlando avenue between Beverly Boulevard and Third street by the City Council yesterday when it denied the protests against the ordinances of intention for both improvements. The action was merely a formality, since there was no protest against the Angeles Mesa project and only one on the Orlando-avenue job.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the lovely affairs planned in honor of a popular bride-elect of the season is the evening of bridge and linen shower which Miss Cecile Vigne, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fernand Vigne, is giving Friday evening at the home of her parents in Browning Boulevard, honoring Miss Isabelle Turton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Turton of Wedgewood Place, whose wedding with Ensign Paul Ramsey of Columbus, O., is to be a brilliant event of April 8, the ceremony to take place in St. James Church.

Miss Vigne is to assist as maid of honor at the ceremony. She and Miss Turton are members of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority at the University of Southern California.

Those included will be Misses Jane De Lahunt, Maurine Maupin, Jane Foster, Bobbie Campbell, Dorothy Campbell, Jane Word, Vernettia Sweet, Kay Wessling, Constance Vachon, Marjorie Snow, Eric Shepard, Margaret Shiller, Helen Morlan, Malvino Pozzo, Dorothy King, Woodie Lou Hunsaker, Alice Flowers, Marion Pezell, Dorothy Fenstamaker, Doris Corum, Ruth Carr, Helen Campbell, Catherine Colwell, Betty Bruce, Marguerite Swope, Patricia Vigne, Mrs. Ben Bard, Mrs. Thomas Young, Mrs. Edward Lesperance, Mrs. John E. Turton, Mrs. Fernand Vigne, the hostess and honor guest.

For Brides-Elect

Honoring two brides-elect of the season, Miss Winifred Walker and Miss Dorothy Burt, a charmingly appointed bridge-tea was given Saturday afternoon at the Mary Louise by Mrs. Russell Boyden Jones of 535 North Alexandria avenue. Miss Walker, who is a niece of the hostess, will wed Archie Nisbet, former University of California football star, March 25, in Pomona. She attended Pomona College for three years but for the past year has devoted her time to music. Miss Burt is the fiancee of the hostess' brother, John Findlay. Their wedding plans are still indefinite, but the wedding probably will take place some time in the summer.

Miss Burt was graduated from the University of Iowa and is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority, while Mr. Findlay is an alumnus of Pomona College. Twenty guests were bidden, friends of the honor guests, and the Valentine motif was attractively carried out in the flowers used on the tea table, as well as in all of the appointments, tally scores, place cards and favors.

Delightful Affair

Honoring the distinguished portrait painter, Antonin Sterba of Chicago, Jules Kievits gave a beautifully appointed tea yesterday afternoon at the Vista Del Arroyo in Pasadena. Assisting as hostesses were Dr. Lorena M. Breed, Miss Barbara Blankenhorn, Mrs. Arthur W. Colby, Miss Eleanor Hague, Mrs. Frederick Henrichs, Mrs. Euclid W. McBride, Baroness De Stackelberg, Mrs. Charles D. Seeberger, Mrs. Elizabeth Simmons and Mrs. Sidney Wood.

Parker-Bryce

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ella Mae Parker to Don G. Bryce, the ceremony taking place Monday the 18th inst., at the home of Mrs. Virginia C. Sutton, 1024 Manzanita avenue. The bride was charming in a becoming gown of orchid velvet trimmed with pearls, and following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to members of the bridal party and a few close friends. The bride is an accomplished musician, having been a pupil of Mrs. Sutton. After concluding her school career in Oklahoma City she entered the business world and became one of the most successful independent oil operators. She also has made a reputation as an avistrix, having driven her own plane, and came to Southern California last fall to visit relatives and friends in Los Angeles, and met Mr. Bryce, whom she had known for years, the meeting culminating in the wedding of last week.

Mr. Bryce is known as a successful mining and oil operator, having passed many years in the great mining districts of Alaska.

After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Bryce will return and make their future home in Beverly Hills.

Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hook have been entertaining Mrs. George Herrmann and her daughter, Miss Adele Herrmann, who came from their home in Vancouver, B. C., to attend the recent horse show. Miss Herrmann is an accomplished equestrienne, and has ridden in a number of classes in the exhibition.

Miss Eleanor Hook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hook, entertained with a beautifully appointed luncheon at the Elks' Club for a number of out-of-town visitors who came to attend the show.

Among the guests were Mrs. Herrmann, Miss Herrmann, and Miss Janet Drysdale, all of Vancouver, Mrs. Wayne Keyes of Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. Belle Riggle of Palm Springs, Norman Rysdale and George Irvine of Vancouver, and Mrs. Hook.

Several Affairs

Rudolph Ganz, who is to be the soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra Thursday evening and Friday afternoon, is having many social functions planned in his honor.

This evening Mrs. Bjorn Foss (Edna Gunnar Peterson) is entertaining members of the Ganz Club at her residence, 229 South Harvard Boulevard, with a dinner in honor of the pianist-conductor. Following tomorrow evening's concert Mrs. George Leslie Smith will entertain with a supper at her home.

Friday evening Mr. Ganz will be the honor guest at a dinner to be given by the Ganz Club of Los Angeles at Montmartre; guests to include Mr. and Mrs. Georg Schneevoigt, Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blissett Fix, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, Mrs. Norah L. Fairbaugh, Mrs. Leola Getze, Mr. and Mrs. Bjorn Foss, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Stevenson, Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hall, Mrs. Pearl Brittain and Miss Lillian Boulter.

Honor Visitors

Gorham Kimball King and his sister, Miss Anne King of San Francisco and Red Bluff have been visiting in the Southland, having come down to attend the horse show. While in Los Angeles they are guests of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gibbs, at their San Marino home. Among the affairs given in their honor was that with which Wadsworth Harris, a boyhood friend and classmate of Mr. King, entertained.

Council Backs Assessments

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Seventeenth Place between Orchard avenue and Vermont avenue, and for the opening and extending of Wyandotte street between North Sherman Way (or Van Nuys Boulevard) and Kester avenue.

Action on the confirmation of the assessments for the widening of La Brea avenue between Wilshire Boulevard and Country Club Drive was postponed to June 21 on motion of Councilman Webster, who said the property owners are not yet ready to undertake the project, the cost of which, including damage awards, will be $275,700. Meanwhile the Street Opening and Widening Committee probably will hold another hearing on the matter.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy
author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped addressed envelope for reply.

MILK DIETS

If there is a definite ulcer of the stomach or small intestine, or even a severe gastritis, it is sometimes necessary to use an exclusive milk diet until the inflammation has subsided. Only small quantities of milk should be taken at a time and under a regular schedule to avoid having the milk form in large curds. It may be advisable to use a small amount of milk of magnesia in addition to the cow's milk. My usual procedure is to give the patient an eight-ounce glass of raw or certified milk at one-hour intervals as long as he remains awake, although sometimes a smaller quantity is indicated.

The milk should be slightly warmed by placing the glass in a pan of warm water. The water must not be hot enough to pasteurize the milk, however. A good way to test the temperature of the water is to place the hand in the water and allow the water to reach a temperature as hot as can be permitted, or about 130 deg. Fahrenheit. If the water is no hotter than this the milk will not be pasteurized but warmed just enough to sooth an irritated stomach.

No water should be used with this diet, and the patient is not usually thirsty because of the large amount of water contained in the milk. The milk should be sipped slowly and taken exactly on a one-hour schedule. If taken on the forty-five-minute schedule one time, and an hour-and-a-half schedule at another, the milk will not agree with the patient, and one who is suffering cannot afford to be careless. Pure Holstein milk should be used and no extra cream added. It is sometimes advisable to precede each glass of milk with a teaspoonful of lemon juice to assist in the digestion of the milk.

If an ulcer exists, the patient should remain in bed for at least two or three weeks, and while taking this diet it is a good plan to use hot applications on the abdomen in the region of the stomach and if possible a large therapeutic lamp may be used several times daily.

Massage treatments should be used over the entire body. To retain his strength the patient should exercise in bed, using tensing exercises for the arms and legs. While the patient may arise to go to the toilet as often as necessary, he should be back in bed as soon as possible to keep the abdominal muscles relaxed.

After all soreness has disappeared from the abdomen upon pressure, the patient can cautiously change to another food. As soon as the acute symptoms have subsided, the patient should be encouraged to leave the bed and walk as much as possible, taking care not to bring on further irritation of the stomach by any too violent exercise.

You may expect two or three months to elapse before the ulcers and inflammation have sufficiently healed to adopt a general diet regimen, and by this time the patient should be thoroughly familiar with the changes necessary in his dietetic habits to prevent any subsequent development of ulcers.

In tomorrow's article I will tell about the citrus and vegetable-broth diets.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Discarding Glasses

Question: J. H. writes: "I have worn glasses for about ten years, but recently after reading some literature I have discarded them. Will this be helpful or injurious to the eyes, or is there anything I can do to help them?"

Answer: The eyes bear a close relation to health and you should not discard the glasses without consulting an optometrist. There are some exercises which can be used which will in many cases strengthen the eyes so that glasses may eventually be discarded.

Melba Toast and Milk

Q.: E. J. B. asks: "Would Melba toast with milk, either hot or cold, be harmful or could it be used as a meal?"

A.: Melba toast does not make a good meal by itself. It is prescribed in my diets mainly to take the place of bread in the diet, as both toast and milk have a tendency to produce constipation. It is not wise to use them at the same time unless a large amount of leafy green vegetables are used with the milk and toast combination.

Chewing

Q.: K. G. F. asks: "Is it necessary to chew on both sides of the mouth? I had two teeth extracted from my lower left molars so that I became in the habit of chewing with the right side of my mouth. Would it be all right to continue chewing in this way?"

A.: It is better to use both sides of the jaw in chewing. The side that is not used becomes weakened through lack of exercise and the remaining teeth may gather deposits which will cause decay of the teeth or inflammation of the gum. One should keep the teeth in good condition and if the fibrous, tough foods are chewed, the diseases affecting the teeth and the gums can usually be avoided.

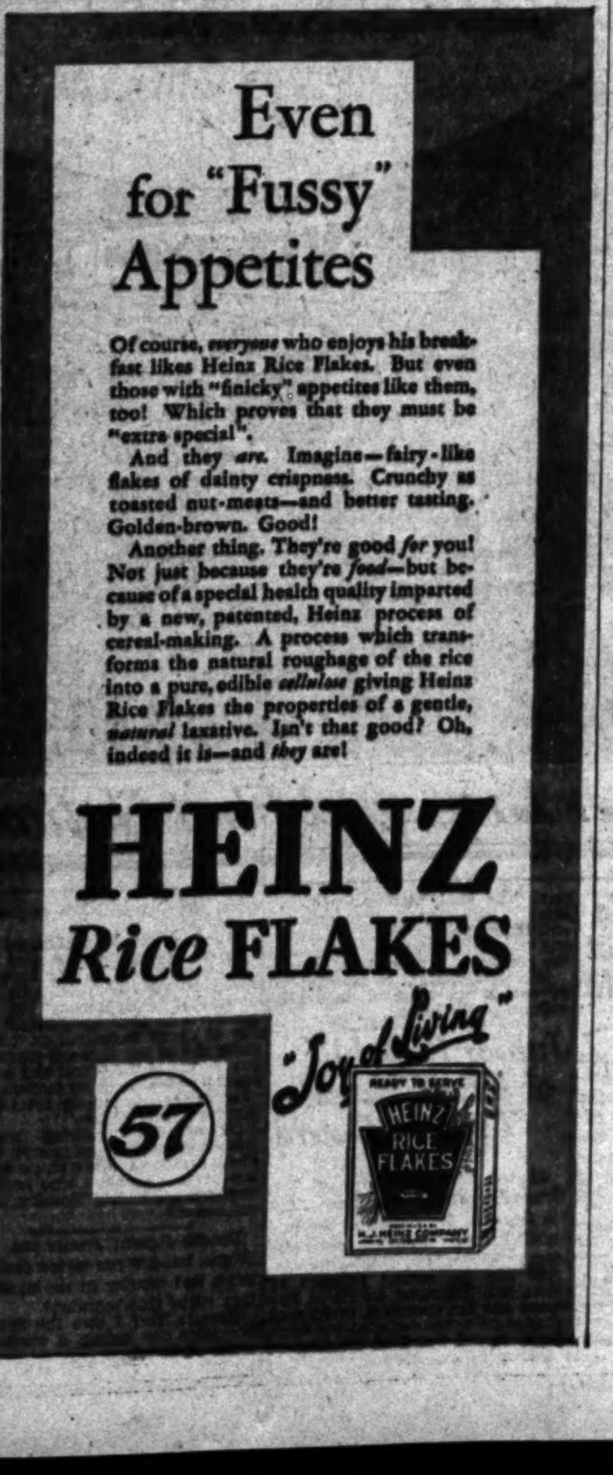
PIANO MAN VISITS CITY

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bretzfelder of New York City are stopping at the Windsor Apartments. Mr. Bretzfelder is president of the Krakauer Piano Company of New York, and they have been in San Francisco, where Mrs. Bretzfelder was a delegate to the convention of United Jewish Congregations.



Even for "Fussy" Appetites

Of course, everyone who enjoys his breakfast likes Heinz Rice Flakes. But even those with "finicky" appetites like them, too! Which proves that they must be "extra special".

And they are. Imagine—fairy-like flakes of dainty crispness. Crunchy as toasted nut-meats—and better tasting. Golden-brown. Good!

Another thing. They're good for you! Not just because they're food—but because of a special health quality imparted by a new, patented, Heinz process of cereal-making. A process which transforms the natural roughage of the rice into a pure, edible cellulose giving Heinz Rice Flakes the properties of a gentle, natural laxative. Isn't that good? Oh, indeed it is—and they are!

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

HIS OWN WORK

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

Almost the hardest lesson we parents have to learn is to let the child fumble through his task in his own way and achieve something at last which looks lamentably imperfect to our adult eyes. Our own hands are so swift and sure, and we are so eager to have the children do things well that it seems almost impossible for us to stay silent and keep our hands off.

Patsy, aged four, has a scrap book. She sits for an hour at a time cutting out pictures and pasting them in. When she received the book a few simple directions were given her; after that she was left to herself. It is a temptation constantly to guide her scissors, to warn her about the amount of paste on the brush, to show her how to place the pictures straight, and arrange them neatly and pleasantly upon the pages.

But she receives help only when she asks for it. Her book is very pasty; some pages are crowded with large pictures and others have only a few small ones. Almost none is pasted in straight. But they are all right side up and the paste has been applied to only one side. Patsy likes the book better than any other one she has. With all its imperfections it should, therefore, be considered a complete success.

In judging a child's work we must remember that our own standards do not matter—the way the child feels about what he has done is all that really counts. As the small child's skill and knowledge develop the quality of his work will gradually improve.

The youngster who during his early years is subject to perpetual help and criticism becomes wearied by the strain, and is made unhappy under a constant sense of failure, losing interest at last in activities which might have given him much joy.

Cookery Expert Demonstrates

Frank Decatur White, author of "Table Talk Cook Book," is attracting crowds during his second week on the Broadway's eighth floor.

Heads of domestic science departments in public schools and colleges, chefs and other authorities on cooking are among Mr. White's auditors.

Mr. White makes cake-making "fool-proof," so to speak. Never does he fail to slam the oven door, but the cake comes out light as a feather.

The lectures begin at 2:30 each afternoon in a specially arranged section on the Broadway's eighth floor.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HELP THE CHILDREN UNDERSTAND TEACHER'S TRIALS

A Devoted Reader writes: "Some time ago I read in your column a letter written by some mother about the meanness of a teacher. There are some mothers who cannot manage one child, and yet they expect a teacher to manage forty or fifty.

"Very often my children come home from school and complain, and if I wanted to be mean I could blame the teacher, but I always ask the children what they did to make the teacher cross and inevitably I get the truth from them. Then I tell them how hard it is for the teacher and how much they can help her, if they will. I have no more complaints now.

"Most children dread going to school at first, but if parents are going to coddle them, they just have to blame the teacher. I think the best thing parents can do is to refuse to listen to every little tale told by their children. Scoldings won't hurt them."

Answer: The tactful handling of children takes into account that part of their day will be spent in school. You are exactly right when you say that the parents who are most severe to their own children, or who can't manage them at home, very often are highly incensed when the teacher tries to manage the children at school.

I differ with you on one point. It is better that the children come home and tell the parents what has happened in school. Then with the parents' greater wisdom and experience they can show the child how it is possible for the teacher to be cross and how by behaving better in school, they can help her and help themselves. Once talked out, it no longer remains a sore spot, and if the parent is wise enough not to take the child's part against the teacher, she can be a great help to both. If there is trouble about the child, the parent should go directly to the teacher and talk things out with her. Talking to the child and disparaging the teacher only makes the child antagonistic toward her, and nothing is gained by that, for then the child refuses to co-operate and his school days are wasted in conflict.

If the teacher is more severe than the parent thinks is necessary, it still will not hurt the child if he is made to understand her provocations, and if in turn his parents give him enough freedom in the home to balance the severity in the school. Life is not all sweetness and light, even though the poets would have us believe so, and the child who has sensible treatment at home and a balancing degree of freedom and love will not be harmed by adjusting himself to a teacher who is overly strict. The adjustment may be excellent for him.

CLOG DANCING CLASS WILL OPEN TONIGHT

A class in clog dancing will start today at 6 p.m. at the Y.W.C.A., 941 South Figueroa street. The course will include eight lessons. Miss Alma Lofberg, instructor, will teach the latest steps in clog and soft shoe dancing. March 4 six gymnastic and five swimming classes will be organized for new pupils. These classes will meet mornings, afternoons and evenings. Special classes for children in dancing and swimming will begin Saturday. High school girls will have instruction in swimming only on Saturdays at 10 a.m. The term in the gymnasium classes will go from March 1 to June 15, or a course of fifteen weeks, two lessons a week.

SAFETY PLANE STANDS TESTS

Pioneer Aeronaut Reports on "Craft of Future"

Ship Rises Quickly and Lands in Small Space

Four Blades Aid Lifting and Slow Descent

An airplane capable of landing in a space no longer than its wing spread, able to take off in only a few hundred feet and attain a speed of more than 100 miles an hour, no longer is in the experimental stage, but has proved its practicability through many flights.

DR FORD A CARPENTER FRR

This was the statement brought here from an eastern city by Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, pioneer aeronaut and manager of the department of meteorology and aeronautics of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, on his return to his office yesterday from Washington where he lectured at the War College, maintained by the United States War Department.

SAW WRIGHT FLIGHT

"I witnessed the first flight of two men in a Wright airplane twenty-five years ago at Fort Meyer, W. Va.," Dr. Carpenter said, "and I got the same thrill out of seeing this latest development in aircraft take off, as I did as an official observer of the historical flight."

The plane which Dr. Carpenter predicts will revolutionize air travel is termed an autogyro plane and was flown before a small group of aircraft experts at a secret exhibition.

It is not the plane which has been given recent widespread publicity, although its principle is the same. New design and development by European engineers have made the craft foolproof, Dr. Carpenter stated.

HAS LIFTING BLADES

"The four blades on a shaft extending above the plane whirl while the plane in in flight," Dr. Carpenter pointed out. "The blades have no motor power, but they increase the lift of the plane, increase its speed and let it down gently at the will of the pilot.

"I saw the plane practically stand on its tail at the takeoff, step up to 100 miles an hour, then slacken to half its speed when the ordinary propeller at its nose slowed down, stop its forward motion completely and settle to the ground at only fifteen feet a second. Two-foot shock absorbers took up the slight jolt and the plane was down.

TYPE COMING PLANE

"This type of ship is the coming thing and California with its natural flying climate will be among the first sections of the world in its development."

More progress in flying has been made in the last three months than in the year preceding that time, Dr. Carpenter stated. He pointed out that investments in airports in the United States represent approximately $400,000,000 at the present time.

As a result of his thirty-one years of experience as a Federal Weather Bureau observer, Dr. Carpenter has found that conditions here are more favorable to aviation development than any section of the country.

This accounts, he said, for the presence of 25 per cent of the nation's airplane pilots and 35 per cent of the airplane mechanics making their headquarters here.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Sally Eilers will be the guest of honor at the Montmartre this evening when one of the gayest events of the year will take place. Besides the popular dancing contest, for which Miss Eilers will act as judge, the May Company will stage another of a series of fashion shows.

A feature of the evening will be the unveiling of an exhibit of painted photographs of screen celebrities. The portraits, which are the work of Bogard Leon of Paris, will include those of John Barrymore, Laura La Plante, Marion Davies, Fay Wray and Norma Shearer.

TEA SHOP POPULAR

Polly's Patio Tea Shop, located on West Seventh street at Lhatto Place is a popular rendezvous for the society elite, who gather there daily for luncheon or afternoon teas. The elegantly appointed tea room, delicious foods and ample parking facilities are the reasons for its popularity. Special accommodations are offered for parties, clubs and banquets. Mr. Winters, proprietor, also owns and operates the Polly's Cheerio, located on Hill between Sixth and Seventh streets.

ORCHESTRA DRAWS CROWD

Return to the Southland of Henry Halstead's Victor recording orchestra for its engagement in the new Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel in Hollywood has resulted in the social elite, screen notables and the younger college set adopting the Roosevelt as the scene of their dinner and dance parties.

Many collegians are planning parties for next Friday night, which will mark the third of the college nights in the Blossom Room. Lloyd Thomas, star U.S.C. halfback, will be the guest of honor.

RESTAURANT MEN GUESTS

Sidney Hoedemaker, president, and other officials of the Los Angeles Restaurant Association now in convention at the Alexandria, have been invited as guests of the Pom Pom, Hollywood, tonight when a special performance of "Hollywood Follies" will be staged in their honor.

The Pom Pom girls, led by Maxine Rios, Spanish dancer, will appear in a promenade number, costumed to represent the Pig'n Whistle, Victor Hugo, Marchetti's, Mary Louise and other prominent restaurants.

ROTISSERIE MAINTAINED

In addition to being one of the finest cafes in the city, Marchetti's situated in Western avenue at Fifth street also is one of the most modern Rotisseries. Here meats and chicken are cooked in the latest scientific manner. A large assortment of French and Italian delicacies are constantly on hand.

STARS SPONSOR SHOW

Doris Dawson, Salley Blane and six other 1929 Wampas Baby stars will sponsor one of the most pretentious fashion shows held in Los Angeles to take place tomorrow noon in Madame Helene's tea room, at J. J. Haggarty's, Seventh and Grand. This is the second of a series of fashion pageants sponsored by screen stars. The parade of the mannequins will be held during the luncheon hours. According to reservations now made a large crowd is expected.

RENDEZVOUS THRONGED

Since the new Vernon Country Club was opened by George Boldie, local clubman, and Tommy Jacobs of Ship Cafe fame, the southeastern part of the city once more has become a favorite rendezvous for nightly throngs.

The program of entertainment includes Mel Calish and Jane Jones with Dave Snell's orchestra furnishing a brand of novelty renditions that made the cafe famous in earlier days.

DELICACIES IMPORTED

Many European delicacies served only in the famous cafes of Paris and Rome are imported direct to the Paris-Rome Cafe, on Wilcox street near Hollywood Boulevard, it is announced by L. Tinti, proprietor. French and Italian dinners are featured with an a la carte service for those who dine there after the theater. Large comfortable booths have been installed for patrons wishing to dine in privacy.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fackley entertained Mr. and Mrs. Mike Woolridge of Tonopah, Nev., with a dinner dansant last week in the Patio Restaurant and Tea Garden, located on Beverly Boulevard, west of Fairfax avenue. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mead of Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis of Long Beach, Mrs. Mary Kirkow, Mrs. Nettie Eilers, Miss Katherine Smith of Tonopah, and Miss Maxine Elliott.

Poison Money

The Bank of England has made official denial of the rumor that her new one-pound bank notes, printed in green, have a dangerous arsenic content. It might have been poetic for Uncle Sam to have spread such a rumor regarding our United States greenbacks, for then perhaps Europe would have been less keen in their pursuit.—[New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Jewish Women's Charity Banquet Occurs Tonight

Leaders in the social world, a number of leaders of the stage, and screen, and many of the best-known business personages of Los Angeles will gather tonight in the ballroom of the Biltmore for the charity banquet of the Los Angeles section of the National Council of Jewish Women, it was announced last night.

More than 1000 places have been reserved, some of them selling for as high as $100, although the regular rate per cover was placed at $10, but the object of the banquet has appealed to a large number and the bonus on the original price has proved a financial aid to the sponsors. The local organization operates a lodge for undernourished children on Lookout Mountain without cost to parents, and the work has received the approval of all.

The affair tonight is expected to be one of the most brilliant and colorful of the season.

Junior Republic of Chest Names Trustee Board

At the annual meeting of the Community Chest's California Junior Republic Association at the Republic near Chino, yesterday, George Hume, Mrs. Charles Stinchfield and Dr. Robert Millikan of Pasadena, Raymond Smith of Pomona and Dr. George S. Sumner of Claremont were re-elected for three years to the board of trustees, of which Roy Jones of Los Angeles is president.

Reports of the superintendent and standing committees revealed the following gifts as having been received during the past year: A steam-cooking equipment for the kitchen from Mrs. Anna Bissell McCay of South Pasadena, an anonymous gift of an eighteen-passenger bus for use of the school and a farrowing pen with other modern appliances for the piggery from Fred Bixby of Long Beach.

Crombie Allen, retiring trustee, announced a fund, the interest from which should provide a shield to the boy of the Republic who best exemplifies the motto, "Nothing Without Labor."

Deacon Brown: Excuse me, Mr. Peewit, but are you aware that you put a bad quarter in the contribution plate this morning?

Peewit: Yes; I owe the heathen a grudge for eating a missionary uncle of mine!

Insuring Sick Men as End Approached Said to Have Netted Couple Large Sum

Accused of an assertedly novel scheme to swindle insurance companies out of large sums of money, Ben F. Doke, and his wife, Flora Doke, were arrested yesterday near Anaheim by Deputy United States Marshal Rice and Postoffice Inspector Haynes, the latter of Oklahoma.

Doke and his wife, who were running a fruit stand near Anaheim, are accused of using the mails to defraud. It is stated that while living near Joplin, Mo., the pair applied for insurance for men known to be ill and about to die and that the husband, a healthy man, represented himself as the other man, thus passing the physical examination. It was stated that in this manner the couple obtained about $32,000.

The Liberty Assurance Company of Birmingham, Ala., is said to have lost heaviest from the operations of the Dokes. They were arrested on a warrant issued at Tulsa, Okla. Doke was placed in County Jail in default of $5000 bail, but his wife, because of the necessity of caring for four small children, was allowed to go on her own recognizance. Hearing on removal to Oklahoma was set for March 1 before United States Commissioner Head.

Frauds in Bank Charged to Pair

Complaints charging misapplication of bank funds were filed yesterday before United States Commissioner Head against E. A. Carroll, former manager, and William M. Gunder, former assistant manager of the Vernon branch of the Merchants' National Trust and Savings Bank, now a branch of the Bank of America.

It is charged that during a period of two years the two misapplied about $660,000 of bank funds. Asst. U.S. Atty. Layng recommended bail of $10,000 each. Both men are under arrest.

ORATORY PRIZE TOTALS MOUNT

About $130,000 to be Given Winning Students

South American Tour Cost Largest of Items

Sevres Vase Worth $2000 to Be Final Award

Estimates from national headquarters at Washington, D. C., of the Sixth National and Fourth International Oratorical Contest place the total value of prizes to be offered this year at $130,000.

The largest single item in this list will be the cost of the South American tour, to be given to the eight national finalists and their chaperons, which will total $23,000.

The most dazzling trophy ever offered to secondary-school students is the Sevres vase, presented by the French government as the grand prize for the international phase of the contest. This trophy, valued at $2000, will be the goal toward which secondary-school pupils in twenty-one nations now are working.

MANY PRIZES

While the spirit basic in the contest is the advancement of individual effort toward educational understanding of the Constitution and a higher standard of American citizenship without thought of monetary gain, it is interesting to note what may be attained by the student of California under the sponsorship of The Times who goes through and becomes winner of the international grand climax of the oratorical contest. Such a winner will receive the prizes offered by the local newspaper, civic organizations or service clubs of his home town to the winner of the school elimination.

If there is an interscholastic finals in the particular district of which that school is a part, again special prizes, generally speaking, are to be offered. These minor prizes vary in different communities, and take the form of medals, loving cups and in some cases cash prizes. The district finals are reached and the winner will receive from The Times $25. A second and third prize of $15 and $10, respectively, also will be paid.

LARGER AWARD

This winner now has progressed to The Times grand finals, which are to be held in Los Angeles May 3. The first prize here is $500. The less fortunate scholars will receive five additional prizes of $250, $100, $50, $35 and $25, in order named. This places the progressing student as a contestant in the Zone Six, Pacific Coast finals, where competitors are met from Montana, Washington, Territory of Hawaii, Utah, Oregon, Arizona and Nevada, representing the Pacific Southwest. The prize for the winner of this stage of the contest has not been announced.

Winning this elimination the student now proceeds to the national capital and is pitted against the winners of the other seven zones of the United States. As a competitor in the national finals, whether he wins or not, he is guaranteed the three months' tour of South America with all expenses paid.

IMPORTANT TRIP

Words can hardly picture the tribute our student will receive on this tour as a favored exponent of forensic ability, known for his love of country—the pronoun "his" being used in the biblical sense, as it may be a young woman—an example of American patriotism, perhaps a future American ambassador in the making, but best of all will be the educational return which will result from the detailed inspection of the Southern Hemisphere.

The assumption carried one step further, our student wins the international grand climax, receives the Sevres vase and is proclaimed "champion high-school orator of the world."

Concurrent with this assumption of the progression of our student it it at point to note that contestants in the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution in the past have almost universally progressed along forensic lines and in scholarship on advancing to college training.

PAST RECORDS

Herbert Wenig, a student of Hollywood High School, who won the international grand finals in 1928, won second place and $1000 in the national intercollegiate oratorical contest last year. Carl Albert, winner of the 1928 college contest and of $1500, was a National Oratorical Contest finalist in 1927. Philip H. Glatfelter, Princeton, and Paul V. Keyser, Jr., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, collegiate finalists, also were trained in the secondary-school contest.

"I have never had any greater influence in my life or a more vital strengthening incentive than that of the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution," said Wenig on a recent visit to Los Angeles from Stanford University.

Paroled Killer Victim of Fall from Street Car

Identification as a wife slayer was made yesterday of a man who died Monday as the result of a fractured skull in a fall from a street car at North Main street and Avenue 21.

Police identified him as Jack Wilson, alias Joe Wert, 49 years of age, with no known address. February 8, 1917, West shot and killed his wife at 1204 South Maple avenue. He was sentenced to San Quentin for ten years to life, and on July 14, 1927, he was paroled.

Since then he has been arrested three times for drunkenness.

WORLD PROBLEMS ECONOMIST'S TOPIC

International problems will be discussed by an expert on the subject before students of the University of California at Los Angeles tomorrow. The speaker is Dr. Ruzena Lukavska Stuerm, who has been sent on tour by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Dr. Stuerm, born in Bohemia, was educated chiefly in the United States. She received her master's degree at Columbia.

VERBALISTS CHATTER RECORD

Mouth Marathon Marks Mowed Down

Treating Tired Tongues

IN THE dark, silent hours of yesterday morning when most of the world was slumbering a new chapter in history was written when, at 3:30 o'clock the two remaining marathon chatterboxes at the Cinderella Roof brought their feat of endurance to a close. For thirty-one days these brave lads have been carrying on and had it not been for a badly swollen ankle which caused one of them to fall by the wayside the chances are they would be sputtering yet.

Al Johnson, retail druggist, has earned the title of the world's longest-distance talker, and Russell Secrest, vaudeville cartoonist, holds second place. Others who placed were Howard Reitmeier, who was going strong in third position until Sunday morning, when he nearly swallowed his tongue; Emil Pelle Ostlin, fourth, and Lee Castle, fifth.

The winner and runner-up were rushed to the office of Dr. P. A. Mullikin where they were given first aid treatments. According to the doctor both were suffering from fast heart action and slow reflexes, swollen feet and ankles, headaches, swollen tongues and fatigue.

Secrest didn't drop out of the race because his jaws failed him or his voice or anything so obvious as that, but because the constant strain of thirty-one days' almost continuous standing proved too much for his ankles.

QUIZ BEGUN ON CINEMA "SCHOOLS"

Police Commission Acts to Determine if They Shall Be Put Under Regulation

An investigation of so-called "movie schools" to decide whether they should be placed under the jurisdiction of the police department was authorized in a resolution passed by the Police Commission yesterday. The commission appointed a committee for the investigation.

The commission's action followed receipt of a communication from the Motion Picture Producers, Inc. The latter had requested the City Council to pass an ordinance regulating the schools and the Council's Public Welfare Committee referred the request to the Police Commission.

The communication from the producers states that the latter for six years have received numerous complaints and expresses the view "that hundreds of gullible people would be saved money and disillusionment" by regulations of the schools.

The commission was informed that the Better Business Bureau and other civic organizations are back of the plan for the proposed regulation.

Youth Killed by "Unloaded" Gun in Fall

Robert Kuhle, 13 years of age was killed instantly yesterday by the discharge of a revolver, dropped according to police reports, from the hands of his playmate Earl Beresford, the same age, of 110[illegible] South Kingsley Drive.

The boys were playing in front of Kuhle's home, 1136 South Ardmore avenue, Beresford told the police of Georgia-street station, when Kuhle rested to munch an apple. Whereupon Beresford began examining a .32 caliber gun given him, he said, by Berkley Mast, a neighborhood playmate of 14, and which he did not know was loaded. The weapon accidentally slipped from his grasp and as it struck the pavement, there was a shot. Kuhle toppled over, dead, a bullet through his heart.

Beresford was turned over to the juvenile authorities, pending an investigation by the Coroner.

WIDOW OF MARSHALL FACES ROW

Mother of Girls in Care of Late Vice-President's Wife Seeks Pair's Custody

Mrs. Lois K. Marshall, widow of the late Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall, may face a guardianship contest, it was indicated yesterday when an objection to her custody of Rose Woodford, 11 years of age, and Elizabeth Mary Woodford, 8, was filed by the mother of the children, Mrs. Lillian May Woodford.

Three years ago in Indiana, Mrs. Woodford was divorced by her husband, the late Clair Byrum Woodford, who was awarded custody of the children on the ground that the mother was an unfit person to care for them. Mrs. Woodford will claim that for the past three years she has led an exemplary life, her attorney states. She will also deny allegations made in the divorce trial.

Woodford was a cousin of Mrs. Marshall, who stated in her petition that she lived in Phoenix, Ariz. Woodford's will bequeathing an estate of $3000 was filed by Attorney O. C. Montgomery.

Prep Trackmen Divide Honors

Washington and Roosevelt high schools divided honors in a midget track meet yesterday, the former squad winning the Class B meet 45½ to 40½ while the Roughriders copped the Class C affair 41 2-3 to 36 1-3. Both meets were decided by the relay.

In the Class B meet both teams went into the relay all square, but one Roosevelt runner dropped the baton, and although his team-mates raced valiantly, they just missed making up all the lost ground by two yards. Lavine, with first places in the 100 and broad jump, featured for Roosevelt, while Eckenroth won both hurdles for Washington. Moreno, with a first in the 50 and a second in the century, was high in the Class C affair. The Class B results:

100-yard dash—Won by Lavine (R.) Freeman (R.) second, Salisbury (W.) third. Time, 10.8s.

660-yard run—Won by Spencer (W.) Cumner (W.) second, Trimwinkle (W.) third. Time, 1m. 43s.

70-yard high hurdles—Won by Eckenroth (W.) Tulser (W.) second, Wilde (R.) third. Time, 14.8s.

70-yard low hurdles—Won by Eckenroth (W.) Slutsky (R.) second, Wilde (R.) third. Time, 14.8s.

High jump—Won by Zebrack (R.) Martin (W.) second, Smith (R.) third. Height, 5ft. 5in.

Broad jump—Won by Lavine (R.) Abastian (R.) second, Allen (R.) third. Distance, 20ft. 2in.

Shot put—Won by Enkisman (R.) Vaughn (W.) second, Slutsky (R.) third. Distance, 51ft. 2in.

Pole vault—Won by Chamovitz (R.) Sunberg (R.) second, Mack (W.) third. Height, 9ft. 6in.

Relay—Won by Washington.

Dope Case Man Held for Jury

Accused of selling $10 worth of morphine, Frank Olea, 27 years of age, was arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Head and held for action by the Federal grand jury. He is in the County Jail in lieu of $5000 bail.

It is intimated by Federal narcotic agents that information gained from Olea will be presented to the grand jury Friday, when that body takes up its investigation.

U.S.C. VOTES TODAY

Co-eds are scheduled to skip classes this morning at the University of Southern California as they campaign for their sorority sisters in the semiannual class elections. The colleges of liberal arts and commerce will have polls open between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. The presidency of the graduating class in liberal arts holds the center of attention. Herschel Bonham, football star, and James Lane are running for this office. In the college of commerce, Ray Pinkel, William Ford and Al Spaeth are seeking the senior class presidency.

HOOVER TO BE HEARD AT AUTO SHOW

Costumed Mission Play Singers to Provide Music Program at Exhibit

President Hoover's inaugural address will be brought by direct wire to the thousands of visitors at the sixteenth annual automobile show this coming Monday, according to arrangements just completed by Watt L. Moreland, show chairman for the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association, sponsoring the exposition scheduled to open this coming Saturday at 2 p.m. and to continue daily until March 10, at Hill and Washington streets.

Included in the displays to be placed against a background of rare beauty will be some 300 passenger cars, sixty commercial vehicles, and comprehensive exhibits of airplanes, motor boats and accessories. Each of the big tops is gayly decorated, some twenty-six miles of rainbow-hued sateens and myriads of flowers being utilized for this purpose.

Costumed in brilliant mode, typical of the native parts they portray, singers from the Mission Play will feature the musical program of the Auto Show under arrangements just completed between John Steven McGroarty and Bert Roberts.

Four stages have been installed at the Auto Show to provide suitable accommodations for the singers and orchestras.

The Mission Play male quartet, which has been making sensational hits over the radio, and Mission Play soloists who are prominent in musical circles also will appear.

UNIVERSITY TEAMS DEBATE TOMORROW

Teams representing the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles will debate in Bovard Auditorium, Thirty-fifth and University avenue, at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Judge Daniel Beacher will act as chairman. "Resolved, That the Plea of Temporary Insanity in Defense of Crime Should be Prohibited by Law" is the topic for debate, with U.C.L.A. upholding the affirmative.

BEMENT TOWNSHIP TO RALLY

Several hundred former residents of Bement Township, Illinois, yesterday were notified to rally next Saturday for a picnic in the bowl at Sycamore Grove. Ralph E. Pettit announced that a program will follow the basket lunch.

PROBATION APPEAL UPHELD

Appellate Court Rules Trial Judge Must Consider Plea of Defendant in Manslaughter Case

The right of a person who pleads guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter to gain consideration for his application for probation at the hands of his trial judge was upheld by the Appellate Court in a decision handed down yesterday in the case of Malcom Lovelace, under sentence for manslaughter, growing out of the killing of another person in an automobile accident.

Appeal from the judgment of Superior Court Judge Aggeler was taken by Lovelace through Public Defender Vercoe. It was contended by the appellant that, although he pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter, and was permitted by the court to file application for probation, the court declined to consider the application and refused to grant probation on the ground it had no authority under the law to grant probation to one "who in the perpetration of a crime, inflicted great bodily injury." The appeal was taken because, the appellant asserted the judgment was prejudicial to his rights.

Judge Houser of the Appellate Court upheld the contention, declaring that involuntary manslaughter is defined as an act committed without malice and that no intention to commit the act may be imputed. The court took exception to the use by the lower court of the words "inflicted" and "perpetrated," holding that since the act was not premeditated, it was not "perpetrated" and the resulting injuries were not "inflicted."

The court directed the trial court to re-arraign the defendant for judgment and, in accordance with the law, to hear and determine the defendant's application for probation on its merits.

PRUNE EXPERIMENTER TO FACE LIQUOR TRIAL

The endeavor of Joseph Peres to discover something new in intoxicating beverages resulted yesterday in his being held for trial by Superior Court on felony charges of operating a still following his preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge McDill. Bail was set at $1000. Police Officers Peterson and Schubert entered Peres's "laboratory" at 2850 Ganahl street after smelling fermenting mash, they testified. They found a ten-gallon miniature still in operation. Peres told them, Dep. Dist.-Atty Stahlman declared, that he was experimenting with prunes and raisins in an effort to discover a new liquor. Prunes, raisins and sugar were found in Peres's home in large quantities, the officers said.

Trio Hunted for Taking Woman's Purse From Car

A search was started yesterday by deputy sheriffs to find three Mexicans who are accused by Mrs. J. D. Barrel, 10688 Arizona street, Culver City, of snatching a handbag from the seat of her automobile and escaping with jewels valued at $1680.

According to the victim, she had parked her automobile in a service station. Her hand-bag was lying on the seat beside her containing the jewels. Three Mexicans were standing nearby and one remarked that they had better "beat it" before the police came.

When she arrived at the bank to deposit her jewels in a vault, Mrs. Barrel said, she found the jewels missing.

WEIGHT REDUCTION LAID TO HUSBAND

Mrs. Harriet E. Kirk lost fifty pounds in weight as the result of acts of cruelty on the part of her husband, Roy Kirk, she told Superior Judge Price yesterday when asking for a divorce. Mrs. Kirk testified that her husband had failed to contribute to her support for seven years, had remained out late at nights and refused to provide her with any sort of amusement.

She was granted a decree.

DRAMA GROUP FORMS HONORARY SOCIETY

Establishing an honorary dramatic organization for students who have distinguished themselves in dramatics, Kap and Bells Society has been founded at the University of California at Los Angeles, it was announced yesterday by the newly formed society. Dramatic work and the production of one-act plays upon the campus will feature the activity of the group.

FISTIC BATTLES ON AIR TONIGHT

Three Stations to Broadcast Pugilistic Doings

Sharkey-Stribling Fight in Florida First on List

KFWB to Recreate Bout of Thirty Years Ago

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Fights via radio will have their innings today iav national chains and local stations as well.

A year or so ago various lobby interests in Washington sought to introduce legislation to prohibit the broadcasting of fights, but apparently the inevitable pigeonhole claimed the measures.

The first bit on the fight menu will be the Sharkey-Stribling affair, also known as the battle of the Everglades, from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., Pacific standard time, over stations of the National Broadcasting Company. KFI will be the local station in the chain.

OLD-TIME BOUTS, TOO

Not to be outdone, KFWB at 9 o'clock will counter with one of the recreated world championship fights which have been a regular Wednesday night feature from the Hollywood station for the last two or three weeks.

Tonight's radio bill will resurrect the bout between Jim Jeffries and Sailor Sharkey in New York back in 1899.

Then promptly at 9:30 p.m. KPOX, Long Beach, will pop into the broadcast spectrum with its usual Wednesday night offerings from the Wilmington Bowl.

FINALS AND SEMIFINALS

The preliminaries will be given first, followed by the final, which will be a ten-rounder with Chick Roach and Joe Cardoza as principals.

KNX's fight broadcast comes on the air Fridays at 9:45 p.m., with the main bout from the Hollywood American Legion Stadium.

KFWB, in addition to its Wednesday night recreations, is in the broadcast arena each Tuesday at 9:30 p.m. with the bouts from the Olympic Auditorium, Los Angeles.

WITNESS IN DEATH TRIAL THREATENED

Man Says Pair Menaced Him Over Test'mony in Pavloff Murder Case

Asserted attempts by underworld characters to intimidate witnesses against Joe Pavloff, accused of murdering Harry Pragin last June, yesterday became a matter of record when Benjamin Bernstein, of 344 North Mathews street, reported to police that two men threatened him with guns last Monday night, demanding that he be careful of what he said when he appeared as a witness.

Pavloff now is on trial before Superior Judge Murray in Department Twenty-four of Superior Court. He denies that he killed Pragin but says that just before he entered the house at 614 La Veta Terrace, a dark car sped by and a number of shots were fired. Entering the house and finding Pragin dying, Pavloff contends, he became obsessed with grief and attempted to commit suicide.

The prosecution, however, charges that Pavloff made an appointment to meet Pragin at the La Veta Terrace house and there shot him three times, causing almost instant death. Pavloff then shot himself, according to Julian Richardson, Deputy District Attorney in charge of the prosecution.

The asserted quarrel between the two men is blamed upon a disagreement between them over a liquor deal.

SOUND FILM FACILITIES ANNOUNCED

Independent Companies to Get Use of Stages Soon at Tec-Art Studios

Facilities for the production of sound films soon will be offered the independent motion-picture companies by the Tec-Art studios, President Alfred T. Mannon announced yesterday. With an eye to eliminating the prohibitive cost of synchronization that heretofore is said to have confined most of the independents to the silent type of picture, Mannon has approved plans for the immediate construction of two sound stages on the property at Bronson and Melrose avenues.

Ground will be broken this week and the work of construction commenced under the supervision of H. Kirk Kellogg, the engineer who is credited with building the sound stages at United Artists and R.K.O. studios. Each of the stages will measure 75x100 feet, and will be augmented by two projection rooms, a scoring room and three unit-recording rooms. Both the method of employing sound tracks on the film and the disc method of recording will be available to the producers.

Lawyers Given Praise in Talk to Pen Women

The lawyer of today is of the same sterling worth as was the great Lincoln, Municipal Judge Guy F. Bush told the League of American Pen Women last night in an address on "Lincoln the Lawyer" at the California Art Club.

"Individually you will agree with me that your own particular lawyer is above reproach," said Judge Bush, "but you will listen with interest to any criticism aimed at any other member of our bar, no matter what his standing, character and ability."

Judge Bush cited several cases of attorneys who have, in his own knowledge, taken cases without hope of fee or reward, merely that they might see justice done, and of a case in which an attorney turned down a $10,000 divorce case fee and advised his client to see a doctor instead of a lawyer, with the result that he succeeded in saving a home.

In conclusion, he declared: "When I remember the worth-while lives of hundreds of lawyers in our country, I feel that the spirit of the great lawyer-President, Lincoln, dwells in their hearts."

Sexagenarian Five Weeks Wed Obtains Divorce

Marital troubles between Joseph D. Ponnay, 66 years of age, and his wife, Mary D. Ponnay, 42, were aired yesterday in a contested suit for divorce heard by Superior Judge Price.

Ponnay and his wife lived together only five weeks after their marriage, according to his complaint asking for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. He asserted that his wife falsely accused him of flirting with a woman in an ice cream parlor. He also declared Mrs. Ponnay swore at him, kicked him and struck him in the face.

In her cross complaint Mrs. Ponnay denied her husband's accusations. She contended that her husband seized her roughly by the arms on one occasion and that he was intoxicated and profane in the presence of her friends.

An interlocutory decree was granted to the plaintiff.

INTENTION ORDINANCE FOR STREETS PASSED

Ordinances of intention were adopted yesterday by the City Council for the improvement of Tremaine avenue between Country Club Drive and Pico Boulevard, Twentieth street between Long Beach avenue and Compton avenue, Orchard avenue between Fifteenth street and Venice Boulevard, Third street between Pacific and Grand avenues, and Vista Gordo Drive between Cerro Gordo street and a point 538 feet north of that street. April 4 was set as the date for hearing protests against all these improvements.

PATHE TO FILM GRAND OPERAS

Will Engage Metropolitan Artists for Famous Works; Sammy Lee to Direct Dances for M.-G.-M. Revue; New Al Jolson Film Is Called "Little Pal"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

A tremendous step forward toward wider cultural progress in music is about to be taken. The phonograph and radio have brought good music to every household, but it has remained for Pathe to boldly take a pioneering step which shall bring the personalities of famous singers to the knowledge of the most remote hamlets of the world.

It was quite inevitable that it should happen, of course—the producing of grand operas in the sound pictures.

Pathe is the first picture concern to definitely announce its plans along this line.

And in preparation for this event, the company has signed Josiah Zuro as director-general of music, to oversee the production of seven grand operas on the screen.

These film operas will be "Pagliacci," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Faust," "Martha," "Tales of Hoffmann," "Carmen" and "Aida," production on the first of the series to begin immediately at Pathe's sound studios in New York. The casts will be chosen from the best available opera singers, including many Metropolitan Grand Opera artists.

For the first time, through Pathe's efforts, grand opera music, both orchestral and vocal, as well as the personalities of famous singers interpreting the famous roles, will be brought to music lovers outside the large cities and to the public which cannot ordinarily afford to pay the big prices to attend the operas.

There will of course be a world-wide market for this type of sound picture.

ZIEGFELD DIRECTOR SIGNED BY M.-G.-M.

If the dances in the big revue which Harry Rapf is producing for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer aren't good, it isn't going to be the fault of Mr. Rapf, who announces that he has just hired one of the most noted producers and dance directors in the country to take charge of that branch of activities in the revue.

BESSIE LOVE

Sammy Lee is the dance expert in question, and he arrives this morning to begin his work for M.-G.-M. Lee has aided Florenz Zeigfeld for years in the productions of the Follies shows.

A varied cast will appear in the revue, not yet titled. Among the principals will be Bessie Love and Marie Dressler.

The picture is to be the most spectacular revue of its kind so far produced in the sound pictures.

Gus Edwards will have charge of the song features.

Two With Bancroft

Richard Arlen and Fay Wray are to appear in support of George Bancroft in his second all-dialogue production for Paramount, it was revealed late yesterday when these two popular young players were assigned featured juvenile parts in "Thunderbolt."

FAY WRAY

The picture will be under the direction of Josef Von Sternberg, and will mark his debut as a talking picture director. Jules Furthman and Charles Furthmann wrote the story.

Patrick Kearney, who dramatized "An American Tragedy" and "Elmer Gantry," is working on the dialogue with Jules Furthman.

Jolson Story Titled

"Little Pal" has been definitely decided upon as the title of Al Jolson's next Vitaphone picture for Warner Brothers. In it, Jolson will be co-starred again with little David Lee, and picture fans who so loved the two in "Sonny Boy" are once more promised a good cry, although little Davey this time is allowed to live.

Harvey Gates, Darryl Zanuck, Joe Jackson and Jolson have just returned from Palm Springs, where they went a few days ago to work out the finishing touches on the story. In the yarn, Jolson plays the role of a happy-go-lucky song plugger.

A big role is to be played by Holmes Herbert, who signed yesterday to enact the part of a physician, father of Davey.

Lloyd Bacon will direct, and Marian Nixon and Kenneth Thomson will have leading roles.

M.-G.-M.'s Newspaper Story

You are going to have a chance to see the principal players in "The Front Page," now packing them in at the Belasco, on the screen. They are to appear in still another newspaper yarn, this time called "Copy," and to be produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

ROSCOE KARNS

Norman Huston, well-known New York stage producer and director, has been engaged to direct the picture, which is to be a talker.

Roscoe Karns will head the company, while others include James Donlin, Jack Carlyle and probably Clyde McCoy, all playing newspaper reporters, just as they do in "The Front Page."

Herbert Brenon Here

Herbert Brenon, United Artists' director, has returned to Hollywood and is searching for the ideal actress to play the lead in "Lummox." Candidates under consideration include Louise Dresser, Belle Bennett and Florence Oakley.

It is amazing how nice people are to you when they know you are going away.—Michael Arlen.

La Brea Once Used for Roofs, Says Speaker

Speaking before the Wilshire-La Brea Business Men's Association on "The History of the Rancho La Brea," E. Palmer Conner, chief title searcher of the Title Insurance and Trust Company, yesterday said the Rancho La Brea derived its name from the "brea" or asphalt pits where in recent years the bones of the mastadon and other prehistoric animals have been excavated.

The early Spaniards living in the pueblo of Los Angeles used the brea pits for quite a different purpose than looking for such relics, according to Mr. Conner. These early inhabitants found the brea, which at that point rose to the surface, excellent for roofing their adobes, the asphalt being heated and well mixed with sand. This is the origin of the tar paper perfected and extensively used today. The crude roofs of the Spanish did very well in winter, but in summer the brea would melt and drip down onto the dirt floors of the adobes and sometimes on the inhabitants.

TEACHER REPRESENTS CITY

Representing Los Angeles this week at the progressive education convention in St. Louis is Miss Fulmer, who left here on the 19th inst. She also will attend the U.E.A. convention in Cleveland.

LANSINGITES NAME OFFICERS

It was announced yesterday that Ward Webb had been elected president and Anna M. Siegrist, secretary of the local organization of former residents of Lansing, Mich. Two hundred of them elected these officers at the picnic held in Echo Park the 23rd inst.

Mecham to Run for Judgeship

Attorney E. L. Mecham has announced his candidacy for the office of municipal judge at the next city election. Mr. Mecham will be supported by an organization of citizens; he will run against Judge McDill, incumbent.

Smart dressers of Honduras are taking a fancy to patent-leather shoes from this country.

DEFAULT JUDGMENTS GIVEN AGAINST TAILOR

Four plaintiffs were given default judgments in various sums against the Elite Tailoring Company yesterday by Municipal Judge Gulano in the Small Claims Court. The four asserted that the company failed to live up to its promises whereby suits were to be made to order and delivered after payment had been made in weekly installments.

PIANIST AWES BY PERFECTION

Rachmaninoff Performs at Philharmonic

Capacity Audience Throngs to Hear Him

Old Works Clothed in New Beauty Emerge

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Rachmaninoff, the great one, played in Los Angeles last night. Those who were able to crowd into the Philharmonic Auditorium were blessed. Piano playing of the order of Rachmaninoff's is so rare those days that it marks a mile stone in the life of the constant concert-goer. An all - embracing conception of the composers coupled with a technical equipment without limitation makes this man tower above all the others who use the piano as an instrument of interpretation for the masters.

Rachmaninoff grows greater as the years pass. Who but a man of sorrows held in check by a marvelous restraint, could have played the Beethoven sonata op. 109 and the Chopin sonata of the funeral march in the unforgettable way in which he played it last night! Power of tone that rises to mountainous heights relieved by tenderness that is breath-taking in its beauty, and guiding all this the superimposed intelligence of a wonderfully disciplined mind which brooks no pounding for effect or lingering gesture of sentimentality, characterizes his playing. In some instances his interpretations are distinctly his own, but there is such monumental authority and utter sincerity back of them that they are to be accepted, with or without argument.

The two sonatas mentioned are very familiar. When it is said that Rachmaninoff clothes them with new beauty the truth is spoken, however impossible this may sound. His performance of Beethoven is an orchestral version with all the instruments doing their utmost. Most pianists play about half the score, by comparison. Much of interest has been written about this pianist's left hand and the marvelous strength of his third and fourth fingers. Largely because of these virtues he is able to use the natural fingering composers dream of and the listener hears melody and counterpoint in the bass that only the creator has known of before. All the young modernists who cavil at Beethoven should hear Rachmaninoff play him and they will know that the classics are as marvelous as ever, only there are few big enough to interpret them today.

Closely linked to the Beethoven were the Papillions of Schumann and the Chopin sonata, opus 35. They formed an unforgettable array.

A Rubinstein Barcarolle of amazing brilliance preceded a new work by Medtner, played from manuscript and done with a contagious whimsicality quite foreign to the usual Rachmaninoff impression. An Etude-Tableau by the pianist, ran the gamut of inspiration from romanticism to modernism and evoked a special demonstration from the audience.

Ravel's Toccata was a lovely and brilliant feat imbued with all the evanescent charm of the French genius and in the "Maid With the Flaxen Hair" and "Garden in Rain" by Debussy, Rachmaninoff succeeded in making tangible the simplicity of fine art.

Encores were generously added to this program until a late hour. The audience could never get enough. He began this unprinted program with "Troika" by Tschaikowsky and included the inescapable Prelude played so beautifully as to defy imitation, adding Kreisler's "Liebeslied" with such a wonderful embroidery of arabesques that it gave one the impression of marvelous improvisations, as perhaps it was.

Music Leader's Memory Revered

Hollywood Bowl will be beautified with a handsome deodar tree forty feet in height, placed there as a memorial tribute to Pearl Burck Selby by her husband, L. J. Selby. The ceremony of presentation and the setting of a bronze plate in place, will take place Friday at 12:30 o'clock with friends of the late esteemed musician in attendance.

Perry W. Weidener will deliver a short address representing Mrs. Selby's friends among the order of Masons. Mrs. Selby was for twenty years soloist of the Los Angeles Scottish Rite Cathedral. Maurine Campbell will read the Lord's Prayer and Mrs. Philip Zobelein will sing Oscar Rasbach's "Trees" with the composer playing the accompaniment.

Pearl Burck Selby was one of the leaders in the music life of this city, having been prominently identified with club activities through the presidency of the Dominant Club and the National Federation of Music Clubs, concertizing and teaching.

Show Girls of East in Picture

Richard Wallace, director of "Shopworn Angel," Paramount sound production, now playing at the Million Dollar, used a group of sixty-four show girls in the elaborate theater scenes in this attraction. Incidentally, all of these sequences were actually filmed at the Million Dollar last autumn.

The girls were selected from 500 applicants, and a survey of the ensemble reveals types from the "Ziegfeld Follies," "Show Boat," George White's "Scandals," Earl Carroll's "Vanities," various Shubert revues, Schwab and Mandel productions, and Broadway night clubs.

Since the vogue of pictures stressing chorus girl life, such as "Broadway Melody" and "Shopworn Angel," many beautiful and talented show girls have forsaken New York and joined the trek to Hollywood.

Gary Cooper and Nancy Carroll are featured in "Shopworn Angel."

OLD SOUTH CAPTURED IN FILMS

"Hearts in Dixie," Fox Production, Booked by United Artists

A picture for which the William Fox organization predicts even greater success than that of "In Old Arizona," one done entirely in sound and dealing with an entirely new cinema theme, has been booked as the next attraction at the United Artists' Theater, due March 6, next. The Movietone special production is "Hearts in Dixie," a story of the old South, with negro spirituals, plantation melodies, the dances of the cotton pickers, all interwoven.

Under the direction of Paul Sloane, one of the the younger directors, "Hearts in Dixie," was produced without fanfare or advance notice because of the novelty of the undertaking. Walter Weems, long a native of the South, is the author, with A. H. Van Buren assisting Sloane as director.

The musical score, a combination of the natural spirituals of the South, and several new and original tunes, was the creation of Howard Jackson. The spirituals heard in all their beauty of lyric and melody by means of Movietone include "Lonesome Road," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Oh, Dem Golden Slippers," "Deep River" and "Roll, Jordan, Roll." Among the new songs are "Hearts in Dixie" and "My Pickaninny Angel," two songs which orchestras are already playing.

Reproductions of outdoor scenes in sound are considered a triumph by sound experts. These scenes include a plantation wedding, a barbecue feast, with accompanying revelry, a darky party, the departure of the Nelly Bly from the Mississippi levee, the incantations of the voodoo woman, the picking-cotton scenes, the brilliant bonfire minstrels.

The singing, dancing and talking cast includes Eugene Jackson, Clarence Muse, Bernice Pilot, Stepin Fetchit, Mildred Washington, Zach Williams, Vivian Smith and 250 others.

Late Prowlers to See Comedy

So many and so great have been the demands from players in the other Los Angeles theaters, whose duties prevent them from attending a performance of "The Front Page" at the Belasco Theater, that the management has decided, at the request of the cast, to give a midnight performance of the comedy on March 9.

Several weeks ago a midnight matinee was given for members of the staffs of the Los Angeles daily papers.

"The Front Page" leaves the Belasco March 16.

No Delay in Opening Seen

John McDermott, producing his new play, "Squawk," denies current rumors of threatened interference with the opening at the Mayan Theater Saturday night.

The author-producer, who says his opus is aimed at public graft and political corruptions, is unaware of any contemplated prohibition of his production.

"Squawk," which McDermott describes as "big-town lowdown," will boast speed, fury of action and broad comedy, he announces.

GO WEST, YOUNG GIRL, ADVICE OF DANCERS

Dancing girls of New York's Broadway have been so captivated by Hollywood that hereafter the big metropolis probably will no longer enjoy a monopoly of their brand of entertainment.

It has been revealed that the Albertina Rasch dancers, of "Ziegfeld Follies" fame, are so enamored of Hollywood since Sid Grauman brought them here for the prologue of "The Broadway Melody" at Grauman's Chinese Theater, that they are writing their sisters in New York not to overlook an opportunity to come to the Coast.

Contralto in Interesting Concert List

BY I. M. J.

Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto, and Josef Borissoff, violinist, gave a joint recital at the Hollywood Woman's Club Monday night which was attended by a fair-sized audience. The program was largely the singer's by right of the representative songs she chose as Mr. Borissoff elected to play light numbers in a rather superficial manner. Nino Herschel balanced the program with his well-modulated accompanying.

Mrs. Frye's program consisted of an opening group of the romantic composers, Schumann, Brahms, Rachmaninoff and Tschaikowsky. Her French numbers by Lully, Massenet and Hahn were sung with exquisite care. She understood their poetic content and conveyed their subtle beauty to her audience.

This musicianly singer, whose importance in the public mind has grown since her performance as soloist with the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra last summer, displays good taste, excellent intonation and attractive poise. Her voice sounded covered in the auditorium of the Hollywood club, but this may have been due to faulty tone emission. There is a lack of freedom and a certain stiltedness in her singing that is regrettable. Probably this would vanish with more concertizing.

The interesting program closed with songs in English by Hageman, Tipton, Kramer and a new Cadman.

Bard Forsaken for Gay Farce

It's a bit of a change from Shakespearean roles in London to the interpretation of a very modern young flapper for the edification of Hollywood audiences, but that is the interesting experience of little Joan Wyndham, the captivating ingenue of the "Weak Sisters" cast at the Vine-street Theater, where S. George Ullman and associates are presenting that Lynn Starling farce.

Not only is the current role Miss Wyndham's first professional appearance on the American stage, but it is her first portrayal outside of Shakespeare. In London, where she was educated, she is a medalist of the Royal Academy.

Jack Benny to Linger a While

Complying with many requests, Radio-Keith-Orpheum announces that Jack Benny, inimitable funster and master of ceremonies, will be held over for a second week at the Orpheum Theater starting Sunday.

An erstwhile feature of "Great Temptations" and other New York revues, Benny is currently introducing Marion Harris, Natacha Nattova, the Foy Family, Watson Sisters, Claire Vincent, George McClennon and others, including himself, at the exclusive two-a-day house.

"What a Night" Coming Friday

Bebe Daniels's newest comedy romance, "What a Night!" opens at the Boulevard Theater Friday, following final showings of "Sally of My Dreams" tomorrow.

"What a Night!" provides the "Hot News" girl with another newspaper story, and Bebe cavorts through numerous exciting adventures in search of a "scoop." As the supposedly dumb "cub" with a powdered nose-for-news, Bebe has opportunity to add new laurels to her reputation as a comedienne. Neil Hamilton plays opposite.

Lynn Cowan's current "Oriental Revue" will be replaced on Friday by his new production, "Fun in Spain."

NILS ASTHER IN PERSON

Nils Asther, one of the two very definite reasons for the success of "Wild Orchids," starring Greta Garbo at Loew's State this week, will appear in person tonight, it is announced.

TOM BARRY COMEDY TO HAVE RUN

"Courage," New York Hit, Will be Presented at El Capitan in March

Tom Barry's new comedy, "Courage," will be offered by the Henry Duffy Players at El Capitan, following the run of "Lightnin'" and starting March 10. Emma Dunn, stage star, has been engaged to play the chief role, that of Mary Colebrook, the mother of seven children whom she takes from Sioux City, Iowa, to Cambridge in order to give them the advantages of a good education.

"Courage" is declared to be one of the five outstanding hits of the New York season, and has been running on Broadway for the last five months. Henry Duffy has secured the Pacific Coast rights to this comedy and its production will be one of the noteworthy offerings of the season. The author, Tom Barry, who has written "The Upstart," "The Immortal Thief" and innumerable vaudeville playlets, is now in Hollywood writing scenarios for talking pictures, his first picture being the recently released "In Old Arizona."

Emma Dunn, who will star in "Courage," has long been one of the leading stars of the American stage. She is considered a foremost portrayer of "mother roles." Her first Broadway hit was as Ase, the mother, in the late Richard Mansfield's production of "Peer Gynt," and since then she has been starred in "The Governor's Lady," which David Belasco produced; in "Old Lady 31," "Mother," "He and She," "Her Price," "Sinners," "Dawn" and "The Changelings."

The supporting cast is now being chosen and rehearsals will start at once under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis.

"Lightnin'" is now in the last fortnight of its run at El Capitan.

Replica of Club Constructed in Guinan Talkie

Those who may have wished to visit Texas Guinan's New York night club and witness the gay life in that gathering place need only see and hear Texas Guinan's all-talking picture "Queen of the Night Clubs," which opens at Warner Brothers' Theater on Monday, to realize their ambition, the management promises.

Much of the dramatic action of this story of Broadway night life revolves around the night club owned and operated by Miss Guinan. Constructed along the same plan as Texas's celebrated establishment, the set is said to be as real, cinematically speaking, as the original.

The actual facsimile for the picture occupied an entire sound-proof stage at Warner Brothers' studio; hundreds of extras, a large dance orchestra, groups of celebrities, girls dancing in routine, the carnival spirit and Texas herself in the role she knows so well.

Barthelmess to Star in Talkie at Paramount

The voice of Richard Barthelmess will be heard, both singing and talking, in "Weary River," which has been secured for a week's showing at the Paramount Theater, starting Thursday.

Very few talkies have been accorded the praise of the press in such a positive manner as was "Weary River," when it recently opened in New York. The picture has a fundamentally powerful story, coupled with Barthelmess' performance and the enhancement of Vitaphone.

Barthelmess has a "natural" role, as a gangster and racketeer who is sent to prison. While in Sing Sing, he organizes a prison orchestra which plays on a radio station each night. He also composes a song, "Weary River," through which he becomes nationally famous. With this as a start, First National has made a picture which should prove popular with Paramount Theater fans.

Frank Lloyd, director of "The Sea Hawk," "The Divine Lady" and other notable productions, directed "Weary River." Betty Compson, who scored an individual hit in "The Barker," another First National talking picture, plays opposite Barthelmess.

Trial Will be Held at Loew's

A courtroom in Los Angeles, big enough to seat 2500 spectators, will be the scene of a murder trial starting Thursday.

"The Bellamy Trial" is the case, and it will have its first local showing at Loew's State Theater, where all disappointed courtroom fans who have been unable to gain admission to the many lively recent sessions in Los Angeles will be able to witness everything from a comfortable theater seat.

"The Bellamy Trial" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking picture adapted from the novel by Frances Noyes Hart. A baffling murder mystery is unraveled through the medium of spoken testimony and by the last-minute revelations of a surprise witness which clear up the facts and free an innocent suspect whose fate hangs by a thread.

QUILLANS IN PERSON

Footlight yearnings, long held in check, will be unleashed tonight, when Eddie Quillan and the Quillan family, for years vaudeville features, participate in the Radio-Keith-Orpheum stage offering at the Hillstreet Theater, where "Noisy Neighbors," their latest film, is current.

NEW HOME

15 MINUTES FROM HOLLYWOOD BOULEVARD.

You would be happy and proud to live in a house like this. It is the creation of a master architect. It embodies the richness and roominess found only in high priced homes. The living room is a dream. Size 24x17, yet cozy, and the ¾-inch oak floors, mahogany trim and smart mantel fireplace radiate happiness.

Bedrooms are large—2 of them—with corner exposure. The bath finished in select hand made tile and sanitas—extra large. Second bath has full tile shower. The most jaded appetite finds relish in the artistic dining room. The breakfast room is a joy to see.

The kitchen is a treat to the thrifty housewife. Electric refrigerator, double sink, worlds of cupboards, tile drainboards. Water heater, laundry tray and ironing board in the service porch.

And when the man sees the double garage with room for a workshop, it will be "Home, Sweet Home" to him. Shrubs, lawn, sprinkler system, full cement drive, all street improvements in and paid for. One and a half blocks to school. Try to equal it for two thousand dollars over $7500—price—on terms.

Call Owners, GRanite 7867, Homebuilders Company, 6360 Hollywood Boulevard, Ground Floor.

HEALTH!

Life's greatest blessing can be found in this part of Glendale; high, dry, impressive view without the penalties of hillside property. You can be the happy owner of an out-of-the-ordinary Spanish influence stucco home on a deep corner plot of velvety clover—on the bus line and equally convenient to both Hollywood and Los Angeles; "midst pleasant homes and friendly neighbors;" 5 cheerful rooms, four airy bedrooms and three pleasant tile baths, unit furnace keep you warm as toast these cool evenings; a fireplace gives you the joys of a real log fire; a covered porch leads to your garage. Owner compelled to leave this lovely home before he has even had an opportunity to finish shrubbing the yard. Will consider low price and easy terms.

BROTHERS UNITED BY LOST NOTE

Separation of Years at End When One Gets Letter Dropped by Other

A lost letter yesterday reunited two brothers who had been separated twenty-one years. The reunion occurred at the Paramount Studio in Hollywood where, strangely, each had been working without knowledge of the other.

VINCENT HIGGINS

The brothers are Vincent and Jerome Higgins who took divergent paths when they were boys in Jersey City. Vincent Higgins joined the navy and later the Army. Two years ago he went to work at the studio armory.

JEROME HIGGINS

Jerome Higgins also entered the military service and spent eleven years in the army. Two months ago he was given employment at the film plant installing equipment for talking pictures.

Yesterday Jerome dropped a letter from his pocket. It was found by a fellow workman who returned it to Vincent instead of Jerome. Vincent looked up the other Higgins and an exchange of glances and a comparison of notes finished the story—and ruined the rest of the day as far as work is concerned, for the brothers spent several hours recounting their adventures.

MRS. GRIMES WILL-O'-WISP

Prosecution Announces She's Missing But Seven Others Face Court in "Frame-up" Case Today

Mrs. Callie Grimes, one of the central figures in the asserted "police frame-up" case on Councilman Jacobson, yesterday became the State's will-o'-the-wisp witness when the District Attorney's office announced her unaccountably missing.

Despite her absence five police officers, a politician and a former underworld vice ruler will appear with counsel in Superior Judge Shaw's court at 2 p.m. today to continue their massed onslaught by demurrer arguments against indictments charging them with "framing" the Councilman.

FREEDOM GIVEN

On the return of the true bills two weeks ago Mrs. Grimes, conceded to be a prosecution witness, was granted liberty on her own recognizance after a message informing her of the indictment had been sent her.

She was absent from court last Monday but the prosecution declared she would be present at future hearings. The presumption was that she was in seclusion. Yesterday, however, an investigation disclosed that she disappeared from her family on the 10th inst., with her 8-year-old daughter, and has not been seen or heard from since.

CASE WILL CONTINUE

Although Mrs. Grimes made an affidavit of complicity which was placed before the grand jury and preceded the indictments, making her a State's witness, her absence will not affect the case, and the prosecution declares the matter will be brought to trial.

The others indicted in the case with Mrs. Grimes are Captains of Detectives Wallis and Williams, former Detective Lieutenant Lucas, former Police Investigator Raymond, Detective Cox, Charles Crawford, Hollywood business man and politician, and Albert Marco, convicted underworld boss.

On the return of the indictments Wallis, Williams and Cox were suspended from police duty. Lucas and Raymond previously were relieved of their duties on a suggestion from the grand jury. Cox, who is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Grimes, petitioned the Police Commission for a hearing on his suspension and the board yesterday set March 12 as the date for the hearing.

COX HEARING BEFORE POLICE COMMISSION SET

The hearing of Patrolman Frank B. Cox, brother-in-law of Mrs. Callie Grimes, sought by him because of his dismissal from the police force following his indictment by the county grand jury in the asserted "frame-up" of Councilman Jacobson, was set tentatively for next Tuesday by the Police Commission yesterday.

Under the city charter, when an officer requests a hearing it must be given within fifteen days from the date of application. The commission, while of the opinion that the hearing will not be conducted until the asserted "frame-up" charges are disposed of, set the date within the required fifteen days, but plans to continue the hearing until after the court trial.

In response to queries from the commissioners yesterday, Chief Davis expressed the view that four other members of the police department, removed after they had been indicted in connection with the Jacobson case, plan to ask for similar hearings. In this event, the commission is of the opinion that all will be conducted at one time, in order to use the same witnesses.

Adohr Company Plans to Expand

Merritt H. Adamson, president of the Adohr Creamery Company, announced yesterday, that the delivery system of the company will be expanded on March 1 to cover twenty-four additional communities in Los Angeles county, where home service of Adohr dairy products has not been made before.

These include Glendale, Flintridge, La Crescenta, La Canada, Montrose, Sunland, Eagle Rock, Highland Park, Garvanza, Burbank, North Hollywood and Tujunga to the north and west of Los Angeles, while to the south and west the service will be expanded to cover Inglewood, Torrance, Huntington Park, Lawndale, Lennox, Gardena, Playa del Rey, El Segundo, Manhattan Beach, Redondo and Palos Verdes.

Wife Refuses to Play Papoose

Mrs. Mildred Daniels told Superior Judge Sproul yesterday that her husband carried her home on his back like a papoose.

"He is an Indian, judge," said Mrs. Daniels, "and I'm an American."

"What?" interjected Judge Sproul. "Since when were Indians anything but American?"

Despite Mrs. Daniels's ethnological confusion she made it plain that her husband was cruel to her and she got her divorce.

ALIMONY? WHAT MAY THAT BE?

And Woman, When Informed By Court, Declines to Accept It

"Alimony? What's that?"

Mrs. Abbie L. Pyles, married forty-one years, was talking to Superior Judge Schauer, who had just awarded her $5 a week pending her divorce trial.

"Money Mr. Pyles will have to pay you," explained the court.

"I wouldn't take his money," said Mrs. Pyles. "He needs it worse than I do. I can take care of myself."

So Judge Schauer canceled the order, but told Pyles to pay his wife's attorney $50 on account.

ONE KILLED, SEVEN HURT IN TRAFFIC

Woman Hit by Auto Dies; Asserted Drunken Driver Plows Into Safety Zone

Struck by an automobile last night, Mrs. Marie Redpath, 75 years of age of 917 West One Hundred and Tenth street, died shortly after being taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. She was crossing at Vermont avenue and One Hundred and Tenth street when a car driven by L. W. Phillips of 1554 American avenue, Long Beach, hit her. Internal injuries and a skull fracture caused death within an hour. Deputies of Sheriff's substation No. 3 held Phillips.

Earl Miller, 49, died yesterday in the General Hospital of injuries received in an automobile collision at Avalon Boulevard and Eighty-third street on October 8, 1928.

Seven persons in a safety zone were bowled over last night by an automobile driven across the buttons by Taylor P. Altman of 2140 Glencoe avenue, Venice. Passengers waiting for a westbound Washington-street car at Vermont avenue were standing in the safety zone when Altman rode them down. The most seriously injured was Mrs. Minnie Perkins, 45, of 2054 Burnside avenue. She suffered possible fractures of the skull and pelvis, it was said at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where she was taken. George Miller also suffered a skull fracture.

Others treated for minor injuries in this accident were: Mrs. Adelaide Bissel of 3838 Dunn street, Culver City; George Schouten, Mrs. Minnie Schouten, and daughter Dorothy, of 4055 West Twenty-first street; Betty Jonas of 2514 South Spaulding avenue, and George Miller of Palms. Altman was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Leonard Hegemeier, 49 years of age, 3258 La Clede street, was at the Van Nuys Receiving Hospital last night with a possible fracture of the skull sustained when the automobile in which he was riding on Ventura Boulevard at Radford street was struck by a large sedan and overturned. The sedan failed to stop and Van Nuys police were attempting to trace its owner.

Charles Hegemeier, 47, brother, residing at 4515 Glassel avenue, received cuts and bruises about the head and body in the same accident, but was not seriously injured.

Man Found Dead in Automobile

Dan Bjorklund, 35-year-old building contractor, was found dead in his automobile last night on Ballona Road, near Vermont, by Capt. Neighbors of the Hawthorne Sheriff substation, the latter reported. Bjorklund had been shot through the temple by himself, the officer stated. He resided at 7723 South Hobart Boulevard.

QUINN TO TALK TODAY

John R. Quinn, vice-president of the Seaboard National Bank, former National Commander of the American Legion and candidate for Mayor of Los Angeles in the coming municipal elections, will talk on veterans' welfare affairs before the Exchange Club of Palms today at noon.

Los Feliz Residents Flee When Explosion and Fire Reveal Huge Still in Action

Overheated gas vents resulted in an explosion [illegible] which set fire to a stucco bungalow at 4334 Los [illegible] Feliz Knolls residential district, and uncovered one of the largest [illegible] found recently by Los Angeles police. Occupants of the house fled the place immediately after the explosion and a search [illegible] for them by Capt. Weyerman of the vice squad.

The still had a capacity of 1000 gallons a day and there were four 2000-gallon mash vats. The liquor-making apparatus apparently had been installed only recently, according to Capt. Weyerman, and it is believed that only one run had been made.

A neighbor, Mrs. J. R. Coopman, told Sergts. Charles Rogers and J. W. Thomas, working under the vice squad chief, that she heard an explosion and ran outdoors in time to see a man and woman driving away. Mrs. Coopman called to them [illegible] she said [illegible]

LOCAL CASE MAY BRING TWO DECISIONS ON PROPERTY LAW

Two important decisions on the recent community property and inheritance laws are expected today in Superior Judge Archbald's Probate Court in the case of the division of property of the late George W. Handley, retired business man.

The questions raised in the litigation over Handley's estate, estimated at $30,000, are whether a wife can bequeath her interest in community property, and whether a man can bequeath property to his dead wife.

Handley died last August and his body has been placed temporarily in a crypt because the present contest over his property has assertedly held up funds for permanent interment, according to court testimony yesterday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gallatin, a sister of Handley of San Francisco, and Mrs. Grace Guthrie, Handley's nurse, both are attempting to be appointed to administer the estate.

When Handley died, he left a will bequeathing half of his estate to Mrs. Guthrie and half to his wife, who had died between the time Handley's will was made and Handley's death.

Maurice [illegible] administrator [illegible] died, also died, [illegible] already involved [illegible] further legal [illegible]

It was revealed [illegible] half of the estate [illegible] pected to [illegible] death was [illegible] child of the [illegible] Prosch.

Mrs. Gallatin and [illegible] ters, Mrs. Agnes [illegible] Annie Johnson, [illegible] cisco, asserted in court [illegible] attorney, Charles E. [illegible] since Handley had [illegible] his own and his wife [illegible] that the share of the [illegible] queathed his wife [illegible] back to the estate.

Mrs. Prosch's attorney [illegible] that Mrs. Handley's will [illegible] the basis that a woman [illegible] share of community property.

It may take a [illegible] cide the legal [illegible] the case [illegible] ecutrix [illegible] today so that [illegible] can be [illegible] stated. Attorney C. A. [illegible] sented Mrs. Gallatin.

Maurice Gradwohl, named administrator when Mrs. Handley died, also died, thus throwing the already involved situation into a further legal snarl.

It was revealed in court that the half of the estate Mrs. Hadley expected to get on her husband's death was willed by her to a foster child of the Handleys, Mrs. Ella Prosch.

Mrs. Gallatin and two other sisters, Mrs. Agnes Mitchell and Mrs. Annie Johnson, also of San Francisco, asserted in court through their attorney, Charles H. Adams, that since Handley had no children of his own and his wife was not living, that the share of the estate he bequeathed his wife should revert back to the estate.

Mrs. Prosch's attorneys claimed that Mrs. Handley's will is valid on the basis that a woman can will her share of community property.

It may take a higher court to decide the legal question, attorneys in the case said last night. An executrix probably will be appointed today so that Handley's inheritance can be computed, Judge Archbald stated. Attorney C. B. ... represented Mrs. Gallatin.

MADAME LA MODE OFFERS COMPLETE STYLE CHANGE

Fashion Awakens to New Expression of Art in Astonishingly Smart Variety of Costumes

BY OLIVE GRAY

The seventh year!

The year of Fashion's complete and radical change.

It has been said by those who follow Fashion's history, that Madame la Mode presents a complete revolution each seven years, a change as notable as that declared by biologists to take place during a like period in the human system.

This season's style presentations seem to confirm this thought; for as not in many season's past; we behold novel featuring of [illegible] changes in millinery, novelties in accessories.

It is as though Fashion, wakening to new expressions in art, in [illegible] — yes, even in philosophy and ethics—had seen fit to [illegible] modes commensurate to all things modernistical. In no single [illegible], where social leaders convene, can one observe these changes so readily as at the country club where society meets for events so varied as to call for a like wide variation in costuming. Here one may see [illegible] the sports costume, the afternoon ensemble, street attire, dinner garb and that for evening affairs—the dinner-dance, theater or opera. In each and every costume for such occasions, one can but note changes decided, although perhaps subtle, in frocks and dresses, in hats, millinery and accessories, marking the new season, as the [illegible] of the Mode's transi[illegible]

The silhouette has changed from the ultra line and straight, to one of rounded fullness; glimpsing the feminine form, in lieu of the flat and boyish figures, so long evinced. Feminine, also, are the fluttering frills and flounces, the delicate millinery motifs, the dainty accessories added to each and every costume, whether that costume be for day or evening wear.

THE SILHOUETTE

Skirt fullness, first introduced quite modestly, by means of occasional godets, pleats hanging more or less in straight effect, by circular flounces which but slightly distended the line, has come out boldly in decidedly rounded skirts, made so by tiers upon tiers of fullness, or widely gathered skirts. But yet, the slim, straight skirt persists, however overshadowed by its filmy

COLOR NOTE OF FLOWERS AIDS STYLES

Woman of Fashion Picks Accessory With Care to Harmonize Costume

The flower boutonniere or accessory is no longer chosen haphazardly. The woman of fashion uses it quite definitely to add a note of emphasis or contrast or contribute a harmony to her entire costume. And this is particularly true today when it is smart to combine two or three colors in a costume.

Fashionable combinations recently noticed are: A mink coat worn with a blue scarf, brown reptile shoes and a blue gardenia the color of the scarf; a black broadtail coat with black bag and accessories and a bright red gardenia; with a summer ermine coat a beige gardenia was worn; an evening ensemble which included an ermine and sable evening wrap and green slippers features green chiffon flowers.

An important style note in the new afternoon and evening dresses and ensembles now being shown for southern wear is the delicate and colorful use of flower decoration. An afternoon costume which will be worn by Miss Anne Miles at the fashion show at the Bal Guignol at the Ritz Carlton for a New York charity benefit consists of a soft rose chiffon dress with a separate coat of the same material. Large chiffon chrysanthemums in a deeper rose shade outline the hip line on one side of the dress. On the other side the chrysanthemums are used on the coat, thus forming an entire band of flowers on the hips.

NEW FASHION HINTS FOR SPRING

Companionate prints, in contrast to identical prints, are displayed for your delectation in the fashion shops, and the sales girl speaks of them as glibly as modern novelists do of companionate marriage. You may expect to see a polka dot effect, and the same thing in reverse, for your ensemble. Very effective, and quite restful, really.

Cameo blue is another one of the shades you hear mentioned. A confetti dot printed silk is slightly different from the common or garden variety of polka dots, and quite as effective.

The demure country maid in a gingham gown has been sung by poets and praised by back-to-nature painters, but now gingham has come out of the kitchen, and the country, and gone into the fashioning of morning frocks with abandon. Checks, plaids, complicated designs and jacquard elaborations are the thing.

Finely ribbed pique adapts itself to the coat of the colored frock and other accessories.

White waffle weave woolen, unlined, suggests itself for the coat to wear with the frock of printed broadcloth.

Rustred and medium green, says Fashion, are appropriate colors for the border design of skyscrapers such as one glimpses in the new Rodier woolens.

Starched chiffon—doesn't that sound paradoxical? But that is the filmy material, with just enough body to make drapery practical, of which some new evening gowns are fashioned.

Transparent velvets for trimming, collars, or revers on sport costumes and girdles and necklines on more formal frocks are very popular, as well as for frocks themselves.

Satin ribbons in two-tone effects are utilized for bustle bows on print frocks.

In prints as well as monotones, pique is coming back into prominence again for spring and summer wear. Castilian red, Copenhagen blue and other brilliant tones are borrowed for its coloring.

Scientists may be studying the heavens for new constellations these spring nights, but craftsmen are studying them because they inspire a whole flock of print designs for milady's wardrobe. Air currents, heavenly bodies and clouds are used in realistic and modernistic designs.

Those border designs in prints are cut out and applied to the costume by inserting as cuff trimming, scarf finishing, and other effective ways by clever women who desire originality.

Breakfast Coat Helps Out Charm

The little bride doesn't wear a boudoir cap to breakfast, nor a negligee too frilly, for she has all sorts of resolutions concerning not letting herself go, once the honeymoon is past. No, she wears a breakfast coat instead, for it is so easy to slip into and so charming to look at over one's coffee and rolls and morning paper.

Such a coat may be fashioned of black satin-back satin, which is relieved by border facing in some vivid color, like jade green or coral. Embroidery in brilliant colors helps to make it smarter, too, and it fastens demurely on one side in the most delightful way possible.

SMARTNESS EMBODIED IN SMOCKS

Useful Garment Now Can be Considered Cunning as Well as Necessary

In the good old days of Bohemian fiction, wherein wild and frantic studio parties were featured, the artists all wore smocks; male and female, they wore them, usually paint-stained, but most picturesque just the same. It was partly because of the picturesque quality and partly because of the convenience that the rest of the world—feminine, anyway—adopted the smock several seasons ago, and it is here to stay. It has the domestic apron backed off the board, as it is picturesque and becoming, whereas an apron, large enough to be practical, is never as cunning. But a smock is always trim and can be made very becoming and fetching as well. The new spring smock is cut differently, being narrow across the shoulders, with sleeves pointed smartly at the top, cut straight down the back, so that it fits as snugly and neatly as one of the new spring coats. The pocket sash ties trimly so as to hold the back to a modish hip line, and the whole effect is delightful. For the woman who paints and does craftwork, it is just the thing; for the woman who does her housework and wants to slip off the smock before she joins her guests at the dining table, it is adequate; for the girl who wears a smock as a sort of informal garment, it is delightful, being, as one fashion designer puts it, the logical go-between of the fragile silk and Sunday night supper preparations, for it is on in a minute, with just one bow to tie.

MILADY OF FASHION PAYS HOMAGE TO SUN DEITY

Styles Take on Color and Mode to Match Various Sunburn Shades Due to Outdoor Living

How he must look down from the high heavens and rejoice in his worshipers—the great God Re, or, as he is sometimes spelled, Ra, to whom the ancient Egyptians paid homage as the Sun Diety for many ages. Not alone to the mystic Nile is his worship confined, for the whole country—indeed, most of the fashionable world, is conspiring to do him honor this season as never before.

Southern California has special interest in this sun worship, since it is largely due to our playground, as well as to that of the Lido and Palm Beach that the outdoor craze has assumed such proportions. No longer does Milady feature the snowy complexion that made her so interesting in Victorian days. No longer the pale, frail lily who awakened tender protective feelings in the bosom of masculinity, today's femininity rejoices in the healthy brown which the sun gives as she basks in its rays, and in the usual impetuous feminine manner proceeds to dictate to Madame La Mode that the sun indicates the style for this spring and summer.

BECOMING TAN

First Milady left off gloves, then long sleeves, then any sleeve at all. So wholesome and becoming was the coat of tan she received that she shortened her skirts, turned down her hose, got bolder and left them off—and got browner and browner. Arbiters of fashion, assured that the outdoor fad was here to stay, accordingly paid tribute to Re in the newest shades and design, and this is the season of sunburn. Hosiery manufacturers, uneasy at the bare-legged ways of the populace, which reduced stocking sales, have showered us with hosiery so like madame's sunburned limbs that one can scarcely tell the difference.

Sheer hosiery in all gradations of sunburn colors—sun tan, lifeguard tan, Indio tan and the like are shown in all the shops. Gloves, too, match the colors the sun god imposes on bare hands. Frocks are sleeveless and sunburned arms the thing. Necks are lower and lower and sports clothes show one's neck, shoulders and back, since Milady will expose herself to the wholesome shine.

MATCHES BROWN

Experts have matched the various tints of outdoor skin with materials which show the same colors, and wherever it is possible madame exposes herself to the warm rays or wears a fabric so like the sunburn that there is very little difference.

Shoes are woven or cut so that

VICTORIAN AGE UNDIES 'OUT'

Wisps of Filmy Silk of Rainbow Hues Supplant Muslin Wear of Grandma's Day

In the good old days when sister was to be married she and her mamma and her maiden aunts worked feverishly embroidering and fashioning underthings for the trousseau. There wasn't much of shape or fitting then—just sheer material and myriad tucks and sprays and insertions and ruffles. Then, when everything was finished and assembled and mayhap the girls had given her a shower or two to which her chums brought more nighties and slips and corset-covers, everything was laid out on the beds and tables and friends and relatives of feminine persuasion assembled to view the array.

Today, however, undies are purchased like hankies in the department stores or the smaller shops They are as novel and modern as the costumes for which they are foundation and as decorative and delightful as can be. Nighties, chemises, stepins and slips, panties and pajamas, they come in as many delicate shades as the blossoms they copy—and they are practical and strong, for all their delicacy and foamy trimmings.

Shorts — athletic shorts — what would grandmother have said to these practical and diminutive garments? Lowbacked brassieres for evening wear with lace-trimmed panties to match. It is not only in modern stage plays that milady wears pajamas but she finds them most comfortable both for night wear or for intimate lounging. This season the pajama trouser legs are wider than those of old, the beach popularity probably accounting for this. In modernistic designs and fabrics such a suit has a coat of taffeta in printed design to complete the trousers and blouse.

The legendary king who sent his sons out into the world to obtain silken material which, though 100 yards long would easily pass through his signet ring, would rejoice in today's lingerie, so filmy and dainty that it can be folded into tiny compass and tucked away in overnight bags, yet meets the need for which it was designed.

Grandmother was so severely Victorian that she thought chaste white the only proper development for underthings. Chemises, petticoats, enveloping tucked and ruffled bloomers and nightgowns must be of sheerest white with, perhaps, a pale bow or two as a concession to youth.

But grand-daughter knows that maize and rose, pistachio and salmon are delightful in underwear. Combinations of colors are popular and black in the filmiest of materials has its advocates. Like a basket of spring flowers heaped on the counter, gleaming with bits of flowers and silver bowknots, the clever scanty new undies fairly cry out to be purchased and added to one's wardrobe and milady judiciously purchases those she actually needs—and a few other gay ones just for fun—because they are so delightful to look at and to feel in their soft texture.

SPRING BRINGS NEW FASHIONS

rival. For street and informal afternoon, the straight line continues on its undisturbed way—yet not quite undisturbed, since even street coats present something of skirt fullness, even though this may be modestly attained by means of pleated flares, insets or unexpected tailorish devices.

Coats, and dresses which are their partners, are instantly distinguishable as for the street by this very line, restrained and somewhat shrinking, even though conceding the new and fuller silhouette.

THE JACKET

Introduction of the jacket, both for evening and for street or sports, has somewhat broken in upon this line, to be sure; since the jacket, long or short, which came into being first as an evening accessory to the gown, has found its way into costumes for almost all occasions. In fact the jacket might be said to play a full share in modification of the silhouette.

So important has the jacket made itself, that many ensembles and sports suits claim more than one of these garments as co-partners. Jackets, matching the skirt, in fabric and in color, form ensembles, with differing blouses underneath; jackets contrasting in material, and in linings matching the dress above which they are worn, vie with jackets differing in every way from their accompanying frocks. A feature welcome to those with limited incomes, these little jackets may serve to vary one's attire, since the mode favors the use of several differing jackets with a single dress. The choice of varying colors, in such ensembles, affords striking means of such varying costumery.

These jackets, first appearing as scintillant, brilliant little garments to slip on with evening gowns of filmy lace, chiffon or tulle, now have come forth in heavier materials such as tweeds, cashes, broadcloth, flannel, cut on lines and finish quite tailoredly for street and afternoon.

The length may be varied to individual taste from hip length or greater, to the merest bolero; and in the more dressy numbers, may be long sleeved or innocent of sleeves.

Not alone do such jackets accompany the evening gown, in the new season's mode, but are shown for all occasions, from those most formal, to the gay little cotton printed ensembles for wear in garden or porch, or downtown in the morning, and runing the full gamut of change, from early afternoon, to the country club tea, luncheon, or dinner. For street wear the jackets are also sportish, and as a rule are in the fine woolen weaves, which vie in popularity with silk or cotton.

Silk ensembles are in fact quite deeply indebted to the jacket for the change in silhouette, as are those of wool or cotton, many of the most recent introductions presenting this interesting feature, either in harmony with or matching the costume silk. Again, the silken jacket may be a plain color, lined with the printed silk from which the dress beneath is fashioned.

COATS

So much ado about the jacket does not mean that coats have been relegated to the passe—by no means is this true; for coats, always necessary garments, in milady's wardrobe, and especially so in our climate, have hastened to take unto themselves the newest of the season's featuring. Coat skirts are showing the additional width which dresses show, this fullness skillfully inserted by means of insidious flares, tending toward Princess effect, yet not radically Princess, as was their attempt last season. By addition of pleated insets, deft tailored cut, incorporated as only skilled couture can manage such, by inlays and by onlays, by tucking allowed a final flare, by godet-like additions of fur or fabric, are these effects produced in coats. One example shown — a fine soft basket weave in wool—had a belt-line which, after forming a set of pockets at the front, became a drooping waistline across the back, seeming to lend fullness. That is the point in many such examples—the effect of fullness is but a seeming—and sometimes a seaming, if one may be allowed the "pun."

Such coats, or their smart relatives, often are adorned by a narrow band of fur, upon collar or sleeve or pockets. Fur, in such examples, is of the newest development—short-haired, flat in surface, extremely pliable. It is of such furs — that those pleated effects are composed, since a heavier pelt would be impossible thus to manipulate. Among such furs, the new gallak, is found most accommodating, the fine peltry—that of new-born lambs—fashions many of the narrow bandings shown on coats for street and for afternoon.

Dwelling upon the subject of coats, since such garments are often the first chosen of spring's new garments, it is to be noted that there will be much use of black—a Parisian leading—and quite as much in a lighter beige as has formerly been popular. That coats in these colors abound, does not mean the absence of cloths more ornate, since some of the coats for sports and even for street wear by those more daring, come in brightly plaided effects, the newest check being somewhat between a check and a plaid—so large the squares. One example, shown in a store known for authenticity in mode, is of blue and black in such a check, the line but slightly varied from the straight, chic being gained through tailored cut and finish. This coat presents the narrow band of gallak, on collar and on cuffs.

FABRICS

Among coat fabrics, tweed is perhaps the most popular; but when saying "tweed," one must allow great latitude, for tweed no longer is a plainly woven material, but may be varied from a surface somewhat smooth, as known formerly, to that in which is intermixed warp and woof of varying colors and material, from all-wool to metallic threads. Examples are shown in what is called monotone tweed, in rough tweed, in mixed tweeds combining brown, orange, beige, and in the inevitable black and white—a season's favorites in all things couturial.

Of making many names for coat materials, there is no end; and in fact, almost every coat designer and manufacturer has a name for the material used; so that a coat-fabric dictionary would be necessary for anyone caring to enumerate the various weaves. In addition to the plainer coatings, there are weaves and designs brought forward by every designer, foreign and domestic, from Rodier to Meyer and throughout all the range of less known designers.

Nor are the mixed tweedish materials, the only ones presenting many varied colorings, since the coat in ombre tones, has taken a place prominent among sports attire. These shaded variations, usually come in cloths most sumptuous and singularly appropriate for sports, since they present deep napped surfaces, lending warmth without great weight.

In practical coats for street and sports, the three-quarter or seven-eighths length still is good; and perhaps will continue in contrast to the shorter jacket, since the longer garments are of lasting use in covering the progress to and fro, when lighter gowns or dresses are worn underneath, and for warmth on street and while motoring.

The same length, or longer, finds best expression, also, in coats of fur; although the short fur jacket is chosen by those not caring for the weight of the long coat in peltry.

DRESSES, ENSEMBLE

The new season's dress, frock or gown—as it may be termed for the many occasions of its use—may choose for its fashioning material from so great a variety of weave, weight, design and color, as to fall beyond computation. Not only is this true, but all are equally appropriate for each; except, of course for evening gowns, when only the lighter more silky weaves are to be counted. The ensemble, our first consideration, in the new spring wardrobe, may be selected from among any of the wool, silk or even cotton weaves, since all are popular. Individual may be the choice of line and cut. Whether a dress, to be self-sufficient, worn without accompanying jacket or coat; a coat-dress with telling accents; and frock with its partner a short jacket or a longer coat; a coat-dress with telling accents; and whether the ensemble shall be of wool, or silk, or cotton wholly, or combining two or more of these—are matters of personal taste. So, also, is the line to be selected; whether straight, flared or composed from both.

Again, there is the choice between the printure for part of these costumes, in silk, or wool or cotton; or of plain material combined with printed effects in material matching or contrasting. Also, there is another choice to be made: Shall the frock be of printed fabric, the coat of plain, or the reverse; and after this decision has been made, beyond is the decision as to whether the coat or jacket shall be lined to match the frock beneath, or in self material. Thus, one may readily see that the ensemble requires somewhat of personal assembling; yields a breadth to personal taste and much latitude for that which is becoming to each and every wearer.

MORE DRESSES

When it comes to selecting separate frocks or dresses, we find embarrassment of riches.

In the lead, of course, is silk; but silk in so many weaves, in weaves so differing, so varied as to texture and color as well as in design, that a knowing choice is difficult.

And yet the woman who does know, is certain to have a choice, and that one governed by becomingness in weave as well as in color. Some, there are, aware that shimmering satin surfaces bring out the highlights of complexion, hair and eyes; others are convinced that the duller, less gleaming textures are best for them. Within these limits are so many weaves, under so many names, that to designate, requires deft guidance.

So important seem these names, to those inventing them, that frequent contests in court, especially among French creators, are instituted over priority of claim.

In fact every designer, if not every manufacturer, has some especial line, or series of designs, drawn from many sources. Inspiration for silk designs have tested ingenuity among fabric makers, Nature's most remote nooks and crannies having been invaded in the search for novelty. Her fields, her cultivated gardens, her sunsets and her cloud effects, have been set to weavery; while no historic drama, from the

SEASON'S EVENING GOWNS ENCHANT WITH NOVELTY

Lines, Fabrics, Decorations Vie in Irresistible Beauty of Color and Design This Spring

Evening dress, always the ultimate interest in the feminine wardrobe, never has been more bewitching, more fraught with novelty, than in this the new spring season.

So enchanting are fabrics, so becoming the silhouette in the gowns and wraps, so decorative the features in connection with such habiliments as to make them quite irresistible.

Filmy tulles with their cloud-like effects; silks in their many developments, in plain colors or in prints; silk chiffons, voiles, marquisettes, georgettes, to say nothing of the laces au naturel or dyed, all combine to make evening attire most triumphant.

Velvets, too, in extremely pliant weaves, lend themselves willingly to the vogue; many not content with the rich coloring taking on sumptuous designs in printed and painted stenciling.

Extreme ingenuity has been brought to bear by leading couturiers in America and abroad to retain the svelt line while at the same time adding that fluency which is fashion's dictate. With this in view insidious flouncings, frills, pleats and insets are chosen, the more unexpected, the more alluring.

DRESS ACCESSORIES

Embroideries, compounded from silk, from sequins, from brilliants, beads and scintillant semiprecious stones; commingling of several fabrics, filmy or otherwise, to attain effects as well as printures and hand-paint designs serve to enhance both gowns and evening wraps.

Furs play a transcendent part in the luxuriousness of both gowns and wraps. Ostrich, also, has taken up the symphony in rendering these confections becomingly satisfying to the feminine taste.

Decolletage, too, may be chosen in conformity to the points of excellence in the wearer, both the extreme low cut at back and at front, either or both being permissible.

It was in connection with the evening gown that the jacket first made its appearance—that jaunty feature now incorporated with gowns, with ensembles and separately with many varying costumes for afternoon and for street. Appearing first as a dazzling little coat, either sleeved or sleeveless, a mere frivolity, the jacket, while retaining its prime position in evening attire, now forms an actual aid to the more conservative dress for sports or boulevard.

LONGER SKIRTS

It was, also, the evening gown which first began to hint of longer skirts and while such inroads have made but little progress in clothes for daytime wear, great lengths have been attained in skirts for evening. Scarcely an example among the evening dresses but boasts of length in flouncings at sides or back and sometimes all around, and yet, never much but veil the shorter, scanter skirt beneath; proving the gown most diplomatic in its insistence of femininity, since it is with reluctance that most women forego the chic and comfort of short skirts.

Flowers for garniture of evening gowns have lost none of their prominence, but betake themselves to places differing from those of seasons past. More than likely to match exactly in coloring or at least in shading the dress which they adorn, long garlands are posed upon one hip, in many instances, trailing their lavish fronds low across the skirt-front or falling toward the back.

FLOWERS IN FAVOR

Flowers, in some dresses shown—but these usually for dinner or for afternoon bridge—have flowers fashioned from self-material. Accessories of evening dress appear in the shape of hair ornaments, diminutive bags for the handkerchief, gloves if the occasion be a formal one; and always, of course, jewels as fine and as lavish as the income will allow.

Hosiery and slippers must conform perfectly with the costume worn, both in style and in coloring. As exacting are the demands of fashion in this respect as in that of materials and lines for the gown itself.

The dance cap, that adorable confection of gold or silver net, metallic embroidery and so on, has been revived, greatly to delight its devotees.

ENSEMBLE PIVOTED

By relating one's garments, one can assemble ensembles easily for various occasions, according to the fashion expert who says that, for instance, one of the new prints embodying the tricolor idea can be chosen, and the ensemble pivoted around these. Since accessories and trimmings are used not so much to harmonize, but to contrast the scheme, it is easy to select any one or more of these colors, and build the ensemble from this.

Stipple stripes, basket weaves and other novelties have come into prominence with the new patterns and fabrics.

Chartreuse is one of the becoming and popular colors for springtime.

Sleeveless sweaters and tennis frocks, usually accompanied in the latter case by little jackets, are seen in sport sections. Scarf collars, kerchief attachments and asymmetric hip and neck yokes lend novelty to these.

Knitted fabrics have a wide-meshed lacy appearance.

Aquamarine, cornflower, Patou, slate and other variations of blue are popular for spring.

In flounce arrangement, bordering scarfs, ties and capes, and in yokes and jabot effects, lace is seen as an interesting adjunct to the sheer printed frock.

MANY OLD TERMS LINKED TO STYLES

Maybe the dressmaker who has just taken up the fascinating occupation in the past few years doesn't know all the good old terms, for of late she has been industriously keeping her patrons as boyish as possible. However, she has to learn the good old feminine stand-bys, for back they have come in a wave—flares, tiers, godets, flounces, ripples, pleats, vestees, ruches, jabot and many another, straws which point the way the spring fashion wind blows.

COSTUME GEMS GROW POPULAR

Eye-Arresting Jewelry Holds Springtime Vogue

Colors and Shades Appeal to Smartly Dressed

Sport Wear Offerings Have Wide Variety

Maybe it is the vogue for brilliant colors which has stimulated the wearing of costume jewelry, but whatever the cause, the stores are fairly bulging with exquisite jewelry, both the semiprecious and the real.

Large stone pendants on slender metal chains, collars with pendants, brooches, earrings and bracelets are seen, both in crystals in square and round cuts, or combined with colored baguettes in a most effective manner. Twisted simulated seed pearls in filigree metal are so dainty; pendant earrings in fringe effects are featured, for the trend of pearls with touches of other stones is noticeable.

ANIMALS STYLISH

Those pendant themes of the African natives which include tooth and elephant motifs are to be seen in art jewelry, while the vogue for animals continues with the jaunty horses, dogs, and wild creatures effectively developed in tiny pearls. Beads in novel shapes, flattened at the ends, are seen, losenge shaped or faceted in original ways. Double and triple strands of small stones are made into chokers, with elaborate designs at the front; amethyst, slate, blue, the topaz called Russian antique, and emerald green are specially popular.

SILVER PLEASING

Sterling silver in antique finish, with plain or banded agate, carnelian and lapis lazuli show groups assembled in sets which are especially fascinating and take their inspiration from old museum pieces. Leaf designs alternated with colored stones are new; so are chokers of half red, half blue, set with rondells between. Jade, rose quartz, amber and chrysophrase have found their way into the group, and milady finds it difficult to choose between them.

There are two extremes of style in spring jewelry, both the old-fashioned, and the ultra-modern themes being emphasized so that madame may complete any of her costumes with jewels to match.

VARIETY WIDE

For sport wear, there is the rope of woven glass beads, with the large crystal clasp, in green, red and blue. The ensemble is recognized in jewelry, as well as in costume, and long earrings, chokers or necklaces, brooches and bracelets are included in the sets. Black enamel, such as our grandmothers wore, is seen in touches on the reproductions of old-time jewelry, and slender tubular metal fringe alternates with pearl fringe in popularity.

Angel-pink coral, malachite, jade and other exquisite colors in this quaint jewelry accent the color theme of the costume and make the entire ensemble doubly pleasing to the eye.

INCRUSTATIONS AID NEW SPRING COSTUMES

Incrustations, they call them—those Parisian touches of contrasting material materials applied in such a manner that they form an important decorative note as they stand forth. The clever placing of bands, bowknots and tiny pleats in irregular shapes fairly make the spring costume.

RIBBONS OF BRIGHT HUE USED IN HAIR

Pajamas of Spanish Cut Also Latest of Fashion; Pastal Shades Rule Gowns

Good-night!

That young woman of legendary fame who always tied a blue ribbon on her hair before she went to bed, just in case, as she naively stated, she met a burglar, would revel in the nightly adornment of this spring season. Not only blue ribbons, but flower-like colors of all the delicate hues, not to mention the striking tones—and any burglar who wandered into a maiden's room likely would be overwhelmed by the colorful vision.

Of course there are the pajamas those comfy and practical night garments which were made so popular when we took up the outdoor sleeping some seasons ago. But these have adopted a Spanish air, in many cases, and not only flaunt brilliant color combinations, such as I saw in one store, of Castilian red with beige, or rose, or blue, but also sport the Spanish trousers with wide soft sash, and clever tuck-in bodice, sleeveless, of course.

Gowns fashioned of the new heavy lustrous crepes in pastel shades employ fine tucking, the soft new laces, and unusual touches of ribbon bowknots and posies in their adornment, being as filmy and feminine as the pajamas are boyish in effect.

There are dainty mules and gay bedtime slippers for padding around one's boudoir to match the lacy negligees which seem as light and fluffy and colorful as confections. Lacy bands trimmed with ribbons and tiny flowerets for one's hair are very fetching when Milady sits up amongst her pillows in the morning for her after-the-party breakfast. Yes, the demure miss of the old days who wore long sleeved and voluminous white nightgowns would enjoy the spring styles in retiring apparel and the delightful accessories for the boudoir.

Linens Return to Favor for Summer Dress

Linens, for some season in abeyance, have taken a new hold on dress, the many guaranteed colors rendering them especially wearable. The embroidered linens and those printed in bold or in conservative designs take on new importance, when combined with the plain colored weaves.

There is something elegant about linen, and in the warmth of summer this material is refreshingly cool, both in appearance and in fact.

A dress of plain linen, with jacket or longer coat of the same fabric, enlivened by embroidery or printings of floral or geometric patterning, is ideal for morning shopping, or for house wear, or may even find a place at the country club for luncheon.

Distinctive Shoes Important Item in Fashion Show

SPRING DISPLAY OF SHOES WOULD AWE CINDERELLA

Basket of Easter Eggs Contains No More Striking Variety of Brilliant Colorings

BY WYNONAH JOHNSTON

It's a good thing that Cinderella left it to her Fairy Godmother to select the appropriate slippers to wear to that famous ball which has since become legendary, and that it all happened years ago, for if the little kitchen maid were alive today, and given a gorgeous new frock, and just a half hour in which to get her dance slippers fitted, and on to the celebration, I leave it to you just how long it would take, or just how bewildered she would become at the spring display of footwear.

In those days, glass slippers, they say, were the things to wear with party frocks, so it was simple; today there is such a bewildering display of new styles that the chooser stands spell-bound as they are displayed, for there have been so many radical changes in what is au fait for foot smartness that it takes the well-bred woman a great deal of sight seeing—or else reading about the spring style trend—before she can make up her mind and be sure she is right.

Talk about Easter eggs! A whole basketful would scarcely rival a basketful of new spring shoes such as are displayed in the smart shops downtown. Every brilliant hue, every delicate pastel tint—and combinations are shown, and embroidered sprays, polka dots, modernistic zig-zags delight the eye.

COLOR KEYNOTE

Color is the keynote of the spring footwear, for now, instead of meekly contributing to the monotony of the ensemble, Dame Fashion looks to the shoes to help the contrast, and add interest to the costume by accenting the least conspicuous color used by repeating it in decided tones. The new fabrics are riots of color and vivid design, and if the conventional think that footwear is going to limit itself to prosaic leather and a few reptilian skins, why, there's another guess coming.

Reptilian skins, my dears, is right. Many, many of them. It's a good thing that the buyer assured me that South America and other places are raising lizards and water snakes and such in such quantities that the market is bottomless, else I'd be wondering where they came from—the beautiful shiny reptilian shoes, natural Java lizard, ringtail lizard, eelskin and combinations of one or more, trimming each other. Grays and beige, there are so many gradations of them that it takes a color expert to tell one from the other, but when one's ensemble is of a certain cast of gray or tan, then the shoes must match, or accent tints of it, and it's all very very important which is which.

MADE OF FABRICS

When Milady of old immured herself in an old castle while papa and the boys went ajousting and embroidered for gentle pastime there were no shops to which to telephone or send ahorseback for new shoes, and she amused herself, when wearied with tapestry, by deftly putting sprays and designs on her shoes in vivid colors. She could step right out of her frame and find her shoes in style today, for vivid embroidery on linen vamps and on other fabrics which make the spring slippers are seen on every hand. Who would have expected to see linens, prints, shantungs, crepe de chines, piques and other domestic fabrics made into practical shoes a dozen years ago? Not I, for one, yet here they are, in all sorts of materials and colors, to match or contrast the spring outfit, and just as practical as you please.

If you choose a vivid print frock for your new one, then you draw colored shoes, or print shoes with a plainer frock. Pistachio for the front, and emerald for the back—that's the ombre effect which is a trifle startling, for you might think they were different shoes, comin' and goin'—but that's just the mode, and very striking it is. Besides the shoes of reptile skins, and those fabric ones, there are the popular woven styles, of horsehair braid, various pliable straws, or fabrics, made by hand in France or Switzerland or Czecho-Slovakia, and quite le dernier cri in smartness.

SANDALS REMAIN

Those Deauville sandals which seemed beach fads some years ago—they were too comfy and cool to pass out with other fads. American ingenuity remodeled them over American lasts, added heels where they were to be worn with dressier things, and fashioned them from other materials. They are shown everywhere for spring wear, in every color and combination.

Colors? Well, of course, the honey beige, parchment families are right with us, and the various popular cadet blue and Patou blue. Slate is indicated, and pastel tints show us pinks, lavenders, greens and yellows. But the striking colors which blend cleverly with costumes needing vivid accent are tomato red, turkey red, and the greenest of greens. Maize and citronella have their advocates, and wood violet and lavender are glibly mentioned and displayed.

Of course, the importance of staid black cannot be overlooked, there are some costumes which demand the sobriety of black, relieved by high light trim, and sports call for black and white, or tan and white, with interlaced heels, as well.

OPENWORK EFFECTS

The most unusual departure in style is the openwork effect of all spring and summer shoes. Open shank, sandal types, and slender straps buckled on the side predominate. They seem cut way down, these spring shoes, and the open weave of so many of them accentuate the idea of as little covering for the foot as possible. This wearing of no stockings, or of sunburn effect in hosiery, is responsible for that vogue, for if one cannot actually appear barefooted, and barelegged, then the next best thing to do is to wear an airy-looking footcovering that gives the vague impression that Old Sol can do his stuff as much as he likes, in the interest of health and comfort.

Those children of nature, brought up innocently in the mountain wilds, of which our best novelists like to tell us from time to time, who suffer so when their active feet are incased in shoes, will enjoy this season's styles all right, and scarcely know they've exchanged freedom for convention, so cleverly are the shoes designed to give freedom to the foot. So, besides being especially ornamental and delightfully designed and decorated, spring styles have likewise seen to it that good sense and freedom shine in shoe fashions, which is good news all 'round.

HEELS, HIGH OR LOW

Heels? Oh, they are nigh-low—built for comfort, you know. Out of doors beckons, and even though one is not a participant in athletic sports, one is very often a spectator, so that the ensemble harmonizes with the al fresco effect. There are well-defined lines and shoes, like other garments, are much more feminine than those of the past seasons, for the boyish effect is on the downhill, and all of milady's clothes and accessories are showing the softening effect of the return-to-gentler ways.

Gold and silver heels are seen, while beach wear or sports call for the crepe or rubber soles. Because of the gorgeous colors and embroideries of the shoes themselves, ornaments in the way of brilliants are few and far between, but trim buckles are featured, with the side fastenings, especially, and the slenderest of straps. Polka dots intrigued me—great big polka dots, oftenest giving that quaint side effect as though they were carefully spattered down one side of the dainty shoe, and not the other. Sport suits with such trimming of tie, or panel, accompanies such a shoe, and the very novelty of the departure is compelling.

Because of the ease with which shoes of silk and other soft fabrics may be colored to match one's gown, the pastel shades and tinted footwear hold their own in popularity as they did in the past winter, and the shoe shops are prepared to match one's most elusive color scheme, given a sample of the gown. More like Easter eggs than ever, these tinted shoes. It reminds me of the resourceful sisters of well-beloved "Little Women," who used oil paints to tint their shabby party shoes to match a frock, an audacious thing to do in those proper times. How artistic Amy would revel in the tints of today, to accompany every costume! Gradation of colors, the three or four ombre effects which are so striking, the modernistic trend which is developed in tomorrow's shoes are striking and effective, and modern maid nor matron need complain of monotony these halcyon days.

NEW AND UNUSUAL

It is because of its lightness and flexibility, its range of coloring, that kidskin has attained the heights of popularity and become one of the dominant materials of the season.

CHILDREN'S GARMENTS COLORFUL

Simplicity New Keynote of Youngsters' Spring Wear Displayed by Shops

Where are you going, my pretty maid? Oh, to kindergarten, perhaps, or to the park to see the zoo—or to a party—at any rate, the little maid and her small brother and wee sister have definite places to go this spring, in Southern California, where the whole world is their playground, and they must have well-stocked nursery chiffoniers, also, in which to fold away the pretty garments for all occasions.

Never were children's styles simpler, or more delightful than this season, when designers have conspired to make childhood as unassuming and happy and decorative as Nature meant it to be. The shops are crowded with darling little garments, colorful as the blossoms among which the little wearers play, yet practical and comparatively inexpensive.

Little sister has her ensemble suits, just like mother—the brightest of prints, trimmed in contrasting color, with little coats trimmed in the print, to match; she has pongee outfits, and gay silk, and, of course, linen and pique — a fabric which seems especially suited to childhood. She has the same quaint diagonal effect in her little dresses that mother has, in the trimming, and her skirts are as brief as possible, with dainty bloomers or shorts to match the frock. Little brother has rompers and suits to match; their coats are much alike, as well, and, if there are a half-dozen olive sprigs in the family, they all 'match,' for that is most fashionable.

Sandals, and woven effects in footwear, in bright colors, are here also in smallest sizes and ankle crushers, as the demure little socks are well named, with their cuffs of bright or pastel shades. Bonnets and wide hats of softest straw, and combinations deck the bobbed heads; gay little peasant effects are shown in many outfits. Simplicity, color and daintiness are the keynotes.

MILADY PAYS COLOR HOMAGE

the foot is covered as little as possible, and the warmth and light can penetrate to as much surface of one's pedal extremities as possible without actually going barefoot.

"Liberty of expression" characterizes the silhouette this spring, according to those who know. That is more significant than it may appear. It means the slim boyish flat figure is definitely on the downhill and the feminine outline is to be with us again. We overdid it, with the ups and down and dieting and starving, they tell us; that wanted boyishness which somehow followed the World War played havoc with lots of things besides the health of the feminine half of the nation.

Severe lines are no more; stores call blatant attention to corsets again. Oh no, not the hideous and uncomfortable ones of the past, but comfy, graceful garments such as "scanties" which take the place of several undergarments, but again hint delicately at feminine shapes—a rounded bust and a waistline. No longer must sister be taken for brother; the flounce, the tier and countless small straws show which way the wind is blowing. Bows, draperies, swathings and flares creep back. Pleats and tucks, jabots and scarfs, clever inserts and lengthening bits, ties here and there—they all add to the impression that the feminine silhouette is with us again and the tiresome tube effect is over at last.

COATS FOR MOTORING MADE OF LEATHER

Motor coats for spring are of leather, the softest and most supple of lambskin to keep the cold wind out. Lined with a bright figured kasha cloth against a neutral background this garment is trim and smart, with a gay scarf collar which finishes it off.

SPRING HOSIERY STRIDES MORE BACK-TO-NATURE

Sunburn and Other Outdoor Shades to be Exposed This Season on Both Old and Young Legs

There is no doubt that the back-to-nature wave which prevailed last year, wherein bare legs became most popular and comfortably accepted in all circles except severely formal, resulted in two things—panic on the art of the hosiery manufacturers for fear it would do away with stockings, and insistence on the part of most folks that stockings must simulate bare legs whenever possible.

Take sunburn for instance—those who could not acquire it at Palm Beach or Catalina, or on the Lido, took to the beauty parlors where bright lights are made to give one a becoming and painless coat of tan. That is why spring styles hasten to present the stocking which gives one a "start," so much like the limb it is supposed to cover, is it. Nude shades, sunburn shades and such sheer weave that one can scarcely say which is hosiery and which is skin feature the spring hosiery display. List to these specified shades—Life guard tan, Indio tan, and Gypsy tan. Are they not alluring? Add Narconian tan, Mecca, sun tan, Lido sand, dust, and you get the prevailing undertone of hosiery.

ANKLETS OR CRUSHERS

Those anklets or crushers or whatever you care to call them which were derided last year because they had such a careless and infantile effect on adult limbs, are popular again, just the same, not only for children, but for those of a larger growth, and their turned-down tops are vividly hued, to match the prevailing color not in the sports costume. After all, spring and warmer weather are the times for comfort and more of the back-to-nature feel of things, and bare legs, or half-bare legs are singularly informal and comforting after a season of galoshes. Thus, to be of the mode, bare, near-bare, and simulating bare, limbs happen to be the particular note of the new fashions.

STOCKING TIME

Clocks and stockings are more intimately related than may seem, first glimpse.

Although the originator of the term "clocks," related to hosiery, may not have foreseen the present relationship of time with these foot wearables, it is at present true that each weave and weight in hosiery has its time and also its place in feminine costumery. Quite as important is it, to the woman in the know, quite as great a faux paux, not to know the exact style and weight of stocking to don with each and every costume, as to choose the proper hat, or gloves or shoes, or hand bag.

Stockings there are for street and general wear—stockings of so-called service weight, plain, unadorned as a rule; or if ornamental, showing but a simple clock, or allowing to the heel the burden of such enhancement. Square heels, in the self-same coloring and of a trifle heavier weave than the remainder of the stocking, are allowed these numbers; or possibly a heel arrowly pointed straight up the back, where the seam line is; or if the wearer happens to be more inclined toward the ornate, a double arrow placed on either side this seam. Such arrows, as a rule are accomplished by means of the closer weave, after the manner of the square or rounded heel. Sometimes, however, in the lighter, handsomer weaves, this effect has been brought about by open-work, achieved in weaving.

WEIGHT OF HOSIERY

As to weight, in hosiery, this is by far the most important in selecting the right footwear for the garment or costume. Chiffons come in thistle-down and all the way up and down from this almost imperceptible heaviness, or lightness. Beyond this, come the cobweb effects, so transparent, so nothing-like as to seem the very bare flesh of the wearer. Then, there are the lace hose—fine as neckwear, in effect. One of the latest hosiery weaves is fish-net; which needs no definition, but which its advocates declare eminently able in bringing about the sun-tanning so beloved of those sportily inclined. For, in these so-open stockings, there is no impediment to the rays of our friend Old Sol, as he goes about his coating of the human form divine. To wear with evening slippers of gold or silver, one may, if one wish, choose hosiery compounded from gold or from silver metallic threads, forming a foot ensemble beyond criticism. In lieu of the actual metallic weaves, come weaves in tints of gold or silver so nearly simulating them as to be undectable under the evening lights.

WOOL FOR SPORTS

For sports, hose of wool either by itself or intermingled with threads of lisle or cotton, are shown in daring plaids, or stripes or more modestly, all in self-color. These, selected to harmonize with the trim skirt or nickers of the sports venturer are not so conspicuous as they sound, and especially in wintry weather are extremely comfortable. Some there are, who choose woolen hose at all times for most active sports, even in our salubrious climate.

With a wide variety of colors from which to choose, and with so many weaves in every weight of hose, even she who never ventures to differ from the modes' dictates may still find room for expression of individual taste in the important features of proper footwear.

SHOES WILL MATCH BAGS THIS SPRING

Relationship Extends to Material, Hues and Trim as Fashion Decrees

Critical persons who complain that the modern drug store sells everything except drugs should glance into the shoe shop and see the bags these days. This season, more than any other, bags and shoes are closely related, and when milady chooses her new shoes, she selects the bag at the same time, so that in material and color and trim they will match, as fashion decrees.

Bags are more than necessities in which to tuck one's purse, key and lipstick—they are essentially decorative notes of the wardrobe. There is the brown crocodile bag, envelope shape, or some other reptilian leather, with its tiny gold metal clasp, or the one of navy blue sealskin, or of pigskin, any one of which has its shoes to match.

Lizard bags are tailored, gathered, or pouchy, while angora and tweed have their cousins in the shoe line. Suede, kid, shark-grain leathers are seen, as well as the various fabrics colored to match every shade for footwear. Gloves, shoes and bags are smart when they complete the ensemble costume and so discordant when they are selected at random, for whimsical reasons as to shape or clasp, regardless of color of texture.

Fluctuation in Muskrat Skins.

The pelt of a muskrat was worth so little twelve or fifteen years ago that they were not worth the trapper's time unless he could get them in large numbers with very little labor. Their price at that time hovered around 8 cents each. Later the demand for skins of all kinds brought about a change and the quotations commenced to soar until in 1919-20, a year of extraordinary values in all lines, the spectacular figure of $10.50 was reached at the New York fur sales. Prices have now become fairly stabilized under steady demand and there is every likelihood of their remaining so. The Canadian catch of 1922-23 returned an average of $1.32 per pelt to the primary producer; that of 1923-24 $1.15, and that of 1924-25 $1.11. At the Montreal fur sales in 1925 muskrat pelts sold up to $2 and in 1926 and 1927 ranged from $1.50 up to $2, prime ranch-bred skins bringing a slightly higher figure.

FASHION'S OLD FRIENDS BACK

Molded Silhouette Among Those Mentioned

Today's Skirt Hemlines to be Irregular

Necks Are to be Shallow; Scarf Stays On

Showing which way the wind is blowing, the terms so glibly employed by the arbiters of fashion, are old friends which we have not heard of for some seasons. Molded silhouette is one and self-strap-detailing is another. Lace collars and vestees, self-strap arrangements, buttons, scarf collars and plastrons abound; asymmetrical effects are mentioned, low-placed flares, reveres and surplice closin, frills and ruching.

Molded silhouette—that doesn't mean the old heavily corseted figure with its hourglass effect, but that which follows the natural contour of the figure, and the princess style, or that which joins to a fitted hipline a bloused effect, giving the skirt leeway to wander whither it listeth.

The old-fashioned visiting dressmaker who sat on the floor with her mouth full of pins and labored to get the skirt line exactly even would rejoice in today's hemline which is an irregular as ever. Sawtoothed, scalloped, irregular pleats and shirred or circular, they dip here and there in seeming artlessness and the floating panels, cascade drapes, godets and flounces inserted at uneven levels help the effect.

Necks are shallow, square, very deeply V'd, or softened with vests and tucks. Jabots, one-sided capes and collars and scarfs help this irregularity, and the woman who needs a certain neckline to be becomingly gowned can have her d'ruthers, as the children put it. Truly, the straws showing fashion's wind blowing in spring's direction are most interesting, and certainly more broad-minded than those of the past few seasons.

SPRING SHOES IN VIVID TONES

In that smart shop out Seventh street, I saw shoes and bags to match of that very kidskin, in all the new tones—the slatey blue called cadet, the toast brown, and firefly red, leaf green and sun tan so smart for the season. Some of them have contrasting trim; witness beige underlay with the red kidskin or beige snakeskin to the toast brown kid. Shoes and belts and bags to match are all ready for fastidious choice, and, now more than ever before, called for each other to make the costume complete.

The all-leather heel for the sport shoe is the present mode de rigeur, and woven sandals with either high or low heel are in evidence.

Speedboats? Swimming figures? They are to be seen—on the sport shoes! Yes, truly, they are—that effective Rodier cloth and other ultra modern fabrics boast the vivid colors and figures in delightful designs, and give the smartest of tone to the accompanying wardrobe.

FANCY GLOVES COME TO FORE

Wood Tones and Grays Hold Color Spotlight

Seasonable Novelties Add to Variety for Choice

Gold Edging and Metal Trim Effects Popular

Years and years ago, as the reminiscent old folk say, gloves were worn for protection against hard labor, or against the rigors of wintry weather, as far back as the ancient Greeks. By the time the noble Romans adopted them, they became ornamental and indicated rank, but it wasn't until after the Norman conquest that they assumed the decorative aspect they have had ever since.

The custom of carrying a falcon on one's wrist in those days seems to have stimulated the fashion of gloving one's hands, and from then on, they have appeared on the pages of history, romance and fashion in various guises, such as the embroidered trifles knights twisted in their helmets or displayed on shields as guerdons, and which told the rest of the romantic world where their fancies lay.

MANY DECORATIONS

Thus it was that embroidery entered the glove business and silk, worsted or leather gloves boasted the bravest of decorations. Today the glove indeed is a part of Madame's life, and if it is less romantic, it is highly important as far as her reputation for style and good taste are concerned. The glove completes, accents and harmonizes with her ensemble.

Dame Fashion says that, for tailored wear, the glove should be of one of the popular wood tones, such as tan bark, sun tan, cast—or with a gold cast to them. Since the Great God Ra rules, the sunburn outdoor effect is capitalized in gloves as in other accessories, and the grays come in for their share, in Priscilla, Mother Goose or oatmeal, a beige gray which looks well with the neutral gray costume, or the black.

WAY BREEZE BLOWS

Honey beige, mellow, champagne, sunburn and willow, all these indicate which way the glove breeze blows.

Besides the short or long slip-on gloves and the one-button or clasp ones, there are the usual seasonable novelties or very simple design, which depend on color tone, futuristic effect and original but not grotesque cuff effects for their interest appeal. Novelty in design such as gold edging, brass knuckles and metallic trim are shown, while long slipovers in fine leathers are favored, frequently given an original twist by a strap or bracelet trimming of contrasting color. Pigskin is one of the popular materials for shorter slipons with vents.

American aboriginal, to remotest Egyptian era, but has furnished inspiration for silken imagery. From the overwhelming grandeur of greatest waterfalls and canons, to the minutest fern-like fronds and grasses of the friendly mountaintops, patternings have been drawn for silks. From the tallest skyscraper to the implements for motor cars, themes may be traced in modernistical plans for silken yardage.

VARIOUS SILKS

Among silk weaves, chosen for fashion's modeling into gowns, ensembles, and separate garments, none, perhaps, are more popular than the crepes; but to say "crepe," is as unenlightening as to term a yardage "silk" or to call it "cotton," since there are so many distinctive weaves in crepe, that each must be separately designated. There is crepe de chine, crepe roma, crepe faconne or jacquard crepe, crepe morocain, crepe lolita, canton crepe and a host of others—all crepey weaves, but masquerading under differing titles, and each having a proper claim to differentiation, by reason of some slight variance in weave or at least in surface. Then, among the silks, there are many weaves other than crepe; taffeta, rajah, pussy-willow enjoying a revival, as also does silk serge, silk voile and Georgette, that close relative of chiffon. In each of these one may find both plain colors and printures—the latter chosen, as we have said, from out Nature's treasures and from such periods as those of the French empire and the early American, or pioneer days.

VELVETS

No mention of fabrics for high-class gowns and wraps could be complete, were not the pile fabrics included; for velvets, in all weights and colors, play an important part in the more luxurious of garments. Transparent velvet, chiffon velvet, used for evening wraps and gowns; the heavier weaves for trig little jackets to go with differing skirts or frock ensembles. Some of the more sumptuous evening capes, or cloaks, as one might better name them, are not content with being velvet, but take on deep borderings in printure enhanced by hand-painting and high-lighted by gold metallic.

A lovely evening wrap shown in our leading picture, while not of velvet, is quite as entrancing as any seen. White chiffon is its material, with lining of the same, and the full spread of the cape is throughout dotted with curious flat tassels laid on fanwise, these composed from spun glass in similitude of fine hairy fronds, set to the cloth with rhinestones. Another original feature of this delightful evening confection is the quaint scarf of chiffon, which seems to emerge from out a yoke directly in the back.

The use of uncurled ostrich feathers, forming a long stole attaching to the rolling collar of the same, is a feature of these evening wraps, or capes.

THE SCARF

Which brings us to the scarf as a season's feature; for it remains a feature, despite predictions. In fact, scarcely a wrap or dress, jacket or ensemble but owns a scarf. Originality is brought to bear in the attachment of this scarf, if it be an integral part of its accompanying costume, as it is more than likely to be. Sometimes passing through slits to make it seem integral, or cut in one with the collar of the wrap or jacket, or in some unusual manner made to seem related to the garment, more closely than has been the scarf custom in seasons past, the scarf must be reckoned with. Often, such scarves are at one with the neck-kerchief, or form a half of it, the other half being absent. In any case, this or these—whichever we may name this attachment—is likely to be fashioned from the material of the garment which it completes.

This does not mean that separate scarves and separate neck-kerchiefs have lost their vogue. Far from it, since they persist in more varied coloring and weaves, even, than heretofore. Especially as the distinguishing note in sportswear, that so-evident accent which differentiates sports from street attire, are these addenda put to use.

THE SPORTSWEAR

So slight are the differences between street and sportswear, as to be almost indefinable. Particularly is this true in our own city, where nearly everyone, almost anyone may be going to or from sports, as they pass along the avenues. Unlike the dweller in eastern cities, where street clothes are without exception and of necessity, dark and most conservative, we are inclined to regard ourselves as dwellers in a world of resorts, since sea and mountain are at our very doors; and all kinds of outdoor activities claim our leisure.

Hence, as has been said, the line of demarcation between street and sports attire, is little more than guessable. The silk ensemble, or dress for sports, may lay claim to some sophisticated sportish touch in belt, neck-line, or blouse; the weave in silk or possibly its design given a sportish atmosphere, through some differing imprinture, or possibly in coloring. The jacket of the sports attire may be a bit shorter, or more pocketted than are those for street use; the coat may be belted differently than its more dressy relative, for wear to theater or on the promenade; the hand bag may be more given to color and to modernistical design or shape than that carried with the more formal dress; all these regarding the sports frocks, ensemble, or coat; and yet we have always the sweater and separate skirt, which we may designate as strictly sportswear; but yet these are worn more often on our streets, especially by the more youthful contingent.

In such wear, the separate skirt and sweater, pleats of various kinds prevail, in the knee-length lower garment, while the top one is chosen to either match in color or contrast vividly. Many weaves are found in sweaters, as many and as varied as are the colors in their complementing skirts. Here, as elsewhere, the jacket has found a prominent place. Either in cloth or velvet or its less luxurious cousin, velveteen, this jacket has its own favorite way of saying "sports."

SPRING HATS

Since the earliest burgeoning of spring is usually to be found in millinery, we should have first told about new hats. But still, the "Easter bonnet," as such, has lost much of its one-time significance, in that we must possess as many hat as frocks, or wraps, or dresses. "One for each" has usurped, in wardrobe parlance, the remainder of the maxim "one for all."

Earliest hats of straw are as varied in weave as are our silks or woolen fabrics, as are our hand bags and shoes and hosiery. A general dictum, however, is for the smoother weaves, balibuntl, kok, baton, cisel, and similar straws; while felt in new developments, has lost none of its popularity, especially when shown in the new shapes and in new combinations with straw, velvet or other materials.

That brims again appear, is a matter of congratulation, especially in our sunny climate, where eyes require shading. But, with the disregard for the wearer's comfort, usually shown by fashion, the brims are more than likely to take to the back of the hat, or to fold down at one side—and that not the sunny side perhaps!

The use of lace, is a novel note—a lace so closely colored to match the hat as to be almost indistinguishable from the straw. Set on in curving bands, or motifs, from under which the material of the hat has been cut away, this lacey adornment, makes for a summery effect.

The use of feather motifs has somewhat appeared; more particularly upon hats for matrons—if there are any matrons!

Flowers, used in new and ingenuous ways are a prediction for the summer millinery. That we should have four separate seasons in millinery, every wise woman is ready to concede, since our brightly shining sun, so soon dulls colors and our long dusty season reduces the more delicate fabrics and trims, to a foregone conclusion.

Beige, in the lighter tones, holds first place in the early season's millinery. However, we may declare our weariness of beige, it seems determined to be thrust upon us, season after season, in millinery as in clothes.

Black, however, runs beige a hard and hearty race for supremacy in hats, and also in wraps, especially for street coats. And Paris declares new life for her omni-favorite black-and-white. And then there are the sun-tans—our very own—creation of our California climate and borrowed from us by fashion, for her world-wide modes, from complexions to the new "burnt white" in satins.

Housework No Longer Appeals to Girl of Today

Some of our most advanced female thinkers have been spreading the gorgeous fruits of their lucubrations before the American Sociological Association.

One of them, Prof. Annie Louise McLeod of Syracuse University, treated the association to an exposition of her mature conclusions about women and housework. "How can we expect a keen intelligent girl, after four years of college life, to take up chores that are wearing on the nerves and fatiguing to the muscles?" she asked. "It is obvious that it is neither logical nor economically sound to educate girls extensively for a life apart from home responsibilities and then thrust these responsibilities upon them," she continued, and then to settle the whole matter, observed, "Any high-grade moron can do housework."

Although time has removed us from that youthful world of certitude and fresh discovery in which Prof. McLeod seems so brilliantly to revolve, we confess great sympathy for her opinions. One cannot contemplate without pain and horror the spectacle of one of these exquisite creatures, "keen, intelligent girls," who have been supported through four years of college life by some stodgy old father, being brought into contact with anything that would wear on her nerves or fatigue her muscles. To subject the refined feminine product of our colleges to the degrading work of making her bed, of washing a dish or of sweeping her room, is a denial of progress and enlightenment to which no one but old fogies would subscribe.

Housework is an occupation suitable only for moron mothers who by some strange freak have given birth to the keen and intelligent girls who must not be fatigued. It should be seen to that these beautiful, fragile creatures of Prof. McLeod's plant seek "gainful pursuits outside the home." The can-opener has relieved them of the drudgery of cooking, and science should take care that their nerves are freed from the strain of travail by synthetic babies.—[Baltimore Sun.

FLOWERS SHARE FASHION HONORS

Important Place on Spring Costumes Pledged

New York Show Discloses New Rage for Mode

Red Gardenias on Pyjamas Just Very Smartest

Flowers on hats, shoulders, waists and in every conceivable place on our dresses will be worn this spring. This was the conclusion drawn from the first international artificial flower show at the Ritz Carlton Hotel in New York when models from leading style sources showed forthcoming costume flower fashions for America. Judging from this, flowers will be worn literally from morn to midnight, on pyjama ensembles, tailleurs, afternoon frocks, and evening models. Leading Paris milliners, including Reboux, Le Monnier, Agnes, Georgette, Lewis, Marguerite et Leonie, Louison, etc., have recently launched hats with flower trimming, and some of these were included in the exhibition, which was under the auspices of the International Artificial Flower Trades.

Flowers harmonize with current trends in costume fashion, and these costume flowers illustrate a high degree of creative art and inspiration, even reflecting modernistic influences.

Important flower colors are: lime lemon, yellow, burnt orange, chartreuse and other soft greens, the beiges and tans. White is in favor, while such combinations as black and white, two shades of gray, pale mauves; new blues are also seen. In the boutonniere and tailleur flowers, the tendency to combine two and three colors is very marked.

SPRING BOUQUETS IN FAVOR

Bouquets of natural spring flowers in mixed garden hues are a strong tendency in flower fashions for spring. These nosegays, comprised of bright colors in the garden flowers, such as ragged robin, mignonnette, forget-me-not, buttercup, cowslips, etc., make a piquant contrast to the spring ensemble. Other natural flowers favored for spring are lilies of the valley, violets, marguerites, black-eyed susans and poppies.

No longer does the woman who dresses well confine her costume flower requirements to a single cluster. She considers her flower as a decorative note in relation to a costume. In a fashion review, "Around the Clock With Flowers," mannequins showed with the aid of original Paris models and costumes and accessories from Lord and Taylor, Mary Walls, and La Mode Chez Tappe, how it was possible to vary a classic tailleur suit or coat with different flower accessories; and the use of costume flowers with every type of costume from the pyjama ensemble in the morning to the formal evening gown and wrap for dinner and the dance.

PYJAMAS DON BOUTONNIERES

Among the models shown were a black and white satin pyjama, original Patou model, worn with a red gardenia; a black and white tweed suit with white jersey, worn with a black hat trimmed with a white flower, and the same flower in black and white in the buttonhole. This suit was also worn with a burnt orange straw hat, original French model from Louison trimmed with three daisies with black and white raises in the buttonhole; and with a dark blue hat trimmed with a single blue flower with the same blue flower in the buttonhole. A new peasant print, black ground with small blue flowers was worn with a blue forget-me-not turban from Marguerite and Leonie.

Among the evening models were a dress of white lunasol satin with a back garniture of red roses; a printed chiffon evening ensemble with crepe chartreuse coat, the flower trimmings carrying out the idea of the mimosa print; a black taffeta period dress with rose colored chrysanthemums on shoulder to waist, a tulle and veiled taffeta evening dress, the flowers carrying out the design of the taffeta; tangerine and gold velvet evening wrap with tangerine tulips; a crinoline chiffon dress, pastel colored, with violet flower hat and muff from Tappe.

The review closed with a night ensemble, an original Lelong model with pastel colored narcissus boutonniere.

HIGHLIGHTS OF EXHIBITS

For morning and tailleurs for early spring, are delightful boutonnieres of leather. Navy blue with white center, red with yellow, magenta and brown. There are small buttonhole flowers of suede with leaves of cire material, cut in new modernistic shapes. Beige, tans and greens predominate in this group. There are buttonholes of fruit and berries, miniature oranges, apples plums, limes, lemons. There are boutonnieres of three small felt roses with a tiny line of leather in each of the petals.

For afternoon, there are modernistic roses in delicate shades of yellow, chartreuse, blue, pale rose, printed or stenciled in a plaid design. There are roses of slightly stiffened silk with fine straps of velvet in harmonizing and contrasting shades. There are silk camellias in two tones—light and darker green, rose, blue and yellow.

For evening wear, there are roses of tulle and soft silk in greens and beiges with taffeta leaves outlined on velvet. There are dyed lace roses. There are large trailers and mauve, pale blue and rose, composed of pansies in chartreuse There are delicate trailing clusters of pastel morning glories. There are large chiffon clusters in pastel shades; there are gardenias in clusters and trailers to be worn at the front or back.

SPORT FLOWERS FOR SPRING

Especially delightful for light colored summer dresses are "candy striped" camellias in white ribbed silk stiffened, with alternate leaves striped in clear green or red or blue or orange or beige.

There are very modern roses of stiffened silk stenciled in plaid design in the various summer colors. For summer dresses of a slightly less tailored variety there are effective roses of stiffened linen with petals scalloped with velvet; in combinations of white with black, light gray with darker gray, gray and red, new

NEW VELVET GAINING IN POPULARITY

Transparent Fabric Bids Fair to be Much in Vogue During Summer

At Palm Beach, Mrs. Joseph Walton of New York and Philadelphia was recently noted wearing a colorful beach lounging costume of satin trousers, white silk blouse and a short jacket of transparent velvet This use of transparent velvet confirms recent predictions of the vogue of this material for spring and summer. According to the Shelton Looms, one of the leaders in the development of transparent velvet, the lighter weight of this material and its property as a nonconductor of heat makes it logical for summer use.

Parallel with the development of transparent velvet for spring and summer, charming new colors are being shown in this material for spring. Among these are sea pearl, jasmine, apricot, tea rose, shell pink, citron, aqua green, tiger lily, while in the beiges, rose tints are favored and yellows from the high blend shades to the straw colors will also be seen. Purple shades are important—among them, passion flower, a lavender tone, and purple aster, a richer, deeper shade, which is particularly suited for summer evening wraps.

Too Skimpy Skirt No Aid to Women Who Are Older

Most older women make a great mistake in wearing their skirts very short, even if their legs are well-shaped, says Hazel Rawson Cades, beauty editor of the Woman's Home Companion. Miss Cades insists that she is not criticizing any woman for looking as well as she can, at any age. But she declares that women do grow older and nobody can beat the game much.

In regard to skirts, she insists that the whole architectural scheme of the elder woman's figure should be one of dignity, "and you can't get it with short skirts." Shoes, she adds, should be inconspicuous and give adequate support to the heel and instep. "An insecure footing and noticeably careful gait are two unmistakable signs of age," she explains, "and may often be avoided by proper choice of shoes."

It is entirely possible, Miss Cades observes, for a woman to be much nicer-looking at 60 than at 40. "But she certainly won't be as young a woman, as her methods of decorating her person should not be the same. Every age has its own limitations, standards and assets. The older woman should recognize, accept and capitalize here. My quarrel with the look-young school is that it attempts to iron out these personal characteristics or to dress them up so that nobody in the world would dream that the mature woman had lived, seen or knew any more than the veriest youngster.

"As one grows older, adjustments in the technique of grooming are necessary. There is, for example, the gradual color change in hair, eyes and complexion. The brown-eyed, brown-haired girl who has always worn browns finds her hair turning gray and her complexion growing paler. Brown ceases to flatter her, and if she is wise she turns to greens, grays or plum shades. Only the young fresh skin can dare a bright rouge or any rouge in quantity. Any showing of face powder makes a haggard skin look more so."

Beaver Skins as Money

One of the attractions offered by this country to the early explorers and settlers, was the great abundance of the beavers to be had with little trouble, and at the same time there was a constant demand in Europe for the same skins. The result was that for a century or more beaver pelts were a common unit of barter from Quebec to New York. The beavers were nearly wiped out, but there is a moderate supply of them today and the center of the beaver tribe is Michigan. It is a conservative estimate that in that part of the State referred to as "above the strait," there are 20,000 of these animals. Almost exterminated in the lower peninsula, in 1900 their numbers have been notably increased in periods of closed seasons.

CORSET COMES BACK IN FASHION

Not Ironclad of Early Days, but Flexible Support

Female Form Again Requires Molding of Curves

New Garments Dainty Things of Lace and Rubber

Buzzing like the proverbial beehive, the corsetieres must be up and doing with the revival of feminity in the mode and the decline and fall of the up-and-down boyish figure.

The newest in these intimate appliances of foundation for the spring modes are interesting because of their beauty and lightness, as well as their importance.

Gone long since the long, boned affairs which looked to be most uncomfortable, to say the least. The woman who came home and "undressed" usually did so to get out of the tight sheath which prevented her from sitting on the floor with the baby, if she cared to do so, or from reclining with comfort.

THING OF BEAUTY

But today the corset is a pliable affair of rubber mesh and weaving, plentifully supplied with lacy medallions and trimmings. There is a shaped bust—to give the cupped effect—and a foundation gently but firmly indicating the feminine form divine over which the swathed waist line or the princesse indication or the high or low waistline may be draped.

Lace medallions and yokes and flowers trim these garments; the saleslady is apt to inquire "How many?" Yes, people buy them as they do lingerie and have them laundered, and add to the list. There may be very low ones for the almost-backless gown, slipons, stepins, wraparounds and all the rest of the descriptive terms apply here as to other lingerie. Shirring, tapestry effects, ecru, blue, rose—these garments are no longer the homely, uncomfortable necessities of yesteryear which were carefully concealed when not in use because of their unsightliness, but as comfortable healthy and dainty as can be and things to be enjoyed.

UPLIFT EMPHASIZED

In the longer models the minimum of boning is used and where reinforcing is needed sateen lining or taping are employed. Matching belts of jersey, lace, crepe and tricot are offered and while they sponsor the uplift line at the bust for the full figure, cross-tapes and double panels of elastic help give the required support. These give control to the waistline, it is told, without especially defining it.

Delicate peach, Lido blue and eggshell are among the dainty tints in which these garments are developed and back or side fastenings or straps which cross in back and button in front are cleverly concealed under shirred ribbons, lace insets, crepe de chine or net.

The picturesque costumes of the various German clans are doomed to disappear. The older generation, which knows how to make them, is passing away and the younger generation is interested only in the modern styles.

LONGFELLOW'S OLD

Americans knew Henry Ford long ago as an imaginative man, and it need not surprise them that he has a fondness for poetry—the old American sort, represented by Whittier, Bryant and Longfellow. When he visits his Wayside Inn at South Sudbury, Mass., and sits by one of the seventeenth-century fireplaces, his hand more often than not holds a volume of Longfellow's poems, open at "The Psalm of Life," says the New York Times.

Around the spacious fireplace Longfellow grouped a company of his friends and to each assigned parts of his "Tales of a Wayside Inn." In this group were Ole Bull, the musician; Prof. Treadwell, the theologian; Isaac Edrehi, "the Spanish Jew;" Henry Ware Wales, the student; Thomas W. Parsons, the poet, and Luigi Monti, "the Sicilian," a Harvard professor then. All of their portraits hang around the walls. Longfellow put the tale of Paul Revere into the mouth of his host, Lyman Howe, and it continues to be the most popular in the book.

In order to start the fire for his meal, the cook used a "pistol lighter," shaped as its name would imply. The [illegible] piece of flint. [illegible]

Large flattering collars, well up on the shoulders or fitted at the back without interfering with the drape of the coat, are shown in spring fashions and the princesse silhouette is seen on the skyline in furs as well as in other things, although the straight-line coat is the thing now.

New interpretations of the throw scarf in such treatments as the pleated throw, possibly let out at the lower section to form a capelet effect, are forecast. No smart wardrobe is complete without a fur scarf, throw, coat or cape and the well-dressed woman owns several, for the cool evenings of our West make them grateful for warmth and the dictates of fashion make them absolutely essential for style.

KERCHIEFS GAY AS NOSEGAYS

Knee Hankies of Bold Tones Among Novelties of Costume Touches

In the immortal volume of "Little Women," the girls' mother is pictured as leaning from the window as they depart each day to call, 'Girls, have you clean handkerchiefs?' In those days dignified squares, with, perhaps, an initial embroidered in the corner, were good taste to carry on all occasions, but today handkerchiefs are as varied as nosegays.

Sport hankies show vivid borders on which canoes glide, tennis rackets leap, or airplanes float on high. Linen handkerchiefs which are defined as half handspun show fine rolled hems, and three letter monograms oft of a color to match the blocked patterns. Knee hankies in demure knee cases are a novelty.

Crepe de chine with filmy lace in pastel colors, or vivid bold tones to accent a print design of the costume abound. Demure pockets for change or for the ever-needful powder puff in its tiniest form set other small squares apart by their usefulness.

Average Business Girl a Worker of Modern Miracles

Every New Yorker who knows anything at all about the New York business girl knows she is a marvelous person. It doesn't take statistics to prove that, but if statistics are desired they are furnished by the Carroll Vacation Club. They were provided through questionnaires answered by some 1500 young women employed in about 900 places of business in Manhattan and Brooklyn.

The average girl—that is the customary way of referring to averages obtained from questionnaires—earns $33.50 a week, out of which she spends $7.56 a week for clothing, contributes $9.53 to the support of dependents or to church and saves $4.75. When she takes a vacation it is for two weeks, costs her $88.50 and usually involves a trip to seashore or mountains not far from New York. She spends most of her leisure reading, giving more time to books than to theaters, dances, bridge or athletics. When she pays her own way to the theater she sits somewhere upstairs, but when she goes to the movies she buys orchestra seats. She regards personality, education, ability, health and neatness as the most important factors in business success, rating them in the order given.

A marvel and no mistake! Cool, neat, efficient, womanly, abundantly able to take care of herself at all times and in all places, she is the wonder of the modern world. There is much pragmatic wisdom, too, in her outlook upon the factors essential to success. Personality is her longest and strongest suit in fact as well as in philosophy. To be convinced a skeptic only needs to keep his eyes open wherever there are business girls in office, subway or street. There is as much of what is commonly called personality to the square foot among them as can be found in any other heterogeneous assembly of human beings.

Business theoretically rates ability as the most desirable characteristic in an employee, but this level-headed individual, the New York business girl, is not to be taken in by mere theories. Ability is indispensable for complete success, but ability is much easier to pick up in any job lot of humanity than is outstanding personality. By this word is meant something more than individuality—perhaps it is individuality plus a little something which is vivid, convincing, confidence-winning. The odd thing about personality is that its possessor has it or hasn't by a mysterious operation of nature. It is rarely acquired unless surface polishing of natural adaptability may be considered acquisition. Education, health and neatness are part of the business girl's stock in trade. When added to industry and illuminated by personality they make her what she is and explain her.—[New York Sun.

COLORS DIVERSIFIED

What imagery do these delectable colors conjure to your mind? They are glibly in use by the salesmen who help you in selecting your spring wearables; chartreuse green, dusty rose, grayed lavender-blues, pervenche blue, and misty yellow. Cannot you see them, developed in velvet wraps?

Peasant frocks for the youngster are popular, and appliques and ajour work stressed. Nursery animals, flowers and amusing designs are shown in gay colors against the plain backgrounds. Smocking adds a dainty touch to little crepe-de-chine frocks.

Drawn work in bands is used to elaborate the little girl's linen frock.

Because sweaters are always useful in the spring, the shops are featuring many unique designs in smart knitted slipovers and coats for youngsters, in plain, stripes and flowered designs.

Seagulls, sailboats and fishes and gulls are the motifs embroidered on little sunsuits for the babies, or appliqued on others. These brief garments are especially suitable for sunbaths, and those fashioned of batiste of a quality just heavy enough to be nontransparent are of pastel shades and colors.

A hen, not an ostrich, owned by Glenn McDonald, Glenburn (Me.) farmer, surprised him by laying an egg ten and a half inches in circumference and seven and one-half inches long. There were really two eggs, a perfectly formed one being found within the outer shell.

SPRING UNDIES IN MANY SHADES

Rosebuds and Ribbon Adorn Dainty Garments

Lounjamas Like Boys Suits in Favor

Hemstitching and Inserts Prove Popular

Why, even the names are alluring! Take "briefs," for instance—they are as short, as youthful and as frivolous to look at as their name is to hear. Worn very short, indeed, and bloused in a trim manner, these spring undies come in green, orchid or pink, in maize, blue or peach, to match one's costume, and they boast a tiny pointed yoke to make them fit snugly about and below the waist, and are trimly fastened with elastic shirred ribbon above the knees.

There is nothing prosaic about the spring lingerie. Blimps—that's another name for those "briefs." Tailored, or lace-trimmed, you may choose your type. Call them dansettes, if you like. Rosebuds and ribbons adorn them when they are fancy instead of tailored and give them a particularly girly appearance. Brevity sets they are in sooth, with bandettes to complete them.

RETIRING GARMENTS

Lounjamas and other quaint variations of retiring garments flourish this spring—in all sorts of combinations. Take the tuck-in styles—they are much like the trim boyish suits wherein snugly fitting trousers button on to a high waist. In this case, the sleeveless upper part is apt to be of pastel shade, and the pajama-like trousers buttoned to it of brilliantly colored material, or perhaps of print. Then the proud owner may add a loose coat to match if desired.

Hemstitching has its advocates who desire the severely tailored effect of the trim. Lace medallions and inserts are favorites with others and lingerie trimmed with either obtainable in your favorite color is desirable. Some of it is so dainty and original that it does seem a pity to cover it with prosaic outer garments! But then, the well-dressed woman is undoubtedly so, because she is serene in the assurance that she is daintily and correctly dressed from the inside out, which gives her undoubted confidence.

DAINTY PAJAMAS

Milady and her daughters and sisters and best friends may wear pajamas for lounging wear, but they are not of the masculine type. Oh, no. Distinguished by large bow treatments, such pajamas as they choose for comfort are as dainty as can be, the trousers being unusually wide and the cuffs trimmed with bows, blossoms or lace. Chosen for boudoir bridge, one pajama type shows a border trimming of the card suits, while other sets are of black or dark colors, with blouses to match, and coat or capes of contrasting colors. Pastel shades chosen for pajama suits are frequently trimmed with fagotting and folds of the same material and color used at the trouser cuffs.

Because lace is coming into its own again, some negligees are fairly foaming with it. The chances are that they will grow more feminine and cascadey than ever.

ANOTHER COMPLAINT

During Will Rogers's third season with the Ziegfeld "Follies"—he was then earning $350 a week—he went to Ziegfeld, saying:

"When I left Oklahoma, I promised my wife and children that some day I'd make $400 a week, and if I ever could make that the dream of my life would be fulfilled."

Ziegfeld promptly fulfilled his dream.

Next year Rogers asked for $600, chuckles Eddie Cantor, telling the story in his reminiscenses, "My Life Is in Your Hands."

"What's the idea?" said Ziegfeld. "I thought your wife and children were perfectly satisfied with $400 a week?"

"They are," replied Will. "But since then I've gotten another child and he's kicking."—[Kansas City Times.

PROBLEM NEVER SOLVED

Improving the condition of domestic servants by giving them the eight-hour day and the six-day week is not a new proposition, although the Scientific Housekeeping luncheon on Monday was devoted to it with a vigor suitable to launching a fresh plan. International co-operation is sought for the solution of "the critical servant problem." The ambiguous phrase is not inaccurate, for many servants are as critical as the problem is acute. Joint attack on the latter by England and the United States has already begun, for a visitor from the National Institute of Industrial Psychology of London was the guest of honor.

Families that have taken to apartment life are not so seriously inconvenienced by the shortage of men and women who will do domestic work as are those living in private houses. Cooks and maids may still be greatly desired by the apartment dwellers, but they are not an absolute full-time necessity. The management provides heat and hot water and often there is a restaurant in the building which is used in emergencies. The servant who works in a hotel or for the manager of a multiple-family building enjoys some of the advantages of workers in other industries. Hours of work, for meals and for recreation are fixed with some degree of certainty and that feeling of being continuously on call which is resented by the servant who "lives in" is eliminated.

To introduce the same regularity into the schedule of all servants is the worthy object of the new scheme. New Yorkers have been fairly ingenious in working out a formless but practicable system of their own. Those who have not the money or perhaps the inclination to live in apartment hotels, where all service is supplied, have found a means of getting necessary work done. That those who do it have met their employers half way is a tribute to the tact of both sides.

Small homes well equipped with labor-saving devices are the rule among New Yorkers who can afford to have any servant at all. In few of them is there a place for a maid who would live in the house. Even if there were accommodations for her she usually prefers to go home at night. She does not identify herself with the family she works for, but has an independent life of her own. No more than an office clerk does she attach herself to her employers. They in turn are released from the old feeling of responsibility. Both parties to this loose contract are much freer than they used to be. Many houseworkers do cleaning and preparing of meals for families in the same building or neighborhood, building up a clientele worthy of any professional worker. When the scientific psychologists begin their labors on behalf of servants they will probably find plenty to do in other cities, but here the foundation has been laid. All they will have to do is continue what is well started.—[New York Times.

Man Marries Grandmother

Marriage of a grandson and his grandmother has just been reported from a village near Swole, in the Province of Overijssel, Holland. This is how it happened: A man married a girl of 20, whose mother was 45. By his first marriage this man had had a son, and this son married the mother of his father's second wife. Relatives figure out that the youth not only married his step-mother, but became step-father to his own father.

STYLE TRENDS TOLD

What Expert at Local Store Says We'll Wear

Interviewing the stylist of a leading Los Angeles store, we are told:

Tweeds and more tweeds! For coats and for ensembles. New tweeds with the suppleness of silk, plus the service that only tweeds can give.

The restrained flare; the military touch.

For semiformal daytime wear: Plain colored coats and printed dresses, either harmonizing in self tones or in contrast. Or, plain colored coats and printed dresses, contrasting in color with them.

Coats for semiformal wear: Straight line coats with scarf collar; the coat with the restrained flare; coats with cape accents; and all coats, present one or more such details as: Smoothe finished woolens in plain or basket weaves, wool crepes, velveteens, and coats should present color interest, scarf collars, collars of self-fabric, or in light tone furs; cape accents, slight flares, lack of linings, interesting belts, yokes, the surplice closing.

The straight-line, buttonless coat will be the "Ford of the Season."

Black and beige galiac, as soft as fabric and as interesting in manipulation will take first place among furs for trimming.

Elsewhere, style stress is laid upon the street dress of crepe with taffeta insets; and upon the ensemble of Angora tweed, with tuck-in blouse of silk jersey. Silk pique here is featured for blouses in ensemble.

WOMEN BOOST TOBACCO SALES

Cigarette Purchases Rise to 105,915,965,014 in 1928

Feminine Smokers Growing in Numbers Yearly

France Also Reports Gain in Female Weed Puffers

Women! That is the reason, leading men in the tobacco industry say, for the fact that in 1928 there were 105,915,965,014 cigarettes smoked in the United States. Perhaps they weren't all smoked, but at least they were bought. Also, of course, the tobacco men do not mean to say that all that enormous number was smoked by women. But they had a great deal to do with it.

More women are smoking. And women are smoking more. This is one of the reasons why the sale of cigarettes has gone up so. Until 1928 it had never reached 100,000,000,000. The actual figures for 1927, which had topped all preceding years, was 97,176,607,484. A gain of 8,739,357,530 cigarettes sold in a year is no small matter.

There are many interesting statistics which can be worked out. For instance, a fraction more than 201,704 cigarettes were lighted every minute, both day and night, during the year. Also on the estimated population of the United States, every inhabitant smoked 882 during the year—and that includes every one from the tiniest baby to the oldest man or woman. As few babies have ever been known to smoke, it will be seen that with their elimination and that of their slightly older brothers and sisters, the consumption of cigarettes per capita has grown amazingly. And for that increase, the tobacco companies bow to the ladies.

MODES LOGICAL NOWADAYS

So, Subtle Sophistication Seems to be New Trend in Color Combinations for All Kinds of Wear

History recounts the leaders whose whimsies set styles—the physical peculiarities of sovereigns and favorites whose desire to hide certain defects resulted in capricious modes which perforce the whole sheeplike court-world must follow. But the day has long passed when one person set a style in that manner; today the mode is a logical, even though partly concealed, development, and although politics, discoveries, geography and fashion have something to do with it, it isn't nearly so arbitrary as it once was.

Every good fabric, for instance, has a past. Materials don't spring into being overnight—they are developed from some existing one, and are changed for greater usefulness or beauty. Just being beautiful isn't enough for material any more than it is for women, for suitability has to come into the picture, else it will never achieve any lasting popularity.

Thus it is that laboratories and designers work faithfully during the winter for the perfecting of spring fabrics and styles, keeping an ear to the ground for stirrings which indicate evolution.

Those who know tell us that simplicity is on the wane. Subtle sophistication is the keynote of the immediate future—in art, literature, music, as well as in fashionable dress. Thus the newest materials are not too glossy and luminous—they begin to be less aggressively brilliant, and more sophisticated. Prints, crepes, taffetas, tweeds, wool mixtures, linens, piques, georgettes, marquisettes and jerseys are seen in brilliant profusion in the shops.

Colors? For sports we see all-white indicated for spring, which is especially appropriate to our southern clime—and sweaters, jackets, scarfs and belts to accompany the white sport costume are brilliantly red, blue, yellow, brown or black to accent it.

You'd be surprised how many shades there are of yellow, which is so popular for sport clothes—canary-yellow, pinkish casts, orange or greenish casts. Pastel colors range from almond green through shell pink to powder blue, while, of course, the sun tans for golf always are popular.

GREAT RANGE

Prints take generous range, from early American designs with their quaint revivals of history, showing scenes from the lives of our patriots and their contemporary times, to the modernistic designs which must get their vogue from the new and abrupt note in home furnishings, furniture, and the like. Angles, ombres, stars and showers, playing-card motifs, and tapestry impressions are developed in vivid colors, or combinations of colors which are very striking and refreshing. These printed fabrics are really marvels of color and weaving, on their way to fresh beauty and usefulness. Polka dots? You should see them, with their one-sided effect which is so fashionable right now; old-fashioned flowers, Chinese florals, overlapping effects, large cloudy blossoms and constellations galore.

The girl who admires her brother's necktie pattern can find the same silk for her semisport dress. If Persian motifs are her delight, or foliage, or butterflies, or stippled effect, she can obey that impulse, and choose the very design for which she yearns for her spring clothing. Since sleeveless frocks call for the short jackets which were received so enthusiastically, she may reverse the old order and have a lighter coat to complete her costume, instead of a darker to carry out the background order of old. Yes, the new fabrics are as gay as the spring blossoms, and milady may go as far as she will, and be of the mode.
